The Fife and Drum Band.

The Fife and Drum Band of the 57th Batt. is practising industriously and will be ready to appear with the regiment at Ottawa, possibly before. The boys promise to surprise the people. There are over a dozen flutes and piccolos in the band, which will be a pleasing variety to the common bugle band, and which is besides the regular style of band for red-coat regiments. It is to be hoped the boys will be able to march out with the battalion before they go to Ottawa.

A Joke on the Inspector.

The Lakefield Chronicle says the Dominion Fishery Inspector out there was the victim of a practical joke last week which is causing many a hearty laugh among his numerous acquaintances. On opening it, carefully packed, was the fresh head of a large muskinonge with the following note in its teeth:—"George, you were sworn to protect me, where were you when I lost my tail?"

Whew! Isn't it Hot.

Just think of the way the thermometer is working to-day—about 100 in the shade—and then think of the heat keeping up at that rate, and then think what a blessed relief it will be to flee from such torrid torture to the breezy coolness of Stony Lake. Mr. Richard Mowry, of Ashburnham, on Saturday received the intelligence from Mr. Wm. The nature and extent of the son's injuries are not known, Mr. Mowry having as yet received no answer to the telegram for particulars which he at once despatched to Mr. Hickey. Mr. M. Mowry was well known here, having been employed in several of the foundries in town. He was also a member of the Canadian contingent of Voyageurs in the Nile expedition. His wife and family are in town.

Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

A Neat and Comprehensive Crest.

The Peterborough Catholic Association has adopted a beautiful symbolical crest for its stationery. The design, which is very neat, is also very comprehensive. Two semi-circular scrolls, above and below, bear the words, above "The Catholic Association," and below, "of Peterborough," and inclose a circular space in the centre of which is the Canadian emblem, a broad maple leaf, on which rests the great Christian emblem, the cross, and underneath this is the shamrock, rose and thistle. It is a pleasure to note that this Society is flourishing and doing an excellent work — not only providing a pleasant and wholesome social atmosphere in which young men may spend their evenings, but providing means for mental improvement and salutary recreation.

Will the Hint be Taken?

In a letter to the EXAMINER from Kansas City, Mr. W. Boutin writes:

'I send you by concurrent mail the printed circular of the 'National Educational Association.' In looking over the many side trip excursion rates, I notice Peterborough and vicinity not mentioned, and feeling assured that there is no other summer resort in Ontario to be compared with Stony Lake, I thought I would write you, and probably some effort on your part might induce the many American visitors to visit your town, and leave a few of their 'gold eagles.' You will notice Bobcaygeon mentioned, why not try and turn the tide to Peterborough? Trusting you are well, and with kind regards for good old Peterborough."

Port Hope Firemen Remembered.

A kindness such as that conferred upon the Port Hope firemen by the Rev. C. J. S. Bethune, principal of Trinity College School, will, says the Port Hope Times, not soon be forgotten by the men. On the Queen's birthday a fire occurred at the College, which was extinguished by the officials of the school after considerable damage was done. The town alarm was sounded, and, although the firemen responded quickly, their services were not required. The principal of the college, however, appreciated the efforts of the brigade in turning out so promptly, and yesterday forwarded a cheque for $20 to Chief Mason to aid of the Firemen's Benevolent Fund. The firemen desire publicly to acknowledge the kindness of Dr. Bethune in the matter.

The "Sunbeam," Hilliard & Elson, proprietors, will hold another two-day excursion to Lindsay—this time from Chemong, the Peterborough-Lakefield tram service not having yet been put on. The steamer will leave Chemong on Thursday morning, June 18th, on the arrival of the Peterborough train about 9 o'clock a.m., and make the run, via Sturgeon Point and Fenelon Falls, to Lindsay, where the arrival will take place about 6 p.m. The trip will include two days, but those desiring to return home at the end of the first day, can return to town by the evening Toronto express that passes Lindsay about eight o'clock. The "Sunbeam" will start on the home voyage on Friday morning at 9 o'clock, staying an hour or an hour and a half at Bobcaygeon en route. Single trip tickets 75 cents; return tickets $1.

Advice to Cheese Patrons.

Prof. Rollins, in an address to the Kingston cheese board, on Tuesday last, gave this good advice: Great care should be taken to clean and scald pails and cans. The cans should be scoured with salt quite often, and both pails and cans well aired; animal heat should be taken out by taking proper care of milk by airing and straining or baling with a dipper until cool; see that cans, pails and utensils in connection with the dairy are well scoured and scalded, and well aired also; see that cows get nothing but pure, wholesome water. The Association urges importance of this, and I would be neglecting my duty not to warn cheese patrons and I hope for a better showing next visit to your factories. But if I find that there is no improvement, I shall decidedly enforce the act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature."

An Excellent Portrait.

The pedestrian is attracted by a handsome oil portrait exhibited in the window of Mr. Cregg's furniture shop. It is a portrait of a venerable and well preserved gentleman, the father of Mr. J. M. Irwin, town, at present living in Ireland, at the advanced age of 90 years. The portrait, a life-size bust picture, was painted by Mr. T. Workman from a photograph, and is, so the venerable subject's friends say, an excellent likeness, and it is as can be plainly seen, an excellent work of art. The peculiar treatment of the back ground throws the head and face of the portrait into good relief and harmonizes with them in a very effective manner. The picture, taken from a photograph, has itself been photographed, and the photograph will be sent to the friends of the original. Mr. Workman has painted a most excellent picture

"A New Canadian Guide Book."

The appearance of Appletons' Canadian Guide Book will commend itself to tourists and sportsmen, and even to general readers, since the work has a literary interest throughout. This book, written by the Canadian author and sportsman, Charles G. D. Roberts, covers Eastern Canada from Niagara Falls to Cape Breton, including the Lake Shore, Lake Simcoe, and also including a thorough account of the little-known Island of Newfoundland. The book has been elaborately illustrated throughout. In addition to information regarding points of interest for the tourist, routes, hotel fares, etc., it presents a continuous story of travel, with entertaining historical notes, graphic descriptions of scenery and people, sketches of canoeing trips and accounts of the opportunities for fishing; and the appendix, which gives special, practical information for the sportsman, includes the fish and game laws of the different provinces, and list of trout and salmon rivers and their lessees.

Industrial Holiday.

The Cook Works and Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co's Works and Edison General Electric Works are instituting Saturday holidays or half-holidays during the summer months. The employes naturally greatly appreciate the relaxation these holidays afford. On Saturday last a baseball match was played between two teams from the Wm. Hamilton Works on Riverside Park. In the first few innings the playing was rather mild, but after the teams settled down some sharp work was done. The score was:—

Will This Satisfy Smilax?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Your correspondent "Smilax" makes a complaint in Saturday's EXAMINER about the brown, or burned, appearance of Court House Park, and thinks if there was less tinkering at flower beds and more attention paid to watering it would be better. Now, if your correspondent means the upper park of the park, there may be in his estimation just reason for complaint, but the Horticultural Society, who has had charge of it from the county, did not agree or intend to keep the upper part of the park watered or give it any particular care more than a general supervision and consequently there has been no water pipes laid down in this part of the grounds.

As regards the lower part there are a few small spots that would be desirable to have a different shades, but it must be remembered this is an unusual season and only two streams of water can be kept running and the force is not very great owing to smallness of pipes laid down which should be one and half or two inch and four streams going continuously, during such a long continued drought

Yours etc.

Salvation Army Camp Meeting

In the Tented Field—An "Exhibition" of Evangelical Energy—Large Attendance—Successful Meetings

On Sunday the unwonted sight of tents pitched on the east end of the agricultural grounds was presented to the public. Turner the irrepressible tent and awning maker had pitched a big marquee 40x65 and three other small tents in the grounds for the camp meeting of the Salvation Army who turned out in large force, band included. The large tent is seated for holding the services and the next larger for refreshments and the two smaller tents for sleeping apartments for the officers.

The initial meetings were largely attended, in the evening at least 500 persons being present. The meetings are conducted by Division Officer Beatty, assisted by Mrs. Beatty. Both are clever and effective speakers. Capt. Gale and Lieut. Burrows also took part in the meetings, which were of the usual evangelical character brightened and enlivened with the fiery life and energy with which the Salvation Army invests their services. The meetings will be continued during the week and towards the end of the week it is expected that some distinguished officers from a distance will be on hand to take part in the meetings.

Hot Weather and Infant Mortality.

"Not less than a hundred and fifty thousand children have been born in Canada during the past eight or nine months, and many thousand of these will doubtless die during the two or three approaching hot months of the year from sheer want of parental knowledge relating to the proper care of children during the trying period of life," says the "Canada Health Journal." The mortality returns for the Dominion bear the above statement out, when it is stated that during the month of April there were 479 deaths in Montreal, and of these 287 were children under five years, or 60 per cent. "Hardly ever," says the same author, "does a child become ill for want of food, but thousands upon thousands die from too much of it."

The Condition of India.

Interview With the Native Commissioner from Bombay.

Rev. Dr. Narayan, Shesbadri, and son, Yeshwantrao arrived in Kingston on Saturday. The doctor was seen at the Hotel Frontenac and talked freely to the reporter as to his business here. He is a native of India and was becomingly attired in the costume of that country, with a turban head dress, very becoming to his swarthy, fine looking appearance.

Dr. Shesbadri is a missionary of the Free Church of Scotland in India, his labors being confined to his fellow countrymen in the neighborhood of Jalna, in the Nizam's territories. He started on a tour round the world for the benefit of his health, leaving Bombay, Feb. 13th last, and travelling by way of Singapore, China, Japan, San Francisco and through the United States to Montreal.

This is the second visit here. Dr. Shesbadri was in America on the occasion of the grand Presbyterian council at Philadelphia in 1880, and called at Kingston on his way home. He and his son found the scenery of the country grand in the extreme, and enjoyed heartily a short stay at the hot springs of Buena Vista, Colorado.

Asked as to the condition of India, the rev. gentleman spoke hopefully. "Industrially the whole empire is rising, and that very rapidly," he said. "Why, Bombay is a first class European or American town. It is little like what it was in the ancient days. It has street cars. It has electricity on the wharves for harbor lights. It has no cable cars as yet but they have an active demand for them, and they are a question of time. You must remember that Bombay is on the hills. There is an ample drainage. It is a healty city. And may I say to your enterprising citizens that there is money to be made in that city."

"Are the natives fond of England?"

"Exceedingly. Personal safety and property are as secure as in an English or American town. The government is much liked. I believe that India to-day the most loyal of the Queen's possessions. All merchants to a man are loyal. The Parsees, or merchants, are more loyal than the Irish. I know that the people deplore the action of England in relation to the production of opium, which I regret to say is on the increase. It is too bad that this blot should be on a name so bright."

"Yes, there is much drinking. I think the drink habit is growing. I do not think it is due to the presence of the British army. The indirect influence of western civilization has sometimes been bad, but the influence of Christianity has been made immeasurable for good."

Talking of the Brahmin religion, he said: "It means pantheism with a tincture of Herbert Spencer thrown in. Of course such is not the Brahmo Somaj religion. This is a theistic movement. It believes in God and is endeavoring to create from the religions already existing an eclectic religion. It is a unitarian religion. You can judge of its nationality when I tell you that when the unitarians sent a missionary to India he abandoned that field and united with the Somaj."

"Is the Somaj growing?"

"Yes, I must say that it is; all over the country, though under different names."

After visiting Boston, Washington, New York, and other American cities, they propose returning to India via England and the Suez canal.

Mr. Sheshadri's son, a handsome fellow of 26, is with him. The son is a graduate of a school in England. He has made a study of artesian wells, and returns to India to develop his studies practically in some of its arid tracts.

It is conjectured that a specific may yet be found for every ill that flesh is heir to. However this may be, certainly the best specific yet found for diseases of the blood is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and most diseases originate from impure blood.

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEER, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

Sir John A. Macdonald.

The issue of the Dominion Illustrated for the 20th inst. will be devoted almost exclusively to an account, with full illustrations, of the event which is in all men's minds, the funeral of the dead premier, Sir John A. Macdonald. No such outburst of popular sorrow over the death of any man has ever been evoked in Canada, as that which pays tribute to the greatness of the deceased statesman. The Dominion Illustrated sent its own photographers and artist to Ottawa and Kingston, and the number to be issued on the 20th inst. will be a memorial worthy of the occasion, and one that throughout Canada will be preserved as a sad souvenir of the man whose death has left so great a void in the hearts of the people as well as in the public life of the country he has served so long and so devotedly.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men's meeting on Saturday evening was well attended. Mr. E. A. Mansell gave a very thoughtful address on Christ's love for us, which was followed by many present testifying to that love to them. The after meeting was a season of rich blessing.

Mr. Thos Dodds led the Consecration service on Sabbath morning in an acceptable manner and all present were much helped.

Open Air service in Central park yesterday afternoon was attended by a large crowd who listened very attentively to the gospel address given by Mr. Pennington late of Sherbrooke. It was heart searching and will bear fruit. The Y.M.C.A. band were out in goodly number and led the singing very effectively.

Rev. J. E. Trotter gave a very impressive address on "How to be Saved" at the Gospel and song service last evening. The hall was crowded and all present were blessed.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two arms and hands in the same condition; a body around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Such was H. A. Stout to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to cure my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost discouraged. Finally, as a last resort, I had to bandage her all over and the mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered. The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woodyer, druggist.

THE BACCARAT SCANDAL IN THE COMMONS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach on the Advisability of a Law to Exclude Russian Jews from England Government Bills to Have Precedence.

LONDON, June 15.—Mr. Smith moved in the House of Commons to-day that for the remainder of the session Government business shall have precedence over all other business. He announced that every bill would probably be dropped except the Irish Land Bill, the Education Bill, the Factories Bill, the Public Health Bill and the renewal of Gold Coinage Bill. Mr. Labouchere complained of the "muddling" of public business, and several other members protested against the sacrifice of bills promoted by individual members.

Mr. Smith's motion was agreed to.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, president of the Board of Trade, expressed the belief that the passage of a bylaw by Parliament to exclude Russian Jews from England would be imitated by the United States. In his opinion such a law would do more harm to Great Britain than any other country.

Sir James Ferguson, political Secretary of the Foreign Office, said the Government had been advised that the law in England in regard to copyright was so favorable to aliens as to be certain to satisfy the conditions of the United States copyright law.

THE BACCARAT SCANDAL.

Lady Brooke Said to Have Divulged the Trouby Croft Episode.

LONDON, June 15.—Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, replying to-day in the House of Commons to a question put by William Summers (Blaustonia) in regard to the baccarat scandal, said of the three officers concerned, Gen. Owen Williams was a retired officer of the army and was therefore not subject to the regulations, but the other two—the Field Marshal, the Prince of Wales, and Lieut. Berkeley Levett—undoubtedly were. The former, said Mr. Stanhope, had authorized him to say that he now saw that an error of judgment had been committed. "Lieutenant Berkeley Levett, on the other hand," continued Mr. Stanhope, "had written a letter to his commanding officer, expressing regret that he had not acted in accordance with army regulation. Consequently," said the Secretary of War in conclusion, "it was not proposed to take any further action in the matter."

Interest in the baccarat question attracted to the House of Commons to-day the largest afternoon attendance of the session. The Speaker's, strangers' and ladies' galleries were packed. The House, hushed and intensely expectant, listened eagerly to Mr. Stanhope's statement, which had evidently been carefully prepared. The announcement that General Williams was already on the retired list surprised the groups of Radicals eager to attack him, and the Prince of Wales's voluntary admission of an error of judgment on his part astonished and gratified the whole House and was received with slight cheering from the Opposition benches and repeated congratulatory shouts of "Hear hear" from the Conservatives. The utter absence of an official attempt at defence rendered the reply acceptable to every side, and has taken the pith out of the Radicals' intention to continue their agitation. Several extremists at a subsequent private conference tried to arrange for a motion declaring the Prince of Wales ought to be censured for indiscretion, but it failed to secure support.

A Divorce Suit Imminent.

To-day it is stated on what appears to be good authority that a divorce suit, instituted by Lord Brooke, is imminent, and that the Prince of Wales will be named as co-respondent.

It is intimated that the Prince in some way communicated the charges against Sir William Gordon-Cumming to Lady Brooke, and that she in probably supposed confidential conversation let the story escape, hence all the hubbub.

Lady Brooke is regarded as one of the most beautiful women in Great Britain.

She is married to the eldest son of the fourth Earl of Warwick, Francis Richard Charles Guy Greville.

A rumor is current to-night that Lord Brooke has filed his petition for divorce on the ground of adultery with the Prince of Wales.

Conductor Killed.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 15.—Charles Master, Grand Trunk Railway bridge freight conductor, when nearing the Canadian end of the bridge last night slipped on the greasy needle-beams in descending from a flat car. Both feet were run over. When the doctors were in the midst of amputating his legs the shock proved too much for poor Master, and he began to sink rapidly, expiring at 1.30 o'clock. The deceased was 24 years of age, and leaves a young widow and two little ones, aged 3½ and 1½ years respectively.

Committed Suicide.

HALIFAX, June 15. George McAlpine, Short Beach, Colchester county, was found on his bedroom floor with a discharged rifle beside him. He had apparently put the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his foot, the discharge blowing a hole through the top of his head.

The Fall Proved Fatal.

LONDON, June 15.—Henry Forsyth, living in the Gore of London, fell off a load of manure while at work on the farm of Mr. W. H. K. Talbot, a market gardener, and died at midnight.

A Londoner Killed.

LONDON, June 15.—George E. Pickell, a brakeman belonging to this city, was killed in a collision between freight trains at Utica, Mich., the other day.

Drowned While Bathing.

LONDON, June 15.—While bathing in Bingman's Creek last evening Fred Scott, aged 14 years, living with his widowed mother near Lambeth on the Delaware town line, was drowned. He was in the water with three or four companions, when they noticed him suddenly disappear.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

IMPORTANT SEDERUNT AT KINGSTON YESTERDAY.

Marriage With a Deceased Wife's Sister—A Majority Against Exercising the Discipline of the Church so far as Reports Have Come to Hand.

KINGSTON, June 15.—At the General Assembly this morning the secretary read applications from ten Presbyteries in behalf of students. These ministers were recommended for reception: Revs. A. Barrows, J. Burrows, L. Gourlay, T. J. Shanks, R. J. Addison, J. B. Watt, J. B. McCaish, J. C. McKee, C. P. Way, J. McLeod, J. M. Widdon, D. A. McRae. These asked leave to retire: Revs. R. McKenzie, W. Scott, James Allan, W. Darrah.

The report to Presbyteries on the subject of marriage with deceased wife's sister was reported upon. A great majority of the Presbyteries approved of the rule "the discretion of the church shall not be exercised in regard to marriage with deceased wife's sister." Twenty-one Presbyteries approved of the rule. Two Presbyteries suggest "need" instead of "shall," and a majority of Presbyteries did not report at all. In view of this latter fact, the matter was referred to a committee to report at some future sederunt.

A motion that the theological course be extended over four years and that one year be devoted to home mission was referred to committee.

The elders attending the assembly have organized as an association with these officers: W. B. McMurrich, Toronto, president; H. Cryster, Ottawa, secretary. The association will hold conferences each day during the meetings of the assembly and discuss matters pertaining to their own peculiar work.

It was resolved to press upon the committee of the General Assembly, to which is relegated the duty of appointing standing committees, the necessity of appointing more new men every year, as under the present system their committees are apt to become stereotyped.

Summer Sessions.

There was a brisk discussion lasting for two hours over certain presbyterial and synodical overtures looking towards the establishment of a summer session for students in theology. Drs. Robertson and Bryce enforced the demands of the overtures and spoke of the loss that came to the mission fields of the church, when those who preach in them are allowed to occupy but the winter months of the year. The evils from infidel teachings, vice, etc., through vacancies in the year's work were spoken of and the speakers sought to show how the establishment of a summer session would prevent a continuation of the evils complained of and moved that this important matter be given to a special committee to examine with care and present their judgment thereon to a future sederunt.

Drs. MacVicar and Caven did not think that the remedy proposed would be the true remedy but that it would tend to lower the standard of theological education and do injury rather than bring help. They recommended a better use of the eldership, and of those on the retired ministers list. Drs. King, Forrest, Gregg, R. N. Grant and Principal Grant in strong speeches favored the examination of this subject by committee. The result of the discussion was that a large and representative committee, with Mr. D. M. Gordon as convener, was appointed to consider the subject in detail. On reassembling in the afternoon preliminary arrangements were made for the selection of 16 representatives to the Presbyterian Council which is to meet in Toronto in September of next year. For this council which will be composed of Presbyterian delegates from all parts of the world. The Ontario Government has given the hall of the Normal School building for the purposes of luncheons. The day meetings will be held in St. James-square Church and the evening meetings in the Pavilion.

The aged and infirm ministers' funds, east and west, were reported upon. For the former, Principal Knight of Halifax, reported receipts $3441.17. Collections were received from 140 congregations and rates were received from 71 ministers.

Mr. J. K. Macdonald, the convener of the committee of the western section, reported for his committee. The receipts to ordinary account are $14,345.44; to capital account $17,550.84; to capital fund account $37,487.64. Last year 67 annuitants participated in the fund, the highest amount paid to any one being $800. The church is aiming at an endowment of $200,000.

The Evening Sederunt.

The evening sederunt was devoted to the consideration of two subjects, viz: Church and manse fund and French evangelization.

During the nine years since the church and manse fund was established the board has helped to build 147 churches and 24 manses. These buildings have been valued at $212,660 and the total aid given to them is $72,427. Last year 15 churches were built and aid was given to finish one manse built the previous year. The report stated since settlers are coming from Eastern Canada and Britain it would seem that this work has a claim on all mother churches.

French Evangelization was the closing subject for Monday. In the Province of Quebec there are 62 counties and the missionaries of the French Evangelization Board occupy seven stations in 30 of these counties. Funds amounting to $55,770 were gathered in for this year

Wanted to See the Flames

SARNIA, June 15.—The barn of William Douglas of Brooke was fired. Subsequently another building was fired a couple of times and at last burned down. Investigation showed that the fires had been started by a little daughter of Douglas', whose mind has not been considered very sound. She is about 13 years of age and set the fire just to see the flames.

SUICIDE CHEATS HYMEN

HE WANTED TO MAKE A SENSATIONAL EXIT, BUT FOREBORE.

His Original Intention Was to Take His Bride to a Circus and Kill Himself in Her Presence—Instead He Turns on the Gas and Leaves No Widow.

ASBURY PARK, N.J., June 14.—Eugene St. Cyr, a well-dressed man, committed suicide at the West End Hotel here early this morning by turning on the gas after having stopped up every crevice in the doors and windows.

It is a mysterious affair, and the man evidently intended that it should be so. From notes in his memorandum book he had evidently contemplated the deed for several days. He meant at one time that his farewell to life should be most sensational, having at first determined to blow his brains out in the Garden Theatre in New York city. He had arranged to send a story of his suicide to a newspaper and then kill himself after reading the account.

The only articles left by him were a silver watch, with gold chain, $1.90 in change, a new revolver, every chamber loaded, a coat check issued by the Garden Theatre and a small memorandum book in which he had written several notes. In one referring to his contemplated suicide he had written:

"I had intended to make something extraordinary out of it, sending my farewell to life to a morning paper and reading it myself the night of my wedding the more unconscious nature. I had intended to make in the correct place a la morgue. I contest myself with only mentioning these aims to show that I felt to-day during the preparations like a girl dressing for her first ball.

"I would not have disturbed your pleasure, I, myself, don't take it very seriously and hope you will forgive.

"But, fled the hour of life, smiling will I die, surrounded by music and sympathy, as I was not allowed thus to live. As to the main cause she will be grateful for my silence. To her I send my last farewell.

"Farewell, my Lillie. Pale, my lovely nightingale. EUGENE ST. CYR."

Upon another page was this direction:

"My body I wish to be disposed of by Dr. Schweig of No. 26 East Twentieth-street for scientific purposes. No heartless priest must be troubled for my sake. I intended to shoot myself in the Garden Theatre, but changed my mind and think this way better. I hope you are considerate enough like it." The letter ended with the following words underlined:

"Standard mysterious suicide. No average case."

Who'll Capture the Great Suburban To-Day?—Former Victors.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Here are the names of the 18 horses, together with their weights they will carry and the jockeys that will probably ride them, that are almost certain to go to the post to-morrow in the great Suburban and struggle over one mile and a quarter of ground for the rich prize which in previous years was won by General Monro, Pontiac, Troubadour, Eurus, Elkwood, Raceland and Salvator:

Tenny, 5, 120 lbs., I. Murphy; Tournament, 4, 126 lbs., Hayward; Raceland, 6, 126 lbs., Hamilton; Riley, 4, 126 lbs., Fitzpatrick; Tea Tray, 5, 118 lbs., Taylor; Demuth, 4, 116 lbs., Doggett; Diablo, 5, 115 lbs., Taral; Banquet, 4, 114 lbs., Garrison; Clarendon, 4, 112 lbs., L. Lewis; Santiago, 4, 108 lbs., Barnes; English Lady, 4, 105 lbs., Stevenson; Major Domo, 5, 104 lbs., Littlefield; Fitzjames, 4, 100 lbs., A. Covington.

The Chicago Derby.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The Chicago Derby will be the best 3-year-old event of the year, and if all the horses now talked of go to the post the race will be one of profound interest to all turfmen. Potomac may not start, but Pessara, Kingman, Michael, Strathmeath, Snowball, St. August, Balgowan, Valley, San Joaquin, Georgetown, High Tariff and half a dozen others will compose the strongest field that ever tried for the rich prize. If Kingman carries his 130 pounds to victory over such a field he will be the best 3-year old of this season. Isaac Murphy will ride the colt. Kingman is giving tons away to almost everything else that starts.

Will Kilrain and Slavin Spar?

NEW YORK, June 15.—It is possible that Frank Slavin, the Australian pugilist, will not have the opportunity to test his scientific skill in a 10-round contest with Jake Kilrain before the Granite Athletic Club of Hoboken to-morrow night. A large number of wealthy and influential citizens and the clergymen of Hoboken are protesting against the alleged sparring exhibition.

The Father Did Not Shoot Him.

HASTINGS, June 15.—The despatch from here a few days ago saying that James Woof of Cedrington had accidentally shot his adopted son is wrong. An emigrant named Walter Fowler called at James Woof's residence and it was he who pointed the gun at Mr. Woof's son—who is not adopted—and playfully shot him. The father's grief is intensified by the report that it was he who shot his son.

THEY KISSED EACH OTHER.

While the Scoundrel Who Deceived Both Was Sent to Prison.

HAMILTON, June 12.—At the Sessions today Daniel Hickey, a gallus-looking young man, was put on trial for abducting and seducing Sarah Jane Badgley, a very pretty young girl about 16 years of age. Hickey had deserted his wife and two children in Toronto and came here. The prisoner went to board at Jas Badgley house, 107 John-street north, and passed as a bachelor. On May 6 he persuaded the girl to elope with him and took her to a hotel in Stuart street where they stayed all night and then went to Dunnville.

The prisoner's wife was in court, but was not called. Chief McKinnon found her at 40 Broadway-street, Toronto, yesterday, where she is living poorly, supporting her two children by her own work. There was a very affecting scene in the Crown Attorney's room when the wife and the girl who had been seduced by the prisoner met each other. Mrs. Hickey is very good-looking and lady-like in appearance. The two young women kissed each other and had a good cry together.

The prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to the full extent of the law, two years lacking one day, in Central Prison.

A BRUSH WITH PIRATES.

Two Boat Crews Annihilated—A Gunboat in Pursuit.

BATOUM, June 15.—A boat containing five Russian soldiers last night met a strange boat manned by 12 pirates. The officer in command of the soldiers ordered the pirates to stop. The pirates answered by firing a volley from their rifles at the soldiers, killing four of them. The surviving soldier pulled ashore and gave the alarm. A boat manned by four soldiers then went in pursuit of the pirates and overhauled them. Again the pirates fired, killing two and wounding the two remaining troopers. The wounded Russians managed to pull ashore and reported their experience. A third boat better manned was sent after the pirates, but the latter escaped. A Russian gunboat has gone in pursuit of the pirate craft.

A Little Babe Killed by Whisky.

STRATFORD, June 14.—The police were notified yesterday of the sudden death of Willie Stewart, son of Richard W. Stewart, a millwright late in the employ of the George T. Smith Purifier Company. The boy, a fair-haired three-year-old lad, was in good health Thursday, and on Friday morning he was a corpse. An inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by alcoholic poisoning, but by whom administered or procured is unknown to the jury. The mother of the babe is addicted to indulging in liquor to excess.

180 LIVES LOST.

The Swiss Disaster More Terrible Than at First Reported.

BERNE, June 15.—Further details show that 180 lives were lost in the accident on the Mouchenstein & Bale Railroad near Bale. Wives brought home the bodies of their husbands and husbands brought home the bodies of their wives and children. Several families were practically wiped out of existence by the disaster. Nearly every family in Bale may be said to have been touched by the calamity, for those families who have not actually lost one of their members have dear friends or acquaintances either dead or wounded. The victims were leading citizens of Bale and its neighborhood.

The details of the disaster prove that the bridge broke down under the sheer weight of the locomotives. The first engine had passed over the abutment safely, but was dragged back by the second engine, when the whole fabric collapsed, the engines and train toppling into the creek, the water of which is only four feet deep, but all the victims were crushed to death. Seventeen bodies were found lying close together.

As the wreckage was cleared away the bodies of the dead and dying were found crushed together in ghastly confusion amid the almost inextricable mass of debris. Most of the bodies recovered were dreadfully mutilated. A dead mother was found holding in her arms her lifeless baby, while another child lay across her body. Several other family groups were seen joined by a common fate.

BETRAYED BY A BROKER.

The Keeper of a Fashionable Boarding House at Quebec Ruined by Speculation.

MONTREAL, June 15.—Miss Tenney, who keeps the most exclusive boarding establishment in Montreal, at Nos. 5 and 7 Beaver Hall-square, left this morning for Chicago. She left a note to her butler saying she could not weather the storm any longer and advising him to sell the furniture to re-imburse himself for the $500 and odd that she owes him. She leaves debts behind amounting to $3000, divided among a dozen of the principal tradespeople in the city. She charged $100 a month for board and her establishment was never empty. The cause of her ruin, it is said, was speculation through a young broker with whom she was more or less infatuated.

THE NEW CABINET.

Mr. Abbott Still Busy Selecting Members—Report To-Morrow.

OTTAWA, June 15.—"If I were to tell you all that happened since Saturday it would make a quarter of a sentence. All I can say is that negotiations are progressing favorably and that I hope soon to make an announcement. We are still waiting some answers." This was Mr. Abbott's summing up of the situation this afternoon when he came out from a two hours' consultation with the members of the late Cabinet. All were present in the office of the President of the Privy Council except Mr. Chapleau. The expression on the faces of those Ministers present did not indicate any great concern for the absence of the late Secretary of State. Sir Hector Langevin's usual solidity was somewhat relaxed, while Mackenzie Bowell actually cracked a joke with one of the reporters waiting for news. Mr. Abbott's own countenance seemed in accord with his words, indicating that he was well pleased with the progress he was making with his new Cabinet.

Mr. Chapleau went on a vigorous strike Saturday. He was offered his old portfolio of Secretary of State, but insisted upon having the Railways and Canals. But Sir Hector Langevin already is Minister of Public Works, and it would manifestly be impossible to place two Quebec men at the head of such important departments. Mr. Chapleau's appointment meant practically the retirement of Sir Hector Langevin. But for this Mr. Abbott and the others were not prepared and therefore Mr. Chapleau's demands were refused. Mr. Chapleau has not yet consented to accept his old portfolio, but he probably will. He admitted to-night the substantial correctness of the interview with him in Montreal. He denied that he ever said Sir Hector had survived his usefulness, but said he had been informed that Sir Hector would retire at the close of the present session. He denied, too, that he said he would insist upon his rights. What he did say was that the result of his work in the recent elections entitled him to more prominence in the Cabinet. It is believed to-night, however, that he will again be found in the Cabinet when the House opens to-morrow. Mr. Chapleau has kicked over the traces energetically before. He will console himself with the information given him that Sir Hector will soon retire. He will then endeavor to force what he calls a "reconstruction."

It is believed here that Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick's relations with the C.P.R. will be a bar to his admission to the Cabinet. Those therefore who want a stronger representation than the present one from Ontario will have to look elsewhere for their man.

General Passenger Agent Edgar Married.

PORT HOPE, June 15.—Mr. William Edgar of Montreal, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, was married this morning to Miss C. E. Tempest, daughter of the late W. S. Tempest of Port Hope. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Daniel, rector of St. John's. The parties left in Mr. Edgar's private car for the seaside.

His Life For a Corn.

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 15.—Staff-Seargent William Robb of the 91st Regiment had been pained for a long time by a corn. The bone decayed so as to render amputation necessary. Drs. McCullough and Sherk attended Robb at his room in the Queen's Hotel, and after placing him under the influence of chloroform they took off the toe. Next morning Robb was found dead in bed.

Fell Dead.

LONDON, June 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson, aged 78, fell down about 8 o'clock this morning in the hallway of the family residence, 305 Dundas-street. Her husband, Alexander Davidson, was near and found her still breathing, but she died in a few moments. The doctor pronounced death to have been caused by a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain.

An Arab Revolt.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 15.—News has been received that Arabs in Yemen (Arabia) have revolted and attacked the imperial troops, forcing them to retreat. The troops lost several officers and 100 men. On receipt of the news of the revolt the Grand Council, including the members of the Cabinet, held a meeting and decided to despatch 10,000 troops from the Syrian garrisons.

The Chinese Consul here will bring the matter to the attention of the Washington Government.

As the season advances we have many bargains to offer the public. One of the greatest attractions in our store to-day is some thirty or forty pieces of dress goods that were formerly from 25 to 50c. a yard. They are odd lines, and are now being cleared out at 15c. a yard. They can only last a short time, call early and secure the best patterns.

We want to tell you about our cheap Hosiery. We have piles upon piles of heavy goods to select from, in men's, women's and children's. 3 pairs for 25c.

For a week past we have been showing a window of Prints at 10c a yard. Handsome as it is possible to have them, and perfectly fast colors. We never had the like before at less than 12½c. Remember them if you do not see them in the window now.

We are showing an elegant range of white embroidered shirtings and all over embroidered muslins.

We have a great many patterns of figured Wool Delaines, so that it is no trouble to get something to please with us.

We have bought out a wholesale agent's samples of pretty little Lace Dolmans and Fichus and are selling them now at a bargain.

Our best quality of Black Gloves and Hosiery this season are perfectly stainless dye. We have great pleasure in selling them, as they please everybody as to quality and price.

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail them to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07

OUR NEW PREMIER.

HON. J. J. C. ABBOTT has been asked by his excellency the Governor-General to form a cabinet, and he is now busy with his task and it seems to be no holiday affair either. Hon. Mr. Abbott was, it seems, the only available man for the position and his selection show how hard pressed the Conservative party is for cabinet makers. Mr. Abbott has been in political life since 1857, yet so far as to any conspicuous achievement he may have been guilty of, and as to special fitness for his present position he is comparatively unknown. When the fact of his being chosen premier became public property, the popular question frequently heard, was not at all an unnatural one—"Who is Mr. Abbott anyway?"

The following sketch of his life, published in the Globe, will, therefore, be read with interest:—

Very many readers, the majority, will ask who is this Mr. Abbott. He is a venerable and pleasant mannered gentleman, fond of a quiet game of whist or cribbage and eminently suited by the placid surroundings of the Senate which he leads. He has been a first rate commercial lawyer and a master of the details of railway legislation. He was for over a score of years a member of the old Canadian Parliament and the House of Commons, yet one looks in vain for any prominent part taken by him in the debates of the House during all this period. It is inconceivable that a member of Parliament should have an interest in and a grasp of important public questions, and never take any part in their settlement or discussion. The following extracts from the index of the Hansard of the House of Commons gives a good average idea of the subjects engaging Mr. Abbott's mind when a member of the popular chamber.

In 1881—Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Bill, Carriers by Hand Bill, Credit Foncier Franco-Canadien Bill, Grand Trunk and North Shore Railways amalgamation, documents respecting the seigniory of Mingan, Montreal, Ottawa & Western Railway, petition for private bill. Four railway matters out of seven subjects and not one public or important question.

1885—Canadian Congregational Union, C. P. R. Amendment Bill, Insurance Act, Drainage Company's Bill, Franchise Bill.

In other sessions Mr. Abbott's name does not appear in the Hansard at all, while in those where it does appear his part in the proceedings of Parliament is on a par with that indicated by the above quotations.

HIS PART IN THE GREAT SCANDAL.

His record as a member of the House of Commons was made during the most disgraceful period in the history of Canada—the era of the Pacific Scandal. He used his influence as a member to carry on the huge scheme by which the general elections of 1872 were to be carried by the free use of money, working in an underground manner for the accomplishment of the gigantic and corrupt deal. He stipulated that he should be well paid for his services, with the result that Sir Hugh Allan wrote on the 28th February, 1872, to C. M. Smith of Chicago, saying:—"It seems pretty certain that in addition to money payments the following stock will have to be distributed:—D. L. Macpherson, $100,000; A. B. Foster, $100,000; Donald A. Smith, $100,000; C. J. Brydges, $100,000; J. J. C. Abbott, $50,000," and so on. Mr. Abbott's position as treasurer of Sir Hugh Allan's corruption fund is of course well remembered. Old Parliamentarians say that when the scandal was exposed in the House of Commons Mr. Abbott sat speechless at his desk a crushed and broken man, and never once attempted to defend himself. Owing to his urbanity and unassuming demeanor no one felt inclined to call any special attention to Mr. Abbott's part in the scandal, but in reality he was one of the chief culprits.

Such is the man whom the sore straits of the Conservative party has evoked from the congenial seclusion of the Senate to lead the van in the rough and tumble fight of practical politics. However, he will have valuable assistance in the person of Sir John Thompson, who will be leader in the House of Commons and the virtual premier, though foreseeing the trouble any prime minister would have with the cohesive of Kilkenny cats that composes the available material for a Conservative cabinet, he wisely elected to avoid the responsibility and transferred the burden to Hon. Mr. Abbott's shoulders. Sir John Thompson's abilities and energy have, in the short half dozen years he has been in Dominion politics, made him widely known, yet a brief sketch of the real premier in the new government will also be of interest:—

Sir John Thompson's connection with Dominion politics dates back only to 1885, when he resigned a judgeship of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia to take the portfolio of Minister of Justice and Attorney General. He was regarded as the ablest of the colleagues of Sir John Macdonald, and but for the fact of his having renounced Protestantism (he was brought up in the Methodist church in his earlier years) and thrown himself into bosom of the Church of Rome, he would probably have emerged from the present crisis as the titular as well as the actual head of the new Administration. The member for Antigonish is of Irish descent on the father's and Scotch on the mother's side. He was born at Halifax on the 10th November, 1844. His father, John Sparrow Thompson, came from Waterford, Ireland, and was for some time Queen's Printer, and afterwards superintendent of the money order system of Nova Scotia. His mother, Charlotte Pottinger, came from the North of Scotland. Sir John was educated at the Common Schools of Halifax, read law with Henry Prior Q.C., stipendiary magistrate of Halifax, and was called to the bar in 1865. He was not long in taking a foremost position amongst the legal fraternity of his county and of the Province. In nearly all the important causes which arose for a long period of years in Halifax he was employed as counsel. He was retained on behalf of the United States to act with the American lawyers as counsel before the Fishery Commission which met at Halifax in 1877 under the treaty of Washington. He devoted attention early in his career to municipal politics and gave useful service as an alderman of the city of Halifax, a school commissioner and a member of the senate of the university. He was first elected to the Legislative Assembly of the province in 1877, as the representative of Antigonish on the resignation of the sitting member, John J. McKinnon. In the succeeding year he was re-elected by acclamation at the general election, and was made an Attorney General on the formation of a Conservative Government from the ranks of the party that had triumphed at the general election. As the first Attorney-General in Nova Scotia since Confederation, he secured for that office an increased influence in legislation, which, in the opinion of his fellow practitioners, was much needed. He became Premier of the Province and Attorney-General in 1882, but resigned a few months afterwards when he was appointed a judge in the Supreme Court, a position he held till he was called to Ottawa as Minister of Justice. He was married in 1870 to Miss May Affleck, just seven years before his Parliamentary career in his native Province began. It was about this period of his life that he became a convert to the Roman Catholic faith. He was made a Knight of St. Michael and St. George in 1888 for his services in connection with the abortive fishery treaty.

THE Empire intimates that the new premier, Mr. Abbott, will conduct the Government under the same "old flag" and "old policy" plea. Does it mean that the "old flag" is to be the Stars and Stripes, which Mr. Abbott wished and worked hard to have wave over Canada, and the "old policy" that of annexation, which Mr. Abbott signed a petition for in 1848? The Empire should be more explicit and state distinctly which old flag or which old policy it means, else it might lead the people astray, and the Empire wouldn't do that for ever so much Government printing. There is necessity for expounding oneself carefully in the matter, for Mr. Abbott was a rank annexationist not many years ago; he signed a manifesto to that end, and the prototype, his present colleague, Sir Adolphe Caron, had Mr. Abbott drummed from the regiment for disloyalty. Now Mr. Abbott is to be fugleman and march at the head of the procession to teach the rising generation how to wave the old flag and to shoot traitor at every Canadian who seeks the sensible privilege of trading with our nearest market. When was Mr. Abbott reinstated as a loyalist? Did his active connection with, and participation in, the spoils of the Pacific Scandal wipe off old scores and qualify him for premier in a Tory cabinet? The Empire really ought to explain several of these little conundrums.

HON. GEORGE E. FOSTER has received an invitation from the Church of England Temperance Society of Lindsay to deliver a temperance address in that town on the 29th inst. The Minister's engagements are such that he has been obliged to decline the invitation. Before becoming a Minister of the Crown Mr. Foster was a prohibitionist for revenue—$10 a night. Now he is an anti-prohibitionist for revenue—about $20 a day.

THIS is hot weather for cabinet-making especially with such "crooked, knotty and rotten" timber as Hon. Mr. Abbott has to deal with.

Hon Mr. Chapleau evincently doesn't like the new cabinet deal. He "kicked" so hard that he sprained his ankle.

THERE'S one piece of furniture in his Cabinet that Mr. Abbott will have to varnish—he'll have to white-wash Sir Hector Langevin.

HIS Excellency didn't think Sir Hector respectable enough (politically) to form a Cabinet, yet Mr. Abbott thinks him all right to be a member of the Cabinet. Perhaps he intends to calcimine Sir Hector when the House get settled.

After Sir John McDonald, passed away, after Sir John Thompson, passed over, the selection of Mr. John Abbot inaugurates the days of cheap John premiers.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Is the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Get Ready For Vacation Time.

Vacation time is coming on for the professional man, the banker, the business man, and the clerk. How joyously some look forward to this holiday time of the year! Many are already speculating as to how and where this time will be spent. Many of the robust and healthy will go to the seaside, some to quiet country retreats and others to the best fishing points, to enjoy a well-earned season of rest and recreation.

Hundreds of less fortunate mortals who have also the privilege of a vacation time, are already in a condition of doubt and fear; they are anxious to use and improve their holiday time, but in their present state of health they know well that they cannot thoroughly enjoy themselves.

They are brain weary, nervous, restless, languid, irritable and dyspeptic. In this condition these poor sufferers can never make themselves happy with a vacation time.

If immediate attention is given, and the proper means used for their restoration to health, there is every prospect of their being enabled to go forth to country or seaside quite as able to enjoy themselves as any others who may go there.

To this class of sufferers Paine's Celery Compound offers the perfect health so necessary for all pleasure seekers. This grand preparation will make the nervous as steady as a rock; it will clear the clouded and weary brain; it will build them up in flesh, bone and muscle; it will give sweet sleep, and give tone to the appetite, and banish dyspepsia. Paine's Celery Compound is the only agent that can accomplish this desired result, and give to all the true pleasure and comfort they should enjoy in vacation time.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Innes, left to-day to sail on Wednesday by steamer Vancouver for the Old Countries where they will spend about two months. Mr. Innes will combine business with pleasure, and in the interests of the firm, will visit the chief continental markets and make purchases of goods. Mr. Innes has a long and intimate connection with the dry goods trade, and the fact of his personally visiting the British and continental markets will give much pleasure to the public particularly, the patrons of the establishment of Hall, Innes & Co.

CAMPING INFORMATION.

THE BEST METHODS OF PREPARING TO MAKE A START.

A Camper of Lengthened Experience Writes Feelingly on the Subject—The Bough Lean-to—The Bark Camp—The Tent and How to Pitch It.

WITH the very first appearance of spring weather and the drying winds that leave bare, firm ground, the boy and girl, tired of snow balls and sleds, and longing for something in the interregnum of sports, turn their thoughts to outdoor games and begin to feel their marbles burn in their pockets; for those who do not want to think out the subject for themselves, let me give a few suggestions as the result of my own experience for a number of years of camp life, as well as the experience of a large number of friends of mine.

I shall first take up clothing, for that is an important consideration. A camper should never get himself up in flimsy gewgaws, by which I mean those light or fancy colored garments of delicate texture which tradesmen so often advertise. These things get stained and look disgusting after they are worn a few days; they tear going through the woods, and wear out lying about in them. I have always used either corduroy or gray homespun, for they will stand the roughest usage without tearing, and don't easily show stains.

I always use a Norfolk jacket—called in this country Oxford jacket or belted coat—made loose, of strong homespun, and capable of being worn open when it is warm, or belted tight when the weather is cold. This coat looks quite sportsman-like. The cap is a matter of choice, but I like best the deerstalker which receives in this country the rather obvious name of fore-and-after. It should be of the same color and material as the coat. To be thoroughly de rigueur, for wild life, the camper should wear home-spun or corduroy knickerbockers, with black or gray stockings, unless the region where he pitches his camp is badly plagued by mosquitos, when he had better wear trousers as the fly pests will put their bill clean through the stockings. The stockings should be of wool and ribbed. For lying about the camp, canoeing, boating or light tramping, thin yellow leather, and sometimes canvas shoes might be used, but for all heavy work there is nothing like a solid boot, roomy, with wide sole and wide heel, laced tightly about the ankle and resembling the old-fashioned English shooting boot.

For underwear, what is known as light sanitary woolen is by far the best, because, while not over warm, this material rapidly throws off all moisture. I should advise wool for outer as well as inner shirts, and the former should be of a color which will not too easily show stains. The drawers should be of the same material as the inner shirt. Two inner and two outer shirts, two pairs of drawers and, if possible, two pairs of trousers or knickerbockers—or better still, a pair of each—with one jacket, will be sufficient. Don't forget handkerchiefs, light socks, and any kind of belt that you prefer.

Be careful in making up your kit. If you have long and rough travel and any portaging never take a box, no matter how many patents are attached to it or how convenient it may look on the tradesman's counter. It is inconvenient to carry in a boat and impossible to carry through the woods. I know nothing better than a good substantial bag, made of oiled canvas, thoroughly water-tight, and arranged so it can be laced snugly together. I have seen leather bags also which served the purpose admirably.

Each camper requires a pair of blankets, gray or dark red; the clothing I have mentioned, say two large crash towels, soap, small hand glass, comb and brush, tooth brush and paste, needles, thread, thimbles and buttons, couple of pairs of old kid gloves, a pair of scissors, pocket-knife belt-sheath and sheath-knife, a small bottle of arnica, bottle of Jamaica ginger, a "book" of court-plaster, a bottle of citrate of magnesia in powder, and two or three bottles of laxative pills, as advised by physician. I would not advise spirits except a bottle of excellent brandy to be used only after a severe wetting, and when there are indications that a cold has set in.

If you propose to camp some place far away from a grocery you must of course take your provisions along, and here comes the most troublesome part of your camping outfit. You must have tea, coffee and sugar, syrup, bag of salt, biscuits, pepper, mustard, vinegar and curry. I am a strong advocate of canned food for the camp, and in this form should have beef, lobster, salmon, tongue, and perhaps tomato and corn. Butter is also necessary, but if possible get it from the nearest farm house. Better take along also a bag of "prepared" flour, buckwheat, and spice if you wish; and above all some tins of good condensed milk. Condensed coffee is also an excellent article. You can have also prepared soups, chocolate etc. which add to the luxuries of camp life. But be careful about overloading your baggage. Each camper should have a tin plate and cup, a spoon, a knife and a fork. The camp should have a few more things, indicated tin kettles, the large one of the capacity of a gallon or more, and one little one, into the former an axe for heavy chopping is necessary, and it would be well to have a small hatchet for light work. A pocket compass is indispensable, as are also parlor matches.

There is no comfort in camping unless you take a tent, and the "A" structure, strong cotton, in my judgment, is best. One 8x10 feet, and six feet high will accommodate six persons. Better take along your ridge pole and tent pins; and always have an ample supply of cord. It is well to take tent pins, because sometimes you are suddenly overtaken by a rainstorm, or you reach the camping ground after dark and it is inconvenient or impossible to obtain tent pins. Never take crockery ware, for it is sure to break and heavy to carry.

Sufficient attention is not always given to a camp site. In choosing the spot several considerations should weigh. It should be near wood and water, and while secluded, should command a view of the most picturesque parts of its surroundings. Half the pleasure in camping is to have constantly before your eyes glimpses of blue waters, deep green glades, and bold, cool hills. The camp should be set in some quiet place where there is no fear of intrusion, and out of sight of clearings or civilization of any description. But as I have already said, it ought, if possible, to be within a few miles of a country store or a farm house, so that you may be enabled to have fresh butter, eggs, milk and vegetables. If it be fairly near to a store, then the trouble of bringing provisions all the way from home is overcome.

If the camp is near water the party should have a small boat or a canoe, which had better be secured from some resident of the neighborhood. The change of excursion from land to water is very delightful; moreover, it is more convenient to move about from point to point by water than by land where there are no roads and you are obliged to carry your camping outfit.

The camp, let me say also, ought to be erected on a dry spot, and the ground should fall away from it at least on one side, so as to carry away the water after rain. Some experts dig a trench around the camp with a straight drain leading down from the lowest point. In this way the floor of your camp can never become wet. Keep away from swamps, for the air arising from such places at night is unwholesome, and, moreover, swampy ground is where mosquitos are most numerous. Try to get near a pure spring for camp water and don't be too far from firewood. For the latter purpose dry pine stumps or cedar are excellent. What woodmen call rampikes also make capital fire wood. The thrifty camper will always keep a good supply of firewood, ready cut, and then he will not be obliged to work in the rain or after he has come home for the night tired. Kindling wood should be always kept in the camp. If storms are expected the tent door should be on the sheltered side.

A True Bill.

Wm. Gillespie, Wolfe Island, Ont., says: I had indigestion and stomach cough for three years. Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver trubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

Vigilant Care.

Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 3w25d

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

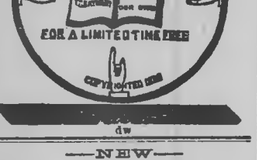
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you when to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

His Wife Mo'...ed Him.

On Wednesday, a far... came to market and leaned carelessly up against one of the freshly painted poles of the Bell Telephone Company ruinously smearing a new coat. He rushed to the police court for satisfaction and getting none, returned home in a very morose condition, but his wife knowing his weak spot got him an excellent supper and made him forget his troubles in a cup of hawley bros. splendid 50 cent tea. dw

A Narrow Escape.

While the workmen excavating the basement were this morning working near the foundation of the west wall of the old school room of the Charlotte street church, the earth suddenly crumbled away, throwing over twenty feet of the wall outward, and nearly burying six men in the debris. The foundation was merely loose stone. Nobody was hurt.

Two Ways to Get There.

It is expected that there will be a number of persons from town attend the Douro picnic on Thursday, as well as friends of the church in the surrounding townships. There are two routes for reaching the picnic ground, one by way of the Warsaw road, and the other by way of the boundary. Those taking the Warsaw road should turn to the right at the church, and those taking the boundary should turn to their left at the 4th line.

Workingmen Awake!

At a meeting of workingmen held in Knights of Labour hall, Hunter street, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—Whereas the working men of Peterborough have no means of expressing their views as regard their grievences and rights as citizens of Peterborough. Therefore be it resolved that we do establish a weekly paper devoted to the interest of the masses, especially organized labour, and also farmers' organizations.

The 'Lunge' Season.

This morning a Reid street gentleman given to peacatorial sport rose at four o'clock and made for the river below the locks and succeeded in gaffing a beauty of a maskinonge. He was met proudly carrying home his trophy—presumably for breakfast for which his early tramp had given him an appetite—but he declined to tell a fish story, he did not want to establish a precedent for the season, in the way of fish stories, but he wasn't afraid to bet that his fish weighed fifteen pounds. Sports say that Little Lake is full of lunge and that there wouldn't be a better place for fish than this if the saw dust could be kept in subordination.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises lacrosse match, bicycle races, athletic sports, grand horse races, baseball match, and other sports during the day. In the evening there will be a grand promenade concert, etc. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Special railway rates and special trains after the evening programme is over. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

St. Joseph Hospital.

Our daily papers teem with notices and advertisements of different excursions to take place on the Dominion Day. All are excellent and are well calculated to attract people looking for a pleasant way to have a day's outing. But in this burning weather, the question is where can we go to have a day's rest and enjoyment and return home at night thoroughly refreshed instead of having that tired feeling that too often accompanies such holidays? Go to the picnic at the beautiful grounds at St. Joseph's Hospital, where you will find charming scenery to feast the eye, a constant round of innocent amusements and athletic sports, and well burdened tables to put the finishing touch to your good humour. You can go there with your whole family, and you will return home thoroughly satisfied that the day could not have been spent more enjoyably. 1d

He Comes up Smil-ax.

The Court House Park.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Mr. F. Mason has said a few words in reply to "Smilax." The gist of the latter's epistle was to the effect that full advantage was not taken of the water in the park. Mr. Mason refers to the Court House rather facetiously, as if I intended to complain of his not sprinkling water on top of the Court House itself. Now I gave the caretaker credit for more discernment than he has displayed. Brown, yes, white patches on the lower or cultivated portion of the park, have been eye-sores all this spring, and because the caretaker has not kept the water running at all continuously either day or night. I write to call his attention to this. I have no complaints to make.

SMILAX.

The Boys.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

There are to-day in Peterborough in the banks and the various manufacturing establishments and shops, hundreds of young men who, under favorable circumstances, should give us clubs in the various branches of athletics that would put the province on its mettle to compete with them. But I hear some one saying that the cricket club is drooping; the baseball club is not what once it was; and as for lacrosse—ah, Peterborough was once known for its magnificent lacrosse, but now, alas! only the little gaffers are seen on a corner of the Central Park, stealing a private game. What is the matter? Is the accursed thirst for gold so all prevailing that the fathers begrudge our boys a bit of green on which at eventide or on the Saturday afternoon, our youth may gather, and in innocent and manly effort compete in friendly and happy rivalry for the applause of the onlooker or the elation of victory? Surely there is "a time for play," or is this an old fashioned notion of early days? Must it be all work—the "all work" which our fathers said "made Jack a dull boy"?

I cannot conceive a more suicidal policy than one which makes all our young men glad to get away from their homes—one which in the coming years will leave them only memories of toil and dullness.

Is there in the memory of our older men any happier remembrance than that associated with the games we played, the fellowships and associations with kindred spirits in the glad days "when our club beat the other fellows?"

We look back and see where our city fathers missed opportunities of getting for "a song" grounds, which besides giving parks to the people would have given play grounds for our boys. Is it yet too late? Or shall we drive our boys to billiards, cards, bar rooms and theatres because we fail to supply facilities for healthful and innocent amusement.

The construction of the electric railway will annihilate distance and make available grounds that are now too far off. Will some one, before it is too late, secure suitable grounds — grounds which may be nicely planted and made attractive, and where quoits, cricket, base ball and lacrosse may be played, and old and young made happy in their leisure hours, which are the cream of life. Give the boys a chance.

Endeavour Society Reception.

The Young People's Endeavour Society of St. Andrew's Church gave a reception to their new pastor, Rev. A. McWilliams, last night. They first held their regular meeting, and at its close, the chairman, Mr. Hamilton, invited their pastor, Rev. Mr. McWilliams, to address them. He expressed himself in the following words: "That nothing had given him more encouragement since becoming pastor of St. Andrew's church than the Young People's Society. Seeing them take so much interest in the work gave him much encouragement. Then in trying to make a home for the young people in the church, he felt they were working hand in hand with him, and with their and and prayers, it was the stepping stone to the building up of the church; and God certainly will bless them in their well doing." At the close of the address Miss Wrighton stepped forward and gave, in behalf of the Society, the following address of welcome to the pastor, Rev. A. McWilliams:

REV. AND DEAR SIR,—The Christian Endeavour Society of this church think it peculiarly fitting that they should extend to you greetings of heartiest welcome and good will. We trust that your labours in our midst may be crowned with prosperity, that you may have light in guiding, joy in service, and that the good seed sown may bring forth fruits unto righteousness, even "an hundredfold." Pleasure shared is a pleasure doubled; a labor shared is a labor lightened, and we trust God's richest blessings will follow His work in this particular portion of His vineyard in which for the future we are to work hand in hand. And when the labours of this life are over, may it be your and ours to enjoy together a blessed heavenly rest and an eternal friendship with Him "whom having not yet seen, we love."

On behalf of the Society,

NELLIE F. WRIGHTON.

June 15, 1891.

In response, Rev. Mr. McWilliams thanked the Society for its welcome, and hoped the Society would prove a tower of strength. After addressing next a kind word of welcome to the strangers in the church a pleasant half hour was spent in a social way, after which refreshments were served. The pastor seated at the head of the table, with eighty-five you ladies and gentlemen with him a very enjoyable time was spent. The meeting closed about ten o'clock p.m. by singing "God be with you till we meet again."

Edgar-Tempest.

The General Passenger Agent of the G. T. R. Wedded at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, June 15th.—A pleasing wedding ceremony took place this morning, when Mr. Wm. Edgar, of Montreal, general passenger agent of the G. T. R., was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Elizabeth Tempest, daughter of the late W. S. Tempest, of Port Hope. The ceremony was performed at 9.30 a.m., at the residence of the bride's mother, Pine street, by Rev. E. Daniel, rector of St. John's church, in the presence of a few of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. Walter Wilson, of Montreal, assisted the groom, while Miss Jenny Tempest assisted her sister in the capacity of bridesmaid. The bride wore a fawn colored travelling costume. The presents were superbly rich, and included a number of handsome presentations made to the groom by the different departments of the Grand Trunk service. The newly wedded couple left in Mr. Edgar's private car, which was attached to the 11 o'clock express for Montreal. The wedding trip will extend to the eastern states and the seaside. The bride is one of Port Hope's fairest daughters, and she has many friends who will wish Mr. and Mrs. Edgar a long, happy and useful life.

A VERY WARM TIME OF IT.

The County Councillors Meet and Perspire,

And Make Their Thirst With Ice Water at the County's Expense—The Warden's Lengthy and Comprehensive Address—A Deputation to be Heard To-morrow.

County Clerk Pearse had two big jugs of ice water in front of him this afternoon when the June session of the County Council opened, and the depressing influence of the sweltering heat outside invaded the usually cool, lofty chamber to such an extent that almost as much attention was paid to the water pitchers as to the opening proceedings. Warden Elmhirst took the chair divested of his official robe. It was too warm for even such an airy and silken superfluidity as that.

The first business taken up the council by was the third reading and passing of a by-law authorizing the issuing of debentures to the amount of $20,000 for bridge purposes in the county. The law requires that in by-laws of this kind a special meeting of the council must be held for its final passing. To comply with the letter of the law, the council went into special session shortly after two o'clock. Mr. Kidd moved the third reading of the by-law, which was carried, and the by-law was finally passed.

The council then went into regular session. The following were in attendance, there being only one absentee, Mr. John Burnham, who is in Ottawa attending parliament. Warden F. Elmhirst in the chair:—

Lakefield—W. H. Casement, Reeve.
Norwood—John Finley, Reeve.
Asphodel—Jas. Moore, Reeve; Jno. Fitzpatrick, Deputy-Reeve.
Belmont and Methuen—Alex. McAuley, Reeve; J. L. Aunger, Deputy-Reeve.
Burleigh, &c.—F. Elmhirst, Reeve.
Douro—John Moloney, Reeve; Wm. Garbutt, Deputy-Reeve.
Dummer—A. R. Kidd, Reeve; E. Hawthorne, Deputy-Reeve.
Enniskmore—Wm. Crough, Reeve.
Galway—Chas. Cobin, Reeve.
Harvey—Robt. Shaw, Reeve.
Monaghan, North—Joseph Forster, Reeve.
Otonabee—Geo. Stewart, Reeve; Wm. Anderson, Deputy-Reeve.
Smith—M. Sanderson, Reeve; Hy. C. Garbutt, Deputy-Reeve.

After the reading of the minutes the warden read his address as follows.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

To the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—It gives me great pleasure to meet you, but not only to meet you but, so far as I can judge, to see you in good health.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S DEATH.

A few days ago the country was shocked to hear of the death of Sir John Macdonald. His death has caused profound sorrow, not among his friends alone, but among all classes of the community. For nearly fifty years he gave his great abilities to the service of the State, and for more than half that time he was the most prominent figure of Canadian politics. This is an occasion on which we can refer to his career without party feeling and I am sure that you will agree with me that his name will be forever associated with two great achievements, the Confederation of the British North American provinces and the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The railway, bound together by commercial ties, vast territories, separated by forest and mountain; and Confederation laid the foundation of what we all hope may be a grand, strong and enlightened British nation. Sir John is gone, but his name remains; it will live in the history of the nation, so long as the nation itself endures.

CROP PROSPECTS.

It is pleasant to be able to congratulate you on the favourable circumstances under which we meet, for, notwithstanding the cold and dry spring, the change in our harvest prospects consequent on the recent rainfalls, is so marked that I trust we may now confidently hope for abundant crops.

A NEW MEMBER,

I learn from your county clerk that J. L. Aunger has been elected Deputy Reeve of the municipality of the united townships of Belmont and Methuen. I would suggest that Mr. Aunger's name be added to also several standing committees of which his predecessor was a member.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

I have had circulars sent to the managers of banking, insurance and financial companies and stock brokers, asking for offers for the purchase of the debentures about to be issued under the by-law we have just passed.

I am sure when you shall have inspected the financial statements, which will be submitted for your inspection, you will be pleased. It is very gratifying to learn that, although our county rates have not been increased, and we have within the last few years expended annually very large sums in erecting iron bridges, which, from the substantial manner in which they have been built, may properly be considered permanent assets, the county indebtedness is so small.

The consideration of the estimates and deciding on the amount to be raised for the current year's expenditure is one of the most important duties devolving upon you at this session.

SEEING FRESHETS AND BRIDGES.

The high water this spring has in some instances washed away the earth works at the approaches of some of the bridges, and necessitated the employment of men for a few days to keep the bridges clear of flood wood and debris; in other respect I think our county bridges escaped damage. The ice above on Mud Lake did not operate as severely as in former years, and the traffic was stopped but for a few hours. Some of the repairs ordered the past session have been executed, and others are under progress; full particulars in relation to these matters will be submitted for your consideration, in the report of the County Engineer.

THE BEET ROOT SUGAR INDUSTRY.

In compliance with the recommendation of the report of the Finance Committee adopted at the last session, in company with Messrs. Sanderson, Moloney, Kidd, Stewart, Garbutt (Henry), and Forster, I attended a meeting of the promoters of the beet root sugar industry which took place at Harwood on 13th February. There was a very fair attendance at the meeting. From information furnished, it appears that there is a large extent of soil in this locality well adapted to the growth of the sugar beet, and that the quality of the beet raised is fully up to the average anywhere, excepting California. There can be no doubt that great benefits would accrue to this locality, if a beet root sugar factory were established here. From all I can gather, I believe that about twelve acres of sugar beets have been put in in this county in quarter acre plots and at the end of the season we shall be able to know what quantities of beets per acre will be produced and the percentage of sugar when analized, and consequently form some estimate of the probability of sugar beet raising being a profitable industry.

BOUNDARY BRIDGE LEGISLATION.

During the recent session of the Local Legislature, Mr. Willoughby, the member representing East Northumberland, introduced a bill which, if carried, would have placed the duty on county councils of erecting and maintaining bridges on any river or stream one hundred or more feet in width, which might be within eighty chains of the boundary line, between one or more counties. Immediately after the bill had been introduced, our worthy representative in the the Local Legislature notified our county clerk of its construction, and of the importance of our taking immediate steps to prevent, if possible, the passing of the bill. Mr. Pearse notified me and I had a meeting of the special Bridge Committee called. Messrs. Stratton and Blezard, who kindly attended the meeting, strongly urged on the committee that a deputation to strengthen their hands be sent from the County Council to present to the Government their views in opposition to the bill. In the meantime deputations from Victoria and Northumberland and Durham had appeared before the Government in support of the bill. In accordance with our representatives' wishes, a deputation composed of myself and Messrs. Sanderson, Burnham, Moloney, Stewart, McAuley and our Clerk and County Engineer interviewed the Government urging that the bill should not become law, and at a meeting of our special committee, which met almost immediately after our interview with the ministery, I suggested that as the bill might come before the Municipal Committee before I could be notified in time for me to attend, that Mr. Burnham and our Clerk be authorized to employ counsel and generally take such steps as they might deem necessary in order to defeat the bill. The committee adopted my suggestion and when the bill came before the municipal committee Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson and Pearse waited on the committee, and I am happy to say, that in spite of the most strenuous efforts on the part of the promoters of the bill, who were not only represented by deputations but also by counsel before the municipal committee, the measure was defeated. The county owes its thanks to Messrs. Stratton and Blezard, and Mr. Burnham, and also to the other members of the deputation, for the special efforts put forth by them in the interests of the county. A vote of thanks from the council to these gentlemen would be a very fitting recognition of their valuable services in this matter, and strong efforts were made by Northumberland, Durham and Victoria to have this measure become law. Had they succeeded in their efforts a very large and permanent expenditure would have been entailed on this county, as the passage of the bill would have made this county liable for the future maintenance of the Trent Narrows, Hastings, Pigeon Creek, Bobcaygeon and Kinmount Bridges.

To enable the deputation to clearly define and explain the position of, and the results to this county if the proposed legislation became law, I instructed your County Engineer to prepare a map of the county and the surrounding districts, showing the position of the bridges, for the partial maintenance of which the passing of this bill would render this county liable, and also showing position of the bridges within the county which are wholly or partially maintained by this council. The map was very useful to the deputation in stating their case, enabling them to show clearly the injustice which would be done this county if the proposed legislation was adopted. In this connection I suggest that as some of the bridges have not been definitely named that you give a name to each bridge and cause the same to be entered on the map.

Mr. Kidd moved, seconded by Mr. Finley, that Messrs. Moloney, Sanderson, Casement, McAuley, Stewart and the mover and seconder, be a committee on the warden's address.—Carried.

ANOTHER COUNTY HEARD FROM.

A letter was read from the Reeve of Seymour township stating that a deputation from the counties of Northumberland and Durham proposed waiting upon the council to-morrow (Wednesday, the 17th inst.) re the Narrows bridge and asking the council to make arrangements to meet them.

On motion it was decided to confer with the deputation to-morrow at 10 a.m., and the council adjourned until that hour.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 163 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had wrought wonders in the case of his wife. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle, I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Intense Suffering Hood's Sarsaparilla cured his dyspepsia. 8 Years

BANDIT GERONIMO KILLED.

Attack on a Gang of Outlaws and Two Captured Alive.

BENSON, Ari., June 15.—Deputy Sheriff Gray arrived here yesterday morning with the body of the notorious Mexican stage robber Geronimo and two confederates, one of whom is Leon. They had been robbing stages in Southern Arizona during the last five years, and officers have been continually after them. Saturday night Gray and posse run them down in the mountains near Pantano. They made a fight, Geronimo firing five and Leon three shots without effect. They had pistols and their pursuers had rifles. Geronimo fell dead and Leon surrendered.

Geronimo has committed many murders and was captured several times, but escaped. Leon, his accomplice, up to six months ago was a deputy under Sheriff Slaughter, and in almost constant pursuit of Geronimo until Slaughter went out of office. Then he joined Geronimo.

FIGHT ON A LOCOMOTIVE.

Engineer and Fireman Battled While Running 33 Miles an Hour.

ALLIANCE, O., June 16.—A thrilling encounter took place on an engine on the Lake Erie, Alliance & Southern Railroad near this city. George Benitz, the engineer, and James McSwigan, the fireman, were both candidates for the favor of Julia Spisler, a pretty brunette of Berghois, the southern terminus of the road. Both are young men and each was aware of the other's intentions. They started out from Berghuis with a mixed passenger and freight train, and when within 20 miles of this city McSwigan informed Benitz that he had proposed to Julia and been accepted.

The enraged the engineer, who sprang upon his fireman and a battle on the tender ensued, the train moving at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour at the time the engineer released his hold on the throttle. McSwigan grabbed a coal shovel to defend himself, but it was wrenched from his grasp and he was soon lying upon his back with the engineer's hand upon his throat. A brakeman on the boxcar saw the scuffle and with the assistance of others ran forward and stopped the fight. Upon the promise that nobody would be reported, both the ardent lovers resumed their posts.

Two Thousand Carcasses Destroyed By the Burning of a Philadelphia Abattoir.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—An electric light wire is responsible for a fire which early this morning wiped out most of the facilities for supplying Philadelphia with city dressed beef, having burned out the main abattoir at the West Philadelphia stock yards, together with two large refrigerator buildings used for storage. The abattoir belonged to Martin, Fuller & Co. and had a capacity for slaughtering over one thousand head of cattle a day. Two thousand carcasses were roasted in the storage houses. The entire loss is estimated at $200,000, on which there is a partial insurance.

During the fire the ammonia pipes in the refrigerating apparatus burst, creating great consternation among the firemen and spectators.

Charles Hooks, a street car conductor, was dangerously injured by an iron bolt which struck him squarely in the forehead, crushing in his skull. To prevent any serious effect on the home supply and thereby raise prices, an arrangement has been made by which the export abattoir will be used by the local butchers, and the exportation of cattle stopped until the old abattoir is rebuilt.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them can go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

RE-ASSEMBLING OF THE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

Mr. Abbott Makes His Official Announcement Concerning His New Cabinet—All the Old Ministers Retain Their Portfolios—Convict Labor at Kingston.

OTTAWA, June 16.—"Having obtained the requisite permission from His Excellency I desire to make a statement of proceedings after the death of the late the Right Hon. Sir John Macdonald. It was felt by His Excellency that the state of public affairs did not necessitate the formation of a new Cabinet until the grave had closed over the late Premier and the last honors had been paid him. On the morning following the funeral His Excellency, exercising his constitutional right, applied to the Hon. Sir John Thompson for his advice with respect to the steps which should be taken for the formation of a new Government. Later on the same day, by Sir John Thompson's advice, I was myself summoned by His Excellency, and after consideration I accepted on the following day the duty which His Excellency desired me to assume. I therefore communicated with my colleagues and requested their consent to remain in their respective offices, and with their assent submitted to His Excellency my recommendation that they should be continued in the position, which His Excellency was pleased to approve, and he also sanctioned my assuming the departmental office of President of the Council. The vacancy caused by the lamented death of the late Right Honorable Sir John A. Macdonald has not been filled, and pending the appointment of a successor the affairs of the Department of Railways will be administered by a member of the Cabinet."

This was Mr. Abbott's official statement of events which led to the formation of his Ministry, read to the House this afternoon by Sir Hector Langevin.

The House was well filled and the galleries crowded in anticipation of a hot debate over Cabinet changes and partly also by the Connolly incident. Neither subject was of the sensational character expected. The Opposition reserved their remarks regarding the new Administration for some future occasion.

Mr. Laurier gave notice to-night that he will ask to-morrow what will be the policy of Mr. Abbott's Government.

From Mr. Abbott's statement it will be seen that Mr. Chapleau has come into the fold for the present. He has not been given the Department of Railways and Canals for which he contended so strongly.

Senator Drummond had a long interview with Mr. Chapleau last night and Mr. Abbott himself was with him this morning. What are the conditions on which Mr. Chapleau yielded has not yet transpired. It has not been decided who will be the acting Minister of Railways. Mr. Chapleau will be confined to his residence for some days with his sprained ankle.

Before the Bar.

Mr. Michael Connolly was summoned to appear before the bar of the House at 4 o'clock to explain why he refused to produce for the inspection of the Committee on Privileges and Elections the books of his firm relating to the contracts under investigation in consequence of Mr. Tarte's charges.

He appeared accompanied by Mr. Alexander Ferguson, Q.C., his counsel. Michael was cool as ever in a light summer suit and white vest. His brother Nicholas was in the background.

Sir John Thompson moved that the report to the House of the sub-committee of the Committee on Privileges and Elections referring to Michael Connolly's conduct be read.

Mr. Rouleau, the assistant clerk of the House, took about 20 minutes struggling to read the report.

Mike labored in vain to understand what was read. The clerk's assistant is French and nervous, and his elocution even on ordinary occasions is none of the best. To-day his voice reminded Mike of a creaking cart on a corduroy road near one of his contracts.

When the clerk finished Dr. Ferguson caused roars of laughter by remarking: "In English now."

Sir John Thompson then asked the witness whether he was willing to place in the custody of the committee for reference the different books of accounts in question.

On the motion of Mr. Daly the House agreed to allow Mr. Connolly to answer through his counsel.

Mr. Ferguson read a statement from Mr. Connolly in which he reiterated the reasons already given for refusing to produce his books. They contained accounts of unsettled claims and of the firm's indebtedness to others, the dealings of the firm with other contractors and other private matters, the publication of which would injuriously affect the firm. Moreover the firm were not the accused ones. He submitted that he had complied with the terms of the subpœna as far as any court of justice would demand that he should not be required to give up the custody of the books and that he should be discharged from custody.

Mr. Ferguson added that, notwithstanding the reasons given for refusing to produce the books, Mr. Connolly was prepared to give them up if ordered by the House to do so.

Sir John Thompson moved that Mr. Connolly withdraw from the House, as he had some remarks to make.

Mike withdrew but immediately went up to the Speaker's gallery, whence he heard his position discussed by the Minister of Justice.

Sir John gave a recital to the House of the events leading up to Connolly's refusal. He said that if Connolly kept the books in his own hand and refused to allow anyone of the committee to see them he was complete master of the situation. The witness had not complied with the rules of a court of justice at all. The books were sealed books to the committee. Sir John, therefore, moved that Mr. Connolly be ordered to produce the books and deliver them over to the custody of the Clerk of the House. He added that he had intended to move that Mr. Connolly be placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms until the books were produced, but in view of the statement that the books would be produced if the House so ordered he struck that clause out of the resolution.

The resolution was adopted without discussion and the incident ended.

Trade Negotiations at Washington.

In reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir John Thompson said that assent had been given to the production of more of the papers connected with the trade negotiations at Washington. He would make a fuller statement on the point to-morrow, indicating what the papers were and when they would be produced.

New Insane Asylum at Kingston.

The House then went into Committee of Supply.

On the vote of $148,583 for Kingston Penitentiary, Sir John Thompson said it was necessary to find some industry for the convicts when the work in progress at the other penitentiaries had ceased. The problem was not yet serious, but might become so within a year. It was probable that there would soon be further constructive work at Kingston, as he was of opinion it would soon be necessary to construct an asylum for insane criminals. The present asylum was sufficient as far as interior accommodation was concerned, but it gave only room for very limited outdoor exercise.

In reply to Mr. Mulock Sir John Thompson added that several manufactories of woodenware were started after the work had been going on for some time at the penitentiary, but the Government sold the products of the convicts at the ordinary market price and did not take advantage of the fact that they got labor free. According to the last annual report the value of the output was $2250. The Government made an arrangement with woodenware dealers throughout the country by which the woodenware produced by the convicts should be placed in the hands of Mr. E. B. Eddy, Hull, to dispose of.

Mr. Mulock said that unless an assurance was given that the system would be dropped he would take an opportunity of testing the opinion of the House on the question

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Next Meeting to be Held in Montreal—Extending the Mission Fields in Palestine and British Columbia.

KINGSTON, June 16.—With the beginning of Tuesday's work the assembly received a report of the organ of the church, The Presbyterian Record. Mr. Croil, the editor's resignation was accepted and he was given $1000 as a recognition of past efficient services. Mr. Murray was offered Mr. Croil's position but declined the offer. Rev. E. Scott was appointed to succeed Mr. Croil. The Record's circulation is 10,000 monthly and the receipts for the year amounted to $13,911.

Loyal addresses were passed to Her Majesty the Queen and to His Excellency the Governor-General of the Dominion.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada this day arranged for the establishment of a new mission to the Jews in Palestine and instructed the Foreign Mission Committee to look out a suitable medical missionary to proceed to that land at once. It was furthermore agreed to establish a new mission to the Chinese in British Columbia with headquarters at Victoria, and to begin operations by Oct. 1 next, if by that time a suitable missionary can be found.

Montreal was carried over Victoria, B.C., and St. John, N.B., as the place for holding the next meeting of the General Assembly.

A lengthy discussion took place over a clause in the Foreign Mission report asking for the appointment of a salaried secretary for the work of the Western Division. The court thought that the Presbyteries should have something to say in the creation of this proposed new office with a paid agent connected therewith, and in consequence sent the matter down to the inferior courts to examine for a year this subject and report to the Assembly of next year.

After the boards and standing committees for the year had been appointed the General Assembly chose Hamilton Cassels of Toronto a trustee of the foreign mission property in the Northwest.

The evening session was devoted to the subjects of "State of Religion" and "Sabbath Observance." Mr. Pringle in the absence of the convener summed up the encouraging and discouraging features of the report on the state of religion, and was followed by Dr. A. B. McKay.

Sabbath observance was reported upon by Dr. Armstrong, convener of the committee on this subject. The assembly instructed ministers to bring before their congregations the nature and sanctions of the Sabbath, and that at least one sermon during the year be devoted to the subject, and that ministers of the church and ministers seek, as they have opportunity, to use the press in influencing public attention to right views on Sabbath observance. The assembly expressed sympathy with the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, especially with the attempt to obtain better legislation for the protection of the Sabbath as a day of rest.

THE GREAT SUBURBAN.

TENNY, THE FAVORITE, BADLY BEATEN.

Tea Tray, Riley and Other Likely Horses Also Defeated—The Great Swayback Was Never "In It," an Outsider, Loantaka, Winning with Ease.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 16.—Twenty-five thousand or more enthusiastic persons braved the heat of a tropical sun to-day and visited this course to see the Suburban decided. The weather could not have been improved upon for racing.

Enormous improvements have been made about the grounds, and to-day the course is one of the handsomest in America. The whole formed one of the prettiest pictures ever presented to an American race crowd. There were 100 bookmakers on the track and the betting was lively.

By the time Port Chester had won the third race the crowd was wound up to concert pitch and was prepared for the Suburban.

Down in the betting ring fathers of families, conservative business men and heavy plungers fought and pulled each other around in a mad endeavor to bet their money on Tenny.

This could not go on forever, however, and at 4.15 the bugle called the horses to the post. Out they came, ten as noble-looking animals as ever faced a starter. They cantered up to the post and marched past the grand stand, where every horse and rider received more or less applause. Tenny came in for the lion's share, however. Back again they went to the post, and after some delay they all approached the starter on even terms. Flash went Mr. Caldwell's red flag and the big race was on. For a few strides a half dozen of them were neck and neck. Then as they neared the stand Major Domo shot to the front, and as he swept by the stand was a neck in front of Cassius, who had Banquet at his heels, while Demuth, Isaac Lewis and Riley were well up with Tenny, Tea Tray and Loantaka bringing up the rear. They ran in this order around the lower turn, where Demuth took second place to Major Domo, the only other change being that Tea Tray was last and was sulking. He would not try a yard. When straightened out for the run up the back stretch the pace quickened and the interest became intense. Major Domo still held his lead with Cassius, Demuth and Banquet as his closest attendants, while Tenny, who was now fully extended, could not gain an inch. Murphy commenced to urge him and his legion of backers gained courage, for he gained slowly and it was hoped his wonderful burst of speed would carry him to the front in the stretch. It was a false hope, however, for on the turn for home he faltered. Murphy then tried the whip. The famous burst of speed was not there and the favorite was beaten. Just at this time new interest was given to the race, for Fitzjames joined the leaders, while Loantaka had gradually improved his position within hailing distance. And thus they swung into the stretch: Major Domo a half length to the good, while Demuth, Cassius, Fitzjames and Loantaka were all on nearly even terms. The excitement was intense.

It was anybody's race, and at the last furlong shouts of "Major Domo wins!" "Fitzjames wins!" "Cassius wins!" "Demuth wins!" "Loantaka wins!" were heard from all parts of the stand.

Then all of a sudden Bergen commenced to work like a demon on Loantaka, and strides by strides he passed his horses, and at last was on even terms with Major Domo. For 20 yards the struggle was magnificent, then Loantaka drew to the front and won by a length and a half from Major Domo, who lasted long enough to beat Cassius a length for the place. A length away came Fitzjames, who was followed in order by Banquet, Tenny, Riley, Demuth, Isaac Lewis and Tea Tray, whose abominable temper had prevented him from making a better showing.

FOURTH RACE—The Suburban Handicap; the Association to add the amount necessary to make the value of the race $15,000; the second to receive $4500 and the third $1500 of the money; 1¼ miles.

A Proposed Memorial.

OTTAWA, June 16.—At the City Council last evening G. F. Stalker, a well-known city architect, presented a drawing of a proposed civic memorial to the late Premier, to cost $80,000. The council agreed that some steps should be taken in this direction but that the time was not yet ripe.

A Picnic Party Prostrated.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—During a severe storm this afternoon 25 picnicers huddled together in an outhouse in Forest Park, when lightning struck the building. Sadie Mc Arthur, aged 12, was killed and all the other occupants of the outhouse were injured, five seriously.

Less Red Tape.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Secretary of the Treasury has suggested to the Secretary of State an amendment to the consular regulations so as to permit persons intending to emigrate from Canada to the United States to execute the requisite oath for the entry of their teams and household and personal effects either before the collector of customs at the regular port or before a United States consular officer at a place near their residence in Canada at the option of the intending emigrant.

His Custodians Forgot, and Hats Had a Meal.

TROPPAU, Austria, June 16.—A deaf and dumb man was arrested in the village of Harabin for vagrancy May 28 and was put in a cell. The police forgot all about the prisoner and did not visit his cell again until yesterday, when it was found the man had died of starvation and that the body had been eaten by rats.

His Canoe Capsized.

WHITBY, June 16.—Henry Harris, aged 18, son of Mr. W. C. Harris, late of Caledcott, Burton & Co. of Toronto, was drowned here in the harbor this morning in consequence of his canoe upsetting.

THE NEWS OF CANADA

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE OF A YOUNG LONDONER.

A Big Defaulter in Montreal—The Theft of Mr. Purcell's Body—A Number of Fires Yesterday—Presbyterian Assembly—A Toronto Wedding.

LONDON, June 16.—August Freudenthal, a young German apparently about 24 years of age, was dead in a room at 285 Talbot-street. A black mark around his neck tells of the manner in which he came to his end. About 11 o'clock this morning screams from his wife caused a neighbor named Richard Tunks to rush in, and in a small clothes room off the kitchen his body was found hanging by a rope tied round his neck and attached to a nail near the ceiling. Life was extinct. One end of the rope was attached to a nail, which could not have sustained his whole weight. The man was on his knees and had evidently pulled the rope sufficiently tight with his hands to choke himself, finding the nail would not support him. Freudenthal came to this city from San Francisco a little over a year ago, and from what has been gathered was a doctor by profession. Despondency, caused by poor circumstances and a lawsuit with which he was connected, but of which nothing can be learned at present, is ascribed as the cause of the act. He leaves a wife and an infant child. The former is half crazed with grief and cannot realise that her husband is dead, but thinks he is sleeping.

Robert Balmer of concession 11, London township, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock succeeded in taking his life by swallowing a very large dose of paris green. Some two or three weeks ago he attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor and came very near bleeding to death, the affair causing a great sensation in and around this city, where he was well known. Careful attention brought him around, and to thank his attendants he evaded them by taking the paris green yesterday. He suffered greatly for about 12 hours, dying about 3 o'clock this morning.

MR. PURCELL'S BODY.

The Search Still in Progress—A Diver Now at Work.

CORNWALL, June 16.—Derouchie, who furnished a chart indicating where Mr. Purcell's body had been sunk, being interviewed, said that he had received the chart and instructions from the parties who performed the robbery on condition that they received a portion of the $500 paid by the family and would not be prosecuted. Regarding the search, he said as the water is very deep and the current strong, the body may not be recovered for a week. Derouchie says that the body is sunk in about 40 feet of water and fastened by the neck to a heavy weight. On the correspondent's way back from Flannigan's Point he visited Michael Purcell's house, where a grave has been prepared at the side of the house to receive the body when found. It is deep and will be so closely guarded that ghouls will have little chance of stealing it a second time, should it be recovered. A diver has been engaged, and will endeavor to raise the body.

ACCIDENT AT THE TUNNEL.

The Approaches on the American Side Cave In—Considerable Delay Occasioned.

PORT HURON, Mich., June 16.—This morning a big landslide occurred at approach to tunnel on the American side. The bank began sliding at the portal and extended west about 600 feet, carrying with it the engine-house. The case is similar to that which occurred on the Canadian side. The approach was practically completed and the steam shovels about to be taken out. The accident will cause several weeks' delay and furnish labor for hundreds of men during that time. Loss to Tunnel Company will probably be between $35,000 and $40,000. Fortunately no one was injured.

A Toronto Wedding.

TORONTO, June 16.—Toronto's fashion and beauty crowded St. James' yesterday to witness the marriage of Miss Maude Cawthra, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Cawthra of Yeadon Hall, to Captain H. Brock, barrister and son of Mr. W. R. Brock. Rev. Canon Dumoulin officiated. The bride was attired in a handsome costume of duchesse satin, trimmed with Brussels point lace, and the flounces were caught up with orange blossoms, clematis and lily of the valley. Upon her bosom glittered a magnificent diamond star, the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony there was a reception at the residence of the bride's father, Yeadon Hall College-street. The tour will include leading American cities and seaside resorts.

Killed at His Post by Lightning.

QUEBEC, June 16.—A young man named Weipperl while performing his duties as brakeman upon the line of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway, on the top of a car, was suddenly struck by lightning and killed, lying where he fell upon the top of the car until the train was stopped and his body removed. It is supposed that the electric fluid was attracted by the handle or wheel of the brake at which the deceased was working.

Died in Church.

MONTREAL, June 15.—Palmyre Lefebvre, a pretty and well educated young lady, died suddenly at Longueuil yesterday in the Roman Catholic Church while kneeling at prayer. The event created a small panic in the church.

WELSHMEN INDIGNANT.

Comments of the Press on the Prince's Apology in the Commons.

LONDON, June 16.—The popular crusade against the Prince of Wales shows no sign of abating in strength or bitterness. After the lecture delivered last night at Carnarvon, Wales, by Henry M. Stanley the band played "God Bless the Prince of Wales." The Welshmen, however, no sooner heard the first strains of the familiar air than they raised a storm of hisses which almost drowned the noise of the band. At seven religious meetings held in various parts of the country yesterday the Prince of Wales was roundly denounced for the share he took in the baccarat scandal. At the Methodist Conference now being held at Leeds the visit to Tranby Croft was classed as a "gambler's orgie."

The Daily News says: We venture to say the Prince of Wales' new departure in substantially apologizing to Parliament and the country exhibits a just deference to public opinion which will dispose of the whole matter. The pain which the unpleasant process must have cost the Prince will count as part of his expiation with every generous mind. The fact of ill-assorted companionship of years and dignity on the stool of repentance, though it is an honor for the Levetts, must be an additional annoyance for the Prince of Wales.

The Chronicle (Conservative) finds fault with the Government and the War Office for providing a cushion to soften the Prince of Wales' fall. Instancing the case of a private who was degraded for shielding a comrade who stole a trifle while drunk, The Chronicle says: "Why should a field marshal, the Prince of Wales, be treated differently? We get nothing in the shape of military benefit from placing royal personages in coveted posts in the army. The least expected is that they remember that they wear the Queen's uniforms."

TURNBULL'S

As the season advances we have many bargains to offer the public. One of the greatest attractions in our store to-day is some thirty or forty pieces of dress goods that were formerly from 25 to 50c. a yard. They are odd lines, and are now being cleared out at 15c. a yard. They can only last a short time, call early and secure the best patterns.

We want to tell you about our cheap Hosiery. We have piles upon piles of heavy goods to select from, in men's, women's and children's. 8 pairs for 25c.

For a week past we have been showing a window of Prints at 10c a yard. Handsome as it is possible to have them, and perfectly fast colors. We never had the like before at less than 12½c. Remember them if you do not see them in the window now.

We are showing an elegant range of white embroidered shirtings and all over embroidered muslins.

We have a great many patterns of figured Wool Delaines, so that it is no trouble to get something to please with us.

We have bought out a wholesale agent's samples of pretty little Lace Dolmans and Fichus and are selling them now at a bargain.

Our best quality of Black Gloves and Hosiery this season are perfectly stainless dye. We have great pleasure in selling them, as they please everybody as to quality and price.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	2,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,965,558.00
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	583,675 87

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07

A CABINET MAKER'S WOES

The Unsettled and Unsatisfactory Situation at Ottawa.

The Fight of the Rival Factions For First Place—"Poor Ontario" Left out in the Cold—Chapleau as a Champion Kicker He Still Holds the Key of the Situation.

OTTAWA, June 15.—Has Mr. Abbott failed to form a Ministry? It looked this afternoon as if he had, and as if Sir John Thompson had been compelled to step into the breach and become in name what he is in fact—the leader of the Government. This was indicated by a conference between Sir John and Mr. Chapleau lasting from 4 o'clock to 6 at Mr. Chapleau's house. Mr. Costigan, who is being knifed by Mr. Foster and shielded by Sir John Thompson, was also there. The Nova Scotia leader and the Quebec politician are in sympathetic antagonism to Sir Hector Langevin, while Mr. Costigan mistrusts the Minister of Finance, knowing that by Mr. Foster's aid Mr. Wood of Westmoreland is trying to supplant him. There was one more prominent figure in the group which gathered round Mr. Chapleau's couch, Senator Drummond, who doubtless exercised a refining influence on its deliberations. Mr. Chapleau's sprained ankle had swollen to such dimensions that he was in considerable pain.

THE ARBITER OF THE DAY.

The question whether these gentlemen were emissaries of Mr. Abbott's endeavoring to persuade the ex-Secretary of State to stay his hand and allow the Abbott Ministry to exist, or were there to agree on Mr. Abbott's premature downfall and their own elevation, is one that cannot be solved to-night. Mr. Chapleau's friends say that he has gone too far to withdraw either with dignity or honor, while his enemies declare that he is a political coward, without sufficient courage to try a fall with his crafty antagonist. At all events Mr. Chapleau appears to hold the fate of the new ministry in the hollow of his hand, and he can crush or spare it as his personal interest or ambition dictates. It is reported to-night that Mr. Chapleau has received a written guarantee from Mr. Abbott that he will be made Minister of Railways and Canals after the session, and that Chapleau is satisfied with that. Mr. Chapleau was asked if the interview with him in the Montreal Herald of to-day was correct, and he replied that it was partially correct.

POOR ONTARIO.

The Chapleau-Langevin conflict is interesting, but it is nothing compared to the embarrassment and anxiety under which the Ontario Conservatives are fretting. They feel depressed and are angry, but why they will not say. They are intensely dissatisfied with the turn of affairs, but will not talk about it for publication. Those members who are here speak together in whispers, with dark brows and thoughtful, troubled aspect. They complain of cutting no figure in the public eye at this juncture, and yet are unable to point to a man who might be taken in as a representative of the most powerful and the wealthiest province in the Dominion. In a word, they are disheartened and distrustful, sore at heart and distressed in spirit. When they meet the caucus called for to-morrow Mr. Abbott will hear something drop.

A MAKE-SHIFT MINISTRY.

It is said to be settled that if Mr. Chapleau is placated the new Ministry will consist of the old Ministers until the end of the session. The cry is:—"We must consolidate in the presence of the enemy if we are to hang on to office. Whatever is done cannot allay the divisions and jealousies or abate the ambitions among both officers and crew even if the utmost conciliation enables them to float past the session. Mr. Chapleau's personal organ notices the assertion that harmony prevails only to deny it. Meanwhile an expectant public awaits Mr. C.H. Mackintosh's candid opinion of a Provisional Prime Minister whose appointment is "a proclamation of weakness." The evening Conservative paper here says to-night:—"The public, and perhaps Mr. Abbott himself, have yet to learn whether he possesses the power to reconcile conflicting interests, to dispel the clouds which jealousy and misdirected ambition engender and to present before Parliament and the country an unbroken front of a united Administration and a well-disciplined party. Just one word in conclusion. The weakest point of the Cabinet has been its lack of Ontario representation. With Sir John gone, this will be a fatally weak point unless the very best material is selected from Ontario for one, if not both, of the vacant Cabinet portfolios."

IS MR. WALLACE SERIOUS?

Speaking of this weak point, it is interesting to reproduce some interviews published in the Boston Herald from its Ottawa correspondent, as follows:—

"Mr. Clarke Wallace, member for York and the hero of the adoption of the Orange Bill by the Dominion Parliament, favoured Mr. Cockburn, member for Centre Toronto. Mr. Cockburn, he said, was a man that would take in the west and was eminently fitted to lead a Government. He would support him."

As to Mr. Abbott, the Herald correspondent notes Mr. Bradley, a prominent lawyer, as saying:—"Hon. Mr. Abbott was an old Canadian Pacific Railway fossil and of no value. He could not believe that the intelligence of the people would allow him to be selected as the Premier of the Dominion."

SIR CHARLES APPROVES.

A cablegram has been received by Mr. Abbott from Sir Charles Tupper congratulating him on his appointment as Premier. It is expected that no business will be transacted in the House to-morrow except perhaps the proposed examination of Michael Connolly at the bar of the House. The vacant places in the Cabinet, President of the Council, Minister of Railways and Canals and Minister of Agriculture, will not be filled this session.

MR. CHAPLEAU'S INTERVIEW WITH THE MONTREAL Herald.

This is the interview in the Montreal Herald which Mr. Chapleau describes above as partially correct:—

"It is quite evident, Mr. Chapleau, that the Herald was right when it stated that Mr. Abbott would be called to form a Cabinet."

"Yes, you were correct. It is an extremely difficult task under the circumstances to do, and do successfully, what has been asked of him. He was busy Friday and Saturday, and he has only to-morrow before him, so you may judge of his work.

"Why did you say 'under the circumstances?'"

"Ah, now (with a suggestive shrug of the shoulders), you probably know quite well what I mean without my saying too much."

"I think I do. Another thing I know, Mr. Chapleau, simply this: more than one Montrealer hangs to the opinion that your name and those of your followers will be heard of among the Liberal ranks."

Another shrug of the shoulders; then without hesitation, but restrained, a gleam of determination in the eye—"I do not doubt it. I must have my rights, or I may do something which I will not now say."

"I should like to hear it now."

Gestures, nothing more, and then I continued: "What portfolio do you wish, Mr. Chapleau?"

"Before Sir John Macdonald died he told me that he intended to resign his portfolio, and that I should have it. Our beloved Premier is gone, but I remember his promise and hopes that I also remember that by seniority I am entitled to the position of Minister of Railways and Canals, and I must have my rights."

"Do you know who the man are who will be selected for the office? I do not include yourself or Sir Hector."

"I have no doubt that with the exceptions you have mentioned the old Cabinet will be again selected. I think, however, that there is no man who is better qualified to accept the Premiership than Sir John Thompson. He is a clever man, though perhaps not quite such a manipulator of men as one could wish for in a leader, these are not always the best kind."

"You will have to be satisfied with Mr. Abbott."

"Quite so. Mr. Abbott is, as you probably know, a great friend of the C. P. R., while everyone knows that my friends are those of the G.T.R. Now, do you not see that in case I am appointed as the Minister of Railways it would mean a stepping stone to harmony and peace?"

"But would Sir Hector like this? You must know, Mr. Chapleau, that public opinion, and public opinion counts high, claims that you and the Minister of Public Works are not very good friends."

"Personally we are quite good friends, but partizans on either side have talked considerably, and this may have a great deal to do with what you have just spoken of."

"Some have suggested Sir Hector as the leader of the Government."

"That would never do. In the first place he is getting very old, and then his following in the House is very small. I was fortunate, he was unfortunate. I am referring to the last elections. Do you know that now I have the largest following in the House?"

"I did not know it until you told me, but I do know that in this city at least Sir Hector is very unpopular."

Mr. Chapleau did not appear to relish this fact or to any way gloat over his comfrere's fall, but in a quiet manner he said: "Sir Hector's usefulness is gone, and I think he will soon retire."

"What would he then do?"

"Seek rest."

"When do you propose to return to Ottawa?"

"I have had a carriage ordered and have made arrangements to be taken back to the capital to-night, so that I shall be on hand to receive Mr. Abbott's answer to-morrow."

"Answer to what?"

"To a question. I must be told my position at once; in fact, we must all know immediately what is going to be done. The House will sit on Tuesday and a great crisis is at hand."

"To what do you refer—the formation of the Cabinet?"

"Y-e-s; though I do not apprehend any great trouble, but at the same time I must tell you that Mr. Abbott is a wise lawyer; take for instance his work upon the Insolvency Act; take a look at his business principles. Yet when remembering all this you must not forget that politically he is almost unknown, while Sir John Thompson is eminently fitted for the position. Ontario people take exception to his religious principles, but I tell you that when a man takes a position and holds it simply because of his religious tendencies it is time that he should retire."

"You have no ambition to lead the party yourself?"

"None, whatever. I am ready to follow the right man, but my principles will always be just sentiments and not those of a party. Should I be called upon to fill the important position of Minister of Railways and Canals, I shall carry out the same ideas that I worked upon when twice before I held a similar position."

In referring to the Intercolonial Railway, Mr. Chapleau said that it was sure to drop between $500,000 and $600,000 this year.

The Diamond Dyes
The foe defies.

Crude enterprise
Is not wise,
In making dyes
That all despise.

We realize,
Without surprise,
That Diamond Dyes,
Have gained the prize.

Though jealous eyes
May plans devise
To advertise,
And heave great sighs,—

In Diamond Dyes
All recognize,
Without disguise,
The truth concise.

The message flies,
The world replies,—
"Give us supplies

Why Struggle.

Why struggle with exhausting diseases when you may be promptly cured by the use of nature's remedy—Burdock Blood Bitters—the perfect cure for dyspepsia, billiousness, constipation, sick headache and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scorfulous sore. 3w25

Rough Skin,

caused by cold weather, is made perfectly smooth by one application of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal 61139

If you have any pains in the joints, caused from cold or dampness, do not wait until it develops into a bad case of rheumatism, but ask W. R. Grestrix, druggist for a bottle of Royal Rheumatic Remedy. dw

If you are taking the large, old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose. Try them. dw

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Is the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Like Paralysis.

"For years I suffered with my back which sometimes became as if paralyzed. I suffered awful agony for months and could not sleep, but now, thanks to your Burdock Blood Bitters, I am strong again, have no pain and can work well, eat well, and sleep well,"—Mrs. Hammerton, 23 Charlotte street, Toronto, 3w25

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

Distrustful People

make an exception in favour of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus and all bowel complaints causes all who use it to regard it as the most reliable and effectual remedy obtainable. 3w25d

Everybody Likes It.

Wm. Dredge, Ellen street, Barrie, Ont., says: One bottle of Miller's Equision of Cod Liver Oil brought back appetite which other Emulsions away; removed cough entirely, and gained five pounds. It tastes just like cream, the oil being perfectly disguised. Sold by all druggists. dw

CAMPING INFORMATION.

WHAT TO DO UPON ARRIVING AT YOUR CAMPING GROUND.

Some Wrinkles Which Will Add Much to the Comfort and Convenience of Campers—A Handy Boat—Some Uses to Which Birch Bark May be Put.

As I have said, a pocket compass is indispensable where excursions through the woods or any unknown territory is contemplated. If the region is not subject to fog a good plan is to note carefully the location of the highest peaks in view, and to know exactly where the sun rises and the point at which it sets. The direction of the wind, which can be known by looking at the clouds, and the courses of streams are points that should receive attention. When the stars are visible they are also unfailing guides. I have been in the north of Newfoundland without a compass in the dense fog, and was guided by the larch trees, the tops of which as a rule, bend towards the east. But keep your compass always in your pocket and you can't go far out of your way, and take bearings carefully before starting.—Letter No. 1, Edmund Collins.

The camp once set and all your traps and provisions on the spot, it is well to divide up the labor, each one of the party at the first taking the work that he is best able to do. If all the members of the party know how to cook, then it might be well if they took turn about for a week, or two or three days. While one has charge of the cooking, which also includes the washing of dishes, etc., and the general cleanliness of the camp, another should provide wood and water.

Tidiness and cleanliness are virtues just as much to be observed in camp as in a city house. No scraps of food, empty cans, or rubbish of any kind should ever remain in the camp, neither should they be thrown out where they can be seen, for any scraps become offensive in hot weather. Sweep everything in a pile, put it into a vessel for that purpose, and carry it well away to some concealed place.

With a limited supply of clothing it will be necessary to wash them at least a couple of times a week. In rainy weather a line may be passed along near the top of the tent and clothes hung upon it. In stormy weather, when there is danger of the camp being blown down it is a good plan to extend this clothes line through the camp, fastening each end securely to a tree or stump outside. Whenever you return to camp with your boots or clothes wet, take them off at once and set them to dry. Never put on damp clothes. It will not be necessary to do so if you keep one change clean and dry at your hand.

As for eating, I am a sturdy believer in a substantial breakfast. Have your coffee hot and fresh, and if you are near a lake or stream there will be no difficulty in keeping the table supplied with fish as often as it is cared for. I should not advise a midday dinner; it makes one heavy, stupid, and inclined to sleep. Take a light lunch of bread, tea, and whatever else you feel you must really have. Let your dinner, at, say 7 o'clock, when you arrive at camp tired and hungry, be the great meal of the day. If you are near a village or farm houses you will have vegetables and eggs, and these with your bacon, beef or tongue will be a menu to satisfy any appetite. As for myself, I have never camped anywhere in the early or late part of the season that I have not had game for dinner. It is worth while to row six or eight miles to a village once a week to get a joint of fresh meat for dinner if you can't have game. This can afterward be eaten cold and curried. There is no camp condiment that I know half so delicious as curry.

Dishes, plates and table utensils should always be washed after the meal and put away tidily. To remove grease and other matter from the dishes hot water is necessary. Unless upon rainy days it is not necessary any time in warm weather to light a fire in the camp. Build fires and do the cooking outside; and it is much pleasanter and cooler to eat in the open, provided a shady place is selected than in camp, where, owing to a lack of circulation in the air, it is always close and sometimes oppressively sultry.

The making of a camp bed is more important than inexperienced persons imagine. I am opposed to lying on the bare ground even though one has a thick, blanket under him, for you can never be sure that the place is quite dry; and damp is certain either to engender colds or rheumatism. I carry about with me, as one of my human ills, rheumatism of the right shoulder as the result of lying on my right side all night in a bed of wet turf leaves 13 years ago. There is nothing better for a bed than flat fir boughs, laid one over another like shingles, and rising high at the head. These protect you from the ground, and a delicious balsamic odor always fills the camp. Of course you spread a blanket over the boughs. I have also made good beds of dry, yellow moss, which is abundant almost everywhere in the woods. Either a fir-bough or moss bed ought to be changed every fortnight. Blankets and clothing should be hung out every fine day and suspended from the camp line on wet days. It is well to suggest that in windy weather the camp stays should be fastened tightly to the pins, but before rain the stays should be slackened, as the cord is shorten when wet and pull out the pins. When it rains never permit anything to touch your tent cloth inside or outside, for wherever it is so touched it will leak.

If there is any ingenuity in the party camp seats can be easily contrived, and some will not go into the wilderness with out an adjustable camp table, which is more difficult to construct. With wax or sperm candles, which are altogether indispensable, a small lantern like that used by railroad men, or a small camp illuminator, books or magazines may be read, or the party may write in the evening. When I was a boy I always had two or three of Capt. Marryatt's novels with me, some books of travels, such as Bayard Taylor's "Views Afoot," Scott, Dickens Fenimore Cooper or some others. It is easy to make a checker board as well as the pieces, and a domino box or the like is not cumbersome to carry. Innocent games and books help to pass many an hour in camp in bad weather. Speaking of lights, a mica lantern is the best for use at night when traveling through the woods or along rough places.

Besides the camp utensils mentioned which the party should take along, several useful vessels may be constructed from birch bark. The illustration shows a camper stripping the bark from a birch tree. The Indians are experts in making birch bark vessels, but any one with a little care and skill can add much to his camp convenience in this way. The drawing shows the process of making the articles. Remove the bark from the tree without puncturing or splitting it, then fold as shown in the diagram, and fasten at each end with a wooden peg. The sheets may be folded into vessels of any size, from three gallons capacity down to a half pint. In these may be put water, cold soup, stew, butter, fish, meat, bread, or whatever you will, and it is not difficult to make bark covers to fit upon the vessels.

I have also contrived bark plates, and nothing looks smarter and tidier in a camp than nice bark mats. They keep the heel from breaking the sod or turf. Every woodsman should also be able to make his own birchbark torches, which is a simple matter. Take a strip of bark a foot or a foot and a half long and about three inches wide, doubling and redoubling it, and then fastening it in the split end of the stick. It throws a bright light, will burn for a long time and not go out in an ordinary breeze of wind. The Indians use these flambeaux always.

A boy stood on the burning deck,
Unwisely, too, 'tis said,
For with the fast approaching flame,
His elders quickly fled.
So many new in peril stand,
Unmindful of their fate,
Till, step by step, Grim Death comes on
And then, alas! too late!
Far wiser, surely, would it seem,
When his approach we see,
With "Pierce's Pellets" well in hand
To vanquish old "G.D."

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have remarkable power to correct all physical derangements, thus warding off disease that would surely come. Purely vegetable, pleasant to take, perfectly harmless! With a little forethought, they'll be a present help in time of need—cheating the doctor, and robbing the grave! As a liver pill they are unequalled, Smallest, cheapest and easiest to take. One a dose as a laxative, three or four as a cathartic. Tiny, sugar-coated granules, in vials, 25 cents, c

Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver trouble, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

Vigilant Care.

Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 3w25d

It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

The battalion is ordered to parade in drill order on next Tuesday night for a march, the bands also parading.

Mr. Arthur M. Rutherford, of Owen Sound, has taken the initial step in what will be to lacrosse men, and all interested in the national game, an important matter. A. and the Senior Lacrosse League, with blank spaces for scoring the results as they are learned. The schedule is in a handy pocket size, and sells for ten cents, special rates being made to clubs. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

Indecent Bathers.

People who go down the Little Lake in boats and canoes complain of the outrageous conduct of grown men who go bathing without the formality of putting on trunks, and who roost like turtles on booms and piers exposing their persons, to the accompaniment of foul language, in a most shameless manner. Of course ladies who go out boating with the husbands or friends are shocked and insulted and they cannot be persuaded to go a second time thus being deprived of the blessed privilege of enjoying the cool of the evening on the lake. The offenders are not boys but grown men, and they belong to both town and Ashburnham. Will the police of both places be on the alert a little and arrest some of the frequent offenders and teach them a most salutary lesson?

Sons of England Excursion.

Yesterday morning three coaches formed the special C.P.R. train that took the excursion of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England to the Limestone City. The party started about 6:20 and reached Kingston at about 11 o'clock. They were received by a deputation of the Kingston brethren and the flag on the City Hall was hoisted in honour of the visitors. The excursionists then separated to seek recreation and amusement afforded by the city. A detachment stormed and captured Cape Vincent, others the military quarters, others the penitentiary, asylum, etc. The excursionists spent a very pleasant day in the city, the train reaching town on the return about 2 o'clock in the morning, the travellers having highly enjoyed the Sons of England excursion.

Died in Dakota.

Intelligence was received here on Monday of the death at Langdon, North Dakota, of Mr. Reed Hall, a former resident of Peterborough, and brother of Messrs. E. H. D. and Sheriff Hall. The sad message was received from the secretary of the Masonic lodge at Langdon, to which order he belonged, who looked after the deceased. Fuller information is expected regarding the manner of death of the late Mr. Hall. Deceased will be well remembered here. He was a very genial, kind-hearted man and had many friends who will deeply regret his death.

The Black Knights, Orangemen, True Blues and Orange Young Britons of Bobcaygeon and vicinity intend celebrating the glorious 12th in Peterborough. It is expected that nearly 1,000 people will come from that district. Efforts are being made to have the delegates from Ireland to the Triennial Counsel and Grand Master N. There was a good attendance at the meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night to complete the organization of a Philharmonic Society. In the absence of Mr. Clinton, Mr. Sheriff Hall occupied the chair.

Organization was completed by the election of the following officers:—

PRESIDENT—W. Clinton.
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT—Dr. Boucher.
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT—J. H. Roper.
SECRETARY—J. Crane.
TREASURER—J. Gower.
CONDUCTOR—J. Churchill Arlidge.
COMMITTEE—Messrs. W. Sailsbury, R. E. Wood, W. E. Lech, Sheriff Hall, A. L. Davis, N. A. Sanderson and Geo. Matthews, Miss Davidson, Miss Vair, Mrs. Walsh.

The membership is now between thirty and forty, and the prospects are regarded as encouraging for the establishment of a strong society, whose object will be to study with a view of public presentation, oratorios, cantatas, part songs, as well as to do orchestral work. There is abundant musical talent in Peterborough, and it would be a fine thing if it could be brought en rapport with an organization like the above, so that its development can be properly effected. It will be a fortunate day for Peterborough in a musical sense when such an event can be brought about.

DROWNED IN RICE LAKE.

A Yacht Upset and Three Lives Lost.

Struck by a Squall—The Melancholy Fate of a Pleasure Party on Rice Lake—Narrow Escape of All On Board.

Mr. Robt. Adamson, of Hiawatha, is in town to-day, the bearer of very sad news. Last evening three persons were drowned in Rice Lake under the most painful circumstances. The story of the accident is as follows:—

Tuesday forenoon a party of Hiawatha people set out for a day's pleasure jaunt upon the water in Oswald Craig's boat. There were eleven souls on board—Oswald Cragg, his mother and sister; John Foote, his wife, his eldest daughter and another little daughter three years old; Robert Cowe, Miss Thompson, Miss Gray and Miss Adamson, the latter a daughter of Mr. Robt. Adamson. They cruised about on the water during the day, visiting different points on the lake. They started to return home from Idyl Wild shortly before eight o'clock, and were sailing smoothly along about a quarter of a mile from the shore when a and swamped. A couple of the sails were safely pulled down, and Captain Cragg shouted to Mr. Foote to "let go the jib." In his excitement Mr. Foote got hold of the wrong rope, and before the error could be rectified the craft was upset and all its occupants precipitated into the storm-tossed water. The yacht, however, remained on its side, the keel not showing above the surface, and eight of the party found refuge in the water-logged hulk. Three of them were never seen again alive. Mr. and Miss Foote and the latter's baby sister, were hurled into the water, and in spite of the strenuous exertions of Mr. O. A. Cragg and Robert Cowe, they were drowned. The others owe their safety largely to the efforts of these brave young men who swam about the boat and rescued several. Miss Adamson was just caught by as she was sinking out of sight. Miss Thompson had also a narrow escape. The bravery and coolness of Miss Aggie Gray is worthy of the highest praise. She secured a place on the yacht, and repeatedly pulled up to safety those who slipped off from time to time, and doubtless saved the lives of more than one of the party. When help came Miss Gray firmly refused to leave the yacht till all the others were safe. Those remaining in the boat were soon taken to shore by Mr. Richard Doris, who had watched them from the time they left Idyl Wild, and saw the accident. This morning the people living in the vicinity turned out in large numbers to find the bodies if possible. About ten o'clock the three bodies were recovered, Mr. Foote's first, then the baby's, and lastly that of Miss Foote.

SQUALL BURST UPON THEM

The appalling accident has cast a deep gloom over the Rice Lake district, and indeed will shock all who learn it. Such a distressing mishap has not occurred in these waters for many years. The remaining members of Mr. Foote's family will receive the cordial sympathy of the whole community in which they lived. Mr. Foote was about 45 years old and his daughter about nineteen. Both were much respected in the village of Hiawatha.

Another County Heard From.

Northumberland and Durham Want Peterborough to Share in the Expense of a Bridge—Reply to the Warden's Address.

The County Council met this morning and received a deputation from the county of Northumberland and Durham with reference to the joint maintenance of the bridge over the river Trent at the Narrows. The deputation comprised Wm. A. Ferguson, Reeve of Millbrook and Warden of the county of Northumberland and Durham; M. Macoun, Reeve of Seymour, Mr. John Morrison, Deputy Reeve of Seymour; Mr. W. W. Armstrong, Reeve of Campbellford; Mr. T. B. Carlow, Reeve of Percy.

PLACED ON COMMITTEES.

Some routine business was first disposed of:—

On motion Mr. Aunger, Deputy Reeve of Belmont, was placed on these committees: Equalization of Assessment, Roads and bridges, Schools, Printing and Property.

REPLY TO THE WARDEN.

Mr. W. H. Casement read the following:

The Special Committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:—

(1.) Your committee fully endorses the statements in the warden's address relating to the decease of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier of Canada, and recommend the council to send to Lady Macdonald a memorial of condolence.

(2.) Your committee sincerely hopes that the Warden's expectations as to the abundance of the crops may be realized.

(3.) Your committee concur in the reference of the Warden to Mr. Aunger's status in the council.

(4.) Your committee approve of the action of the Warden in the matter of inviting offers for the purchase of the debentures.

(5.) Your committee reciprocate the expressions of the Warden on the substantial condition of the finances of the county.

(6.) Your committee join in expressions of satisfaction for the small damage to county bridges from the extremely high freshets of last spring, when other counties suffered so heavily.

(7.) Your committee are pleased to learn that the soil in this locality is specially adapted to the growth of sugar beets, and hope that a sugar manufactory may be established in this locality in the near future.

(8.) Your committee approve of the action of the Warden with respect to his efforts in defeating Dr. Willoughby's (M.P.P.) proposed amendment to the Municipal Act in reference to bridges, and agree with the opening expression of the Warden that the thanks of the council should be tendered to our local members, Messrs. Stratton and Blezard, and also to the members of the committee appointed by the Warden. In this connection your committee cannot too strongly condemn the introduction of legislation discriminating in favour of one municipality at the expense of another.

(9.) Your committee fully approve the suggestion of the Warden that the several bridges in the county should be named, and the names entered on the map referred to as being prepared by the County Engineer.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
W. H. CASEMENT,
Chairman.

ABOUT THE BRIDGE.

The visiting delegates were then given a hearing.

Mr. Warden Ferguson was the first speaker. Personally, he knew nothing of the bridge, he said, but others of the deputation knew the circumstances thoroughly. He might say, however, that the deputation came here rather unfortunately in view of the recent legislation asked for regarding that bridge, but he would state that the counties they represented did not instigate the movement, nor did he know who had instigated it. But as the legislation asked for in Dr. Willoughby's bill would have settled the question of maintenance of the bridge for all time to come, they allowed the matter to proceed without hindrance, and no doubt some of them would have been glad if it had passed. However, at present they came here on the strength of an impression given them by Mr. Barnham, that the County Council of Peterborough was willing to assist them in this bridge, and he asked for a liberal grant.

Mr. MACOUN, the Reeve of Seymour, made a full statement of the position of affairs. He said the deputation wished the County Council of Peterborough to make their rule of action in the past permanent, so that when ever repairs were to be made the proceeding of making a grant would not have to be gone over again every time. He read the resolution passed at the meeting of the united counties, stating that whereas the bridge in question had been largely destroyed by ice during the winter, and as the work of re building was one of considerable magnitude, that a united effort should be made by the counties of Northumberland, Durham and Peterborough to rebuild and in future maintain the bridge, upon terms to be mutually agreed upon, or, failing this, to leave the proportion to be assumed by each county to be settled by arbitration. In view of the past liberal grants by the county of Peterborough to that bridge, which showed that they took an interest in it and appreciated its importance to this county, or at least a portion of it, the township of Belmont, they thought the county of Peterborough ought to join permanently with the other counties and make it a boundary bridge. Mr. Macoun pointed out that by abandoning this bridge Seymour township would not be affected so seriously as Belmont, for a bridge at Healy's Falls would serve them as well if not better. Mr. Macoun said further that if these arrangements were made the township of Seymour would be willing to give the county of Peterborough the strip of four or five hundred acres of land belonging to Seymour township on this side of the river, thus making the river the boundary line. These conditions he considered very fair, and he asked the council to come forward manfully and assume their rightful proportion in the maintenance of this bridge.

THE REEVE OF CAMPBELLFORD.

Mr. ARMSTRONG prefaced his remarks on the subject in hand, by indulging in some personal reminiscences. He had been introduced as an old member of this council, and he remarked that he was pleased to see the old chamber again, though like the faces sitting about him, it wore a strange look to him now. He, however, missed the face of the then Warden, Mr. Miller, who has passed away, but he was pleased to see the County Clerk, Mr. Pearce, still in his place. Referring to the matter under discussion, Mr. Armstrong said the ground had been well covered by Mr. Macoun, but he might say that 27 years ago the advisability of this bridge was discussed by the county council of Peterborough, and he considered it much more of a necessity now. He supported the other speakers in their statements regarding the importance of the bridge to this county, and the fact that this county had in the past at various times made liberal grants towards the bridge.

Mr. CARLOW did not wish to add anything, but urged the county of Peterborough to be liberal in their dealings.

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE.

On motion of Mr. Moloney the matter was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

Mr. KIDD thought it advisable to get from the deputation some definite opinion as to how much money would be expected from this county.

Mr. MACOUN said it was the small bridge that had been carried away, but parts of the old bridge were in a bad state, and they thought $3,000 would build a wooden superstructure on the whole bridge. They would not attempt to fix this county's share. He asked the council to give the deputation some information as to what they purposed doing before they went home.

Mr. MOLONEY thought it would do to notify the deputation afterwards of their intentions. He remarked that the county of Northumberland and Durham had sent deputations before the committee of the Legislative Assembly, but when they saw the bridge bill was not likely to carry they began to back out and repudiate it altogether.

Mr. Kidd said he for one could not go back on what Mr. Burnham had promised.

Mr. SANDERSON said Mr. Burnham had simply stated he felt sure the county of Peterborough would give a grant, but had not definitely promised it; besides, when in committee the grant had been offered the Northumberland and Durham delegates they refused it.

The discussion was ended by Mr. Casement moving that the council adjourn till to-morrow at nine o'clock.

The Road and Bridge Committee at once went into session and heard the views of the delegates again with reference to the Trent Narrow bridge. They will report on the matter.

VICTORIA UNIVERSITY.

A Peterborough Lady Lays the Corner Stone.

Well and Truly Laid by Mrs. Geo. A. Cox—Triumphant Methodism—A Great Demonstration—An Epoch in Education.

To the crown of educational institutions that are the chief glory of Toronto another gem, and one of the brightest, was added on Monday when amid circumstances the most auspicious the corner-stone of the new Victoria College was laid in presence of a gathering of distinguished citizens and and leaders of Methodism.

Of the steps that led up to the ceremony few citizens of Toronto, or indeed of Ontario, are unaware. After an existence of half a century as an independent, degree-conferring institution, Victoria University, by the will of the Methodist body, will remove from Cobourg and become affiliated to the Provincial University with the intent of strength to both institutions.

On the height overlooking the Queen's Park from the north, in what Hon. Edward Blake well described as the most advantageous site in Toronto, the massive pile of the buildings of Victoria College are now rapidly rising. Yesterday there was instead of the sound of mallet and chisel the noise of preparation for a great gathering. Flags floated gayly amid the trees and on the floor of the first story of the building, and on the plateau for a rod either way chairs were placed for the accommodation of the visitors to the ceremony.

Rev. John Wakefield, president of the Niagara Conference, announced the opening hymn which was sung fervently by the large gathering. A portion of Scripture from the 8th chapter of Proverbs read by Rev. Dr. Shaw, of Montreal Theological College, was followed in fervent prayer by Rev. Dr. Reynar, professor at Victoria University.

Rev. Dr. Potts before calling upon Chancellor Burwash to read the historical scroll to be placed within the cavity of the corner stone, made expression of regret at the absence of Rev. Dr. Carmec, general superintendant of the Methodist church, now presiding over the Manitoba Conference; of Senator Sanford, who telegraphed his inability to be present; of Principal Shearton of Wycliffe College; of Rev. Prof. MacLaren of Knox College, now in attendance at the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, and of Dr. W. T. Aikens, who it was intended should have spoken for the "professional faculties," but was absent because of professional duties.

Victoria's chancellor, while reading the historical scroll and delivering his address, was listened to with splendid attention and frequently elicited stirring applause from the great gathering.

THE CEREMONY.

The proceedings were opened with the singing of an appropriate hymn.

I was recognized that the coming of Victoria meant much to Toronto, not only as a new impulse to her educational life, but as important factor in adding to the prosperity of the community. There was a large muster of citizens, when promptly at 3 o'clock Rev. Dr. Potts, as secretary of the Educational Committee of the Methodist church, came forward and took the chairman's place.

Rev. Dr. Shaw, of the Montreal Theological College, read a portion of Scripture from the eighth chapter of Proverbs, and Rev. Dr. Reynar led in prayer.

Rev. Dr. N. Burwash, S.T.D., chancellor of Victoria University, was then called upon to read the historical scroll and deliver an address. After reading the constitution of the university the speaker stated considerable information of much interest in connection with the early history of Victoria.

WELL AND TRULY LAID.

A handsome silver trowel was then presented to Mrs. Geo. A. Cox by His Honour Judge Dean, of Lindsay, who made a happy speech in his usual characteristic humourous manner. He was introduced as the oldest graduate of Victoria in this country. Mrs. Cox gracefully performed the necessary offices in connection with the corner-stone, which was declared well and truly laid.

Able addresses were then delivered by Rev. Dr. Douglas, of Montreal, President of the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal; Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education; Hon. Edward Blake, Chancellor of Toronto University; Sir Daniel Wilson, President of Toronto University; and Rev. E. H. Dewart, Mr. George A. Cox, Rev. Dr. Read, principal of McMaster College; Rev. J. Burwash, D. Sc., President of the Alumni Association of Victoria; Hon. J. C. Aikins, ex-Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba; and Hon. Oliver Mowat. The Premier was as interesting and eloquent as ever, and said in the course of his speech, "I am not one of you Methodists." "We'll take you in," said Dr. Potts. (Laughter.)

Before the ceremonies were brought to a close, the chairman called attention to the fact that they were in a great measure due to the generosity of the late late lamented Senator John Macdonald and Mr. William Gooderham, who had bequeathed respectively the sums of $25,000 and $200,000 to the institution. Mr. William Mulock, vice-chancellor of the University of Toronto, and one of those who had been unavoidably called away from the ceremony since it had begun, had donated the handsome sum of $5,000 to the institution.

Pastimes.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I was very glad to see the letter of 'B' yesterday. If I mistake not he is a very well-known legal gentleman. Speaking in an official capacity his letter would appear to bear, in an impersonal manner, upon the serious falling off in athletic sports in the town. This is not the fault of the young men, but of the people at large. Imagine if you will, the spirit of true out-door sport utterly stamped out and where would your young men, yes—your old men come from? This is a question for the council. A large ground for every kind of games should be provided. It is well worthy the consideration of all men, employers and employed. What a fine thing it would be to see the large factories and foundries commanding upon the open field. A large playground is what, above all, the workingman and their children most need as well as those of greater leisure.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two limbs, arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was as raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Such was H. A. Stout to me:—"I have tried everything prescribed to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woolever, druggist.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE PROHIBITION DEBATE FURTHER POSTPONED.

Mr. Laurier Asks the Government to Define Its Policy, and Sir Hector Langevin Promises to Make the Announcement To-morrow.

OTTAWA, June 17.—Mr. Abbott made the official announcement to the Senate to-night of the circumstances which led to the Governor-General summoning him to form a Cabinet. The statement was almost literally the same as that which Sir Hector Langevin read to the Commons yesterday.

Mr. Scott asked whether the Governor-General had summoned Sir John Thompson first to become Premier and whether it was true, as stated in a newspaper interview, that Mr. Chapleau entered the Cabinet on the distinct understanding that he would be given the portfolio of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Abbott said that the statement already made was literally correct. Sir John Thompson was asked by His Excellency to advise in respect of the formation of a Cabinet. The language he was authorized to use in respect of that interview was that His Excellency, exercising his constitutional right, applied to Sir John Thompson for his advice with respect to the steps which should be taken for the formation of a new Cabinet. He believed this was all that took place. On the other point he could not be expected to give an official contradiction of newspaper interviews nor could he undertake to say what took place on those occasions. He had already mentioned to the House all the advice which the Ministry thought proper to render His Excellency on the subject. What advice the Ministry might give in the future he could not say.

Mr. Scott: "Then I assume that no pledge has been given to Mr. Chapleau that he will be Minister of Railways and Canals at a future period."

Mr. Abbott: "I have already told my honorable friend that I am unable to state what advice the Government will give His Excellency on the subject. I might go a step further with respect to this question of the advice. The Government have determined upon no special advice with respect to any Minister to be given to His Excellency on any future occasion."

This was all the information that could be stracted from Mr. Abbott regarding Mr. Chapleau's strike.

Several members of the Senate congratulated Mr. Abbott upon his new honors and themselves upon the fact that the presence of the Premier and several Ministers in that chamber would increase its importance and bring it to its proper place in the constitution.

Mr. Abbott, in returning thanks for complimentary references to himself, modestly disclaimed any fitness for the position, adding that the position had come to him as a compromise. He promised, however, to do his utmost to merit the confidence which had been placed in him.

In the Common Sir Hector Langevin is, nominally at least, the leader.

The Government's Policy.

Mr. Laurier to-day said he wished to draw the attention of the leader of the Government to the fact that no announcement of the new Government's policy was yet made.

After a brief consultation with Sir John Thompson Sir Hector clearly assumed the leadership by stating he would make some announcement on the point to-morrow.

Mr. Cockburn asked: (1) Have any contracts been awarded in connection with the erection of the drill shed in the city of Toronto? If so, for what parts of the work and who are the contractors? (2) If any contracts have been awarded when is the work to proceed? (3) Have tenders been asked for the other parts of the work yet? If not, when will the Government advertise for tenders?

Sir Hector Langevin said the contract for excavation had been awarded to Messrs. Davis & Sons and would be completed Aug. 1. No tenders have been asked for the other parts of the work yet but the Government would advertise for tenders within eight or ten days.

Mr. Macdonald (Huron) asked whether the attention of the Government had been drawn to an order issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, dated May 19, 1891, quarantining for 13 days lambs and swine imported from Canada, the reason assigned being the absence of quarantine by the Government of Canada against the importation of sheep and swine from Great Britain.

Mr. Haggart said the Government passed an order in council on June 16 establishing against sheep and swine from Britain a quarantine similar to that established by the United States and had communicated the order to the United States Government.

Mr. Agnew asked whether the Government has any intention of moving the adoption during the present session of a measure prohibiting the sale by wholesale of intoxicating liquors within the compass of any municipality in which the municipal authorities have passed a regulation to the same effect.

Sir John Thompson's reply was that in the opinion of the Government such a measure ought not to depend upon municipal regulations.

Later on Sir John Thompson requested that the proposed adjourned debate on the prohibition question might be further postponed for a week, when the Government would announce a policy on the question.

Mr. Wood's (Brockville) bill to amend the Dominion Election Act by providing that Canadians who have become citizens of the United States or have filed statutory declaration of their intentions to become so shall be disfranchised, was read a second time and referred to committee.

Meredith Wanted.

The Evening Journal, the organ of the Equal Rights party here, in an editorial, "Meredith Wanted," calls to-night for such additional Cabinet representation as will counterpoise Sir John Thompson in the Cabinet. "Outside of McCarthy there is only one man whose presence in the Cabinet will fully put at rest Ontario distrust, that man is Meredith. With Meredith Sir John Thompson as Premier is fully possible, without Meredith the Conservatives may not long be in a position to name anybody as Premier. Now is the time to bring the Ontario leader into the Dominion House. Kingston is vacant and Mr. Metcalfe, M.L.A., who is already out as a candidate for Sir John Macdonald's late seat, announces that there is only one person he will stand aside for and that person is Meredith."

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

A Lively Discussion on the Young Peoples Societies.

KINGSTON, June 17.—Among the first things attended to this morning by the Assembly was the recounting of the count of ballots for delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council, which is to meet in Toronto in the autumn of 1892. They are: Principals Caven and MacVicar, the moderator, Dr. Wardrope, Principals Grant and King, the clerk, Dr. Reid, Revs. D. M. Gordon and D. J. Macdonnell; also Messrs. Justice Taylor, Hon. G. W. Ross, Justice MacLennan, John Charlton, W. Mortimer Clark, Hamilton Cassels, J. K. McDonald and W. B. McMurrich.

Permission to retire from the active duties of the ministry was given to Messrs. Darragh, Allan, W. Scott, K. Mackenzie Grow, D. McIntosh, Alexander Bell, James Ferguson, Stewart Lees, Geddes and Ure. The application of Rev. Mr. Meadhean was not decided upon, inasmuch as the assembly desired another medical examination. Permission for retirement was refused to Rev. Andrew Wilson of Toronto.

A deputation from the Dominion Alliance as representing the Kingston district was received by the assembly this afternoon. Three of the deputation spoke, after which the work of the day was resumed.

Unfinished work relating to temperance and Sabbath schools was attended to, after which the assembly transmitted for consideration to the Presbyteries of Bruce, Barrie, Owen Sound and Maitland a memorial for the formation of a new Presbytery in the Algoma district.

Two ministers from the Presbyterian Church in England, one from the Congregational Church of England, one from Scotland and seven from the Church in the United States were granted permission to be received into the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Touching the state of religion the prevailing evils reported ran from politics to mixed marriages, from horse-racing to euchre-parties, from intemperance to mammonism, from dancing to denominational rivalry. These things it was held deadened Christian sensibilities, created carelessness and indifference and generally weakened the church's power, influence and witness for good. Young people's societies were urged to be formed in all congregations. During the consideration of the report Dr. Mackay intimated that the Y.P.S.C.E. were "courting" societies, that they were composed of "cheeky young beggars."

Dr. Duval, Winnipeg: Rev. James Mullen, Fergus, and Johnson, Lindsay, defended the societies.

Dr. Duval created a sensation by saying Dr. Mackay's aspersions were "dastardly and beastly." He withdrew the words afterwards.

JUDGE MILLER DEAD.

Medical aid was at once summoned, but he never rallied and passed away without a struggle shortly afterwards. Heart failure was the cause of death. The deceased, although in his 8 1st year at the time of death, continued to discharge the actual duties of his position as senior judge for Waterloo County until two years ago, when he resigned owing to defective hearing. He was held in the highest esteem by all classes of the community. Of the members of his family there are living at present two sons and three daughters, viz., W. Nicholas Miller, barrister, Toronto; Henry Miller of Galt, Miss Carrie Miller of Galt, Mrs. Z. A. Lash, Toronto, and Mrs. J. B. Lash, Regina, N.W.T.

LADY BROOKE'S CAREER.

THE WOMAN WHO GAVE AWAY THE BACCARAT SECRET.

She Hates Gordon Cumming Because Scorned by Him—Nearly Called into Court with 14 Co-respondents—A Plunger on the Race Course.

LONDON, June 16.—Ascot week did not close without the gossip-mongers having the best of it. For several days rumors have been afloat both in the clubs and drawing-rooms to the effect that the exposure of Lady Brooke in connection with the baccarat scandal was inevitable and that legal steps had already been taken against the Prince and herself. Sir W. Gordon-Cumming's friends accuse her openly of having been the cause of his ruin.

The relations between the Prince of Wales and Lady Brooke have been the topic of social gossip on several occasions. As yet nobody has openly accused the pair of any undue intimacy, yet it has been repeatedly hinted that if Lord Brooke were not so easy going he would long ago have put a stop to the repeated interviews between his wife and the heir-apparent.

A few years ago rumor had it that Lady Brooke had become smitten with the handsome Guardsman, but that Sir W. Gordon Cumming, being aware of the close relations between his friend the Prince and the lady in question, met her advances coldly. Lady Brooke has always been known among her friends and at court as one of the most mischievous gossip-mongers. She is considered a woman who will never rest until she has brought ruin upon any person she hates. Her past has been such as to give color to the unfavorable comments made on her character. All London knows that her married life is an unhappy one. Lord Brooke has always been an insignificant man, who has no other merit except that of having been a college chum of the late Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany.

Lady Brooke before her marriage was Miss Maynard. Her father, Col. Maynard, left an enormous fortune, of which only the smaller part went to his widow, who soon after his death became the wife of the Earl of Rosslyn. Lord Brooke is the eldest son of the Earl of Warwick of Warwick Castle. He is undoubtedly the poorest peer in the United Kingdom, and consequently when Lord Brooke's marriage with Miss Maynard came off it was hailed with delight by the Earl and his family.

A few years after their marriage rumors became afloat concerning an imminent social scandal in which the names of several prominent statesmen, officers, etc., were connected with that of one of the wealthiest and most beautiful ladies of the English aristocracy. It did not take long before these rumors assumed greater consistency, and it became an open secret that Lady Brooke's reputation was at stake. No less than fourteen co-respondents were named, among them, as usual, the gay Prince, the Duke of Marlborough, and even Lord Randolph Churchill. The affair was hushed up, and the only man who saved his reputation in the matter was Lord Randolph Churchill. The rest carried the stigma of the affair until the scandal, like many others, had died out. It seemed then but little short of a miracle that the pure, sweet, simple girl who but a few years ago appeared to be the essence of truth goodness and purity should be brought into court with no less than 14 co-respondents so shortly after her marriage.

Another interesting fact is that Lady Brooke was an intimate friend of Lady Colin Campbell. The foul air which infests the circle of her intimate acquaintances and the unmanliness of her lord and master have certainly much to do with the vagaries and eccentricities of her present life. Ever since this beautiful and in some ways talented woman became prominent in society she has been the public leader of a very fast set at London, Ascot, Sandown and Goodwood. In racing circles she is known as the "lady plunger," and many a "booky" has gone home with his pockets filled with crisp bank notes after her ladyship has had a bad day. Some years ago she spent the season at Monte Carlo, and there, too, she was said to have lost a large amount of her father's wealth.

The real cause why Lord Brooke did not push the divorce case above referred to has never been known, but it was hinted that the old Earl of Warwick objected to having his untarnished name dragged into court. Apart from this, Lord Brooke's next brother, Capt. Fulke Greville, was acting as bear-leader to the Prince of Wales' eldest son, and it is likely that a good deal of influence was brought to bear upon the heir of Warwick Castle from that quarter. Furthermore, Lady Brooke's stepfather, the Earl of Rosslyn, was Captain of the Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms, and he is one of the most conspicuous figures of London society. An excellent sportsman and an execrable poet, he has the highest opinion of himself. He is, however, not popular, and is often sneered at. His sister is married to Count Munster, the German Ambassador at Paris.

Lord Brooke Shows Up in the Commons.

LONDON, June 16.—Lord Brooke was in his seat at the House of Commons to-night for the first time in months. His presence was commented upon in view of the prominence of his name of late in current gossip. Simultaneously with His Lordship's reappearance in public life comes the announcement that his wife, Lady Brooke, is indisposed and will abandon all her engagements for the near future. People who believe that Lord Brooke is at last to bring suit for divorce, naming the Prince of Wales as co-respondent, are pondering over these developments, curious to see if they reflect any probability of the rumor of divorce proceedings.

The Queen Interested in Mrs. Grimwood

NEW YORK, June 17.—Mr. Edmund Yates in his cable letter to The Tribune says: Both the Queen and the Princess of Wales are much interested in Mrs. Grimwood, who is now staying with her mother, Mrs. Moore. The Queen sent Lord Cross to see her the other day and the Princess of Wales has invited her to luncheon, as she is most anxious to hear from her lips the account of her terrible journey. In crossing the river Mrs. Grimwood injured the sinews of one of her feet, and is extremely lame in consequence

The Fire Still Smouldered.

LIVERPOOL, June 17.—The City of Richmond was put in the Hornsby dock to-day. When the hatches were removed from thehold in which the burning cotton was stowed dense smoke and flames poured out. The cotton was still burning and the intense heat had scorched the decks. The firemen immediately flooded the hold with water, extinguishing the flames. The cargo is being discharged.

THE SUICIDE CLUB.

LANDLORD SCHMIDT WAS A MEMBER OF THE GANG.

Connecticut's Queer Organization Still Its Lots—Refused of Its Self-Executed Victims — Two Must Die Each Year — Schmidt of Bridgeport the Latest.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 17.—The discovery that Landlord E. F. Schmidt, of Birmingham, who took his life last week, was a member of the famous Bridgeport suicidal club, has again brought that grewsome organization into prominence. The history of this peculiar club dates back some six years. As originally organized its membership was limited to six. Upon their death the club was to become extinct, and it was not intended that there should be any deviation from plan, but incredible as it may seem, as soon as the existence of the club was known they were besieged with applications for membership, and as the members could not stand the pressure they were obliged to let others in until the original six grew to eighteen. None but the initiated have ever known all the qualifications for membership, for the rejected ones were bound by a fearful oath before they were allowed to even start in on the examination.

It is one of the rules of the order that at least two of the members shall shuffle off the mortal coil each year by their own hands, but it has never been known to outsiders whether lots are drawn to decide who the sacrifice is to fall upon, or whether the members are sworn at initiation to destroy themselves within a stated time. The latter theory seems the most probable inference from the fact that the mortuary record of the club has always been kept up with fearful regularity, as is attested by the following list of suicides of its members:

First year—August Heisterhagen, found dead in a cellar with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver in his hand; Joseph Kopp, shot himself in bed at Water and Bank-streets.

Second year—George Leavenworth, died in Case's hotel from laudanum, self-administered; William Meckie cut his throat with a razor in a room in Bank-street.

Third year—John Mattern hung himself in the shop where he worked in Bank-street; Wended Baum cut his throat with a jackknife while in New York.

Fifth year—W. H. Maby sent a bullet into his brain from a revolver; E. F. Schmidt blew his brains out with a shotgun at his hotel in Birmingham.

This remarkable chronological record is pretty conclusive that two must die a year, and that the year in which the horrible deed must be done is fixed at the time that they are admitted to membership. It is also pretty well established that another cardinal rule of the Suicide Club is that the death penalty must be inflicted on one's self in the most painful way by shooting out the brains or cutting the throat. These most excruciating methods of death are made mandatory at the outset, as it is considered effeminate to die by poison, asphyxiation or other similar methods. It will be noticed from the above list that of the ten members who have paid the awful penalty of membership in the club six have fulfilled the obligation by bullet, one by razor, one by locomotive, one by jackknife, one by hanging and only one by poison.

Although poison is strictly prohibited and future punishment is supposed to follow any member who violates his oath and dies by poison, yet there is just one instance when it is permissible to die by poison or a gentler means that the oath requires.

When the time arrives for a man to die, and for some reason he wants to live a short time longer, he may go to a member whose time to die is later in the future and propose to him that he die in his place. If the person with the longer period to live is willing to act as a substitute for the person who has to die at once, he may do so, and as a compensation for the sacrifice he is allowed to die by poison. The member who gets an extension of time must die by the most excruciating form, and he can have but one extension of time.

It will be noticed that of the ten suicides half lived on Bank-street, and one who lived elsewhere committed suicide in a hotel here. Three lived in the same house, and two suicides were committed in the same room. The organization now has a world-wide reputation, and recently the secretary received two applications for membership from Caen, France.

The loss will be $115,000, to meet which there is an insurance of $70,000.

CAMILLA, Ont., June 16.—The barn of Peter Forsyth of Mono was struck by lightning and all his outbuildings, together with most of his farming implements, consumed. James McCurson had six head of valuable cattle struck and killed.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 16.—Fire was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning in Moir's big bakery. There were over 2000 barrels of flour in the building. The entire structure is laid in ruins. The loss will be about $100,000, while the insurance is said to amount to only $20,000. Several hundred men and boys are thrown out of work.

Why it is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

TURNBULL'S

As the season advances we have many bargains to offer the public. One of the greatest attractions in our store to-day is some thirty or forty pieces of dress goods that were formerly from 25 to 50c. a yard. They are odd lines, and are now being cleared out at 15c. a yard. They can only last a short time, call early and secure the best patterns.

We want to tell you about our cheap Hosiery. We have piles upon piles of heavy goods to select from, in men's, women's and children's. 3 pairs for 25c.

For a week past we have been showing a window of Prints at 10c a yard. Handsome as it is possible to have them, and perfectly fast colors. We never had the like before at less than 12½c. Remember them if you do not see them in the window now.

We are showing an elegant range of white embroidered shirtings and all over embroidered muslins.

We have a great many patterns of figured Wool Delaines, so that it is no trouble to get something to please with us.

We have bought out a wholesale agent's samples of pretty little Lace Dolmans and Fichus and are selling them now at a bargain.

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	2,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2 268 884.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 37
Increase over 1889	325,938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	3,473 514 19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,102,222 48
Increase over 1889	547,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	223,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.45

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders consequently will thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec.,	1881, (five years)	$84,824 67
" " " "	1886, "	80,452 97
" " " "	1890, (four years)	232,175 69

Cavan's New Church.

The Corner Stone Laid with Fitting Ceremony—A Handsome Edifice Almost Paid For.

The corner stone of the new Union Centennial Methodist church on the Fallis line, Cavan, was laid Tuesday afternoon by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Peterborough, in the presence of a large gathering of the residents of the vicinity. The usual religious exercises were conducted by the clergymen present—Rev. Wm. Burns, of Millbrook; Rev. S. J. Shorey, Peterborough; Rev. Mr. Baker Port Hope; and the pastor, Rev. A. L. Adam. Mr. Stratton was presented with a silver trowel inscribed as follows:—"Presented to Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., West Peterborough, on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Centennial Methodist church, Cavan, Tuesday, June 16th, 1891." The stone was lowered into place and declared well and truly laid. In the tin box enclosed beneath the corner stone was a copy of the Holy Scriptures, the Christian Guardian, the Peterborough EXAMINER, the Port Hope Guide and the Toronto Mail.

After the ceremony the company partook of the excellent supper provided by the ladies, the tables being spread under the new church sheds. They subsequently adjourned to an adjacent lawn, where a platform had been erected, and addresses were delivered by Mr. Stratton, Mr. Geo. Campbell, M.P.P., East Durham; Rev. Messrs. Burns, Shorey, and Baker of Port Hope. Subscriptions were also taken up and the full amount required to cover the cost of the church was secured, except about $100.

The new church is being erected by the Methodists of the Fallis Line, assisted by friends of other denominations, and it will be known as a union church. In which different sects will worship. The new building was necessitated on account of the great distance the people of this neighborhood had to travel to other churches. Rev. A. L. Adam, the pastor, is an energetic and godly man, who will no doubt succeed in building up a large congregation of devoted christians. The new edifice is to be built of brick and will cost $1,000. Mr. Thomas Oliver, the contractor, began work six weeks ago, and expects to have the building ready for dedication the last Sunday in September. The building is 27x45 feet in dimensions, and will seat 250 persons. The site was generously donated by Mr. John Mitchell. Much credit is due the building committee, composed of Messrs. Robt. Fallis, R. Fallis, Reid Ball and Robt. Walsh, for their important share in the matter. Over and above the contract they erected the new sheds, 22x60 feet in size.

The Old Methodist Cemetery.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see by the town papers that the lot owners of the old Methodist Cemetery are waking up to their interests not any too soon. "The last straw breaks the camel's back." They have put up with the Methodist church letting it go to wreck, while over twenty years ago Mr. Sheridan's books were handed over to a new secretary, together with over $400. I would like to know if the $400 with interest has been expended since then. Mr. Stevenson has been asked for the accounts, but they have not been forthcoming. The next thing was, the Peterborough Council passed a by-law that there could be no more interments in it, which they had no authority to do. The Act of Parliament will not carry them out in this case at least, and I don't believe that they can get an Act that will. This is private property. It belongs to no joint stock company, nor it is it a grant from Parliament. The property owners are the parties to apply to. Bear in mind the cemetery is not in the corporation, and never was.

The next thing done was the authorities of the Nicholls' Hospital taking possession of it, fastening the gates, taking away the bridge leading to it, then burning it all over. Then to cap all, Mr. Dumble draws a lease from the authorities of the Hospital for 15 years at $1 per year.

And now the property owners are going to bear this no longer, for I see they are going to call a meeting and appoint trustees, as there are only two of the first trustees alive; and it will be seen whether the church, the hospital, or the owners have the best right to it. If the town or the hospital want to purchase it I think it would not be hard to come to terms; if they do not, they will find that it will be used for a cemetery, or some private individual will purchase it.

Now, sir, in conclusion, let me ask your readers to not forget the meeting announced.

Yours respectfully,
A PROPERTY OWNER.

Victory Always the Reward.

It is with great pleasure and satisfaction that we are permitted to lay before the newspaper readers of Canada the following facts, as well as testimonial which were recently sent to our office in a voluntary way.

A gentleman well and widely known in the Eastern Townships and who is greatly interested in agriculture, had suffered some months from kidney disease, which, with a condition of nervousness, rendered his life miserable and unpleasant.

He speaks thus: "I feel it necessary to say something in regard to your splendid remedy, called Paine's Celery Compound; it has just cured me of a bad attack of kidney disease from which I suffered great pain. I was also weak and very nervous for a time, and the doctor afforded me only a small measure of ease. Hearing of your great Compound I used it, and thank God for the good it has done me. After using four bottles I feel restored and as strong and as healthy as ever; I feel no more nervousness, and I am enabled to sleep as soundly as a child."

We hear of scores of such cures every week resulting from the use of Paine's Celery Compound. No other remedy of the present day is doing such good work, and no other has ever proved so popular with our Canadian people.

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

Fraserville.

(From a Correspondent.)

The members of the Women's Missionary Society of Baillieboro, accompanied by a number of their friends, surprised the Methodist parsonage, Fraserville, on Friday evening, the 12th inst. After the reading of an address and the presentation to Mrs. McLennan of a gift of twenty-five dollars, in the form of a certificate of life membership, the visitors took possession of the dining room and served up a rich and bountiful supper. Music and conversation completed this memorable occasion, and our happy and beneficent parishioners returned to their homes.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Like Paralysis.

"For years I suffered with my back which sometimes became as if paralyzed. I suffered awful agony for months and could not sleep, but now, thanks to your Burdock Blood Bitters, I am strong again, have no pain and can work well, eat well, and sleep well."—Mrs. Hammerton, 23 Charlotte street, Toronto. 3w25d

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

Distrustful People

make an exception in favour of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus and all bowel complaints cause all who use it to regard it as the most reliable and effectual remedy obtainable. 3w25d

Everybody Likes It.

Wm. Dredge, Eilen street, Barrie, Ont., says: One bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil brought back appetite which other Emulsions away; removed cough entirely, and gained five pounds. It tastes just like cream, the oil being perfectly disguised. Sold by all druggists. dw

CAMPING INFORMATION.

WHAT TO DO UPON ARRIVING AT YOUR CAMPING GROUND.

Some Wrinkles Which Will Add Much to the Comfort and Convenience of Campers- A Handy Boat--Some Uses to Which Birch Bark May be Put.

It is unusual to escape without scratches or wounds of some kind where there is climbing in rough places and much forest travel. The wound should be thoroughly washed and any splinter or other matter carefully removed from it. If the bleeding is profuse bathe the wound in water as hot as the hand can bear till the effusion stops. If the wound is large draw it together with as many stitches as are needed, then lay on narrow strips of court plaster, and bandage with soft, clean cloth. Arnica is excellent for nearly all bruises and sprains. A slack tablespoonful of citrate of magnesia, stirred and swallowed while fizzing, is good for dullness or headache in the morning. One's own judgment has to be relied on for the use of simple laxative or purgative pills. Spirits, as I have said, should only be taken after a severe wetting, where there are chills or when one has taken cold. I am old-fashioned enough always to take with me to camp some sulphur and cream tarter to use when the blood gets heated and the skin becomes rough and pimpled. But be careful to avoid cold after taking these two remedies.

If it is impossible to get vegetables of any kind in the neighborhood, a substitute may be found in farm sprouts or roots; it may be possible to get dandelions or "lambs' quarters," and explore the brooks and they will likely furnish water cress.

The mosquito is the common enemy and tormentor of all that portion of mankind that make their abode in the wilderness. When fishing or travelling through infested regions a white net cap, held well out from the neck and face by wire and closing at the shirt collar is a sure safe-guard. It is cumbersome owing to its size, for bush travel, but it is very light and altogether excellent for wear in the open. Some smear their face with foul-smelling preparations, but such abominable stuff doesn't afford protection. The best preparation of this kind I know is Stockholm tar and grease, which hasn't an objectionable smell.

Unless one has been trained by an expert in managing a birch bark canoe, he had better not use such a boat for camping as he is pretty sure to have an accident. But experts who go duck hunting often neglect caution and fires crossways. The result is the canoe is driven from under the rash person, who goes into the water, gun and all. This rashness is the cause of many a fatal accident.

I have described only one kind of a tent. Many campers do not take a cotton tent into the wilderness, but rely on their boat and tarpaulin, or on the trees for bark and branches. A boat turned bottom up, having a tarpaulin extended on poles spread over it makes a comfortable sleeping place; the Indian or any woodsman in a few hours can construct a bark tent like that in the drawing, or a lean-to covered with fir or spruce boughs laid evenly one over the other. Both of these contrivances are water tight.—Letters No 2, Edmond Collins.

Courage of the Lion and Tiger.

It is popularly supposed that the lion is the most courageous and powerful of the carnivora, or at least of the felidæ; but on the few recorded occasions of a battle-royal between the lion and the Bengal tiger, the lion has come off second best. One such combat occurred recently at the Calcutta Zoo between an African lioness and a tigress. They were exhibited in adjoining compartments of the same cage, and the door having been carelessly opened between the two compartments, the tigress rushed in and disposed of her rival in a fight which lasted about ten minutes.—Forest and Stream.

A Degraded Pug Dog.

An east side saloon keeper has a pug dog that is drunk nearly every day. The dog first acquired an appetite for strong drink by lapping the contents of a pan which sits under the faucet of a beer keg in the saloon. At first he would have been quite as well pleased with water, but now he must have his "booze" with regularity and precision, and it seems to go right to the spot where it will do the most good. His dogship gets very rocky under the inspiration of the foaming beverage, but he seldom falls down, as a man does who has a jag on, because he has twice as many legs.—Buffalo Courier.

Lansdowne's Action Approved

LONDON, June 16.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir William Vernon Harcourt, in moving for further documents in regard to the recent massacre in Manipur, attacked the Government's treatment of the Senaputty and urged that a more just policy be adopted in dealing with the native princes. During a long debate over the matter Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, claimed that the action of the Viceroy of India deserved the confidence of Parliament and acceded to the motion made by Harcourt.

The Swiss Railroad Horror.

BALE, June 16.—The lower of the two railroad cars suspended over the broken bridge near Moenchenstein, where the accident to an excursion train took place Sunday, was lifted to-day and more dead bodies were found. The total number of dead is now placed at 130 and injured 300.

The O'Gorman Mahon Dead.

LONDON, June 16.—James Patrick O'Gorman Mahon, "The O'Gorman-Mahon," M.P. for Carlow County, Ireland, died to-day. He was born in 1808 and was identified with Irish politics for over 60 years. He was a Liberal in favor of Home Rule and was a magistrate and a deputy-lieutenant for County Clare.

The Land Bill in the Lords.

LONDON, June 16.—The Irish land bill passed the first reading in the House of Lords to-day, and the second reading was fixed for June 25.

Census of England and Wales.

LONDON, June 16.—The census of England and Wales shows a population of 29,000,000, being an increase of 3,000,000 in the last decade.

FRANK SLAVIN WINS.

The Australian Defeats Jake Kilrain in Nine Rounds.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The fight at Hoboken to-night between Jake Kilrain of Baltimore and Frank Slavin of Australia for $1000 resulted in a victory for the Antipodean in nine rounds.

Jere Dunn was the referee. Charlie Mitchell seconded Slavin and Muldoon looked after Kilrain's interests. The fight started at 11.39 p.m. Both men pounded each other hard in the first round, which closed in favor of Kilrain Slavin had the advantage on the opening of the second, but Kilrain rallied and roasted his opponent's ribs, and he again had all the best of it. Kilrain was knocked down in the third and staggered to his feet and was a second time floored like a log. The betting was now 100 to 1 on Slavin, with no takers. Jake was knocked down early in the fourth and Slavin bit at will. Blood was pouring from Jake's broken nose. Four times more he went to grass in this round. Slavin continued knocking his man down, and until the ninth round made a veritable chopping block of him. In the ninth Kilrain's seconds threw up the sponge.

The Gathering of the Clans.

BUFFALO, June 16.—Those Ontario delegates are in attendance at the convention of the Order of Scottish Clans, which opened to-day:

Royal Chief James Sutherland; Royal Deputy John Fairgrave, London; W. Campbell, Toronto; J. B. Watson, J. S. McKay, Sarnia; J. McAdam, St. Thomas; R. A. Hutchinson, Hamilton; D. Stewart, Niagara Falls.

Mayor Bishop extended a welcome to the visiting delegates.

Eating Their Own Children.

LONDON, June 16.—A letter from Calabar, on the west coast of Africa, gives an account of a horrible case of cannibalism in the district of Bayong, a short distance in the interior. It appears that the inhabitants of the village of Aro in that region having been reduced to utter destitution by the raids of a neighboring tribe compelled every family among them each to give up one child to be killed for food. This horrible business had been going on for two weeks before the condition of affairs reached Calabar. The traders there at once sent assistance to the unfortunate town, many of whose inhabitants were found to have perished from hunger.

Searching Montreal for a Big Defaulter

MONTREAL, June 16.—A Pinkerton detective has arrived here in search of a defaulter from New York named Julio Mersbacher. He was associated with Joaquin Sanchez, who had charge of the Spanish-American business of the New York Life Insurance Company, and $25,000,000 passed through their hands annually. Merzbacher lost $500,000 belonging to the insurance company and disappeared. Mersbacher was seen in Montreal Saturday enjoying a drive in a superb equipage in the neighborhood of the mountain.

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the NERVOUS and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not claim this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

An Objectionable Photograph.

Mr. Geo. J. Early, the photographer, was surprised yesterday morning to find that during the night, the show-case at the foot of the stairs had been opened and a tin-type of a young woman taken out. It was probably the work of some self-constituted censor of public morals, as Mr. Early has learned that the original of the photograph did not bear a good reputation. It was a most unwarranted piece of vandalism just the same.

His Wife Mollified Him.

On Wednesday, a farmer came to market and leaned carelessly up against one of the freshly painted poles of the Bell Telephone Company ruinously smearing a new coat. He rushed to the police court for satisfaction and getting none, returned home in a very morose condition, but his wife knowing his weak spot got him an excellent supper and made him forget his troubles in a cup of hawley bros. splendid 50 cent tea. dw

Final Distribution.

The Provincial Treasurer has notified the Inspector of Licenses for West Peterborough that the following sums are payable to the municipalities in settlement of license moneys for the year ending 1891:—Provincial Treasurer, $97 60; Peterborough, $178.04; Lakefield, $9.36; Smith, $7.50. This makes a total paid to the government and municipalities for the past year as follows:—Ontario Government, $3,280 10; from which sum all expenses connected with the enforcement of the law are taken; Peterborough, $4,976 04, which goes directly into the town treasury; Lakefield, $339 36; Smith, $112.80, a total of $5,430 20.

Canoes to Rent.

All persons going on the Stony Lake excursion, July 1st, who may desire a canoe for that day, can secure same by applying to the committee on or before June 24th. Canoes can be rented at prices that will be cheaper than taking them from Peterborough. Committee:—W. Hamilton, at Metropolitan grocery; W. Squires, at O. C. Ecclestone's store; G. Morrow, at Central Canada Loan and Savings Co.; T. Barrie, at Fairweather's hat store.

Improvements at the Hamilton works

Mr. Michael Hayes is inclosing the raceways at the Wm. Hamilton works with substantial stone walls. One flume is fourteen feet wide and six feet in height and the other six feet wide and six feet high. The walls are of stone masonry laid in concrete mortar to height of three feet, the upper portion being laid in ordinary lime mortar. These flumes each run from Reid street to Rubidge street. The two sets of walls comprise about 200 cubic yards of masonry.

Salvation Army Camp Meeting.

The meetings held by the Salvation Army in the Exhibition grounds are proceeding with a good attendance in the evenings. The result of these meetings is very encouraging to those who are conducting them as well as beneficial to many that attend them. Next Sunday the closing day of the camp-meetings will be attended by Staff Captain McIntyre of the Kingston district and by Staff Captain Banks of the Bowmanville Training Home. The band will be out in full strength to night.

Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

Their Unanimous Choice.

A meeting of the Oddfellows District Committee was held in Otonabee lodge rooms last night, Bro. S. Clegg, D.D.G.M., occupying the chair. The other members present were:—Past Grands A. McFarlane, W. F. Green, D. H. Moore, G. J. Early, A. McIntosh, and R. Stewart of Norwood. The committee decided to recommend Bro. John Nugent, P.G., of Otonabee lodge, for the office of District Deputy Grand Master during next year. Bro. Nugent's appointment will doubtless beconfirmed by the Grand Master. Bro. Nugent is to be congratulated upon receiving the honor, which all Oddfellows will agree is fully merited. The committee could not have made a better choice.

News Nuggets.

—To-day is the sixty-seventh anniversary of the battle of Waterloo.

—This is the liveliest season in the building trade that Peterborough has known for years.

—The Belleville veterans of 1866 celebrate the 25th anniversary of their return from the front yesterday.

—At the cheese board held at Campbellford on Wednesday 723 boxes boarded all sold to Mr. Clurton at 9¾c.

—The peculiar enervating effect of summer weather is driven off by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which "makes the weak strong."

That "Excursion."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The excursion in connection with the Methodist churches of Lakehurst the 16th, and Chemong eventuated on the 10th inst. was in every way a grand success.

Good music was supplied by friends from Buckhorn and Lakehurst as well as by the Chemong brass band and choir, and every one seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

The committee took in the nice little sum of $58 34, which not only reflects credit upon their management, but may be regarded as a flattering tribute to the popularity of their student pastor, who has so zealously and acceptably ministered to the above churches for the past year.

Mr. Smith is original, "shoots straight," and is the kind of young man that "wears." He leaves at the end of the conference year to continue his studies in theology and medicine.

Whether he may have been affected by the "Magic Heart," of Sandy Lake, (as most student pastors are), we know not, but go where he may, his friends wish him success and predict for him a bright future, provided he keeps moving "along that line" he has started on.

Open Letter to the Equal Rights Party.

GENTLEMEN,—A rare opportunity has arisen whereby the initiators of the party of Equal Rights may demonstrate the sincerity of their platform. The motto of your party, gentlemen, is, I believe, "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none." Your platform embraces all honest men of both political parties and without distinction of race or creed. The hottest Orangeman, the most ardent Catholic is welcome to your fold and may count on your support provided he adopts the principles of your order and of Equal Rights. When your party was established a few years ago an impression seemed to have gone abroad that Roman Catholics were excluded from membership, and that the efforts of the party would be directed towards curtailing the privileges which it was charged the members of that religious body enjoyed; but your leaders quickly contradicted such a gross misconception of the party's policy and declared in most unequivocal language that the object of the party was to secure equal rights to all, Catholic or Protestant. Nay, more, one of your most distinguished members said if a Catholic should ever be subject to injustice because of his religion, the party of equal rights would be the first to hasten to his support; that it was the very essence of the party's policy that no man should suffer because of his faith. Now, gentlemen, we all know what has occurred within the last few days. A great man has gone, another wears fill his place. The general consensus of opinion appeared to point to Sir John Thompson as the one most fitted. Is he not, by all odds, the cleverest of the men amongst whom the Premier might be chosen? Somebody said, "Oh! but he is a Roman Catholic"! Well, what of it? Is not this country governed by Equal Rights principles? Have we not a powerful political party who will insist on equal rights to all without distinction of race or creed?

This gentlemen, is your opportunity. Assert your platform, maintain and reiterate all you have heretofore claimed for your party, protest vigorously and in plain unmistakable words against objection being made to Sir John Thompson because of his religious convictions. By doing so you will manifest to the world that the truth is in you.

Yours, etc.,
AN ADMIRER OF EQUAL RIGHTS.

All Aboard for Ottawa.

The Rangers Will Spend Two Days at the Capital—Programme of the sports.

It has been definitely arranged that the 57th Battalion will spend two days at Ottawa. There was some difficulty regarding transportation, but the C.P.R. authorities have promised a special train for Monday evening, and the boys will embark at 8 p.m., on June 29th, arriving at Ottawa about 1 a.m., when they will at once go into camp for the remainder of the night. An officer of the regiment will be in Ottawa a few days previously to see that all the necessary arrangements are made for the reception of the Rangers. The C. P. R. company will not be able to furnish sleepers, but the usual first-class cars. However, this will cause but slight inconvenience, as the men would get but little sleep in any case while travelling. Returning the regiment will entrain about midnight on the first, reaching Peterborough at an early hour in the morning.

There will be a big "day" at Ottawa on the first, the celebration consisting of a military review on Cartier Square, in which the 57th Battalion and some Ottawa and Montreal regiments will take part; and a programme of sports on Lansdowne Park, including horse races, military competitions, the opening of the electric street railway, displays of fireworks, etc. Following is the programme of the Cheery Chimes of Bridal Bells.

A Trio of Matrimonial Events Last Night.

There must have been magic in the 17th June, for it saw three weddings in town in the afternoon and evening.

DIXON—MANNING

Last night at 6 o'clock Mr. Albert Edward Dixon, of the legal firm of Edmison & Dixon, was united in marriage to Miss Blanche Manning, sister of Mrs. H. S. Griffin. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. Griffin, corner of Park street and Homewood avenue, by Rev. R. N. Willoughby, D.D., of Toronto, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, of Bowmanville, brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. W. H. Manning supported Mr. Dixon, and the duties of bridesmaid were performed by Miss Cleland, of Toronto, daughter of Rev. Wm. Cleland. The wedding was very quietly celebrated, only the intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom, to the number of twenty-five, having been present.

A large number of elegant presents were made to the bride from her friends, both in Canada and the United States. After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon took a carriage and drove quite unattended, at their own request, to the G. T. R. station, whence they departed on their wedding tour. They are at Rochester to-day. From this place they will proceed to New York and Philadelphia, returning to town in about a fortnight by way of Montreal. Most cordial congratulations are the order of the day. The bride is a most estimable young lady, and Mr. Dixon is held in the highest esteem in town, both amongst his professional brethren and by the host of friends he has in his native town.

SPRINGER—NETHERCUT.

At three o'clock the hour was set and the guests met for the marriage of Mr. W. C. Springer, an employee of the Lock Works, and Miss Florence E. Nethercut, daughter of the late John Nethercut. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother by the Rev. E. F. Torrance. Mr. Alexander McCallum stood by the groom, and Miss Georgina Nethercut, sister of the bride, and Miss Edith Hall, were bridesmaids. The bride was remembered with a large number of handsome presents, among which might be specially mentioned the gift of a water pitcher from the Lock Works.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests, who comprised the friends and relatives of the contracting parties, partook of the wedding breakfast, and the happy pair took the evening C. P. R. express for the west, where they will visit several principal cities. Both young persons are well known and very much respected, and fervent wishes for their happiness will be uttered by their many friends.

HORMEL-ARMSTRONG.

The residence of Mr. Thos. J. Armstrong, of the C.P.R., was the scene of a delightful social event, the marriage of his eldest daughter, Miss Clara L. Armstrong, to Mr. C. Hormel. There were about forty guests assembled when the Rev. Andrew McWilliams, B.A. pastor of St. Andrew's church, tied the nuptial knot. The bride was assisted by her sister Miss Addie Armstrong, in the capacity of bridesmaid, and Mr. Geo. Wright, of Toronto, was groomsman. The ceremony took place at 9 30 o'clock and at its conclusion the guests sat down to an elaborate wedding breakfast. The popularity of the bride is evidenced by the large number of handsome and useful wedding presents of which she was the recipient. The happy wedded pair, who are very warmly congratulated and flooded with kind wishes by their many friends, will for the present reside at 480 Aylmer street.

Personal.

The Hastings Star says that Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin, of Peterborough spent Sunday at Mr. John Coughlan's, and that Mr. and Mrs. T. Cleary, of Peterborough, were in town for a few days last week.

Mr. A. Browne, of Cobourg, orchestra violinist, is in town, and it is probable that he will become a permanent resident, in which case, in his professional capacity, he will, as he comes highly recommended, fill a long felt want.

Rusticating in Northern Africa.

LONDON, June 17.—Lord Arthur Somerset of Cleveland-street scandal notoriety has lately been heard from at Tunis, where he is living in company with Broadley, the English lawyer who defended Arabi Pasha. Both Somerset and Broadley are reported as well satisfied with life in Tunis and are not likely to soon brave the danger of returning to London, where the police hold warrants for their arrest. Broadley is also under accusation of crimes committed in India and Turkey as well as in England. It is rumored that Hammoud, who fled to America after the Cleveland-street expose, has secretly returned to London.

DAMES OF THE WASH TUB.

North London Afflicted With a New Form of Labor Trouble.

LONDON, June 17.—This city is at the present moment watching with a great deal of interest the progress of a most interesting strike. At an early hour this morning there was a meeting of buxom laundresses in North London, and after some deliberation, speechmaking and its attendant wrangling 800 of these ladies announced their intention of striking, and they did go. The laundresses insist that they will be doing a fair day's work if they remain at the washboard for eight hours per day, and claim that they should be paid 63d. (54 cents) for such a day's labor. These demands are considered excessive by the employers of the laundresses and consequently they have refused to make such concessions.

The strikers, enraged at the fact that all the laundresses of North London did not join with them in the strike declared, to-day marched in a body to the establishments where the "blacking" ladies were employed, and after smashing the windows of such establishments the striking laundresses invaded these laundries, and with many taunts and jeers dragged the "blackings" away from their work, upset or emptied the washtubs, overturned the ironing tables, kicked over the clothes-horses and played sad havoc generally with the masses of clean linen.

The police were utterly powerless to prevent this demonstration upon the part of the striking laundresses, who evidently had the entire sympathy of the crowds who watched the wrecking of the laundries and who encouraged the ladies in their hostile behavior by cheering and otherwise expressing their approbation and who hooted and jeered as the "blackings" were hustled unceremoniously with dishevelled hair and disarranged garments into the streets of North London.

HOW FRANCE PUNISHES.

The Sale of the Melinite Components Costs Four Men Their Liberty.

PARIS, June 17.—The Tribunal of the Seine to-day sentenced Turpin Tripone, Fassolar and Feuvrier each to four years' imprisonment and imposed fines of $400, $600, $200 and $40 respectively for their connection with the sale of the secret of the manufacture of melinite, the new French explosive, to the Armstrong Gun Company. The men are also deprived of civil rights for various terms.

THE O'GORMAN MAHON.

One of the Historic Figures of the British Parliament.

LONDON, June 17.—James Patrick O'Gorman Mahon (The O'Gorman Mahon), member of Parliament for Carlow County, Ireland, who died yesterday, was identified with British politics for over 60 years. It had been known for months that he was in a dying condition, and his friends had been keeping up a subscription to provide comforts for his sick room, in the humble lodgings which he occupied in a back street of Chelsea. Mr. Parnell assisted in this labor of charity, though the sick man had of late leaned toward the Healyite faction of the Irish party. He was, in fact, a Liberal, or Gladstonian, identified with no Irish party or cabal. All respected and admired him, and regarded him as a worthy descendant of the old Irish kings, whose blood flowed in his veins. It is proposed to give him a public funeral at Glasnevin. Mr. Parnell is very likely to carry the Carlow seat, made vacant by Mahon's death and has named Dwyer Gray as a candidate. He is very strong in the county and controls the best local newspaper. The Conservatives, however, may contest the seat, and in that case, owing to the split in the Nationalist party, the victory may not go to either the Parnellites or the McCarthyites.

SECURED A VERDICT.

The Heir of Orford Must Pay Miss Wiedemann $1500.

LONDON, June 17.—The breach of promise case of Miss Valerie Wiedemann against Captain the Hon. Robert Horace Walpole, in which the lady asked for $100,000 damages, resulted in a verdict of $1500 for the plaintiff. Walpole will apply for a new trial.

MRS. O'SHEA TO TESTIFY.

She and Parnell Summoned to Give Evidence in a Libel Suit.

CORK, June 17.—A libel action has been brought by Mr. Parnell's Secretary, Mr. Campbell, against The Cork Herald for stating that while other members of Parliament were attending to their duties Campbell was hiring houses for immoral purposes for Parnell in Dublin. The bench has issued subpœnas for Mrs. O'Shea and Parnell.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

Lord Salisbury in Entire Sympathy With the Scheme for a Federation of All the Colonies.

LONDON, June 17.—A deputation consisting of members of the Imperial Federation League headed by Lord Brassey waited upon Lord Salisbury to-day to urge him to convoke a conference of the self-governing British colonies to consider the question of partaking in the privileges and responsibilities of a united empire.

Lord Salisbury said he was in entire sympathy with the object the deputation had in view. The question was nothing more or less than the future of the British empire. Lord Salisbury agreed with the deputation as to the expediency of an early maturing of the deliberations. The operation of external causes and impulses, he said, had created a feeling of unrest in Canada and Australia which might not improperly be called an unwillingness to acquiesce in the present state of things. Lord Salisbury remarked that a large proportion of the foreign negotiations and difficulties arose entirely from the Colonial connections of the Empire. The Government had to exercise great vigilance in order to see that it did not incur great dangers which had not arisen from its own interests, but from the interests of the important communities with which it was linked. After indicating the difficulties which the Government would have to contend with in order to make a united empire similar to the United States, which Lord Salisbury described as a zollverein or kreigsverein, he concluded with the statement that he could not summon a conference of colonial statesmen until a definite schema of Imperial Federation had been prepared.

Telfordian Temperature Topics

Something About our Hot Spell.

Mr. Thos. Telford writes.—On Sunday, the 14th, at sunrise, the thermometer stood only at 45°, at 2 p.m. it was up to 88°, and at sundown to 76°; but on Monday morning things brightened up some, at sunrise the thermometer standing at 55°, at 9 o'clock up to 84°, at 12 and steady to 5 at 90°, with a short twitch up to 92°, and at sunrise to 77°. But on Tuesday the heat gave us to understand there won't be no more fooling about it, as if to say "I am determined to outdo my former records so far this June." On Tuesday he pushed the mercury up to 70° at sunrise, at 9 o'clock to 84°, at 12 to 90°, at 3 to 95°, and at 6 to 89°. It has now settled down to cooler weather, with some welcome showers.

It is conjectured that a specific may yet be found for every ill that flesh is heir to. However this may be, certainly the best specific yet found for diseases of the blood is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and most diseases originate from impure blood.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruption, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely sickening, to the sight. Said Mrs. H. A. Grant to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to cure my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered. The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Faulkner, druggist.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

COMPULSORY VOTING DISCUSSED BY THE HOUSE.

Sir Hector Langevin Announces That the Government Will Carry on Affairs Upon the Old Lines—Mr. Laurier Proposes to Criticise the Administration.

OTTAWA, June 18.—In the House to-day Sir Hector Langevin made this announcement:

The Government proposes to carry out the policy which has hitherto guided the Liberal-Conservative party. The outlines of measures which will come before the House this session are indicated in the Speech from the Throne. The trade and financial policy will be declared in the budget speech.

Mr. Laurier said the Government resembled a place which was said to be paved with good intentions. He had no doubt they intended to follow closely the policy of the late Sir John Macdonald, but already widely departed from it, as he would show to-morrow. Mr. Laurier said nothing further, but it is understood that to-morrow he will make a general criticism of the new Administration.

Compulsory Voting.

Mr. Amyot moved the second reading of his bill to make voting at an election compulsory. In support of it he said it would reduce the cost of an election and would tend to put down corruption.

Sir John Thompson objected that the bill would be a severe restriction, not only on the liberty but also on the right of choice of an elector. Neither candidate might be acceptable to an elector, who should not in that case be compelled to vote. He moved the adjournment of the debate in order that further consideration might be given the bill, which, if carried, would make a fundamental change in the principle of voting.

Mr. Mills said the objections to the principle of the bill would counterbalance the advantages of it. He never could see how compulsory attendance at the polls could be reconciled with the free working of our representative institutions.

Mr. Cockburn objected that the bill was in favor of the rich man and against the poor man, because a rich man could pay the proposed fine of $50 and remain away, whereas a poor man could not raise the amount and would be imprisoned if he did not. The bill would increase the bitterness of party feeling and altogether was unworthy the intelligence of the House.

Shipment of Live Stock.

After some further discussion the debate was adjourned. Mr. Tupper has given notice that he will move that it is expedient to pass an Act respecting the shipping of live stock and to provide that the Governor-in-Council may appoint inspectors and determine the remuneration to be paid them out of the fees which the Governor-in-Council may establish to be paid on live stock which is shipped.

A return was presented to the House to-day containing copies of petitions and other documents relating to the abolition of separate schools and the official use of French in Manitoba. Among them was a letter from Bishop Lafleche of Three Rivers to Hon. J. A. Chapleau, dated May 12, 1890, in which he urged in strong terms the French and Catholic members of the Government to disallow the act, and expressed the opinion that the question was a graver one as regards the stability of Confederation that the Riel agitation.

HON. JOHN ROBSON.

Several Matters to Bring Before the Government Affecting the Pacific Province.

OTTAWA, June 18.—Hon John Robson, Premier of British Columbia, arrived here to-day. His visit is to discuss with the Federal Government several matters affecting the Pacific Province. The last letter ever the late Sir John Macdonald wrote was to Premier Robson, asking him to come to Ottawa to discuss with the Government the various questions at issue. One question he proposes to discuss is that of sealing, and the manner in which British Columbia interests will be affected under the new British sealing law. To interfere with the sealers this year would, Mr. Robson holds, be ruinous. Some of the schooners owned in Victoria are already in Behring Sea; others are on their way thither, and all have been fitted out at great expense, which will be utterly lost were they interfered with in the way proposed this season. Another important subject is the settlement of the Alaskan boundary and the disposition of a long strip of territory by the seashore, in regard to which the Dominion, if not the Province, should have something to say. The delineation of the boundaries of the railway belt on the mainland is still unsettled, and it is necessary to have it finally determined. Then there are fishery matters that must be discussed, besides other things that press for consideration.

Suicide of an Austrian Consul.

VIENNA, June 18.—Advices received here from Prizrend, a town of European Turkey, in Albania, state that the Austrian consul at that place, Herr Pilinski, has committed suicide. The cause of the consul's suicide is somewhat peculiar. The Foreign Office recently censured Herr Pilinski for being instrumental in securing the abolition of the bells in the Roman Catholic Church at Prizrend. The consul took this step in order to please the Turkish inhabitants of that place, who objected to hearing the bells tolled. The rebuke received by Herr Pilinski so preyed upon his mind that he took his own life.

Australian Elections.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., June 18.—The election returns received up to the present time give the Government 38 members and the Opposition 25. Of the latter 16 are labor candidates. Sir Henry Parkes and other Ministers are elected. Mr. Dibbs, the Opposition leader, is defeated.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE GOVERNMENT SUSTAINS A DEFEAT.

An Amendment to the Factory Bill Carried Providing That Children Under 11 Years of Age Shall Not Be Employed in Future.

LONDON, June 18.—In the debate in the House of Commons to-day on the factory bill the amendment of Sydney Buxton (Lib.) to prohibit children under 11 years of age from working was adopted by a vote of 202 to 186. The Government was thus defeated. The majority included a few Conservative members.

Buxton's amendment will affect 150,000 to 200,000 children in the kingdom now employed in manufacturing districts as half-timers. It is a humanitarian reform and was opposed by the bulk of the operatives who live by the labor of their offspring. The Liberals argued that the abolishing of child labor would provide more work for the adults. Sir J. E. Gorst explained that the proposal had been agreed to at the Berlin Conference in order to bring England into harmony with other nations on the only point on which she was behindhand, but it was not distinctly understood that the signing of the conference protocol did not bind England to legislative action on the subject.

Mr. Morley challenged the Government to say whether they opposed Buxton's amendment or not. Thereupon Home Secretary Matthews intimated that the Government would not support the amendment. Sir J.E. Gorst, who was a delegate to the Berlin Conference, abstained from voting.

The object of the Buxton clause might still be defeated by an amendment but it is expected the Government will accept the situation.

The News commenting on the matter says the blow is both damaging and ignominious and that even the resignation of Home Secretary Matthews will not save Government from discredit and disgrace.

The Chronicle says: Truly Secretary Matthews is a costly luxury to the state. The defeat of the Government will seriously damage the prospects of every Unionist candidate in the next general election.

Lord Hartington, Sir Henry James and a few other dissentients voted with the minority, while Mr. Chamberlain and the bulk of the dissentients voted with the majority.

Where is Jane Shore?

HAMILTON, June 18.—Last October Jane Shore, aged 22, arrived from England and went to live with her aunt, Mrs. Tansley, 170 East-avenue north. Last Monday Mrs. Tansley told the girl that she was going out, and Miss Shore said she would go to the free library. The girl left the house between 7 and 8 o'clock, and since then she has not been seen nor have her relatives heard from her. Mrs. Tansley is greatly worried over the disappearance of the girl because she fears that she may commit suicide. The police were furnished with the following description of the girl: Twenty-one years old, weighs 124 pounds, dark red hair, dark eyes and dark complexion. She wore a gray skirt, blue print blouse and black sailor hat.

$20,000,000 to Carry on the War.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The official mail from Chili brings exciting news. The House of Deputies has passed a bill authorizing the President to levy a forced loan of $20,000,000 to carry on the war. Under an order from the Executive carriages are not permitted to drive on the streets of Santiago after midnight. Groups of more than three persons cannot stand together in the streets, squares or public places of Santiago. All the theatres are closed until further notice. Under the authority of Congress all the gold and silver in the treasury of Chili, composing what is known as the metallic reserve, was sold at auction on May 15. The coined silver was sold in lots of $5000 and upwards and the bar silver in lots of 2000 kilograms and upwards.

Became a Human Firecracker.

ALBANY, N.Y., June 18.—A lad named McDonald caught hold of the iron hoisting bar of an awning in front of No. 140 South Pearl-street last night and tried to raise himself so as to look in the window. The iron frame of the awning became connected with an electric light. In an instant flashes of electricity and sparks flew out of the boy's feet with detonations like a pack of powder crackers. He was completely charged with the fluid and could not let go his hold. A bystander caught hold of him and pulled him away, but in doing so received a shock himself and was knocked into the street. The boy was dazed and stunned, but was soon restored and walked to his home apparently uninjured. The voltage which passed through him was about two thousand five hundred.

Vice-President Shaughnessy.

MONTREAL, June 18.—At a meeting of the C.P.R. board held to-day, the resignation of the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott as a director of the company was accepted and Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy elected in his place. Mr. Shaughnessy was also appointed vice-president.

Behring Sea Dispute.

LONDON, June 18.—Sir James Ferguson in the House of Commons to-day said the Foreign Office had received a communication from the British Minister at Washington saying he expects to be able to proceed without further delay to discuss with the United States Government the terms of the reference of the Behring Sea dispute to arbitration.

A Great Funeral

BASLE, June 18.—A public funeral was held yesterday for a large number of the victims of Sunday's disaster on the railroad near Moonchenstein. The entire population attended the services, which were conducted with the greatest solemnity.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

A PREFERENTIAL DUTY WITHIN THE EMPIRE.

The Only Feasible Plan of Imperial Federation—Emperor William Scores the Prince of Wales—Sir Charles Dilke's Case Troubling Gladstone.

LONDON, June 18.—All the journals echo Lord Salisbury's statement yesterday to the Imperial Federation League that they must now seriously consider the plan of a united empire trade league. The papers say the only feasible plan is that which the Canadian Federationists had long demanded, namely, a preferential duty within the empire against foreign goods. The federationists lay their views before Lord Salisbury to-morrow, but seeing that the general election is just coming few expect the Government to commit itself.

GLADYS APPEAL.

The Celebrated Evelyn-Hurlbert Breach of Promise Case Before the Court Again.

LONDON, June 18.—The appeal of Gladys Evelyn against the judgment pronounced against her in the suit brought against William Henry Hurlbert and asking for a new trial was heard yesterday. The counsel for Miss Evelyn said the plaintiff complained: 1. That Hurlbert's defence took her by surprise. 2. That the counsel for Hurlbert, by interposition in the summing up, prevented the jury from coming to a just conclusion upon the first issue the judge submitted to them by declaring that Hurlbert had not seen and did not know the contents of the letters placed in evidence, and that he had no knowledge of the evidence of the young lady. 3. That the verdict was against the weight of evidence.

Counsel for Miss Evelyn to-day resumed his argument by reading entries from the plaintiff's diary in regard to the indecent letters she claims to have received from Mr. Hurlbert, but which it was said were in the handwriting of a person Wilfred Murray. According to plaintiff's counsel there was not a shadow of evidence to show that Wilfred Murray really wrote them.

EMPEROR WILLIAM ALSO.

The German Emperor Takes a Hand in the Baccarat Game.

LONDON, June 18.—Truth, Henry Labouchere's paper, contains the following article in this week's issue, which was published this afternoon:

"I learn that the German Emperor has thought fit to express his sentiments respecting the baccarat case in a letter to the Queen. The relations existing between the Emperor and the Prince of Wales have never been cordial. William has not forgiven his uncle for so warmly taking the part of the Empress Frederick in the family quarrels which scandalized Europe three years ago. The Emperor, therefore, seized with delight this chance of snubbing his uncle by criticizing his conduct, complaining of it and protesting against it from a military point of view.

"Under ordinary circumstances the Emperor's letter would be regarded as impertinent and meddling in matters in which he has no concern, but unluckily His Majesty finds an excellent excuse for censuring sharply the Prince's strange method of dealing with the alleged offence against military honor in the fact that His Royal Highness is the colonel of the Prussian Regiment of Blucher Hussars.

"The Emperor's severe dissertation will be very bitterly resented, especially as he takes, as usual, the God-Almighty-to-a-black-beetle tone, which is exceedingly exasperating.

"Queen Victoria, it is believed, will consent to be present, with her grandson, the German Emperor, on the occasion of his reception at the Guildhall by the city authorities of London. It had been arranged that the Prince of Wales should act the host on the occasion, but since recent developments the city people are afraid that the whole occasion might be marred by an unpleasant reception to the Prince, and they have again solicited Her Majesty to take the lead in person.

"Queen Victoria has always been esteemed, but she has recently taken a great bound in popularity, and "God Save the Queen" is sung at popular gatherings with a fervor and significance that mean something besides loyalty to the Crown."

"The Scented Garden" Translated.

LONDON, June 18.—The widow of Captain Burton announces she has burned the Captain's translation of the "Scented Garden." She was offered £600 0 for the work, but says that not for six million would she risk its publication. Captain Burton's translation of the "Arabian Nights" realized £16,000.

Arthur Wilson's Nomination.

LONDON, June 18.—The Marlborough Club Committee explain that the Prince of Wales had nothing to do with the election of Arthur Wilson as a member of that organization They say Wilson was proposed as a candidate in March, 1889, and was elected in February last.

Calmann Levy, the Paris publisher, is dead.

Canon Legge, Vicar of Lewisham, is the new Bishop of Lichfield.

Mrs. Duncan, whose husband attempted to murder her several weeks ago at Bettws-y-Coed, Wales, has had a relapse and is unconscious.

The Dublin police levied upon goods belonging to the Tipperary sureties of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, and the goods were sold at auction to-day, one owner buying in for £250, the amount of his liabilities.

Many more bodies have been recovered at the scene of Sunday's railroad disaster near Moenchenstein. Some bodies are headless and others are without arms or legs. Yesterday the dismembered body of a beautiful girl was found. The Canton will defray the expenses of the funerals of all the victims.

The Chamber of Deputies fixed July 10 as the day on which the reduction of corn duties shall take effect. The Chamber has voted 300,000 francs for measures against the locust plague in Algeria. The Chamber also exempted exotic oil seeds from duty accepting poppy, colsea and rape seed, on which the duty is four francs.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Brakeman Killed—A Woman Seriously Injured.

TORONTO, June 18.—The jury summoned to enquire into the death of John Thirsk, carpenter, Regent-street, who was killed whilst at work in Adelaide-street west, May 28. They unanimously returned a verdict of manslaughter against Charles H. Stainton of McMurrich-street, the contractor, and John E. Bell of Blackburn-terrace, his foreman for criminal negligence and they were arrested.

Mrs. Bentley, formerly of Uxbridge, was run over by a C.P.R. train last night at West Toronto Junction. She had both feet cut off and her hand crushed. She has been living in Toronto for about a year, is 34 years old and has a large family.

James Read, a brakeman on the Northern, residing at 539 Front-street, was killed at Oriilia yesterday. It is supposed he was seated on a drawhead near the rear of the train when a shunt threw him between the cars. He was caught by the brake beam and doubled up, his breast being crushed in. His body was brought to Toronto for burial. Deceased was a young man of 26, an Englishman, and has a brother a school teacher, whose address is unknown.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Deputies to Endorse Single Tax, Knights of Labor or Eight Hours.

KINGSTON, June 18.—At the meeting of the General Assembly to-day a request for sympathy in behalf of the Knights of Labor, single tax, women's enfranchisement and an eight hour association was presented.

Dr. Laing did not think the church should be used as a tool to carry out the principles of anti-political organizations.

Rev. Mr. McEwen considered that such societies tended towards anarchism and discontent.

No action was taken.

At the evening session a resolution was moved by John Cameron, London, seconded by Principal Grant, expressing sympathy with every wise attempt to remedy evils touching the condition of mankind, but expressed the conviction that these can only be permanently settled by adherence to the fundamental principles of the Gospel of Christ.

The Summer Session Discussion.

KINGSTON, June 18.—The briskest discussion taking up the greatest amount of time during this General Assembly was that upon the establishment of a summer session in some college in order that the students supplying mission fields might be used to best advantage for the whole year. The matter was entrusted to a large and well-selected committee, who sat by day and by night when the committee was prepared to report to the assembly.

Mr. D. M. Gordon, the convener, gave the finding of a majority of the committee. A minority report was presented by Prof. Bryce. The majority report in its first clause recommended that there be no disturbance of the existing order of things in the colleges. The minority report asked for a summer college to be provided in some place and in some way for three years. Prof. Scrimger of Montreal came forward with a third proposition, viz.: That Manitoba College be converted into a summer institution altogether, and that in addition to the staff doing work there during the summer it be supplemented each year by some of the professors from the other theological colleges for the summer months.

After a great many speeches and repetitions of arguments the proposal of Prof. Scrimger was put to the House and voted down.

The minority proposition was defeated by 50 to 68.

Rev. Mr. McKellar then moved in amendment to that part of the committee's finding which declined to organise a summer institution, that the whole matter relating to the establishment of a summer session be sent down for examination during the year. The first vote on this was a tie. A second vote having been taken, Mr. McKellar's proposal was carried by a majority of 4. The assembly then determined to meet the exigencies of the mission fields, at least temporarily, that students who have completed the second year of the theological curriculum of the church and have been appointed to the home mission field may be licensed to preach, and if necessary be ordained, but shall not be eligible for settlement in a pastoral charge until they shall have completed the examination of the third theological year, for which purpose examination shall be transmitted by the college in which such men have prosecuted their studies to the Presbytery in which they are laboring, to be written on under the care of the Presbytery, the answers to be returned to the college for valuation. It was also agreed that students who have completed their course and have not during their course given one year continuously in the mission field be urged to do so before being permanently settled. The final decision of the assembly was that all ministers or licentiates received from other churches shall be required to serve one year in the mission field before being settled in any charge by a presbytery.

An elaborate statistical report was presented by Dr. Torrance on statistics, from which it was gleaned that there are in the Presbyterian Church in Canada 84,000 families and over 160,000 communicants, an increase of 3000 and 2112 respectively upon last year's showing. The total income to the church for the year is $2,002,810, which for all purposes, ministerial and missionary, shows an average gain throughout the denomination of $24.01 per family and $12.51 per communicant.

FATAL BARN RAISING

Two Men Meet Death Through the Structure Toppling Over.

BARRIE, June 18.—A barn of Mr. Robert Gilpin's, near Thornton, was being raised up to put new sills under it, when the supports slipped from underneath one side and the barn fell, crushing Thomas Chapman and James McLellan. Chapman died instantly and McLellan lingered a short time.

A TRAGEDY OF THE CLOUDS.

The Aeronaut is Killed, Leaving His Two Passengers to Sail into Space.

PARIS, June 18.—A fatal balloon trip resulting almost to a certainty in the loss of three lives occurred at La Villette yesterday afternoon. A balloon containing a professional aeronaut and two other persons made an ascent about midday from La Villette, the aerial venture being watched by crowds of people. When the balloon had reached a height of not more than fifty feet from the ground, the aeronaut, who had been busily engaged about the outside of the car, was seen to suddenly lose his balance, make a desperate effort to regain, and then fell to the earth. He was picked up so terribly injured that it is said there are no prospects of saving his life. In the meantime, the balloon and its two remaining occupants, both of whom were utterly ignorant of the manner in which a balloon is handled, mounted up higher into the air until finally out of sight of the crowd. The Government officials have telegraphed to the officials in the surrounding departments to make all the enquiries possible in regard to the fate of the two occupants of the balloon, but up to this morning nothing had been heard of their whereabouts. It is feared the balloon will ascend to a height that will cause its occupants to be frozen to death and that the balloon will soon after collapse and its remains, together with the bodies of the unfortunates, may find a final resting place in the sea.

The balloonists descended at Versailles to-night.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Apropos of the letters of "D" and "B" appearing in recent issues of the EXAMINER might it not be suggested that the Trustees of Mrs. Nicholls' bounty could not do better than invest part of the fund provided for a park in a piece of land sufficiently near to the town to be readily accessible and fit for ball games? It happens that there would be a good deal of difficulty in finding a suitable place on this side of the river, but a few days ago I was particularly struck with the adaptability to the object in view of those fields immediately south of the Dummer road and lying between the river and the river road and extending south as far as the lots laid out by Mr. Dumble some years ago. There is a large level piece of ground which would answer admirably for cricket, base-ball, etc., and the several groves of trees with the sloping bank to the river are capable of being beautified to any extent. There is already easy communication at the north by the Smith street bridge and no doubt it can be made equally easy from the South. We know that the trustees will act wisely in the selection of a site but I hope they will pardon an occasional suggestion from the citizens who naturally have the matter a good deal at heart.

Yours, etc,
A.

The British Census.

The cable states that the population of England and Wales according to the census taken on April 1st, is 29,000,000, as compared with 26,000,000 in 1881. This is a matter which deserves though it is not likely to receive the attention of those 93 members of the Dominion Parliament who are reported in yesterday's papers as having pledged their support to Mr. Howard Vincent's scheme for restoring in Britain the old policy of protection with preferential duties in favor of colonial products. In England population has grown amazingly, all things considered, since the beginning of the era of railroads, steamships, telegraph and free trade. Swarms of men and women have left the three kingdoms for other English-speaking lands, the United States, Canada and Australia; for Britain is both an old and an over-crowded civilization. Nevertheless the population has steadily risen, and with it the average of comfort among the poorer classes, including of course wages. The notion fostered by protectionists that Britain made her most rapid strides during the period of her protective tariffs is wholly without foundation. "Whether protection," wrote Mr. Gladstone ten years ago, "is a universal poison, or whether it may be conceived to operate as food in cases where it is granted for a few years in order to shelter the first investments in a new industry, I do not now inquire. We in England, at least, have never seen or known it in that mitigated form. With us, it has sheltered nothing but the most selfish instincts of class against the just demands of the public welfare. These it has supplied with strongholds from whose portals our producers have too generally marched forth in the day of need, armed from head to foot with power and influence, largely gotten at the expense of the community, to do battle with a perverted prowess against nature, liberty and justice." A system which enhanced the cost of food and taxed the raw materials as well as the finished goods which the foreigner offered in payment of his purchases was necessarily inimical to the development alike of trade and population. In 1801 the population of England and Wales was 8,900,000. In 1811 it had risen to 10,100,000. In 1821 it was 12,000,000. In 1831 it was 13,800,000, and in 1841 15,900,000. Hence during the last fifty years it has virtually doubled itself in spite of emigration and of the severe struggle for existence which must always prevail in a country so densely peopled. No one pretends that free trade has done it all, but a policy which has cheapened food and augmented commerce must receive at least a portion of the credit. The gross annual trade of the United Kingdom to-day is within £100,000,000 of the gross commerce of the entire world in 1850. British exports in 1890 were over six times greater than the average between 1837 and 1842. The first considerable instalment of free trade was won in the latter year. In 1845 a second instalment was obtained. In 1849 the Corn Laws were repealed and the Navigation Laws immediately afterwards. The tariff of 1853 repealed the soap and other duties. The fifth and last instalment was granted by the Customs Act of 1860 which gave full effect to the principle that neither on raw produce nor on food nor on manufactured goods should any duty of a protective character be charged, and that the sums necessary to be levied for the purposes of revenue in the shape of customs duties should be raised upon the smallest possible number of articles. Since then trade has advanced by leaps and bounds and population with it. The foreign investments of Britain at the present time approaches the gigantic total of $15,000,000,000. Her artisans are better fed, better clad, better housed and better paid than ever before—by odds better than those of the protectionist countries of Europe. In Ireland population is still declining. But that is one to causes beyond human control. It is certainly not due to the fact the English market is open to Irish produce and the Irish market to cheap English manufactures. A member at Ottawa undertook a few years ago to prove that Ireland has deteriorated ever since trade between her and England was made free. It was rather an easy job for he compiled his history out of his imagination, but when it was finished nobody was convinced. Lecky and other authorities tell a ghastly story of Irish suffering during the era of restriction. If a customs wall be desirable between Ireland and England, as the Canadian Tory referred to maintained, how does he justify unrestricted commerce between our Provinces?

What Mr. Howard Vincent and the 93 Ottawa members propose is that England should [illegible] protection at least to the [illegible] foreign and colonial grown to be admitted free. As by far the greater portion of her food supply comes not from her own soil or from her colonies but from foreign countries, it follows that the price would be exalted to the extent of the duty, that the gain would go to the home landlord and the colonial farmer and come out of the belly of the British artisan. A more selfish project, or, as Lord Salisbury has said, one better calculated to produce a state of things not distinguishable from civil war, could hardly be conceived. To argue that it would lead to the closer wielding of the empire is to assume that the great mass of the British people are not in their right mind—that they can be hamboogged as we in Canada have been and are by every impudent fellow who waves the old flag with one hand whilst he picks your pocket with the other. —Globe.

Waterloo.

The Odds Against Which Wellington Fought.

Thursday was the seventy-sixth anniversary of Waterloo, one of the hardest fought and most important of the battles of modern times. The victory thoroughly destroyed the prestige of Napoleon as a battle-winner and gave peace to Europe for more than a generation. Patriotic officers and privates, there are not more than three or four survivors of the 26,000 British soldiers who fought that day under Wellington. The Iron Duke's army numbered 67,000, but of these only 26,000 were British troops, including the King's German Legion. The remainder were of various nationalities, and mostly newly-raised men, who stood greatly in awe of, and were unable to face, Napoleon's veterans at close quarters. An officer of a Nassau regiment which had fought against the British at Vittoria in 1813 told Wellington, in the hearing of his men, about an hour before the commencement of the battle, that his army could not beat Napoleon's, and Wellington himself always said that it was the worst army that he had ever commanded. Napoleon's force has been generally estimated at 72,000, but as he on that eventful morning said that he had 75,000 men, the higher figure may be accepted as correct. His soldiers were veterans and splendidly officered, and at St. Helena he said that it was the finest army that he had ever led.

To understand the odds against Wellington we must follow what Napoleon called his military arithmetic. He valued soldiers according to their qualities, and not according to their numerical force. His reckoning was that one Frenchman was equal to one Englishman, but that one of his veterans equalled three of Wellington's newly raised and raw troops. Before the battle commenced he observed to his staff: "I have 75,000 and Wellington has only 50,000, therefore I must beat him." He knew within a trifle the number of his opponent's men, and believed that they were all present, but upwards of 16,000—nearly a fourth of whom were British—had been detached and were posted eight miles from the field of battle, and were not in the fight. Wellington's failure to call them up was his only error. It is a fact which has escaped notice that if Wellington had had this detached force of 16,000 in hand, then reckoning his composite army by Napoleon's military arithmetic, he had within a few hundred yards the 50,000 estimated by the latter. Had Napoleon known of their absence he would have reckoned Wellington's strength at only 42,000. Deducting those who fought against Blucher, the Duke had to withstand 57,000 veterans. The foreign cavalry were unable to cross swords with Napoleon's horsemen, so that they were of little use until the French were finally repulsed. The foreign infantry, too, with some exceptions, could not face the French veterans at close quarters. It is doubtful whether any troops have ever displayed greater courage than the British infantry did in this battle. Many of the infantry regiments were massed into squares to withstand the fierce onsets of Napoleon's cavalry. A square of 800 men, four deep, would show a front of about thirty yards. The old flint-locks were true only for ninety yards, and it took about a minute to load and fire them. Napoleon brought his cavalry up to within 150 yards, so that if the men emptied their muskets they would have been instantly cut to pieces. The French horse artillery then came up to the same distance, and the British were forced to stand still and be pounded with grape shot at that short range without firing in return. Their only relief was occasionally to shift their ground a little when the cavalry charged, as the guns were then silent. On regiment lost over three hundred men without discharging a musket. No other troops could have successfully passed through such an ordeal. Napoleon truly said that the British infantry were the best in the world.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Distrustful People

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

HON. J. J. C. ABBOTT.

Sketch of His Career. Twice Elected Mayor of Montreal. He Only Entered the Active Political Arena a Few Years Ago—An Eminent Lawyer and Financier.

This able sketch of the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, although prepared for the press some time since, is peculiarly apropos at the present time:

A gentleman who is not half as well known to the people of Ontario as his fine talents entitle him to be is John Joseph Cardwell Abbott, the government leader in the Senate. He has been a long time in public life, few of the politicians in harness to-day exceeding him in length of service. His career, however, is a tribute to the truth of the Biblical adage that no man can serve two masters. With gifts and attainments peculiarly fitting him for public affairs he has nevertheless fallen short of reaching eminence therein. The reason for this is probably to be found in the fact that in politics he has been a dilletante. His profession has engrossed almost all his earnest endeavor and called forth his best powers. Whatever his hand found to do in the law he did it with all his might, and the result is that in the Commercial metropolis of the Dominion his name is synonymous with sound legal lore. Indeed, it may be said that he has only taken to politics in earnest as the diversion of his old age. True it is that as early as 1862 he was a member of the executive council and solicitor general for Lower Canada. That was for but a short period however, and not until 1887 did he again become a member of a ministry and then only as a member without a portfolio.

Mr. Abbott was born in the village of St. Andrews, county of Argenteuil, Quebec, on the 12th March, 1821, his father being Anglican rector of that parish. Rev. Joseph Abbott in his quiet rural charge found time to make some short excursions into the realm of literature. As a result of this side of his character we have a book very interesting to students of the early history of the country entitled "Philip Musgrave; or Memoirs of a Church of England Missionary in the North American colonies." It is a charming narrative of early life in the Canadian woods by a pious God-fearing soldier of the cross. The family was large, and the income not at all in proportion, and the home society had an unpleasant habit of reducing it one-half whenever funds were low. John, the first-born, was educated at St. Andrews and subsequently at McGill college at Montreal. He was called to the bar in 1847. In 1849 the discussions on the rebellion losses bill were shaking the young colony from one end to the other. The youthful Montreal lawyer took sides strongly with those whose watchword was "No pay to rebels." When the measure passed Parliament he and some of his friends were so indignant that they drafted that famous document the Annexation Manifesto of 1849, of which he has not yet heard the last and will not hear the last as long as he remains a mark for political writers. The purport of the manifesto was that rather than tamely or tacitly, not merely condone the offence of rebellion, but actually reward the rebels, they, the signers of the document, would welcome annexation to the United States. In the same year Mr. Abbott was married, his bride being a daughter of the Very Rev. J. Bethune, Dean of Montreal. In 1857 he was elected to represent Argenteuil, his native county in the old parliament of Canada. This was the beginning of a connection that lasted with numerous ups and downs, lights and shadows, until 1887 when he accepted a senatorship.

HON. J. J. C. ABBOTT.

As I have previously stated between 1862-1863 he was a member of the Executive Council and Solicitor General for Lower Canada. In the year following he introduced a measure dealing with insolvency which he carried through parliament. He published a treatise on this measure, and the two pieces of work combined did a great deal to establish him in the reputation he has since enjoyed of being the best commercial lawyer in his province. The jury law consolidation act for Lower Canada and the measure for collecting judicial and registration fees by stamps were introduced and steered through their various stages by him. But what strikes the person who traces his career closely is not so much what he has done as what he has not done. Turning over the pages in which are contained the debates of that parliament of 1865 which shaped Confederation, I see but few who were his peers in strength of mind, knowledge of constitutional law or skill in debate. No one would have been more gladly heard than the member from Argenteuil, being one of the ablest representatives of the minority in his native province. But in that memorable debate he never opened his mouth, while nonentities filled the air with their ideas. The one man who could have contributed something substantial to the bill of fare was strangely silent. He continued to be a very subdued observer of the current of events in parliament down to 1873 when his name came far more prominently before the public than was in all probability at all to his taste.

He was Sir Hugh Allen's legal adviser and was his confidential friend in the proceedings and negotiations which are included in what is known as the Pacific scandal. Indeed, it is said that a faithless clerk in his office supplied the opposition with some of the material which unhorsed an administration and precipitated a general election. His next piece of public work was his journey to England along with Sir Hector Langevin to lay before the Queen the facts in the dismissal of Lieut. Governor Letellier of his constitutional advisers. In that task the Conservatives of Quebec undoubtedly deemed that the two ambassadors had been eminently successful. In 1880 he was elected Mayor of Montreal by acclamation, and in the following year he was again elected and a third term was pressed upon him, but considering that the had done his share of duty as a citizen of the Canadian metropolis he firmly declined. During his incumbency of the mayoral office he proceeded to Lisbon and floated a large loan for the city at the lowest rate of interest that had up to that time at least been obtained by a Canadian municipal body on the London market.

To the midst of his duties of the chief magistracy he was called to the Senate. On the 12th May 1887, he was sworn a member of the Privy Council without port-folio, his special task being to look after the government business in the upper chamber. He took that post at a critical juncture. Some of the lifelords of that remarkable body had taken the bit between their teeth and were threatening to kick the vehicle to which they are attached to pieces. Sir Alexander Campbell who had led it up to that time had his hands full towards the close of his reign. Senator Alexander cared neither for the leader of the government, the dignity of the chamber nor the authority of the speaker. Every other day the proceedings were turned into a rarey-show towards which curious sight-seers bent their steps to have an hour's amusement. Even the firm government supporters thought that their chamber was slighted in that no portfolio was represented on its floor. They said the Senate had become a mere machine for registering the decrees of the Comeons.

Mr. Abbott's advent to its deliberations has not stopped grumbling in the Senate, but order has been restored to the proceedings and open revolt is not to be thought of. The new leader has aimed at removing the reproach of being a mere registering formula and has re-established its function of originating measures and in the absence of a cabinet or even fractions of one he has constituted himself all the units of ministry rolled up into one. His industry, versatility, and receptivity are surprising. The ministerial introducer of a measure in the Commons can subsequently go over to the Senate and hear far more convincing arguments in its favor than he thought of adducing himself. Then there are so many questions of law arising in all legislation that the leader very frequently finds an opportunity of exhibiting without effort his skill in a field in which he need fear no foe. As a speaker he is easy, natural, pleasing, fluent and plausibly convincing. I think his vocabulary is quite the most extensive of any of the men in public life, and is used with a nice appreciation of the shades of meaning that in English at least render the word synonym an almost superfluous coinage. As the representative of the Government, and consequently constantly explaining, interpreting and defending its acts, it was not long before his fellow senators began to appreciate the unusual qualifications that the new leader brought to his task. The natural suspicion with which a stranger suddenly elevated to authority in a body liberally sprinkled with persons who certainly are no small potatoes in their own estimation, very soon vanished and gave place to genuine admiration. A session of the Senate now is a perfect idyl. When a spectator sees John Joseph guiding the dignified tribunes of the upper chamber he is irresistably reminded of a shepherd of Arcady leading his gentle flocks into the pleasant valleys and by the cooling streams.

The observant citizen who witnesses the success with which this by no means easy task is performed naturally wonders that a man possessing such a genius for public affairs should have been so long on the theatre of them without leaving a more distinctive mark. The only explanation I can offer is that success in politics can only be achieved by the man who gives them his undivided attention. It this be so the question naturally suggests itself, must politics be made a trade and be looked upon as a means of livlihood? The thoughtful reader who peruses this enquiry will agree that there is a great deal involved in the answer to it.

Besides his other titles to distinction Mr. Abbott is dean of the faculty of law in McGill college, Montreal, a director of the Bank of Montreal, Director of the Canadian Pacific railway, Lieut. Col. of the 11th battalion, President of the Free Library of Montreal, and many more honourable posts too numerous to mention. Indeed it is difficult to find any enterprise in the sister province with which is not connected.

The last "mission" with which Mr. Abbott's name has been mentioned is that which the government requested him to undertake to Australia. He is charged with conferring with the authorities of the various Australian dependencies with a view to increasing the trade relations between Canada and the Antipodes. The union between the several autonomous provinces in the Australasian group which has now been accomplished will probably delay the execution of this important charge, but whenever the leader of the Senate enters on his task, Canada may be sure that she has a representative who will sustain abroad her interests, her dignity and her reputation as the home of able public men.

A True Bill.

Wm. Gillespie, Wolfe Island, Ont., says: I had indigestion and stomach cough for three years. Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver troubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

Vigilant Care.

Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 3w25d

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

An Unconfirmed Report.

The Toronto papers to-day print a telegraphic despatch from Victoria, B.C., stating that Mr. Marcellus Mowry, whose unfortunate accident was chronicled a few days ago, had since died. The family here, however, have received no confirmation of the painful intelligence, and is is believed the report is in error. The last message received directly from the coast, on Tuesday morning, was to the effect that Mr. Mowry was recovering. It is to be hoped the newspaper report will be proven untrue. A message has been sent to Victoria to learn the latest tidings regarding Mr. Mowry's condition.

Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

Douro's Great Picnic.

The Great Success of the Third Annual Picnic—Splendid Weather—Large Attendance—Fine Enjoyment—An All Round Success.

The third annual picnic in connection with St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Douro, took place yesterday and was a great success, for which there were several reasons, first, Rev. Father Keilty, the energetic parish priest, had made great exertions, and had left nothing undone to contribute to the attractiveness of the occasion; the weather was perfect, and the people turned out in full force from Douro, Otonabee and vicinity, while Ennismore, Rev. Father Keilty's old pariah, sent a large contingent, and Peterborough was liberally represented also. There was no lack of spiritual shepherds either. In addition to the omnipresent (for the occasion) pastor, there were in attendance Very Rev. Vicar-Gen. Browne, Rev. Father Rudkins, Peterborough; Rev. Father O'Connell, Ennismore; Rev. Father Whibbs and Rev. Father Scollard, Peterborough. A combination of circumstances like these resulted in a most successful and enjoyable picnic.

THE EVENTS OF THE DAY.

All the morning was occupied in the "gathering of the clans," and as noon drew nigh the splendid dinner, so attractively laid out by the ladies of the parish, was speedily "laid out" in another sense when the hungry multitudes got access to it, and still there was abundance enough for all and the Scriptural twelve baskets of fragments remaining.

Of course the splendid dancing platform erected was liberally patronized. The pulsating feet of the dancers were hardly ever still, and the popular appreciation of Galvin Bros. string band from Ennismore did not give the musicians many minutes rest during the day.

The contest for the possession of the imported four year-old Ryedick colt was a keen one. There was also a great contest between the ladies who were selling the chances on the noble steed. There were between 900 and 1000 tickets sold, Miss O'Leary, teacher, heading the list. The holder of the lucky ticket that caught the horse was Mr. Redmond Carey, sr., of Otonabee, who is the proud possessor of a steed with a peculiar pedigree—he cost the present owner 25 cents, is worth a hundred dollars and was sold for over $200.

THE SPORTS AND GAMES.

These opened with a baseball match between a Douro nine and an Indian River nine. It resulted after four innings in a score of 14 to 8, in favor of the Douro delegates.

The athletic sports proper were conducted under the management of Mr. M. C. Collins, now of Iowa, but a past graduate of manly sports in Ennismore, where he took high (jump) records year after year. The following is a summary of the events:—

RUNNING BROAD JUMP.—(Five entries), won by, 1st John Mein, Ashburnham; 2nd J. Daly, town.

100-YARD RACE.—(Two entries), 1st —, ——, 2nd J. Daly, town.

BROAD JUMP—(five entries) 1st M. C. Collins, 2nd John Mein town.

RUNNING HOP STEP AND JUMP—(six entries), 1st M. C. Collins town, John Mein town.

BOYS' RACE—(fifteen entries), 1st Jos. Guerin, 2nd Chas. Rabelly.

PUTTING HEAVY WEIGHT—(five entries), 1st D. Kennedy, Ennismore, 2nd R. Harrison, Port Hope.

JIG DANCE—(three entries), 1st Miss Sarah Collins and Mr. John Sheehan, Ennismore.

The receipts of the day are not yet known the returns of ticket sellers, etc, not having been made out, no doubt they will amount to a handsome sum. The gate receipts represented an attendance of about 1500 persons. The picnic was a great success and priest and people are to be congratulated.

TOWN TRADE INTERESTS.

Our City Fathers Try to Advance Them.

A Trip to the Northern Lakes to see after Bridges—The Bridges That Bring Trade to Peterborough—The County Council the Guests of the Town Council—The Voyage of the "Mary Ellen"—The Result of the Trip.

On Thursday a party organized at the instance of the Town Council, started in the morning at 8.30 from the Grand Trunk station for the round trip to Sturgeon Point. The party consisted of about eight of the town council who acted as hosts, and of the majority of the members of the county council, the town and county council officials and several leading citizens including Col. Francis of the Edison General Electric Company. Before setting out a few words of explanation as to the object of the journey may be given.

Yesterday another step was taken in promoting the laudable policy of bringing trade to Peterborough. It is a well recognized fact that the prosperity of a town depends to no little extent upon the avenues which centre in it and make the surrounding country tributary to its trade and consequently of its wealth and importance. The railways centering in Peterborough are a great source of trade prosperity and the town council recognizes heartily the importance of keeping up a good trade connection with the country to the south and to the north of us.

IN PURSUANCE OF THIS POLICY

the council has been in the habit of making grants to assist in the maintenance of the Pigeon creek bridge which permits a large section of splendid country in the adjoining county, especially the townships of Verulam and Emily, to have access to the markets of Peterborough from which they would be excluded were this bridge not kept in a state of repair. The county of Victoria does not, of course, naturally have a very earnest longing to see this bridge kept up, and the county has not seen its way clear to take a very warm interest in it, and the Town Council seeing the importance to the town of securing the utmost possible assistance in maintaining this bridge, projected the trip, which took place yesterday, inviting the County Council to accompany the Town, and to try the effect of personal influence and personal persuasion upon the county councillors with a view of securing their co-operation. It is gratifying to say that it is pretty certain that the county representatives were this morning more inclined than they were a day or two ago to take action in this matter, "without prejudice," as the lawyers say, to the principle of responsibility of this county in the maintenance of bridges near a boundary line.

As stated above, the party left the Grand Trunk station and made a quick run to Chemong wharf, where the steamer "Mary Ellen," which had been chartered for the occasion, lay in waiting. Embarking the party steamed out across the placid bosom of Chemong Lake, the floating bridge in the distance attracting attention, especially of the Town Council representatives, who see in this bridge connecting the town with one of the most fertile townships in the county, whose trade is of the greatest importance to Peterborough. If the floating bridge were removed the town would soon notice the absence of the patronage and trade of Emerald Ennismore. The steamer proceeded through the stretch of sparkling waters to Bobcaygeon, where a stay of about an hour took place in order to permit the party to drink in the beauties of the semi-sylvan home of the notorious "Smiff," who, whatever his eccentricities of intellectual exudation, had a level head when he selected as his lair beautiful Bobcaygeon. Here a look was had at the bridges and public works and at Mr. Mossom Boyd's splendid and trim new steamer.

En voyage again, the steamer and her fraternizing freight of co-councillors soon reached Sturgeon Point, where its beautiful shady, verdant turf, sloping to the shore, and studded with Druid-like oaks, made the stay of an hour, before the return voyage was begun, a very short interval of time.

It was not necessary to stop at any point for luncheon, because Mr. Purser Davidson had amply provided for every demand of appetite. The fraternization of the party was complete and the hum of conversation and the occasional break-out of snatches of song told how enjoyment reigned supreme. On the return trip every feature of the object of the excursion was thoroughly discussed, and a very practical interest in developed in the minds of the county councillors.

As the steamer neared Chemong on the home run the informal features of the trip that had made the voyage so agreeable gave way gradually and the party merged into a formal meeting with Mr. H. T. Strickland, representing Ashburnham, in the chair. Short speeches, but pointed and practical, were made by Councillor Cahill, Mr. M. Sanderson, the Nestor of the council, who has always a right word ready for the right place, and by Col. Francis, of the Edison Company who expressed himself as highly delighted with the trip and the scenic beauty of the route through which the party had passed. He was also generally pleased with Peterborough and admired the progressive spirit of its council and the business go and enterprise of its citizens. He also referred to the presence of the important enterprise represented by the Edison Company and dilated on the influence the works would have upon the advancement of Peterborough, which he predicted into the status of a city, and no mean city at that.

The party arrived home in good season, all highly pleased with the pleasure the voyage had afforded, and, especially the town councillors, with the success the trip had accomplished in stirring up renewed interest, in the question of bridge maintenance, in the minds of the county councillors. The cultivation of a more intimate, friendly spirit between the members of the town and county councillors, the interests of whose respective constituencies are so greatly in common, is not one of the least important or least pleasant features of the excursion of June 18th.

Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches.

Annual Meeting at Campbellford—Encouraging Reports From Every Field of Labour—Missionary Interests Considered—The Work of the Women.

The annual convention of the Peterborough Association of Baptist churches was held at Campbellford on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and the convention as a whole was most successful, as the reports presented indicating the state of the work in the several fields of labour as of a most encouraging and hopeful character. Every church in the Association was duly represented, and the reports presented from the several pastoral charges indicated not only a healthy spiritual condition and growth, but an excellent material condition. The Gilmour Memorial church, Smith, was added to the list of churches embraced in the Association.

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY.

The business of the first day opened with the ordinary devotional exercises.

The reception of the cheering reports from the various churches was the first business. These showed a steady, general advance all along the line and an increase in membership. Then followed the appointment of the several committees.

In the evening the annual missionary meeting meeting was held. Rev. Mr. Dowling in an eloquent, profound and thoughtful sermon, introduced the subject of Home Missions. He was followed by Rev. J. M. Trotter of Peterborough in a similar strain and Rev. Mr. Munro of Belleville also contributed an excellent address. The proceedings were enlivened by especially interesting music, duets, choruses and the singing of appropriate hymns.

SECOND DAY—THURSDAY.

After devotional exercises, that most important branch of church work, the Sunday School received full attention. Rev. J. E. Trotter eloquently opened up the discussion of the subject on the relation and duties of parents toward the Sunday school. Rev. Rudkins of Port Hope followed with a capital address, and the exceedingly animated and general discussion that followed for some time, showed what deep hold the Sunday school school work and its interests had upon the hearts of the several delegates present. The centre committee seemed aroused to new zeal in the consideration of this subject. The claims of the book room and denominational journal, the Baptist, were strongly urged upon the different congregations; the duty of subscribing to, and supporting the Canadian Baptist was strongly impressed and the manager's of Sunday schools were urged to patronize the book rooms when they required to procure libraries or suitable Sunday school literature and stationery. A little flurry was caused over the objection of a brother to certain phraseology applied to certain days. The objector objected in toto to any day being specially designated as "good," for instance "Good Friday,"—it was without scriptural warrant. He also deprecated the observance of such days as Easter, Christmas, etc. The matter ended in the hearty endorsement of the course of the paper, and the management of the book room.

In the afternoon Rev. James Grant, of Toronto, who was to have addressed the Convention Tuesday evening on Home Mission Work, but was unavoidably absent, was given half an hour to present his views on the subject, which he did in a terse, clear, able and earnest manner.

The claims of the book, "The Memoirs of the Late Principal McGregor, of McMaster Hall," were also presented and urged.

The state of religion in the association was introduced in a very fine address given by Rev. Mr. Manning, of Belleville, and a general and profitable discussion followed.

In the evening the Foreign Mission interests were presented in excellent addresses by Rev.

There was a large attendance, excellent address and entertaining and enlivening music.

NOTES.

Throughout the entire convention the choir of the Baptist Church supplied excellent music.

They were ably assisted by some of the charming singers that the delegation from the several churches contained.

The delegates all speak in the highest terms of the great hospitality of the members of the Baptist Church in Campbellford and of the citizens generally.

On Wednesday afternoon a paper was read by Rev. W. Peer, Norwood, on the need of aggressive work by the association.

Telegraphic congratulations were on Thursday received from the Whitby and Lindsay associations, and suitably acknowledged.

The report on obituaries was led by Mr. Graham of Smith, in which he stated that the church had suffered great loss by the deaths of Rev. Daniel Wait, West Lake, Mich.; Mr. W. Craig, of Port Hope; Mr. James Stratton, Peterborough, and Mr. W. Davis, Belleville, who were members of this association. The report of the association by Rev. P. C. Parker, Toronto, was read by the chairman.

THE WOMEN'S CIRCLES.

Not the least important feature of the convention was the meeting of the Women's Circles which took place on Tuesday. Peterborough was represented by Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter.

The president, Mrs. (Rev.) Peer presided and the first business attended to was the election of officers: Mrs. Peer was re-elected president and Miss Annie Walton, secretary. The reports of the several subordinate circles were most interesting and indicated plainly that the circles were a most important and practical aid in the promotion of, especially, the missionary interests of the church. There had during the year been added two new mission bands and four new circles. The total amount of money collected through these instrumentalities was $700, and increase of $200 over last year.

Mrs. (Rev.) Reddick read an able paper on Foreign Missions, and Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter an excellent paper on Home Missions, and Miss Barker read a contributed paper on the subject of "The necessity of Prayer."

The convention was one of the most successful and encouraging ever held in the history of the Peterborough association.

Purify the importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

A Pretty Wedding It Was.

The Village of Hastings in the Throes of Excitement over a Matrimonial Event.

Hastings was favored with a society wedding on Wednesday. The event has been looked forward to with keen anticipation by social circles in the village, and the church in which the ceremony took place was crowded with a gay gathering of Hastings' fairest and best.

The ceremony which made two hearts one was performed in the Methodist church at 12 o'clock noon in the presence of a large number of people. Mr. H. W. Fowlds, one of the best known and most highly honored young men in the village led to the altar Miss Annie Elenbeth Campbell, daughter of Rev. A. B. Campbell, the Methodist clergyman at that place, who himself tied the nuptial knot which linked the two happy young people for life in Hymen's pleasant bonds. He was assisted by Rev. J. S. Clarke, of Norwood, and Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings.

The bride was charmingly attired, and was supported by five bonny bridesmaids—Miss Lemon Fowlds and Miss Linda Fowlds, cousins of the groom; Miss Beatha Campbell, sister of the bride; Miss Bessie Rosse, of Buffalo, and Miss Aggie Anderson, of Hastings. A like duty was performed for the bridegroom by Messrs. W. J. Hamilton, of Peterborough; Frank Roxborough, of Norwood; A. H. Fowlds, J. C. Fowlds and J. D. Berry, M.D., of Hastings.

There were seventy-five invited guests present at this very pretty wedding, among those from a distance being, Mrs. (Dr.) Rosse, of Buffalo, and Mr. Louis Baker, of Demorestville, Ont.

The parsonage was subsequently the scene of a gay wedding breakfast and the bride and groom were showered with congratulations and good wishes. The beautiful array of of gifts were a practical expression of the warm feelings entertained towards the young couple by their many friends. At 2.30 o'clock they were given a hearty send-off at the train, when they started on a honeymoon trip to Montreal and points east.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who casts a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Sore, Bleeding Scrofula—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A feeble, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was as raw as to be absolutely unrecognizable. Such was the sight that met the eye of Mrs. H. A. Street to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but the second to be getting worse every day. I was almost discouraged. Every night I had to sit up with her all over and the mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Self Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. Decided to take the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and it was beyond my comprehension of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Wescott, druggist.

A MOTHER'S CRIME.

SHE DROWNS HERSELF AND HER BABES.

Abandoned by Her Husband She Jumps from Rondeau Dock with Her Infants The Message She Left Behind on a Dock Plank

BLENHEIM, Ont., June 18.—A sad case of murder and suicide happened this afternoon at Rondeau railway dock. The bodies of Mrs. David Clark and her two children, a little boy and girl both under 4 years of age, were found alongside of the dock in about three feet of water. Mrs. Clarke's eldest son, of 12 years of age had left his mother with the children about half an hour before the bodies were found, his mother having sent him to deliver a parcel to his aunt, who lived near by. His mother had evidently sent him to get him out of the way. The bodies were found close together, the youngest child being in its mother's arms. The following words were written on a plank of the dock:

"Do not blame Garney, I did it all.

"(Signed) MAGGIE."

Garney was the eldest boy's name. Mrs. Clarke's husband left her last fall with five children. This is supposed to have caused her to commit the rash deed.

Trouble Feared in Montreal at a Celebration Over the Victims of the Rebellion of 1837.

MONTREAL, June 19.—There is trouble amongst the French-Canadians over a celebration which it is proposed to hold in this city on Sunday in honor of the victims of '37, who rebelled against British rule and were finally put down by the Imperial troops under Sir John Colborne. Many of the rebels were killed and hundreds were transported for life. Amongst the victims was one Chenier, a young doctor, residing in the small village of St. Eustache, near this city, who met his death in what is known as the battle of St. Eustache. The religious authorities who sided with the British refused Chenier church burial and ever since his remains have lain neglected. A monument was lately started by the St. Jean Baptiste Society of this city to have Cheuier's remains removed and buried with the remains of a number of the other victims of '37 in the Roman Catholic Cemetery of this city. The permission of Archbishop Fabre was obtained and preparations were made to have the event conducted with impressive ceremonies on Sunday. Some of the leading French-Canadian papers, however, have come out in a strong attack on the movement on the ground that it is liable to reopen old sores and that it is practically a condemnation of the action of the ecclesiastical authorities of the time. Archbishop Fabre has as a consequence forbidden any religious demonstration, and it is feared there may be trouble.

A Monument at Kingston.

KINGSTON, June 19.—At a special meeting of the Board of Trade, held last evening to consider the question of the erection of a monument commemorative of the late Sir John Macdonald, it was decided that a monument costing about $25,000 should be erected in what is known as the Tower Park, a piece of land lately presented to the city by the Dominion Government, individual subscriptions not to exceed $10. The Dominion will be canvassed.

Lightning's Peculiar Freak.

WHITBY, June 18.—A marvelous escape from a stroke of lightning is reported from the 7th con. of Whitby township. Miss Maw was attending to her household duties when the storm came along and was in the act of fastening the kitchen door when a brilliant flash and peal of thunder came and burst open both doors. The electricity seized a slipper which Miss Maw held in her hand, and snatched the bowl off one end of the handle and the ring from the other. The bare handle was left in the young lady's hand.

A Spark Ignited His Blouse.

MONCTON, N.B., June 19.—A 10-year-old son of William Scott of West Brook started for the steam mill where his father was working. Just as he reached the mill a spark from the smoke stack set fire to his cotton blouse. Instead of going into the mill, the boy ran for home, and was so badly burned that he died.

ST. THOMAS, June 19.—Sanford Long of Bingham was found guilty at the sessions today of manufacturing counterfeit 25 and 10 cent pieces. Prisoner's mother, who was in the court room, fainted away when the verdict was given. Thaddeus Chalk, who was acquitted yesterday on the charge of making counterfeit money, was then placed on trial on the charge of passing counterfeit money.

THE KOCH LYMPH.

The Lymph to Be Submitted to the Examination of the Scientific World.

BERLIN, June 19.—In the Upper House of the Prussian Diet to-day Count Von Zedlitz Trustchler, Minister of Public Works, Ecclesiastical and Medical Affairs, replying to questions concerning the efficacy of Prof. Koch's tuberculin, maintained that it had scientific value and that its therapeutic value would be greatly enhanced as soon as Prof. Koch had obtained a pure cultivation of the principal substance. This result, the profession had informed him, would be achieved in a few weeks, and the composition of the lymph would then be submitted to the examination of the scientific world.

Prof. Ramsay Wright Returns.

TORONTO, June 20.—The general interest that has died down regarding the discovery of Prof. Koch will again be revived. Prof. Ramsay Wright has returned from Berlin, carrying with him all that is known about the lymph, to anyone outside of the discoverer, who still keeps the component parts of his discovery a profound secret.

In an interview with Professor Wright last evening a reporter learned the following facts: The excitement has subsided in Germany as well as in America. The interest has also abated except among the scientists, who are of course prosecuting their researches along the same line with untiring energy. There is certainly not so much in the lymph for the present at least as was supposed, although Professor Koch is still sanguine and believes that the bad results have been due largely to the injudicious application of the treatment and the injudicious selection of cases.

But while Professor Koch has not yet lost faith in his discovery he recognizes that experiments are more difficult with human beings than with Guinea pigs, and is at present engaged in trying to produce a form of the lymph in a more purified condition that will not carry with it the dangerous consequences of the present form.

Before he (Professor Wright) came away from Berlin he was shown some of the purified material with which Professor Koch was making his first experiments.

The discoverer has never revealed the secret of his first lymph; but several people believe that the imitations they have produced are practically the same; and all these are evaporated beef tea cultures of tubercle bacilli. Dr. Koch himself says he has no doubt but that these do give the same results, although he has never acknowledged that his is made in the same way.

Professor Koch further stated. "There are evidently several different ways in which the active material can be got out of the tubercle bacilli and I don't know that my way is the best. I prefer, therefore, for the present that other bacteriologists should go on experimenting so that they may perhaps find a better way than I have."

Professor Wright made numerous animal experiments both with Koch's lymph and imitations and some of these gave very favorable results.

The use of the lymph has become very much restricted in Germany, but is still being used in the hospital under Koch's direction. They are using smaller doses so as to avoid the fever which they aimed at producing in the first place and he is quite satisfied with the results. Professor Wright thinks, however, that the importance of the discovery is more what it indicates for the future than its present benefits. And no doubt there is much scientific interest attached to it. As it is it has been productive of an enormous amount of literature on the subject of tuberculosis and of so much activity in the study of the disease that it has hardly been possible to digest everything that has been written about it.

Professor Wright had the opportunity of studying the methods of research and the teaching of Bacteriology in Koch's Institute, and had also the opportunity of comparing these with those in use at Pasteur's Institute in Paris during a three weeks' stay in that city on his way home. The Parisian scientists do not think much of the Koch method of treatment, although in Pasteur's Institute they are making animal experiments with tuberculin and also lymph procured in Berlin, as well as that prepared in their own institute.

Although some German investigators have used the imitations of the lymph on the human subject yet it is probable that the very small quantities required in Toronto University will be procured from Berlin until Koch has made further statements as to methods he has himself employed.

Professor Wright again emphasized the fact that the discovery has given an immense impetus to the study of bacteria, and several investigators have been stimulated thereby in prosecuting allied researches on the prevention and treatment of diseases.

While in Paris he had the opportunity of studying all the methods of Pasteur's treatment of hydrophobia.

THE TARTE CHARGES.

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE AT THE INVESTIGATION.

A Large Subscription to Meet Election Expenses—The Contractors Cleared Over $40,000 Each on Their Tender—Some Startling Statements.

OTTAWA, June 19.—There were meetings of the Public Accounts, Printing, Railways and Canals, and Privileges and Elections Committees this morning.

At the Committee on Privileges and Elections the investigation into the Tarte charges against Sir Hector Langevin and Hon. Thomas McGreevy was proceeded with. Sir Hector has ceased attending meetings of the committee, but McGreevy attends regularly. The books of Michael Connolly, the contractor which he appeared at the bar of the House the other day, were placed before the committee, and on motion of Sir John Thompson a sub-committee, comprising Messrs. Davies, Edgar, Adams and Baker, along with the chairman, were appointed to examine them and see what accounts were relevant to the matter of inquiry.

The first witness called was Mr. O. E. Murphy. Mr. Geoffrion (Mr. Tarte's counsel) took witness in hand and examined him in regard to the expense account and the various donations given by the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co. to various charities and for other purposes. In regard to the item of $2000, said to be paid to one Valin, one of the commissioners of Quebec Harbor, Murphy said this was incorrect. No money was paid to Mr. Valin, but this sum was given to Thomas McGreevy through his brother, Robert McGreevy. Whenever Thomas McGreevy wanted money he came to him (Murphy), who after consulting one of his partners would pay it over to Robert McGreevy on behalf of his brother, Thomas McGreevy. The expense account in connection with the Cromwall contract, in which Mr. Robert McGreevy was taken in so as to secure the influence of his brother, Thomas McGreevy, with the Minister of Public Works, was over $41,000 and each of the five partners netted over $48,000 profits. The witness said that in regard to the $25,000 promised Mr. Thomas McGreevy in connection with this contract, the notes were made in the month of June, 1883, but were dated back to read from May 1. These notes were made out by himself (Murphy) and his partners in a room over which was situated the office of Thomas McGreevy in Quebec. The way they entered this office in the basement was through Thomas McGreevy's office, from which they took pen, paper and ink, passing through a trap door below. The notes were made out and endorsed there by the members of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., and handed to Thomas McGreevy. In regard to the completion of the work at the Quebec Harbor and the lengthening of the dock, a tender was sent in to the Public Works Department for $74,000. All over $50,000 was to be given to Thomas McGreevy and his friends. Mr. Hume, clerk of the works for the firm, estimated that about $46,000 would be a suitable tender, but they put in $74,000 and got the work. Coming to the work of excavation the witness (Murphy) said that the company had scheduled prices of 27, 29 and 33 cents per yard. Just prior to the Dominion elections of 1887 Mr. Thomas McGreevy sent for him (Murphy) to go to his house in Quebec, which he did. Thomas McGreevy told him that he wanted to raise $25,000 for the elections. There were 800,000 yards of dredging to be done. It was agreed between himself and Thomas McGreevy if they got 33 cents all round the company would allow 3 cents per yard to go to this fund for the elections. Thomas McGreevy suggested that it would be as easy to get 35 cents per yard from the department as 33 cents, and therefore we adopted these figures as a basis. Mr. Perley, the chief engineer, reported for 33 cents, and the contract was accordingly given his firm, Larkin, Connolly & Co. An agreement was made out with Thomas McGreevy for the payment of $25,000 for the election fund, which was paid. This agreement also contained $23,000 to be paid Thomas McGreevy for extras at Esquimalt Harbor, B.C. It was also included in this agreement that all over $300,000 received from the Government for the Levis dock works would go to Thomas McGreevy and his friends. The $23,000 for extras in British Columbia was in connection with a claim of $75,000 the company had against the Government. All that the company was to realize over $50,000 was to be paid Thomas McGreevy and his friends. The most of this amount was obtained. The committee then adjourned until Monday.

Public Accounts Committee.

The Public Accounts Committee this morning held its second sitting this session. On motion of Mr. McMullen, the Auditor-General was requested to prepare a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Department of the Interior to date. It was Mr. McMullen's intention to examine the Clerk of Works in connection with the expenditure of money around the Parliament buildings, but Mr. Pruneau, who filled that position, died a few days ago, and no one else was familiar with the works. Mr. Mulock gave the committee notice that he would make a searching investigation into the expenditure in connection with the erection of the new departmental building, generally known as the Langevin block. To do so would be impossible, if the committee only met once a week or once a fortnight. Mr. Foster said he would call the committee as often as Mr. Mulock might desire, so as to facilitate this investigation.

Printing Committee.

At a meeting of the Printing Committee to-day it was ordered to print 250,000 copies of Professor Saunders' (of Experimental Farm) report; 100,000 of Professor Robertson's on dairying, and 50,000 of the British tenant farmers' report on their visit to Canada. Of all these 10 per cent. was to be given to the senators for distribution.

Railway Committee.

At a meeting of the Railway Committee to-day bills respecting the Southwestern Railway Company, the Collingwood & Bay of Quinte Railway, the Buffalo Lake & Battleford Railway Company and the Berlin & Canadian Pacific Junction Railway were passed.

It is stated here that the House will adjourn from Friday, 26th, to Thursday, July 2, the 27th, 28th and 1st being statutory holidays.

PROSPECTS OF TRADE.

Encouraging Reports, More Especially in Ontario—Business Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Special reports to Bradstreet's indicate that at most of the larger trade centres, notably New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Memphis, New Orleans, St. Louis and San Francisco, general trade is no more active than has previously been reported, that it is, in fact, quite as dull as at any time within the current year. On the other hand jobbers at such cities as Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Kansas City in many instances report signs of an awakening autumn demand and commercial travelers have been sent out on the road from Omaha in expectation of a good trade except in regions where the corn crop has been damaged.

Telegrams from the Canadian Dominion point out that the late rains have greatly improved the crop outlook in Ontario and that trade prospects there are therefore bright. In Quebec less buoyancy is reported, interior traders buying very cautiously. The boot and shoe industry is demoralized by the shoe lasters' strike. The Dominion reports 27 business failures this week, against 32 last week and 18 this week last year. The total number Jan 1 to date is 988, against 843 last year.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

SALISBURY REPLIES TO THE FEDERATION DELEGATES.

The Swiss Rudyard Horror—The British Government Accepts the Amendment to the Factory Bill—Eugenie Says the French Empire Died With Her Son.

LONDON, June 19.—Lord Salisbury to-day, replying to an address presented to him by a delegation representing the United Empire League, said the treaties of 1825 and 1865, negotiated under Palmerston's Government, which prevented the colonies from giving preference to British trade, were unlucky and most unfortunate. No government, he added, was likely to repeat the error then made. Nevertheless, he explained, it was impossible to denounce the treaties in bits. The same treaties contained provisions of the utmost importance to England, especially now when the spirit of protection was running very high in every country except England. The Government, Lord Salisbury continued, would seize the earliest chance to deliver the country from these unfortunate engagements, but not at the price of losing the valuable provisions of the treaties referred to. Means of mitigating the evils complained of might be found before very long. The league, however, said the Premier, must work hard to convert their countrymen to the league's way of thinking, for it was impossible for England to give preferential treatment to the colonies at the expense of the rest of the world. The league must ascertain how far the country would support the policy, of which he imagined a prominent feature was a preferential tax on grain, wool and meat. Englishmen, in his opinion, would never consent to legislation of a vague or indefinite kind, especially where their dearest daily interests were concerned.

The Government Acquiesces.

LONDON, June 18.—Henry Matthews, Secretary of State for the Home Department, in the House of Commons to-day announced that the Government cordially accepted the amendment of Sydney Buxton (Lib.) to the factory bill upon which the Government had been defeated yesterday by a vote of 202 to 186.

After Mr. Matthews had announced that the Government accepted the Buxton clause Sir William Vernon Harcourt expressed his conviction that the House would still further raise the age of working children, and Mr. Buxton moved that after July 1, 1892, no children under 14 shall be employed except on half time. Mr. Matthews objected to this clause on the ground that if children under 14 were not allowed to work in factories on full time they would go to other employment. The motion was rejected, 189 to 164.

A clause to include laundries in the provisions of the factory bill was rejected 99 to 90.

Sir John Pender is Disgusted.

LONDON, June 19.—Rumors prevail in financial circles of difficulties which have arisen between Mr. Muristta, head of the banking house of Muristta & Co., recently transformed into a limited liability company and the trustees and executors of the new corporation owing to the discovery that the liabilities of Muristta & Co. exceed the liabilities represented to the trustees and executors. It is also said fresh liabilities have been incurred since the formation of the limited liability company which will require the full subscription of £175,000 to avoid a calamity. This state of affairs is said to have caused Sir John Pender to resign his seat on the Board of Trustees with disgust. It is said this afternoon that money necessary for the immediate requirements of the company has been raised among the stockholders.

Healy Will Sue for Libel.

DUBLIN, June 19.—Timothy Healy is about to sue The Freeman's Journal for libel in suggesting that he conspired corruptly with the representatives of the crown to induce the Gweedore prisoners to plead guilty to the charge of murder. The defence say they will make some spicy revelations during the trial.

The Empire Died With Her Son.

PARIS, June 19.—Le Journal publishes an interview with ex-Empress Eugenie, in which she said she intended to leave Paris in a week, as it had been intimated that her presence might give rise to unpleasant incidents. Being questioned regarding the resurrection of the Empire she said: "The Empire died with my son."

A Postmaster's Life Suddenly Cancelled.

LISTOWEL, June 19.—Henry J. Beanson, postmaster of Gorrie, died very suddenly on the 8th inst. at the age of 72 years and 8 months. It appears that at 6.30 p.m. he was in his usual health and was enjoying a read of the newspapers and at 10.30 was a corpse.

The Trouble Is Over.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The trotting register trouble is over at last. A meeting was held at the office of the Wallace Trotting Company, at which Wallace agreed to sell his 887 shares of stock in the Wallace Trotting Register Company for $130 per share or an aggregate of $115,310.

PARIS, June 18.—La Presse, a Boulangist organ, says to-day that a rumor is in circulation to the effect that the French Government has decided to request the ex-Empress Eugenie to shorten her stay in Paris.

A Disaster in the Tyrol.

VIENNA, June 18.—An artificial lake 1000 feet long 350 feet wide and 80 feet deep, formed by the Martell Glacier behind the Zufallferner Mountain in the Tyrol, burst its confines to-day, and flooded the valley. The huge volume of escaping water caused a shock like an earthquake to the surrounding country and made a deafening noise. As the inhabitants had expected for some time that this would happen and had prepared themselves it is hoped no fatalities were caused.

The Yawning Grave Robbed of Its Prey!

A Condition That Seemed Desperate and Hopeless—Truth is Mighty and Must Prevail—A Lady's Tale of Suffering.

The thriving and flourishing town of Paris, Ont., now an important manufacturing centre, is at present considerably agitated concerning a most remarkable cure recently effected. The lady, who was snatched from the brink of the yawning grave, is well known, and the truthfulness of her statements vouched for by the pastor of her church.

In connection with this wonderful event, we may remark that aids such as mesmerism, hypnotism or electricity were not sought or used; neither was the lady in her intense sufferings and weak condition, dragged or carried to some miraculous Shrine or Mecca, in order to offer her adorations to some canonized saint.

The facts of this remarkable cure are too interesting to the general public to be lightly passed over; and we considerable it advisable, in the interests of the weaker sex, who naturally suffer more than men, to give a few of the salient points in connection with this wonderous escape from suffering and death, in the hope that others may be directed to the simple, yet effectual, path of safety, before they are obliged to experience the same trials and vicissitudes, or draw so near the portals of that terrible abyss, death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Kitchen, the subject of this article, is a lady of great intelligence and good education, and one of the few whom Providence has ceased to pass safely through the fiery furnace of afflictions and tribulations, that she might serve a high and noble purpose, and consummate a grand work amongst the thousands of her sex who, at the present time, are silent, weak, and despondent sufferers; and many of them lingering without a cheering ray of hope to illumine their dark and dreary pilgrimage through the desert land of pain and suffering.

Mrs. Kitchen's case was considered by all who were acquainted with the facts, to be one of the most extraordinary, most baffling and most desperate ever submitted to the notice of physicians. She was apparently beyond all human aid; and the insatiable grave seemed to show a longing—an intense desire to receive her into its cold bosom. Indeed, so great were her sufferings at times that she actually became frantic; and in her calmer moments she often wished for death, as a means of relief from suffering.

Death at times to many mortals is a sweet deliverer when hope has fled forever.

The guiding hand that has led Mrs. Kitchen through sorrow's mazes long years ago was still within here, and gave to her light to seek that "balm" which had been provided for the healing of the sick of all nations. A life-giving fountain suddenly bubbled up before her, like the refreshing waters of an oasis in a great Sahara. She was told to drink of it. She did so, and immediately a new life seemed to dawn up n her, bringing with it new-born aspirations of hope and joy.

To give the reader an idea of what Mrs Kitchen suffered, as well as her experience up to the present time, we have, from a long letter of hers, selected extracts, which must speak forcibly to all who read them carefully.

She says:—

"I have been an acute sufferer for 23 years from Neuralgia in the head in its worst forms, and for 12 years have suffered from the same disease in the back.

"Indeed, my sufferings date back to the time my first child was born, 24 years ago. God himself only knows what agonies I suffered in those long years; they are impossible to describe, more especially since I came to Canada in 1873. My nervous system broke down so that I was almost unable to walk across the floor; and for years I could not walk from my house to town and back, less than a mile. When I stood on my feet I felt as if the pain would drag me to the ground. These very severe attacks would come on every week or ten days, causing intense suffering; and at times I became so frantic that I had to be put under the influence of chloroform; indeed, I often wished I could lie down and die.

"I had been treated by five eminent doctors, and was in the infirmary for some time, but only occasionally got a little relief. A specialist from New York, who was here, one day visited me, and told me it was a very complicated case, and that very little could be done for me. I went to Toronto, and was under a doctor for three months, and took his medicines without any good results. I was also a great sufferer from Insomnia for a year, all the result of suffering, work and worry, and for nights never closed my eyes.

Three years ago I commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and I have now less pain than for 20 years past, and the benefit I have received from the use of this remedy is greater than all the combined efforts and medicines of the doctors who have attended me for years.

"In reading over the book which accompanies each bottle of Celery Compound, I may say that I can endorse every word of what it says. The benefit I have derived from using Paine's Celery Compound is so great that I can now walk better than for years past; sleep better, and my back has not been so free from pain for 20 years.

"I would advise all who are suffering to use this great remedy.

"I am still using it, and, with God's blessing, I hope to be entirely cured."

ELIZABETH ANN KITCHEN. Paris, Ont.

Mrs Kitchen refers us to the Rev. Alfred Brown, Episcopal minister in Paris. Rev. Mr. Brown says:—

"I hereby certify that Mrs. E A, Kitchen, of this town, is well known to me, and that every statement of hers is worthy of credence."

ALFRED BROWN.

Can imagination picture a darker scene of suffering so long endured? What torments! What agonies suffered from day to day!

The dark clouds have passed away; the silver lining appears; and now in its bright splendor the effulgent sun shines out, and Mrs. Kitchen's life is no longer shrouded in darkness and misery. That life-giving remedy, Paine's Celery Compound, has been her physician and salvation, and has accomplished more than all the skilled doctors this lady ever employed.

Women of Canada, we know that many of you are suffering as severely as Mrs. Kitchen once did. Thousands of you are experiencing some of her symptoms, which, if not attended to and speedily dispelled, will certainly lead to consequences as terrible as those described in the above letter.

Let us remind you that these troubles arise from an imperfect and disorganized condition of the nervous system. When the nervous system is deranged, the whole body is out of gear. Your weaknesses and frailties are well known to us, no matter how silently you may suffer. Those headaches, neuralgic pains, feelings of goneness, nervousness, despondency, tired brain, weak flabby muscles, sunken eyes with dark circles, and pallid cheeks, tell of some ills and miseries. Paine's Celery Compound, used when any of the above symptoms are experienced, will certainly drive off all danger. Among the members of your sex it has proved a blessing, and Canadian women in all sections of our country have testified willingly in its favor.

Take warning before life is in actual danger. A week's delay may aggregate and complicate your malady, and hasten your death. Act to-day, and act wisely.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

Distrustful People

make an exception in favour of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus and all bowel complaints cause all who use it to regard it as the most reliable and effectual remedy obtainable. 3w254

If you have any pains in the joints, caused from cold or dampness, do not wait until it develops into a bad case of rheumatism, but ask W. R. Greatrix, druggist for a bottle of Royal Rheumatic Remedy. dw

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

A boy stood on the burning deck,
Unwisely, too, 'tis said,
For with the fast approaching flame,
His elders quickly fled.
So many now in peril stand,
Unmindful of their fate,
Till, step by step, Grim Death comes on
And then, alas! too late!
Far wiser, surely, would it seem,
When his approach we see,
With "Pierce's Pellets" well in hand
To vanquish old "G.D."

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have remarkable power to correct all physical derangements, thus warding off disease that would surely come. Purely vegetable, pleasant to take, perfectly harmless! With a little forethought, they'll be a present help in time of need—cheating the doctor, and robbing the grave! As a liver pill they are unequalled. Smallest, cheapest and easiest to take. One a dose as a laxative, three or four as a cathartic. Tiny, sugar-coated granules, in vials, 25 cents. e

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Why Struggle.

Why struggle with exhausting diseases when you may be promptly cured by the use of nature's remedy—Burdock Blood Bitters—the perfect cure for dyspepsia, billiousness, constipation, sick headache and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scorfulous sore. 3w25d

"For years I suffered with my back which sometimes became as if paralyzed. Everybody Likes It.

LORD MOUNT STEPHEN.

HER MAJESTY CONFERS A PEERAGE FOR CANADIAN SERVICES.

Sketch of the Life of the First Colonial Peer of the British Empire—A Career Full of Profit and Instruction to the Rising Generation.

THE first colonial peer was created by Her Majesty on her last birthday. The honor fell to the lot of Sir George Stephen, who is to assume the title Lord Mount Stephen. The title is given to commemorate the great work with which he has been so honorably associated. Mount Stephen is the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, and was called after the first President of the Canadian Pacific Railway by Major Rogers, the intrepid explorer and discoverer of the pass through the Rockies.

LORD MOUNT STEPHEN.

Lord Mount Stephen, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was born at Dufftown, Banff, Scotland, on the 5th June, 1829. He received his education at the parish school of his native place, and, on leaving school at the age of 14, was apprenticed to the late Alexander Sinclair, draper and dealer in dry goods in Aberdeen. After serving his four years apprenticeship, he completed his business education in the wholesale and shipping house of J. E. Pawson & Co., London, Eng., and he left for Canada in 1850. He entered the service of his cousin, the late William Stephen, of Montreal, and in 1853 formed a partnership with him under the style of William Stephen & Co. In 1862, his partner died, and he bought out the entire business and entered into the manufacture of cloth on a large scale. Every venture he made proved highly remunerative, and in 1876 he was chosen vice-president of the Bank of Montreal, and on Mr. Torrance's retirement, president of that institution. Lord Mount Stephen's first connection with railway enterprises, with which his name will always be inseparably connected in the annals of our country, was his joining a syndicate to purchase the interests of the Dutch holders of the bonds of the St. Paul and Pacific Railway, which gave them control of this partially constructed line. Realizing the importance of this line as a link in the chain of railway communication with the North West they carried forward the work of construction, and soon found themselves in the possession of an exceedingly profitable line. This led to his connection with our great national line, the Canadian Pacific Railway, and in 1881 he was elected its President. In 1885 the Dominion Government presented him with the Confederation medal, and in 1886 Her Majesty created him a baronet, in recognition of his great service in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway. Though married, he has no family of his own to inherit his great wealth and honors. A few years ago his adopted daughter was united in marriage to the son of Sir Stafford Northcote, and resides in England. Lord Mount Stephen is one of the most popular, charitable and kind-hearted men in the Dominion, and the most recent honor conferred upon him is well deserved and will be worthily worn.

The British press makes some remarks of interest in this connection.

The Times says: Sir George Stephen's honor is the first instance of colonial service being recognized by a peerage, and it is an indication that the present Government is desirous to draw closer the bonds of union with the colonies.

The Pall Mall Gazette says it is an imperial incident—the beginning of a colonial House of Lords—the first swallow of the summer of colonial recognition. It urges that the honor be followed by the adoption of the principle of colonial life peerage.

Robin Adair.

The hero of the popular song of "Robin Adair," which is attributed to Lady Caroline Keppel, was Robert Adair, a surgeon (1710-6-1788), well known in the London fashionable circles of the eighteenth century as the "Fortunate Irishman."

His detection in an early amour drove him from Dublin to London. On his way he fell in with a lady of fashion who had been slightly hurt in a runaway accident. He travelled with her in her carriage to London as surgical attendant, and on their arrival was presented with a fee of one hundred guineas and a general invitation to her house. There he met Lady Caroline Keppel, daughter of the second Earl of Albemarle, who, forgetting her high lineage, fell desperately in love with the Irish surgeon at sight.

The Albemarle family, dismayed at the project of such a mesalliance, took Lady Caroline from London to Bath, and tried every means to make her forget her lover, but in vain. At last their opposition was withdrawn, and the couple were united.

It was at Bath that Lady Caroline is said to have composed the words of "Robin Adair," setting them to the plaintive Irish tune of "Eileen Aroon," which she had heard her lover sing.

The original song of "Eileen Aroon" is attributed to one Carol O'Daly, an early Irish bard who flourished apparently before the tenth century. A Munster poet of the seventeenth century rewrote the words, and in this form it was translated by John Anster and paraphrased by Gerald Griffin. It is in Griffin's paraphrase that the song is known to this generation.—Lippincott's.

The Secret of Secrecy.

Every one in the world has some secret hope that he tells no one of. The one you know best in the world is keeping something from you. It is this secret longing that he thinks of when he is alone, and when he forgets that any one is around. Men seldom realize their secret ambitions. It is the noisy ones they talk most of and openly work for, that they realize some day. The secret one dies with them.—Atchison Globe.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

SIR CHARLES DILKE.

His Determination to Re-Enter Public Life Presents Another Serious Problem.

LONDON, June 18.—The relations between adultery and politics have not been, after all, finally disposed of. Mr. Gladstone thought that he had settled the question, when, as the mouthpiece of the Nonconformist conscience, the devout old churchman withdrew his allegiance from Mr. Parnell; but it comes again to the surface in the person of Sir Charles Dilke. The co-respondent in the Crawford case supplants the co-respondent in the O'Shea case; supplants him, that is, as the object of immediate concern to two branches of the Gladstonian party. There is one branch which recognize adultery, especially when coupled with odious debauchery and a long course of unmanly conduct, as a permanent disqualification for public life. There is another branch, perhaps more numerous, which, on grounds of political expediency, would stifle these scandals and the authors of them together. Both are dismayed by what is called the final decision of Sir Charles Dilke to accept the invitation of the Forest of Dean constituency to stand for Parliament at the next election. His hesitation indeed has been no more than maiden coyness. Nobody ever supposed that he would decline the offer of what was understood to be certain election. He will therefore reappear in the House of Commons next year. It is not the mere seat in Parliament which he wants. He means to resume his old place in the councils of the party. He will be strongly supported and strongly opposed.

Mr. Gladstone, in the presence of this contention, will have to decide whether, having broken with Mr. Parnell because he was an adulterer, he will receive Sir Charles Dilke again into party fellowship, though an adulterer more guilty than Mr. Parnell himself. The necessity of deciding will be disagreeable, but it is inevitable. Meantime, the Gladstonian organs observe for the most part the maxim that silence is golden. The chief of them in London records the fact of Sir Charles Dilke's ecce pfance in two lines of its obscurest type.

Monument to Sir John.

MONTREAL, June 18.—A circular signed by Sir Donald Smith, R. L. Gault, F. C. Henshaw, C. A. McDonald, J. H. Jacobs and other prominent citizens has been issued calling a meeting on Saturday for the purpose of considering the advisability of erecting in this city a monument to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald. The meeting is regarded as only a preliminary one.

He Was Insane.

KINCARDINE, June 18.—George Ostrum charged with shooting at Bailiff Campbell last winter while the latter was making a seizure on his premises, was tried before Judge Kingsmill. The jury brought in a verdict of insanity. The prisoner will therefore be confined in an insane asylum.

Fatally Burned.

BELLEVILLE, June 18.—Last night while Mrs. George Williams of Wallbridge, Sidney Township, was lighting a candle her clothes became ignited and before assistance could get to her she was so badly burned that the physicians hold out no hope for her recovery.

Gordon Cumming's Costs.

LONDON, June 18.—The total costs to Sir William Gordon Cumming of his suit against Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson and others amount to $12,500.

Killed in Montana.

BRAMPTON, June 19.—William Purcell, 26, son of P. Purcell of this town, was killed at Livingston, Montana, yesterday, while switching cars on the railroad.

A Port Dover Man Drowned.

BUFFALO, June 18.—The body of John Brock, the fisherman who has been missing for the past six days, was found in the ship lock at Black Rock at 12.30 o'clock to-day. It is supposed that he rolled off into the water while asleep on the deck of his boat. Brock worked as mate on the schooner Dauntless from Port Dover, Ont. He left wife and family, who reside in the latter place.

Gladstone.

Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver troubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

Vigilant Care.

Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 3w25d

Capturing the County Councillors.

Mr. Geo. B. Sproule, the ground floor photographer, this morning cornered the members of the county council and county officials on the portico of the Court House and took two photographic negatives of the group. Doubtless the group will be framed and hang in the council chamber. By the way, would it not be a nice thing to have large portraits of the wardens hang in the chamber? Anyway, a portrait of the Nestor and veteran of the council, Mr. M. Sanderson, should adorn the chamber.

At Rest.

Miss Allen, niece of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, passed quietly to rest this morning at four o'clock at Hazel Brae after an illness of a few days only. For some years she worked with Dr. Barnardo as Deaconess in the east end of London, and came to this country a year ago, and has since then been acting as one of the lady visitors of Hazel Brae. She was suddenly taken ill on Saturday morning last. The Bishop of Toronto was here yesterday but had to leave again by last nights' train. Miss Allen was a regular worshipper in St. John's church, except when absent from town performing her duties. Her remains will be laid at rest in St. James' cemetery, Toronto, on Monday morning.

Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

The Late Miss Hooper.

In yesterday's issue of the EXAMINER is recorded in the usual place the death of Minnie, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Hooper, sr. The young lady's death will be felt all the more keenly because in addition to her being a most estimable girl, a loving daughter and sister, she was the eldest daughter of the family. She was prostrated was a lingering illness which she bore with Christian fortitude and patience. She received the best care and medical attention that could be procured, but to no avail, as she passed away to rest on Friday. Mr. Hooper and family will receive the sincere sympathy and condolence of their many friends in this their hour of great bereavement. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2.30 p. m from the family residence, Otonabee, below Downer's Corners.

A Midnight Raid.

Eight Persons Find Seats in the "Black Maria"—A Bawdy House Broken Up.

It was a queer 'bus load of people that was whisked over the Ashburnham bridge last night about one o'clock and landed at the police station. The procession from the "Black Maria" to the cells was headed by Chief Rorzal and County Constable Geo. Cochrane, then came three bedraggled, slovenly looking women and an equal number of children, one an infant in arms, and following these marched a chain gang of five abashe-faced men securely manacled to each other, the rear being guarded by Constable Adams and Special Moore. This was the result of a raid upon a bawdy house situated in the outskirts of Ashburnham, close to the "Pines," and the trial took place this morning. Needless to say there was a full attendance of "sports" and others interested in such matters. County Police Magistrate Edmison presided, and had associated with him P. M. Dumble. Mr. R. E. Ward, conducted the case for the crown, and Mr. R. R. Hall represented the defence. The story of the case as brought out in the evidence was about as follows.

Yesterday noon a young man named Hogan, whose home is in Lindsay, arrived here with a companion, fresh from the shanties, and with a wad of about $150 in his pocket. Hogan confessed this morning that his sole object in coming to Peterborough was to pay a visit to a Mrs. Allen, whom he had known in Lindsay. This Mrs. Allen has lived in Peterborough for several years, shifting about from place to place, but coming constantly under the surveillance of the police. Young Hogan, feeling frisky after his winter's seclusion, hired a horse and buggy at a livery stable and immediately drove over to Ashburnham. He was cordially received. Besides Mrs. Allen, the keeper of the house, there were two other inmates named Martha Johnston and Louie Ferguson—and sorry looking spectacles they were this morning. Hogan caroused and had his full of pleasure, and became so drunk that he slept. When he awakened his wallet was missing. He accused the women of stealing it, but of course they denied it. Hogan then drove back to town, minus also the whip and rug which belonged to the buggy. He stated in his evidence this morning that he saw Mrs. Allen from a bedroom window window take the whip and rug out of the buggy. On receiving police headquarters an information was issued, and preparations were made for an official descent upon the ill-famed place. The above named officers, accompanied by Hogan, drove out in the 'bus about eleven o'clock, and some of them surrounding the house, Mr. Cochrane and the Chief entered. A gay company was dissipating in the dining room, but at the first signal of alarm they all huddled out in the back shed, where they were easily captured like so many rats in a trap. Upstairs, Constable Cochrane, after bursting open a door, found a young couple in trembling hiding. They were hustled into their clothes and put in their places with the rest of the motley crew, and the 'bus returned to town. The house had been searched but no trace of the money was discovered, though the whip and rug were found under the woodshed floor. Five bottles of beer with which the party had been making merry was also confiscated.

After a night spent in the cells the prisoners looked less prepossessing than ever. Mrs. Allen, the stern-visaged landlady of the house, wore a blue silk dress which had evidently seen its best days. She was accompanied by two little girls about eight and six years of age, her children, who have followed her through all the vicissitudes of her sporting life. The other girls were dowdyish looking jades, dirty and poorly clad, and all bore a hardened look common to strumpets of their class. They were very much soiled doves indeed. The girl Martha Johnston is the same who has several times been committed to gaol as a vagrant. She wandered into Peterborough from her home near Kinmount over a year ago, with a baby in her arms, and after falling into the hands of the police was taken care of by some charitably disposed ladies, who did their best to reform her. The Salvation Army Rescue Branch also tried to aid her, but it seems to no avail. She still has her baby, which crowed and laughed during the whole court proceedings. Louie Ferguson, the other inmate, has not been long in town, but she is apparently incorrigible.

Mrs. Allen was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, and the girls with being inmates. They all pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Allen was also charged with larceny. Her case was further remanded till Monday, but the two girls were committed to the Mercer Reformatory, Martha Johnston for a year and the Ferguson girl for eleven months. They were subsequently taken to the gaol, awaiting transportation to their new abode.

The men charged with being frequenters were also severely dealt with. Their names are: George Shearer, J. Haskill, D. Smith, Thos. Williamson and F. Grisdale. Haskill is a bearded man, and belongs to Lindsay, from whence he accompanied Hogan. They were fined $5 and costs, $8.50, each.

The Pastor Surprised.

Presentation to Rev. S. J. Shorey and his Wife by the Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

A congregational reunion took place at the Charlotte street Methodist church last night, the uniform pleasantness of which was tempered only by the sad thought that pastor and people were about to sever the friendly ties which have existed between them for the past three years, and which have been of an invariably harmonious and mutually profitable character. Rev. Mr. Shorey, is to the people of Peterborough, more than simply the pastor of the Charlotte street church. He is everywhere recognized amongst all denominations as being perhaps the most eloquent preacher in town, whose sermons show a depth of thought and an advancement of ideas which attract large congregations whenever he speaks. Mr. Shorey is known as a man as well as a minister, and is equally popular as a citizen and clergyman. The people of the Charlotte street church keenly regret his removal, and his many other friends in town will also feel the loss which will be sustained. Mrs. Shorey, too, is universally esteemed, and was best known in her connection with the ladies' societies and for the assistance she lent at concerts and entertainments with her admirable voice. Mrs. Shorey's singing has always been appreciated. Rev. Mr. Shorey preaches his farewell sermons on Sunday, but his congregation determined to give some practical expression to their feelings, and for this purpose a meeting of the congregation was called Friday night.

There was a good attendance of members and adherents of the church. Tea was served in the school room by the ladies, and it was after nine o'clock before all were attended to. As the people left the tables they adjourned to the body of the church where, while they were waiting they were entertained by the choir and organist, Mr. Schneider, with musical selections. When all were gathered together, Mr. A. L. Davis was called to the chair. A hymn was sung, and then Mr. Davis in a brief speech referred to the object of the meeting and spoke feelingly of the pleasant relations which had existed amongst them for the past three years, and the regret they experienced in parting with their beloved pastor. Then to the utter surprise of Rev. and Mrs. Shorey, he said he had a very pleasant duty to perform, and left the platform. In a moment he reappeared at one of the side doors, accompanied by little Gracie Brooks, while through the other school-room door came Mr. Thos. Barrie, followed by Maggie Hamilton, the latter bearing a large polished brass parlor lamp in her hands. Both the gentlemen carried manuscripts. Meeting in front of the pulpit, they read the first, to Mrs. Shorey, being read by Mr. Barrie, the presentation of the lamp being made at the proper moment by Miss Maggie Hamilton. The address read as follows:—

DEAR MRS. SHOREY,—The ladies of the congregation over which your esteemed husband has watched with loving care for the past three years, desire on the occasion of your removal from town to assure you of the deep regret they feel at the loss of your presence in the congregation. The talent of song, with which you have been so richly endowed, has been placed at the service of the congregation, not only in solemn seasons of public worship, but also in the circle of our congregational reunions. Your sympathy with the interests of the church and your genial Christian kindness of disposition have made you very dear to us, and while we bid you good-bye, we are cheered by the reflection that in a new sphere of usefulness you will cheer other hearts, brighten other homes and do all that devoted piety and womanly sympathy can avail, in doing the Master's will, promoting the interests of His church, and the happiness of His children. We bid you good-bye with the prayer that the Lord will have you in His keeping till we shall all enjoy a blessed re-union in a better world. As a memento of your friends in Peterborough, especially those of the women of this congregation, we ask your acceptance of this piano lamp.

Signed on behalf of the ladies of the congregation,

M. E. HAMILTON,
E. J. DAVIS.

TO THE PASTOR.

Then Mr. Davis read this address to the pastor, Gracie Brooks presenting the watch: REV. S. J. SHOREY:

DEARLY BELOVED PASTOR,—We, the members of the congregation of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, while bowing with dutiful submission to the rule of the church that severs the tie that has united us in the bonds of brotherly love and Christian harmony, as pastor and people, for the last three pleasant and profitable years, cannot help the feeling of sadness which the moment of separation ever brings. And this feeling is all the more intense when we recollect the fidelity with which you have ministered to us in spiritual things, and the faithfulness, energy, eloquence and loving solicitude for every member of your flock, which has marked your deliverance of the Gospel message. We would with humble reverence, and without boasting, bear testimony to the fact that under your ministry we as a congregation, have been greatly edified, that our faith has been strengthened, our hearts warmed, and our hopes confirmed, both by reason of your godly counsel and by the example of your godly walk and conversation while you have discharged the duties of your pastoral relation with conscientious zeal and faithfulness. There are, we have reason to believe, many among your flock who have warm and grateful recollections of your being, in a personal relation, the friend of the friendless and the unostentatious, but on that account, none the less loved and appreciated, comforter of the afflicted, relief of the tempted, and counsellor of the wayward and halting. In view of all these considerations, it is natural that we should regard the severance of the ties that have bound us so long and so lovingly together, with the greatest regret and sorrow, tempered by a trust in the Divine Wisdom which removes you to another field of labour, and we believe, judging by your stay with us, of usefulness. We would desire it understood that the regret we feel extends to your estimable partner and family, and we also feel that we are not assuming too much when we take upon ourselves to assert that your ministerial confreres and the public at large will keenly regret the departure from the town of a minister who adorns his calling, of a citizen who commands universal respect.

Now, dear pastor, be pleased to accept as a token of our love and esteem, this watch, with the prayer that it may mark for you happy hours, and remind you of your friends in Peterborough, whose prayers will follow you that the Master's presence go with you and yours, that it may abide with you and bless your work, and that when you shall be called to rest from your labours that your "works may follow you," and that we, to whom you now bid an earthly farewell, may all be included with the sheaves which God shall give you to bring to the heavenly garner.

Signed, on behalf of the congregation,

A. L. DAVIS,
Recording Steward.

The watch, a beautiful gold one, was inscribed on the inner case with, "Presented to Rev. S. J. Shorey, by the Charlotte street Methodist church, June 19, 1891," while on the outside was engraved the monogram "S.J.S."

Rev. Mr. Shorey replied on behalf of himself and his wife. He had been so completely taken by surprise he could scarcely find words to speak, but gradually regaining his self-possession Mr. Shorey made a characteristic address, expressing in feeling terms the pangs of sorrow they felt at severing the ties of friendship they had formed during their stay in Peterborough. Their relation with the congregation had always been most cordial and harmonious, and they accepted the gifts with the spirit in which they were given. In their new home they would look back with the most pleasant recollections to their sojourn here, and would always remember the kind friends left behind here.

Other speakers followed:—Rev. E. F. Torrance, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; Rev. Dr. Willoughby, of Toronto, a former Peterborough pastor, and Rev. J. H. Locke, pastor of the George Street Methodist Church. These gentlemen referred to the entente cordiale which existed between Rev. Mr. Shorey and the other clergymen of the town, who they regarded with the warmest feelings of respect and admiration for his many superior qualities of head and heart.

The choir interspersed the addresses with anthems. Rev. and Mrs. Shorey embraced the opportunity of saying farewell to the great majority of those present, who one and all were unanimous in showing their love and veneration for their beloved pastor and his wife.

Local Board C. M. L. & I. Co.

With the object of forming a local board in town of the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company, a meeting was held in the Royal Templars' hall last night. The following gentlemen were amongst those present:—Mr. Jas. Kendry, of the Auburn Woollen Mills; Dr. Caldwell, Messrs. Thos. Morrow, Geo. S. Bean, Wm. Aldridge, County Crown Attorney Wood, W. G. Bain, H. Rush, W. C. Mudge and Wm. Birnie. On motion Mr. James Kendry was appointed chairman of the meeting. The chairman announced that the first business would be the selection of officers to form a local board for the purpose of selling shares and loaning money on real estate in connection with the Company, after which the general agent, Mr. P. W. Graham, would describe the workings of the Association, and the manner in which business is conducted. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Jas. KENDRY.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—Dr. Goldsmith.
SEC'Y-TREASURER.—Thos. Morrow.
SOLICITORS.—Hatton & Wood.
VALUATOR.—Wm. Aldridge.
DIRECTORS.—Dr. Bell, G. S. Bean, W. G. Bain, Dr. Caldwell, Alex. McCallum and W. C. Mudge.

Mr P. W. Graham then explained fully the objects and plan of the Association.

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

The man who counterfeits a coin or a bank note, or who is detected in an attempt to pass a counterfeit is speedily placed in prison as a person too dangerous to be permitted to be at large. How much more dangerous is the person who, for the sake of paltry gain, endeavors to impose upon the public, a dangerous and worthless counterfeit of a popular medicine. The great popularity achieved by Pink Pills, and the wonderful results that have followed their use for the treatment of all female complaints, nervous diseases, and general debility in both males and females, has induced some unscrupulous parties to place upon the market a worthless imitation, resembling the genuine Pink Pills in appearance only. The public are cautioned against these spurious imitations, and are asked to see that every box they purchase bears the trade mark and name of The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont. Do not permit any dealer to palm off upon you any imitation of the genuine pill, as not only will they not produce the expected results, but may prove positively harmful. No other pill made can produce the results obtained by the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid, on receipt of price (50c. a box) by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. 1d1w

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. They enrich the blood, build up the nerves, and restore the shattered system, regulate the periods etc. Try them and be convinced. Sold by dealers, or sent post paid on receipt of price—50c. per box, or five boxes for $2—by addressing The Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brockville, Ont. 61w24

Fun, Frolic and Fresh Air.

Remember the excursion of the Library Committee of the Charlotte street Methodist church on July 1st to Stony Lake. Arrangements have been made for the supply of tea and hot water to all who may attend. A committee will take charge of baskets at G. T.R. station, and look after them. A refreshment and lunch booth will be on board the "Golden City" for the convenience of those who may wish to patronize the same. Canoes can be had from Lakefield by speaking to members of the committee on or before June 24th. Tickets have been placed at the low rate of 80c. return, and as they have been limited in number in order to prevent overcrowding, it is imperative that you purchase early. It is quite unnecessary to mention to the people of this locality the advantages of this excursion over all others in the way of picturesque beauty, variety of scenery, and general health giving qualities, but we call their attention to the fact that there will positively be no overcrowding, that accommodation will be ample, and that all that can be done to make the day one of pleasure and profit is being done by the committee in charge. Tickets can be procured at the Metropolitan Grocery, McClelland's Jewelry Store, Fairweather's Hat Store, Mercer's Gents' Furnishings Establishment, O. C. Rowse's store, and office of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company Committee—G. W. Morrow, W. Squires, W. Hamilton and T. Barrie.

A Pastor and His Vacation.

A well known pastor of an evangelical church not one hundred miles from Montreal, for years has had the privilege of taking a summer vacation. Last summer as vacation time was coming on he found that owing to overwork in connection with his fast increasing congregation, and a too close application to study, his nerves had become weak and anxiously his head trembled somewhat, and his bodily strength had failed. Owing to these troubles his rest a night was not as natural and refreshing as it once was.

Hearing of Paine's Celery Compound through one of his church elders, he commenced its use, and by the time his vacation term came on, he was in every way fitted to visit the home of his boyhood in the West, and thoroughly enjoy with his family his vacation of a month.

Paine's Celery Compound should be used by all at this season when they feel out-of-sorts; it tones up and revives the weak and languid, and gives to the ailing one a vim, energy and freshness of life that nothing else can give.

We would recommend its use to all ministers and pastors in Canada, especially when they are overworked, and study too much.

Runaway Accident.

Mr. John Britton was driving a load of barrels from his cooper shop on Harvey street this forenoon, when his horse became frightened and ran away. Mr. Britton was walking alongside, holding the lines, and was jerked under the wagon, one of the wheels passing over him. His back and shoulder were injured and his face cut, but fortunately no dangerous results followed the accident.

The Poet's Gratitude.

The Bard of Smith, Mr. Wm. Telford, was in town to-day dressed in smiles and the new suit of clothes, presented him by the "brickmaker boys." To show that poets possess gratitude Mr. Telford entertained Messrs. J. Heap and Mark Curtis, and a press representative at a banquet at the Morgan House hotel. The poet from Burwick on Tweed occupied the head of the table and entertained the company with racy reminiscences of the past.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two legs sores and head in the same condition; a body around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely shocking to the sight. Said Mrs. H. A. Stout to me: "I have tried everything suggested to me on my Medical Committee, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Westover, druggist.

THE BARONET'S EPITAPH.

HAS ALREADY BEEN WRITTEN ALTHOUGH HE STILL LIVES.

The Various Views of the Cummings Case Among Various Classes of the English People—Never Again in England Can He Live His Old Life.

LONDON, June 20.—It is a melancholy business to write an epitaph on a living man, but that is what has to be done in the case of Sir William Gordon Cumming. The verdict in the Baccarat trial makes him an outcast. Never again in England can he live his old life. He will be cashiered from the army, expelled from his clubs—or possibly allowed to resign though I think not—wholly banished from society, wholly dropped by acquaintances and friends. The ostracism which the Prince of Wales was the first to enforce against him must be enforced by his set, and by other sets. To a man who has cheated at cards, and been found out, and upon whom a jury has set the seal of a legal condemnation, no return is open.

Whoever else may be lenient to such an offence as he has committed, society is not lenient. There is still a code of honor among those who compose it; not, on all points, very strict, but, on this matter of cheating, hard as death. It is even felt that the attempt by the Prince of Wales and Lord Coventry and General Owen Williams to hush the scandal was too good-natured. They erred out of regard to their old friend. What saves them from censure is the precaution they took to protect, their circle against being cheated by Sir William thereafter. His pledge never again to touch a card was no adequate penalty for his offence, but it was a security that his associates were not to be robbed in the future as they had been in the past. The trio showed so much consideration for the society that society shows much for them also, and does not judge their mistake in this respect too harshly.

Sir William Cumming's family and some intimate friends stood by him to the end. They refused to believe him guilty. They shut their eyes to the evidence. They expected the jury to do likewise. To the two damning facts, or groups of facts, against him, namely, that five persons, each friendly to him and incredulous of his guilt, saw him cheat, and that his demeanor when charged with it was such as to convince the Prince and Lord Coventry and General Owen Williams of his guilt—to those decisive facts they allowed no weight. No more, I hear, did his counsel, Sir Edward Clarke, Her Majesty's Solicitor-General. He clung to his somewhat unprofessional belief in his client's innocence, just as his colleague, Sir Richard Webster, did to his belief in the innocence of Mr. Wilfrid Murray Hurlburt. Each of these two distinguished lawyers had a monopoly of their credulities; a monopoly, that is, outside the family circle of their clients.

You have heard from Sir Edward Clarke as much as you will care for about the public position and services and rank and ancient family of Sir William Cumming. About the man himself less, I suppose, may be known. He was a conspicuous figure in society. He was in the very smartest of the smart sets. Socially speaking, he had everything a man could have. Whoever is Lieutenant-Colonel in the Scots Guards is already a considerable person. Sir Edward Clarke, acquainted with the minds of the average British jury, made the most of his client's name, of his lineage, of his baronetcy, of his intimacy with the Prince and the Marlborough House set; and all of his various titles to fame. He had a right to do that, but his was not quite the inside view either, nor would he, as a skilled advocate, have cared to present the inside view to a jury in all its fulness.

He would have had to say, for example, that Sir William had an evil repute about women; for his conduct to women; for what he said of them, and for what he said of them. Yet if he had any popularity, in the broad sense of the word, it was among women. The nickname given him, which I will not venture to repeat in print, proves it. Men did not like him. Nobody, to use the social slang of the period, put on so much side as Sir William Cumming. There was something arrogant in his manner which neither his rank nor his achievements were great enough to justify. What his comrades thought of him may be inferred from the remark of one of them, made before this present scandal had been heard of. "I believe," said this man, "there is one iniquity of which Bill Cumming would not be guilty, and that is, cheating at cards." A singularly unlucky estimate.

Nor was it an unvarying opinion. There have been rumors before now. He was a desperate gambler; his means, though good, were not sufficient to sustain a long run of ill-luck at high play. If it be indeed true that he had cheated before he made that fatal visit to Tranby Croft, it may also be true that impunity made him reckless, and that he had resolved on his line of conduct in case of discovery.

Beyond the pale of London society, the most curious opinions are held and expressed. There has been, and is, a kind of spurious and maudlin sympathy with Sir William Cumming. It was expressed in the hisses with which the verdict of the jury was greeted in court, and in the hisses which saluted the Wilsons as they left the building. The middle class notion seems to be that cheating does not matter. It is wrong to play baccarat; it is wrong to see your guest cheat, if cheat he does it is wrong to defend yourself if, after discovery, he brings an action against those who accuse him. So far as one can understand it, such seems to be the ground of the censure pronounced on the Wilson family by the shop-keeping Briton. It hardly requires to be discussed, but it has to be noted as part of the history of the case, or rather of opinion upon the case. It was supposed that this opinion or feeling might penetrate to the jury-room and ensure a disagreement if not a verdict for the plaintiff. Perhaps it might have, had Sir William brought his action at once, instead of waiting all those months till he had to choose between the chances of an action at law and the certainty that, failing an action, he would be cashiered.

Even in more enlightened quarters the Wilsons are a good deal criticised; and their conduct with reference to the whole scandal is judged with harshness. They have to bear with the odium of social success obtained in difficult circumstances. They are guilty of being very rich, and of desiring to profit by their riches as so many others have profited before them. They have committed the unpardonable offence of making their house in Yorkshire and their house in London each a social centre of some importance. By means known to the world in which they move, they have attracted people of indisputed position; the Prince of Wales at their head. Those who have angled for the Prince and not caught him cannot be expected to forgive their more fortunate rivals. In court this too happy family came off with flying colors; young Mr. Wilson, his sister, Mrs. Lycett Green, his mother, all distinguished themselves not only by their evident sincerity and truthfulness, but by the lucid composure with which they gave their evidence. Mr. Berkeley Levett and Mr. Lycett Green were in precisely the same degree the witnesses of truth, with rather less advantage of manner.

SERIOUS COLLAPSE.

Serious Accident at Montreal. Several Persons Badly Injured.

MONTREAL, June 21.—A rather serious accident took place at St. Helen's Island to-day. Amongst the various attractions on the island is what is known as a razzle-dazzle, which consists of a big wheel set on a pole 14 feet from the ground. Seats are arranged on the wheel, which revolves with a circular motion. The wheel seats about 90 people, and during one of its turns this afternoon, while all the seats were occupied, the pole suddenly broke. The result was that the occupants of the wheel were dashed to the ground and there was a regular panic for a few minutes. Three or four of the people were badly injured, but fortunately nobody was killed.

Four Fought to the Death.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The steamship South Portland of the Wessels Line arrived from Jamaica ports this afternoon. Chief Mate J. B. Lowell told the following tale: On the afternoon of June 12 the Portland touched at Port Marie. Mate Lowell was sent on shore to get the mails. On his way to the postoffice he came across a crowd of blacks on the village green. There must have been at least 300 of them, and when Mr. Lowell inquired what the row was about they informed him that a battle royal was just about to begin. Four coolies, all natives of the town, had become involved in a sort of Montague-Capulet controversy, and each of them had arrived at the conclusion that Port Marie and this planet generally was altogether too good a place to harbor the other three any longer. So they had mutually decided to fight to the death. In the centre of the green an enclosure had been roped off, and inside of it, at each corner, stood one of the four contestants. They were stripped to the waist, and each man grasped in his right hand a knife with a blade seven inches long. For a moment the men stood glaring at each other, and the word was given and the fight began. It was a case of every man for himself with a vengeance. Mate Lowell says that without any exception it was the most fearful fight he ever saw. In five minutes it was all over. When the police arrived upon the scene three bodies, hacked almost beyond recognition, lay inside the ropes. The fourth man was so crazed by his wounds that before the police could lay hands on him he drove his own knife through his heart.

London Street Car Drivers' Strike.

LONDON, June 20.—Last night Superintendent Smith of the Street Railway Company discharged one of the company's drivers without assigning a reason, whereupon the drivers held a meeting and decided to go out on strike this morning unless a satisfactory reason was given for the dismissal. This morning President Cronyn was on hand at the stables, but as he declined to answer the men's enquiries they went out in a body. Some of the office hands and stablemen were immediately pressed into the service, and by noon everything was running as usual. President Cronyn will not recognize the strikers in any way. He says that since the company advanced the drivers' wages and shortened their hours they have come to believe that they run the company, and he is determined that none of the strikers will be reinstated. The men on the other hand declare that there is bad feeling between the superintendent and the drivers because of their receiving some concessions from the company in opposition to his wishes, and that he is simply trying to get even with the men by discharging them on the slightest pretext.

CARRIED BY CURRENTS.

PAT PURCELL'S BODY WILL NEVER BE FOUND.

The Divers at Work Searching for the Remains of Glengarry's Millionaire Abandon Their Quest in the Belief that the Corpse Has Been Carried Away by the Currents.

CORNWALL, June 20.—The negotiations between the friends of the deceased and Norman Deruchie for the surrender of the body of the late Patrick Purcell have not resulted in the return of the body. The spot as pointed out by Deruchie as being the place where the body had been sunk is directly opposite the Glen Walter cheese factory, on the other side of the river, and marked by three large rocks. William Gilcher of Cornwall, a professional diver, was hired to dive at the spot indicated, and Tuesday afternoon the tug Sandy, with a scow in tow, having on board the diver, his assistants, some workmen and the diving apparatus, proceeded to the spot, but just as arrangements were made the rain came down in torrents, agitating the water so that the diver could not see any distance below the surface. The project was given up on Wednesday afternoon when the tug and the party tried it again. Although the river was rough Gilcher dove down to a depth of nearly 70 feet, but no signs of the body could be found. He went down again yesterday, but without success, and the search has now been given up. The general opinion now is that those who sunk the body lost the place or that the heavy current of the St. Lawrence carried it further down. A deep grave had been dug at the residence of Michael Purcell and every preparation made for the reception of the body, but it is likely that the grave will remain unfilled. The place is visited daily by curiosity seekers.

The body, according to Deruchie, was sunk within an acre of the shore of St. Regis Island, almost opposite the Point. Owing to its close proximity to the scene of the outrage this part of the river had never been searched. The ghouls evidently relied upon the publicity of the place, being almost in the steamboat channel, and the depth of the water to conceal the body. It is thought the body must be fearfully decomposed, as after lying in the grave for nine days, it has been in the river about a month. Mr. Gilcher, the diver, says the current at the point indicated is very strong and the bottom rocky. Mr. Gilcher was to receive $150 if he succeeded in raising the body.

FIERCE WESTERN STORMS.

Lives Lost and Crops and Property Ruined —Tremendous Rainfalls.

PEORIA, Ill., June 21.—Additional particulars of the flood which washed out the Farm Creek and Copperas Creek valleys on Thursday night verify the first reports of heavy damage. The people of Fond Du Lac were completely hemmed in by angry waters, but to-day two men from there rowed to the bridge and reached this city. The farmers for five or six miles up the river and a mile and a half back to the hills have lost all their crops. In many places the water is yet standing nine feet deep over cornfields. Along the Toledo, Peoria and Western road is a terrible scene of wreckage. Chinaware, baby carriages, wagons, dead cattle, pianos, tables and fences are piled ten feet high against the railroad trestle. The iron bridge 300 feet long, over Ten Mile Creek, just completed, was washed away and has not yet been found. In Fond Du Lac township where two big brick yards stood Thursday there is now ten feet of water. The loss of crops, live stock and gardens will be enormous.

ST. LOUIS, June 21.—The heavy storms which swept through Kansas yesterday have, as far as heard from, done incalculable damage to growing crops. At Fort Scott large dams broke about fifteen minutes after the storm began and the bottom lands were completely flooded, houses swept away like straws and it is feared many lives are lost.

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—The Star's despatches report a terrible rain and wind storm in the vicinity of Osceola last night. About six inches of water fell. Great damage was done to growing crops. A passenger train on the Kansas City, Osceola & Southern road was drifted three miles from there, killing Engineer Lightner. A man named Crandall, who is thought to have been on the train, is missing. At Emporia three and a half inches fell in two hours. Nearly every cellar in the town is flooded, and the lower floors of many houses were covered with water to the depth of several inches. Wheat and corn have suffered considerable damage.

The tornado which passed over Arkansas City last night did great damage 15 miles southeast of there. The dwelling houses of John Bowman, W. Bennett, Samuel Brown, S. Kersey and William Brown were completely wrecked. All the inmates escaped without serious injury, except Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman, mother of John Bowman, who was fatally injured. A daughter of Mr. Bennett was in the cellar and was completely buried under the debris, but escaped unhurt. A large number of barns and granaries were blown down.

At Fort Scott, during the storm and overflow last night at Buck Run, a rescuing party were compelled to abandon their boat; two of the men saved their lives by catching hold of trees, but the other, John Connalin, aged nineteen, caught hold of a limb, which broke and he was washed away.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 21.—News has reached here of a destructive storm in the eastern portion of Crittenden County. A large area of country was devastated. Dwellings and barns were unroofed and blown down, fencing carried away and much timber levelled. Mrs. Sarah Shadrick was struck by a flying piece of timber and her neck was broken. A stavemaker named Stanley was crushed by falling trees, and two boys, sons of a mill man named Hollingsworth, are missing and it is believed were killed.

LOUISVILLE, June 21.—At Lowisport this morning the Methodist church was blown down by a storm and Dave Ray, colored, was killed by falling timbers.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 21.—This week's bulletin of the Iowa Weather and Crop Service reports the temperature about normal and the rainfall excessive in many localities. Heavy storms wrought considerable damage by washing out corn and flooding crops on the bottom lands, and in the southern districts the cereal crops are too rank, with a tendency to lodge. The general effect, however, will be good in the State at large if followed by favorable weather for cultivation of corn and ripening small grain.

A Distinguished Surgeon Dead.

LONDON, June 20.—Sir Prescott Gardner Hewett, Bart., R.S., the distinguished surgeon, died to-day. Sir Prescott was one of Her Majesty's surgeons and was also surgeon-in-ordinary to the Prince of Wales.

FROM FONT TO GALLOWS.

A Negro to be Baptized at 9 O'Clock and Hanged at 10.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 20.—Sim Johnson, the 18-year-old negro who assaulted Alice Baily, white, aged 14 years, near this city, on the afternoon of April 4 last, and who was tried for the crime and convicted 7 days later to be hanged, will be executed in the jail yard, this city, shortly after 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. He has professed faith in the Catholic belief. The Rev. Father Stenger is his religious adviser. Johnson will take his breakfast at 8 o'clock a.m., after which he will be dressed for the scaffold, and at 9 o'clock he will be baptized by Father Stenger. The negro is fully reconciled and says he will meet his fate as a Christian.

The scaffold was erected in the yard adjoining the jail to-day, and while the doomed man heard the noise of the hammer and saw he was very nervous. His old mother has been a constant visitor to the jail and all day yesterday and to-day she has been by his cell door in earnest prayer. Until two weeks ago Johnson had been defiant and made light of his situation.

A large number of people have arrived in the city. All arrangements have been made to prevent any attempt at an outbreak by negroes, who believe that Johnson is innocent of the crime charged against him.

Collision Near Londonderry.

LONDONDERRY, June 21.—An empty train collided with a train carrying a body of militia on a single track railway two miles from Londonderry to-day. The driver of the militia train was killed, the fireman was fatally hurt and scores of the militia and others were injured.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

THE QUEEN AND ENGLISH POLITICAL MATTERS.

Her Letter to Archbishop Tait—The Regent of Manipur Sentenced to Death—The Turkish Garrison at Yemen Massacred.

LONDON, June 21.—The position of the Queen in English politics is usually supposed to be generally passive. In foreign politics she has been known since the life of the Prince Consort threw some light upon the business life of royalty to be greatly interested. But with internal English politics she has hitherto been credited with interfering little. At an opportune moment when the Conservative scheme of local self-government for Ireland is about to be contrasted with Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule proposals Her Majesty has permitted the publication of a confidential communication which she sent to the Archbishop of Canterbury on the eve of another crisis in Irish political history—the introduction of the bill for the disestablishment of the Church in Ireland. The inference is that Her Majesty desires to make Archbishop Tait's memoirs the medium of divulging what her attitude then was, with a view to application of the information to present events. Her Majesty did not approve of the disestablishment policy, but she accepted the decision of the country, and the Commons used her influence to induce the Lords on the one hand to accept the bill and Mr. Gladstone to take conciliatory methods with the Lords. The Archbishop of Canterbury was her mediator and go-between, and throughout the progress of the disestablishment bill went through an active period of wire-pulling, interviewing and lobbying which would have strained the nerves of a professional politician. When the bill went into the Lords the general expectation was that they would reject it and that another of those constitutional crises would arise, which threaten the existence of the Upper House as now constituted. The fate of the monarchy is so reasonably associated in the mind of Her Majesty with that of an hereditary Upper House as to create alarm when the position of the latter appears menaced. Undoubtedly if the peers had rejected the disestablishment bill Mr. Gladstone would have been backed up by an enraged country and the always impending agitation to disestablish the peers as a legislative body would have received a dangerous momentum. The Queen wrote to the Archbishop:

Considering the circumstances under which the measure has come to the House of Lords the Queen cannot regard without the greatest alarm the probable effect of its absolute rejection in the House. Carried as it has been by an overwhelming and steady majority through a House of Commons chosen expressly to speak the feeling of the country on the question, there seems no reason to believe that any fresh appeal to the country could lead to a different result. The rejection of the bill therefore would only serve to bring the two houses into collision, and so prolong a dangerous agitation of the subject.

These words pregnant of application in the early future are being quoted throughout the Liberal press as a proof in anticipation that the Queen accepting the verdict of the country on Home Rule will use all her power and personal influence to prevent the Lords from opposing it.

Massacred the Governor.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 20.—It is reported that Haaki Pasha, the Turkish governor of the province of Yemen, with all his staff has been massacred by the insurgent Arabs. The Porte is sending reinforcements to Yemen, though the officials here assert that the rising has been suppressed.

A Sequel to the Manipur Rising.

DUBLIN, June 20.—The Express declares that Sir John Gorst, Political Secretary of the India Office, has tendered his resignation. The opinion is expressed here that should this turn out to be correct the Manipur investigation and subsequent developments may be found to have been the cause of Sir John's action.

CALCUTTA, June 20.—The court of enquiry which has been investigating the Manipur massacre has found the Regent guilty of warring upon the forces of the Empress of India, but the court finds that the regent was not guilty of the murder of Chief Commissioner Quinton, British Resident F. C. T. Grimwood and the other British officials who were killed in the massacre. The Regent was sentenced to death.

Gigantic French Strike.

PARIS, June 21.—The trainmen and busmen of Bordeaux and Marseilles have gone on strike.

THE BLENHEIM TRAGEDY.

Inquest On the Body of Mrs. Clark and Her Murdered Babes.

BLENHEIM, Ont., June 21.—An inquest was held here yesterday by Dr. Bray of Chatham, assisted by Dr. Langford of Blenheim, on the bodies of Mrs. David Clark and her two children, found drowned in the Eau near the railway dock on Friday morning. The jury brought in a verdict that Mrs. Margar et Clark while temporarily insane drowned her two children and herself. Strong sympathy is expressed towards the poor wife and her people. Her insanity was due altogether to the absence of her husband and the continued annoyance and worry over their financial troubles. The funeral of all took place to-day and was the largest ever seen in this district, there being 164 carriages. The cortege was nearly two miles long.

MUTINY ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Firemen of the Steamship Werra Refuse to Work and Are Ironed.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Five firemen of the Werra have been arrested for mutiny. When the Werra was three days out from Bremen Fireman Eckerman was ordered to do something by his superior officer. He sullenly refused, and when an attempt was made to put him in irons six fellow-workmen sprang to his assistance. There was a sharp struggle between the ship's crew and the rebellious firemen and the firemen were imprisoned. Recorder McDonough committed the firemen to jail until the Werra leaves, when they will be placed on board and tried on the other side for mutiny.

A Report That the Queen Will Honor Lady Macdonald.

MONTREAL, June 21.—It is rumored in political circles that Lady Macdonald is to be made a peeress by the Queen in recognition of Sir John Macdonald's eminent services to the empire. The same authority states that after the session Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, son of the late Premier, will go to England to lay personally before Her Majesty Sir John Macdonald's orders and decorations, which have to be returned to the sovereign, and that there is a likelihood of Hugh John Macdonald himself being knighted by the Queen.

CONDUCTOR BROWN'S FLIGHT.

More Charges of Smuggling from Canada Will Be Brought Against Him.

BOSTON, Mass., June 21.—The case against Conductor Kilbourne Brown of Malden, charged with smuggling goods from Canada, grows stronger the deeper the investigation goes. The hearing takes place Monday in the District Court here, and it is pretty certain that several prominent business men, heretofore unmentioned, will be implicated in the case. When Brown was arrested there were only two or three counts in the arraignment, but since then an investigation has brought to light many more cases. It was June 1 that the inspectors of this city received word from Washington to look up this case. Several times during the past few years Brown has been suspected and cases brought against him, but never have sufficient facts been brought out to prove his guilt. That he stood in with the old inspectors seems to be without doubt.

What Does it Mean?

"100 doses one dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

TURNBULL'S

As the season advances we have many bargains to offer the public. One of the greatest attractions in our store to-day is some thirty or forty pieces of dress goods that were formerly from 25 to 50c. a yard. They are odd lines, and are now being cleared out at 15c. a yard. They can only last a short time, call early and secure the best patterns.

We want to tell you about our cheap Hosiery. We have piles upon piles of heavy goods to select from, in men's, women's and children's. 3 pairs for 25c.

For a week past we have been showing a window of Prints at 10c a yard. Handsome as it is possible to have them, and perfectly fast colors. We never had the like before at less than 12½c. Remember them if you do not see them in the window now.

We are showing an elegant range of white embroidered shirt ings and all over embroidered muslins.

We have a great many patterns of figured Wool Delaines, so that it is no trouble to get something to please with us.

We have bought out a wholesale agent's samples of pretty little Lace Dolmans and Fichus and are selling them now at a bargain.

Our best quality of Black Gloves and Hosiery this season are perfectly stainless dye. We have great pleasure in selling them, as they please everybody as to quality and price.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.
The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84

Increase over 1889	75,649 05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail three to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07

A SURPRISE
When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.
However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.
No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.
We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.
Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.
To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

4. Your committee recommend that the account of John Flood, amounting to $23.55, for repairs on the Pigeon Creek bridge, be paid, this council at the same time repudiating any liability whatsoever for the repair or maintenance of this bridge. We recommend the account to be paid only because we understand that Mr. Flood acted in good faith in making the repairs, and in order that he may not suffer any loss in this instance, but hereafter no such accounts will be considered.

5. That a special grant of $50 be given to Mr. John Burnham, Q.C., as a gratuity towards the attention given by him to the proposed legislation of Dr. Willoughby in connection with bridges.

6. Your committee recommend that the clerk be instructed to print the report of the county auditors.

7. Your committee recommend that this county pay one half of the costs of the repairs to the Wallace Point bridge.

8. Your committee recommend that the offer for one half of the debentures, to realize to the purchaser four per cent., be accepted, and that the county clerk and the reeve of Asphodel be instructed to sell the balance of such debentures whensoever the money is required.

9. That a special grant of $50 be given to the East and West riding Agricultural Societies of Peterborough for a ploughing match, upon condition that each such Society grant a like amount for the same purpose.

10. Your Committee recommend that a rate of 1½ mills on the dollar be levied and collected on all the ratable property in the county for county purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. R. KIDD,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, June 20th, 1891.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Burnham, chairman, presented as follows the report of the Committee on

EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENTS.

The Committee on Equalization and Assessment beg leave to report as follows:

1. Your committee recommend that the basis adopted by this council last year be the basis of assessment for all county purposes for the year 1891

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN BURNHAM,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, June 20, 1891.

The report was adopted.

CONFIRMATORY BYLAW.

Mr. MOLONEY introduced a bylaw to confirm Bylaw No. 240 of the united townships of Burleigh, etc., to close up certain roads in those townships, which passed its several readings and was signed and sealed.

Mr. FINLAY, chairman, presented as follows the report of the committee on SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Schools beg leave to report:

1 That the Warden of the county for the time being and the County Clerk be a committee with power to nominate a student for the Ontario Agricultural College for any vacancy that may from time to time arise.

2. That no action be taken with reference to granting a bonus of $5.00 towards the purchase of books of reference for said rural school section.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN FINLAY,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, June 20, 1891.

The report was adopted.

Mr. MOLONEY, chairman, presented as follows the report of the committee on

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

On motion to adopt the report, Mr. McAuley moved, seconded by Mr. Mr. Sanderson that the charges made by Richard Crowe and others regarding the expenditure of $100 granted by this council for expenditure on the 9th line of Dummer in the year 1884, be referred to the County Judge to be dealt with as provided by section 477, Chap. 184, R.S.O. 1887, upon condition that Richard Crowe do execute a bond in the sum of $200 to defray the cost of the investigation in case the charges referred to by him and others are not sustained.

MR. SANDERSON said that the report was going abroad that several of the parties who had been alleged by Mr. Kidd to have received money, had asserted that they had not received such moneys and he moved that Mr. Crowe be heard.

MR. CROWE who was present and said he had given a statement to the warden and the statement was read re-iterating the charges he had made and giving a history of the affair; since, in compliance with his former request for an investigation into the matter, Mr. Kidd had not produced the vouchers for the expenditure of the money which he alleges he paid. Mr. Crowe offered to deposit a sum for paying the expenses of a reference to the county judge. He also submitted documents, which were read by the clerk, from the parties who were said to have received money from Mr. Kidd, in which they stated that they had not done any work after November 6th, 1884.

MR. KIDD stated that he had submitted the receipts signed by all the parties for the moneys he had paid them. The council were satisfied, not only last January, but as late as yesterday, that he (Mr. Kidd) had furnished all the vouchers necessary. He was willing to have the matter referred to the county judge. He did not shirk investigation.

MR. J. J. CROWE was, on motion, heard. He said that last June he had publicly charged Mr. Kidd with the misappropriation of this money, and that Mr. Kidd said that he had made returns to Mr. McWilliams of county money expenditures to a government official. Mr. Kidd, he asserted, had drawn money from the county treasurer in June, and had produced in support of his assertion that the work had been done, vouchers, which when now produced, proved to have been signed in the following November, the time the work was alleged to have been done. Mr. Crow asserted that some of the items in the statement of Mr. Kidd respecting the expenditure, were incorrect, and that he had smuggled his statements and alleged receipts stealthily into the county council, without giving a chance to any ratepayer of Dummer to investigate them. If the matters were referred to the county judge he (Mr. Crowe) was prepared to prove all his assertions, and the county would be exposed to no expense because a deposit would be made to cover the cost of the investigation in case the charges were not substantiated.

MR. KIDD said he had showed to the councillors the receipts and vouchers, which had been perused by some of the county councillors. He thought he had produced a satisfactory statement of the expenditure of the money in question. If he had forged any man's name to the receipts he was guilty of a felony and he was amenable to the law. He was ready and willing for an investigation conscious that he had done right in the matter.

He therefore moved, seconded by Mr. Hawthorne that on condition of Mr. Crowe making an immediate deposit of $200 to cover a reference to the county judge of the matters contained in these charges, the matter be thus referred.

Mr. Kidd wanted enough deposited to defray the expenses.

MR. CROWE said he had named a sum and he would adhere to it.

MR. KIDD demanded that the investigation be made on the condition of the necessary deposit having been made.

It was agreed that the proposed amendment to the report be modified as it appears above, and the amendment thus changed was unanimously adopted.

A resolution was moved by Mr. McCauley seconded by Mr. Fitzpatrick, and carried, to confirm a by-law of the township of Belmont, to close up a certain road, the corporate seal being attached to give the resolution the force of a by-law.

By-laws to confirm the several reports were passed and the council adjourned.

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

How Long Should we Live?

Theophrastus thought it extremely hard to die at 90 and to go out of the world just when he had learned to live in it; and Aristotle found fault with nature for treating man in this respect worse than other animals. Many persons of the present age have a desire to prolong their existence, and yet they allow the common ills of life, such as dyspepsia, sour stomach, sick headache, constipation, etc., to wear them out, without resorting to the unfailing remedy, Beecham's Pills. To be had from your druggist, or B. F. Allen Co, 365 and 367 Canal street, New York. Price 25 cents a box. w26d

DIVORCE COURTS.

Senator Macdonald Introduces His Proposed Measure—Government Business to Have Precedence in the Commons Thursdays.

OTTAWA, June 19.—In the House to-day Mr. Davin introduced a bill to amend the Railway Act by providing among other things that all freight cars shall be equipped with automatic brakes and all passenger cars with automatic couplers. The bill received its first reading.

The first effort to shorten the session was made to-day. Sir Hectos Langevin moved that Government orders have precedence on Thursdays for the remainder of the session. The Opposition made no objection and the motion was carried without discussion.

Senator Macdonald introduced a bill in the Senate to-day to establish divorce courts in the different provinces of Canada, except in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, which have them already, and in Quebec, which does not want any. It provides that the Supreme Court of the other provinces shall have the same authority with reference to action to dissolve marriage and to obtain judicial separation as with reference to civil actions within the jurisdiction of these courts. The causes for divorce are adultery by either party or desertion by the husband without reasonable cause for a period of not less than five years. An appeal may be made to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Notes.

The Senate to-day passed divorce bills for the relief of Thomas Bristow and Isabel Topley.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau was reported to-day as doing nicely, and it is expected the hon. gentleman will be around again in a few days.

WILL MEET SULLIVAN.

Frank Slavin Makes a Speech—Charlie Mitchell Hissed.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Pony Moore glowered at 800 men and four women in Niblo's Garden last night, when he introduced Frank P. Slavin and Charlie Mitchell, the first of whom was to be given a testimonial because of his victory the night before over Jake Kilrain. Pony Moore glowered because there was so little money in the house for one reason, and again because his son-in-law Charlie Mitchell, was hissed.

The entertainment opened with a few Annie Rooney and McGinty variety acts. Then the gladiators appeared. Slavin, Mitchell and Moore walked upon the stage to the hand-clapping of 150 of the men and two of the women. Mr. Pony Moore struck an attitude and said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: The hot weather has been a little against us, but we will give you a good show. Permit me to introduce you to Mr. Charlie Mitchell, the champion of the world"—(hisses, cat-calls and groans.)

Mr. Moore's glower deepened but he stood his ground.

"The champion of the world," he reiterated with an Ajax-like posture. The audience kept quiet.

"Ladies and gentlemen," continued Mr. Moore, "this is Mr. Francis P. Slavin of Australia, a fighter as is willing to meet any man, bar none in the universe. We will put up all the money they want, or any of them want. We are stopping at the Vendome and we mean business. Mr. Slavin and Mr Mitchell will now have a set-to of three rounds. Shake hands."

Then the conqueror of Kilrain and son-in-law Mitchell pounded each other, grunted and sweated for three short rounds. After the customary shake of hands Mr. Slavin stepped to the footlights to orate:

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "I am more than pleased at the reception given to me to-night, after my fight of last night. I thank the papers for the way they treated me. I am a stranger in a strange land, and all I want is fair play. I don't know that I am a fighter, but I am willing to meet any man, and I'll do my best to win."

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 20.— A dastardly crime was committed in the East End last night. Two gentlemen walking up Power-street about 9.30 p.m. saw a boy apparently insensible lying on the boulevard. They went up to him, and found that he was unconscious and bleeding profusely from a terrible wound above the left temple. The boy was carried into Lee's drug store in King-street east, where Dr. Coatsworth attended to his injuries. All efforts to restore consciousness were futile and his condition is pronounced serious.

Later the lad was recognized as William Matthews, residing with his parents at 318 Front-street east. He had been attending night school in the Public School in Parliament-street leaving for home about 9 o'clock. It is supposed that he was attacked by roughs.

Mr. Justice Robertson yesterday heard a motion to set aside as irregular the petition against the return of J. E. Bowman as member of the House of Commons for North Waterloo. The ground of irregularity is that the petitioner is not a British subject and not qualified to vote and therefore not to petition against the return of any member-elect. The petitioner is Conrad Knell, born in Switzerland on Oct. 18, 1855. He moved to a French Canton in July, 1877, and before leaving his native country obtained a certificate of his birth and citizenship. These were produced in court yesterday, but conveyed little information to those present as in a foreign language. Knell removed to Canada in 1881. In 1889 when the voting lists were being prepared, it is alleged, he went to the Conservative committee rooms and made a statutory declaration that he was a British subject and of full age and had his name placed on the list as a voter. He cast a vote at the last general election, and when it was decided to protest Bowman's election he was put forward as a petitioner. At the last sessions of the Waterloo County Court a few days ago, Knell was naturalised and received a certificate of citizenship. The county court judge of Waterloo, the deputy clerk of the peace and other officers and citizens of that county were present as witnesses. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., appeared for the respondent and W. R. Meredith, Q.C. for the petitioner.

In the action of Ward against The East Kent Plaindealer a motion was made to the master for an order that the Rev. Dr. Wadel-Ward attend for re-examination at his own expense and answer certain questions which he refused to answer on his former examination for discovery. The questions which the Doctor refused to answer were questions relating to his former public standing and as to the truth of certain allegations against the general character of the plaintiff. Judgment was reserved.

"THE COTTON BLOSSOMS."

Sedate Brother Gardner and He Leaves the Lime Kiln Club.

OR several weeks past Thompson street, New York, has been laboring under great excitement over the attempts of certain well known residents of the street to organize a society or club and hire and furnish a hall in which to hold weekly meetings. Several gatherings were held at Sundown Jackson's barber shop and several others behind Sir John Crankpin's pie-stand, and about two weeks ago quarters were secured and a preliminary organization arranged. It was resolved from the very first to admit only the cream of the street, leaving the milk to stand on the doorsteps.

The proposed club is on the lines of Brother Gardner's Lime Kiln Club of Detroit, and it was successful in getting him to transfer his affections from the old to the new organization.

During the afternoon the famous old man, who is now sixty years old but as hearty as a woodchuck in harvest time, was the recipient of much attention, and was shown many of the sights of the town.

Brother Gardner, when finally taken to the hall, expressed himself as highly satisfied with the appointments, particularly the stove—an article of furniture having a great bearing on the comfort of any colored assemblage. He carefully inspected it, and declared that it was provided with many improvements he had never seen before—return flues, copper rivets, false keel, back-action and reversible movement.

On agreeing to leave the Lime Kiln Club and Detroit, Brother Gardner was unanimously elected President of "The Cotton Blossoms." The other offices were filled as follows:

Vice-President—Judge Cahoots.
Secretary—Prof. Whyfore Smith.
Treasurer—Col. Peaceful Green.
Librarian—Hon. Setback Johnson.
Keeper of the Bear Traps—Sir Julius Harrington, A. B. and LL. D.
Guard—Lord Huckleberry Jackson, late of Huckleberry Plains.

When the list of offices had been filled Brother Gardner arose and said:

"My FRENS: When I denounce de fack dat I ar' dun surprised an' all broke in two, it does not begin to express de emulashun of de sarcumstance. I dun got a letter in Detroit axin' me to cum on heah an' assist in percolatin' de openin' of dis Cotton Blossom Club. I didn't know what to do, but Sir Isaac Walpole he dun said go, and Waydown Bebee, Shindig Watkins, Kurnel Kabiff an' all de oddder members of the Lime-Kiln Club dun tole me to cum. I reckoned on stayin' wid you 'bout two days, but heah you has dun gone an' 'lected me President of dis Club and want me to remain wid yur."

Shouts of "Yes!" "Yes!" and cheers from all over the hall.

"Wall, I shall dun squat down heah fur a time, anyhow, an' I truly hope dat dis Club organized wid sich favorable animosity, an' seemingly articulated wid sich urduosity of enthusiasm, may prove itself a credit to its city an' State. (Wild cheers.) We mus' start right. You hev exhibited wisdom in de selecksh'un of your seal, an' I now present for your adoptshun, in case you think well of it, a gineral motto, which will constitute our pass-word." The meeting then adjourned.—M. Quad.

A True Bill.

Wm. Gillespie, Wolfe Island, Ont., says: I had indigestion and stomach cough for three years. Was treated by best physicians and used numerous patent medicines without success, when two bottles of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil cured me. I have great pleasure in recommending it. For sale by all druggists. dw

Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver troubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

Vigilant Care.

Vigilance is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 3w25d

Self Application of Electricity FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

The following from the Montreal Gazette relates to a boy who has many young friends in Peterborough:—"Master Herbert J. English, a fourteen-year-old boy, recently hooked and landed a 24½-pound maskinonge at Vaudreuil. The landing of the fish was witnessed by four sportsmen and the weight is vouched for by Messrs. Fortin & Fenton, of the Lotbiniere house, who weighed the fish."

She Satisfied Herself.

"Anything for me?" enquired a woman for the dozenth time at the post office the other day. The young lady at the wicket, wearied with answering the oft repeated question, still maintained her composure, and though she well knew that there was no letter for the applicant, to satisfy her she good-naturedly sorted over the envelopes once more, and gave a negative toss of her head. The woman standing in the lobby said never a word, but with a defiant gesture and "I-don't-believe-you" air she marched around through the money order department, right in behind the boxes and up to the general delivery pigeon-holes, reached up and took the letters from the compartment bearing the initial letter of her name, looked them over carefully, and finding none for herself so quietly and silently walked out as did before the astonished clerks could realize the boldness of her action. This actually occurred in the Peterborough post office a few days ago.

What About the Money for Parks?

A great many persons are interested in Mrs. Nicholls' munificent bequest for public parks, so much so that at an early date a meeting is to be called to form a society pledged to the exclusive use of hawley bros.' teas, which are of such excellent quality that the public health will be benefitted and the national interest subserved by their universal use—particularly their splendid 50 cent tea. dw

Valuable Information.

What's home without a bright coat of paper on the wall? Every room needs repapering occasionally, and unless the walls are clothed in pleasant, cheerful tints the effect of the other ornaments is altogether lost. The present opportunity is a most favorable one for getting wall paper. The great removal sale is going on at the Peterborough Bookstore, where there are about 50,000 rolls of the choicest patterns to select from at prices that have been cut away down below par. Papers for drawing room, dining room, kitchen and bedroom, in endless variety and very cheap. Call at the Peterborough Bookstore and be convinced that the prices are lower than you ever paid for wall paper before. dw

Telephone.

Says the Bobcaygeon Independent:—A gang of eighteen men arrived on Monday for the Telephone company, (Bell) and commenced setting up the poles. The two poles for the canal are fine ones, seventy feet high. A slight difficulty arose over a pole cut for the canal. The party who supplied the pole is said to have trespassed on a lot belonging to M. Boyd & Co., and in order to stop such trespassing, the pole was seized. A difference of opinion naturally arose, and the difference was speedily settled with a cross-cut saw. Another pole had to be obtained, which was accomplished with very much trouble. The gang has completed the line from Lindsay to Fenelon Falls, and is now working from here to the Falls, which they expect to reach a week from Saturday. Once the line is in operation and the outside world is brought into communion with Bobcaygeon, the universe will realize that a long felt want has been filled. And, by the way, it is to be hoped that on that occasion our Mr. Smiff will not too warmly reciprocate with the long felt want and also get filled. Crowned heads sending congratulatory messages to Smiff, will oblige by refraining from asking him to join in a little something.

The Good, the True, the Beautiful.

Bobcaygeon, the home of the Good, the True and the Beautiful, is the destination of the Foresters' excursion on Thursday, June 25th, when an opportunity will be given the people of seeing the "gilded den" of the famous Brother Smiff, and perhaps if they behave themselves they may even catch a glimpse of His Royal Nibbs himself. And Bobcaygeon boasts besides of other attractions than these. It is charmingly located and affords excellent accommodation for excursionists. Court Peterborough, No. 29, C. O. F., will run another of their popular excursions. The excursion train will leave the Grand Trunk station at 8.30 a.m., for Chemong, where the splendid fast-sailing steamer "Alice Ethel," and palace barge, "Lindsay" will convey the party to Bobcaygeon, arriving there at 11.30. After dinner, the steamer will proceed to Sturgeon Point, and those of the party who wish can visit this popular summer resort without extra charge. Returning, excursionists will leave Bobcaygeon at 5.30 p.m., arriving at Chemong at 8 30, and Peterborough at 9.15. A first-class quadrille band will be in attendance. Tickets for train, adults, 25c; children 15c. For boat, adults, 50c; children, 25c. Tickets to be had from members of committee and at the station and wharf on morning of excursion. Tea and hot water provided by the committee. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

A Successful Institute Graduate.

The following excerpt from the report of proceedings of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church held at Kingston, refers to Mr. E. L. Hunt, an old Peterborough boy, who matriculated from Peterborough Collegiate Institute with honours in mathematics and modern languages:—"Mr. Hunt's application to take his second year's examinations without attendance at lectures be not granted. Principal Caven spoke on Mr. Hunt's behalf, stating that he was an exceptionally able man, had passed several examinations most creditably, being, in fact, the first man in his year, and had been preaching for ten years with great acceptance, so that he had both knowledge and experience in support of his application. The doctor did not wish to support the applicant's request as it stood, as that would establish an embarrassing precedent which might seriously hamper the senate in the future, but if Mr. Hunt would take the last term of lectures, that is a three months' course, he would cordially recommend the assembly to grant the application. This was agreed to." Mr. Hunt's name appears in the report of the Knox College closing, 1890 and 1891, as the winner of the first year Central church (Hamilton) scholarship, and standing first in first year exegetics, and first in Old Testament literature. Mr. Hunt's success shows the value of the good foundation laid at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

Electric Athletics.

Organization of the Edison Athletic Club.

At a general meeting of the employees of the Edison General Electric Co., held on June 4th, it was resolved to organize an athletic association in connection with the works in this town. A committee of seven, composed of the following:—R. A. Ross, H. W. Nelson, D. Elliott, S. Farthar, G. Johnston, R. Whyte and R. E. Layfield, were appointed to devise a scheme for the organization of an association. On Friday evening last the committee reported at a general meeting, and a club organized under the name of the "Edison Amateur Athletic Club." About 60 employees joined, and the officers for the current year were elected as follows:

HON. PRESIDENT—John Kressi, Esq.
HON. VICE-PRESIDENTS—J. Langton, Esq., and Col. H. M. Francis.
TREASURER—Robt. White.
SECRETARY—R. E. Langton.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—R. A. Ross, D. Elliott, W. C. P. Heathcote, J. M. Kressi, and S. F. Arthur.

The Company, with a commendable interest in the diversion of their employees, have allowed the Association the use of grounds at the western end of their property. These grounds are admirably suited for the purpose, being as level as a billiard table. A space 150x80 yards has been staked off, and men are employed in preparing the grounds for lacrosse or kindred games. The EXAMINER congratulates the Association for its wise initiation of the enterprise and push of the Edison Company, and hopes that it will thrive and flourish as it should deservedly do. Every member who actively joins in the sports, games and recreations for which the Association will present a medium, will, by virtue of the relaxation enjoyed and the physical tone developed, be better fitted to serve the interests of his employers, and the Company is not only liberal, but level-headed and solicitous for its own interests, when it puts the Association on the back with four or five acres of splendid athletic grounds.

A Man and a Minister.

Rev. S. J. Shorey Preaches His Farewell Sermon to the Congregation of the Charlotte Street Church.

No more graceful tribute was ever paid to the worth and popularity of a minister than the spontaneous expression of homage rendered Rev. S. J. Shorey, the retiring pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, which was implied in the overflowing attendance on Sunday night when he preached his last sermon to the congregation he has ministered unto during the past three years. Before the hour for begining the service had arrived the little sanctuary was crowded to the doors, and scores were unable to gain entrance. Representatives from all denominations were present to show their esteem and admiration for one who was universally respected. Rev. Mr. Shorey says he aimed to gain the people's regard as a man and citizen rather than as an authorized minister of the gospel. In this he has been eminently successful. He was recognized as a most liberal-minded citizen, who took an interest in the town and its affairs, as well as a highly successful and exceedingly popular clergyman. His farewell words sank deep into the hearts of the listening hundreds, and none present but felt the town was losing a man whom it would be difficult to replace. Rev. Mr. Shorey must feel gratified at the unanimous honor accorded him by the people of all denominations on Sunday, who turned out in such large numbers to listen to his last sermon. It ought to assure him that he leaves many real friends behind him in Peterborough, whose prayers will follow him to his new home.

The choir rendered a couple of very choice and appropriate anthems during the service, solo parts being taken by Mrs. Mein, Miss Stevens, Miss Fawcett and Mr. A. L. Davis.

The opening hymn was "Lead Kindly Light," after which Rev. S. J. Shorey uttered a fervent prayer and read as a lesson the fourth chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Phillipians.

Before beginning his sermon Rev. Mr. Shorey took occasion to bespeak for his successor the same courteous reception and kind treatment he had himself received at the hands of the congregation.

The text was Phillipian iv, 8:—"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." From this subject Rev. Mr. Shorey preached a forcible sermon, applying the words of the text to the conditions and things of this life. His concluding remarks were, however, of unusually deep interest to his attentive listeners. He asked his congregation to consider his ministry in the spirit of the words of the text. He felt his ministry had not been an ideal one; it had many defects and shortcomings, of which no one was more conscious than himself. But he asked them to pass by the things defective and imperfect, and in the words of the text think of the things true, the things lovely and of good report. He had come to them not asking them to pay him special reverence because of his authority as a minister, but first had sought to gain their respect as a man and a citizen. God made men before ministers, and one the noblest things on this earth was a man who fulfills God's conceptions; and when God makes a man a minister, he gains the respect and reverence of the people because he is man among men. It might not be that his ideal of the ministry was the same as some others, but, Mr. Shorey said, he became heartily sick in his early life of seeing men going about to whom some deference was paid on account of their ministry, but whom people could not respect as a man. He thought in cases like these it was a fatal mistake for themselves and all they came in contact with. He himself aimed to be known as man. He would not go about asking people to doff their hats to him because he was a minister. He wanted men to respect him for what was respectable in him. He did not say this because he had the impression that his deportment among them was such that it was safe to do so, but because he had always aimed to be such, and he asked the congregation to accept his successor in the same spirit. The success of his ministry must be gauged by the nobility of his manhood. "And now," said Rev. Mr. Shorey, "my ministry to you is finished. What I have said I have said. What I have done I have done. The record is gone. Nothing can be taken from it and nothing added. I want to say how greatly I appreciate the kindness, the universal kindness, with which I have been treated, and those who belong to me, in these three years. We have not a single memory but what is bright and precious and pleasant. But I have a regret. It is a very deep one. I suppose that young men have hopes that are high. I expected when I came to this church it would be mine to say many were won to God. I have seen many won to God, but not enough. I have been sorry for whom I have profoundly thanked God, but there are men and women, as far as their profession or confession of Christianity is concerned, as much out of Christ as they were three years ago. In this respect I have failed. Paul went out to 'bear all things to all men that he might save.' I go away in the hope that I have sown and others may reap. May God's blessing be upon you, upon your officials, upon the choir, upon the Sunday School, upon the membership, upon the adherents and congregation of this church. And if we never meet again as we meet to-night, shall we meet in heaven? God grant it, for his name and mercy's sake, amen."

Rev. Dr. Willoughby, a former Methodist pastor now residing in Toronto, conducted the closing exercises, and took the opportunity to add a few appropriate words concerning Rev. Mr. Shorey and the congregation.

Invitation to Manitoba.

A Cheering Letter from Mr. James Jewison.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I have been informed by two parties from Ontario that they understood we have had severe frosts, so hard as to freeze a solid foot into the ground and that all the grain was frozen off. I take this opportunity of letting our Ontario friends know that it is not so—they have heard something that was not true. The crops all look remarkably well at this time of the season. We have had splendid showers of rain. So far there has been a great deal of windy weather this spring. It is very pleasant weather here now. My opinion is that from Poplar Point to Portage la Prairie is the garden of Manitoba, and I believe there is still a quantity of good land to be had at a reasonable figure. I think a person's time would be well spent in visiting this part before going further west to look for land. There are hundreds of men to-day living on rented farms in Ontario who would be far better off if they were to go west and take up land for themselves. From that you will see my opinion of this country. A man with a small capital can do better here than he can in Ontario.

I remain, yours truly,
JAMES JEWSON.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting on Saturday evening was well attended, and those present listened with pleasure and profit to the address given by Mr. Ridgway, late of Sherbrooke, on "Decision." Many of the young men took part in the meeting, and the after service was a season of blessing to all.

The consecration and Bible study Sabbath morning was led by Mr. Albert Hamilton with blessing to all present.

Open air service in Central Park was attended by a large crowd, who, by their attention to the Gospel address of Mr. Wm. Wallbrook and hearty manner with which they joined in the service of song, led us helpfully by the Y.M.C.A. band, showed their appreciation in this means of grace to the masses. We are believing for great results.

The Gospel and song service last evening was a grand and blessed meeting. The hall was crowded and many were compelled to go away unable to get in, and those who had the privilege of hearing the impressive and practical farewell address of Rev. S. J. Shorey will never forget the helpful advice given them by Mr. Shorey. It was a solemn service and much good will follow the heartfelt words so eloquently uttered by our brother in Christ's work, who is about to leave us. He will have the prayers of the Y.M.C.A. for greater spiritual success in his new field of labour for Christ.

The junior branch of the Y.M.C.A. will meet on Friday evening at 7.30. During the school vacation there will be no Friday evening meeting.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLAN'S, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little arms and hands in the same condition; a body around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was one raw sore so horribly sickening to the sight. Said Mrs. E. A. Strut to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost discouraged. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from clawing the raw flesh with her nails. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered. The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woolsey, druggist.

A VOTE OF CENSURE.

MOVED BY MR. LAURIER IN THE HOUSE YESTERDAY.

In a House of 186 the Government Has a Majority of Exactly 20—Quebec Members Who Voted with the Opposition—Features of the Debate.

OTTAWA, June 23.—The new Administration received its first attack to-day. Premier Abbott was under fire from an early hour this afternoon until midnight. Mr. Laurier moved the adjournment of the House, the motion being understood by all as a direct vote of want of confidence. The debate in its primary stages dealt with the constitutional aspect of the formation of the new ministry, but in the evening it drifted to the parts which the religion of the leaders of the party played in cabinet-making. The climax was reached when the fiery Nationalist from Bellechasse, trembling with excitement, shouted that Sir John Thompson was debarred from the Premiership by the fanaticism of certain of his followers. Young Devlin of Ottawa county started on an equally fiery speech, but was hauled down by Trow, the Liberal whip.

Rumors of desertions from the Conservative ranks added interest to the debate. It was said that certain members from Quebec stated they were elected to support Sir John Macdonald," but that when he was gone they were free to vote as they pleased. The vote was taken at 1.30 o'clock. In a House of 186 the Government secured a majority of 20. Messrs. Tarte, Savard, Vaillaincourt and Monet voted with the Opposition. Mr. Joncas said he was paired with Mr. Chapleau and if he had voted he would have voted for the motion.

The Debate.

Mr. Laurier, on the orders of the day being called, rose to move the adjournment of the House. He did so to bring the attention of the House to the recent charge on the Government. An apology for an explanation of the charges had been made, but apparently the Government believed that silence was golden and the less said the better. The Government was proceeding to follow the worst features of Sir John Macdonald's policy, and already had made a wide departure from its best features. Sir John Macdonald had always striven to maintain an equilibrium between contending forces in this country, but to-day the Government had chosen a leader as man of ability indeed, but one who had always exercised his ability for the C.P.R. The C.P.R. was exercising an undue influence in the affairs of the nation. Mr. Abbott's services to the company had been very great, almost incalculable, but when he severed his connection with the company the stock went up, not down. The meaning of this was that every shareholder knew that the C.P.R. had a larger hold than ever on the country. He could now understand why the company had taken so prominent a part in the recent elections. They foresaw that Sir John Macdonald had not many years to live—that a day would come after his death when there would be a war of factions and they could throw their weight in the scale. Mr. Abbott's withdrawal from the company will not satisfy public spirit. In past years Mr. Abbott gave to the country the crumbs of his intellect. As soon as each session of the Senate was over he returned to the service of the C.P.R. He may sell his stock and dispose of his pecuniary interest, but he will still be bound to the company by his heart-strings. It was both improper and dangerous to place in power as Premier a man who had given his full energy, not to country, but to a railway company. Why, then, was Mr. Abbott chosen? It was through party exigencies. The country was sacrificed to party. Mr. Abbott himself said: "The position which I to-night have the honor to occupy has come to me very much probably in the nature of a compromise. I am here very much probably because I am not particularly obnoxious to anybody." Mr. Laurier complained that the explanation to the Commons had not been as frank as to the Senate. From the statement to the Commons it would appear that the Governor-General had enough confidence in Sir John Thompson to ask his advice as to who should form a Ministry, but apparently not enough confidence in him to make him Premier. He thought the side thing was concealed from the House was the delay owing to Mr. Chapleau declaring that Sir John Macdonald had promised to make him Minister of Railways and that he intended to stand by his rights. It was the duty of the leader of the Government in making his explanation of Cabinet changes to say whether Mr. Chapleau had entered the Cabinet on condition that someone else should be decapitated.

The Minister of Justice Replies.

Sir John Thompson denied that there was any departure from Sir John Macdonald's policy in making Mr. Abbott Premier. Sir John Macdonald himself had made Mr. Abbott both a member of the Cabinet and leader of the Government in the Senate. Mr. Abbott had sat as leader of the other House for four years without a word of rebuke from the leader of the Opposition. During all those years Mr. Abbott was tied to the C.P.R., not only by his heart-strings, as Mr. Laurier had said, but by the fact that he was a shareholder and director. In reply to the charge that C.P.R. stock had risen in consequence of Mr Abbott's appointment Sir John Thompson asked what proof was there in that statement. On what market did it take place? Any arrangements which would benefit the C.P.R must come before Parliament, and then would be time enough to consider them. Sir John further answered objections to Mr. Abbott on the score of his connection with the C.P.R. by referring to the speeches of one of the Liberal Senators (Mr. Power), who said: "As to that honorable gentleman's qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed we, here in the Senate, have no question. The honorable gentleman owes his appointment to the fact that those who know him best know he was the best man for the position." Whatever Mr. Abbott meant by referring to his appointment as a "compromise," Sir John Thompson declared that it was no compromise between rival claimants for the post of Premier. There was no rivalry between any men in this House for the position of Premier. Indeed, those who might have been mentioned for the Premiership were rather disposed to shrink from undertaking burdens which had broken down the greatest statesman of the country. Mr. Abbott, he said, was chosen because he was the best man for the position. Sir John Thompson stated that he was asked by the Governor-General for advice as to the formation of a Ministry and was entrusted with the request also that he should form an Administration. Without attempting to undertake His Excellency's command he asked him to lay his commands upon some one abler than himself. While he felt that he might count upon the loyal support of the Liberal-Conservative party he believed there were many electors in the country who would prefer as Premier a man who had been not 5 or 6 years in Federal politics, but nearly 40 years. There was no agreement ever entered into or even contemplated with anyone to decapitate certain members of the Government at any time.

Sir Richard Cartwright said the important news that the Minister of Justice had been called upon to form a Ministry ought to have been given the House earlier. There was one gentleman absent who might throw light on Sir John Thompson's refusal. That was Mr. McCarthy, who was a thousand miles away, telling the poor people of the Northwest to look after themselves. The general result of the late Cabinet shuffle was to place the Maritime Provinces first, Quebec second and Ontario nowhere. Though he did not dispute the ability of Mr. Abbott, his connection with the C.P.R. was a grave objection to his appointment as Premier.

Sir Hector Langevin said he had stood by his party for 30 years and he would not be a traitor to the party now. Whatever ambition he may have had he would sink it when it was necessary for the party that they should hang together.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Mills, Tupper, O'Brien, Davies, Cockburn, Edgar, Hazen, Fraser, Kenny, Amyot and others.

Correspondence Between Canada and the United States Brought Down.

OTTAWA, June 22.—Premier Abbott laid before the Senate to-day an additional batch of papers in connection with trade negotiations at Washington. Among the papers is this note from Lord Stanley to Lord Knutsford:

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, OTTAWA, June 22, 1891.

MY LORD,—As I had the honor to inform Your Lordship yesterday by telegram the Prime Minister has expressed his desire to dissolve the present Parliament at once. It was elected in 1887 and the Dominion Government consider that many grave questions such as those of the commercial and other relations between the United States and Canada can be best and most satisfactorily dealt with by a body of representatives who have been in immediate and recent touch with the electorate. Concurring in the views of the Government I have assented to the dissolution, which will take place in a month or six weeks' time. I have, etc.,

(Signed) STANLEY OF PRESTON.

After the elections the Governor General wrote to Sir Julian Pauncefote:

SIR,—As the general elections in the Dominion of Canada are now over and as the Government of Sir John Macdonald has been sustained in power by a substantial majority, I lose no time in addressing you once more upon the subject of reciprocity of trade between the Dominion and the United States. I understand from previous communications that it is the wish of Mr. Blaine, without prejudice to the future appointment of a commission or otherwise, to discuss with yourself and one or more persons delegated by this Government the various questions which might become the subject of reference to a joint commission; that such a conference should be of an official character and that it should afford an opportunity for considering on what points it would be likely that the two Governments could come to an agreement. It was also understood that any date prior to the 4th inst. would not be convenient to Mr. Blaine for such a meeting. The Government of the Dominion would have preferred the appointment of a joint commission, but they desire to defer as far as may be to the wish of the Secretary of State, and I should be glad, therefore, if you will be good enough to ascertain from him a convenient date for the conference. It will also be for Sir John Macdonald himself to determine at Ottawa, but this Government would propose that their views should be represented by Sir John Thompson, Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner; Hon. George Foster and perhaps Hon. Mr. Bowell. These gentlemen will be in full possession of the views of the Dominion Government and will be authorized to discuss any or all of the subjects mentioned in the heads of negotiation laid before Mr. Blaine Dec. 22, and to decide, in concert with yourself, what steps could be taken for the appointment of a joint commission at an early date should they succeed, as I trust they may, in convincing the Government of the United States is probable in some, if not all these questions."

Mr. Blaine's Letter.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, April 1st, 1891.

MY DEAR SIR JULIAN,—I duly received the note which you did me the honor to address to me on March 31. I regret that for many reasons I have been unable to make an earlier response. You told me, if my memory is not in error, that you were instructed by Lord Salisbury to propose the topics to the United States for discussion and if possible for agreement. I inferred that I felt sure that the President would be unwilling to appoint a commission to consider the propositions as they were stated, and furthermore that I should be unwilling to submit them to the President. After some further conversation, in which you repeated that the propositions were merely the basis upon which a discussion might be instituted, I replied that in any event I had not a moment to give to the subject until after the adjournment of Congress in March, but after that date I would be willing to respond to your request "to have a full but private conference with the British Minister and one or more agents from Canada and go over every point of difference and consider every subject upon which a mutual interest could be founded. If an agreement is reached all well, if not, no official mention is to be made of the effort. Above all things it is important to avoid public reference to the matter. This the President will insist upon."

While no notes were exchanged between us I carefully minuted my modification of the paper you left with me containing Lord Salisbury's propositions, and did so immediately after you left the department. You will observe the private character I wished to impart to the conference is recognised by you a month later in your note of Jan. 27, when you called the correspondence confidential.

In view of the fact that you had come to the State Department with the proposals and that the subject was then for the first time mentioned between us, and in view of the further fact that I agreed to a private conference, as explained in my minutes, I confess that it was a surprise to me when several weeks later, during the Canadian canvass, Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper both stated before public assemblages that an informal discussion of a reciprocity treaty would take place at Washington after March 4 by the invitation of the Secretary of State. I detail these facts because I deem it important, since the matter has been for some weeks open to public remark, to have it settled that the conference was not initiated by me, but on the contrary that the private arrangement of which I spoke was but a modification of your proposal, and in no sense an original suggestion from the Government of the United States.

I have, etc.,
(Signed) J. G. BLAINE.

TWO BALLOON ACCIDENTS.

One Cost Four Lives, the Other Lively While it Lasted.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 22.—A large balloon belonging to Count Aprakine was being inflated when it escaped from the people who were holding it to the ground and carried upward four workmen who were in the car. The balloon rose rapidly to a great height and then burst. The bodies of the four unlucky workmen after the explosion fell to the ground and were smashed almost beyond recognition.

PARIS, June 22.—An enormous throng gathered in the Bois de Colombes to witness a balloon ascension. The balloon had just risen to a level with the tops of the house when a squall capsized it and dashed it against a chimney. The balloon was torn open, and Gauthier, a professional aeronaut, and an amateur companion were seriously injured.

LONDON, June 23.—A despatch from Calcutta states that war is threatening in Asia between the French and Siamese. The Annamites, who are tributary to France, have already come to blows with Siamese troops on the banks of the Mekong and Siamese are engaged in ravaging the territory claimed by the French to be within their jurisdiction. Nothing has been heard of M. Pavie, a French officer who, with a party of associates, was engaged in adjusting the boundary line and strong apprehension is felt that he may have fallen a victim to Siamese hostility.

BACCARAT AFTERMATH.

Lord and Lady Brooke Parade Their Devotion.

LONDON, June 22.—The aftermath of the baccarat scandal has filled the town with numerous shadowy rumors concerning prominent people, including the report that Lord Brooke was suing for divorce. In order to give this rumor as emphatic a denial as possible Lord and Lady Brooke have been going about everywhere together, apparently on most loving terms. They even put in an appearance at the House of Commons, where they astonished everybody by their affectionate demeanor. They were conspicuous at a state concert on Wednesday, and have announced a large dance at their house next Monday night, when the Prince of Wales will be present.

Monument to the Old Kaiser.

LONDON, June 21.—The models of the great national monument to the late Kaiser William, which is to be erected in Berlin near the old royal palace or schloss, will be exhibited in the royal arsenal, Unter den Linden, in July. The sum collected for a church to be erected in memory of the late Kaiser William amounts to 730,000 marks.

Unhealthful Parliament Buildings.

LONDON, June 21.—The complaints in regard to the unhealthful condition of the Parliament buildings have not subsided, though the immediate cause of them, the influenza, had almost disappeared. It has been decided to appoint an engineer and several medical experts to inquire thoroughly into the state of the legislative halls and to order such changes as may be found necessary. The number of members on the sick list is constantly large, and the £11,000 expended several years ago in an attempt to improve the sanitary condition of the buildings seems to have been without good effect.

A "Weak Invention of the Enemy."

CORK, June 22.—The action for libel brought by Henry Campbell, a member of Parliament, and private secretary to Mr. Parnell, against The Cork Herald, for stating that, while other members of Parliament were attending to their duties, Campbell was hiring houses for immoral purposes for Parnell, was commenced to-day. The suit attracts considerable interest from the fact that subpoenas have been issued for the appearance of Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea. Mr. Campbell testified that the episode which is popularly referred to as the "fire-escape incident" was a myth, otherwise an "invention of the enemy." Mr. Campbell also denied being the author of certain much-discussed letters alleged to have been signed by him.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE BRITISH UNDER-SECRETARY FOR INDIA RESIGNS

Owing to His Chief Having Repudiated His Utterances in the House of Commons—The Education Bill—The Land Bill in the House of Lords—General Foreign News.

LONDON, June 22.—Lord Dunraven gave notice in the House of Lords to-day that he will move the rejection of the Irish Land Bill when it comes up for second reading Thursday next.

In the House of Commons this evening Sir William Hart-Dyke moved the second reading of the Educational bill.

Mr. Bartlett moved to reject the bill on the ground that it was not likely to improve the education of the country. He said that though the House was prepared to amend the present system of education by extending assistance to parents unable to pay the fees they ought not to accept a measure which throws upon general taxation the expense of educating children whose parents are able to pay.

Mr. Bartley scorned the Education Bill as a bribe and predicted that as a bid for a renewal of Tory power it would prove an illusion and a snare. He drew a humorous picture of Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain leaving the Garden of Eden hand in hand after the general election.

The debate was adjourned.

John McNeill (Nationalist), member for South Donegal, moved to adjourn the impending question in order to discuss the destitution which, he said, existed among the poorer class in the County of Donegal, Ireland. Mr. McNeill urged that the distress existing there was most severe, that there were a great number of cases of starvation and that the Government had not given the suffering people any relief.

Mr. Balfour denied Mr. McNeill's statements and produced proof that ample aid had been furnished to the people of Donegal who stood in need of assistance.

Mr. McNeill's motion was rejected, 191 to 116.

Mr. Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, replying to a question put by Henry Peyton Cobb (Radical), said he would consider whether the request for a three years' return of the names, etc., of all non-commissioned officers and privates in the British army who had been punished, or who had been reduced to the ranks for conniving at card playing or gambling, or for taking part in such card playing or gambling, could be granted. Mr. Stanhope added that he did not see the necessity for an order calling the attention of commanding officers to the army regulation in regard to gambling, as he did not believe the regulation had been broken.

In a debate in the House of Commons today on the Manipur rebellion Viscount Cross, Secretary for India, repudiated portions of the statement made by Sir J. E. Gorst in the recent discussion on the subject in the House of Commons.

To-night Sir J. E. Gorst sent a communication to Lord Salisbury, stating that the allusions left him no alternative but to resign his position as Under-Secretary of the India Office.

Lord Salisbury immediately responded, trying to induce him to remain in office.

The Panama Canal.

BERLIN, June 23.—Emperor William, after concluding his visit to England on July 13, intends to sail from Leith, Scotland, to Bergen, Norway, from which port he will go to the Island of Fromsoe, and thence to Skirve to take part in the sport of whale fishing.

Heavy Cattle Losses.

MONTREAL, June 22.—The news was received to-day from the Old Country that a heavy loss of cattle had occurred on board the steamship Ripon City, which left here on June 4 for Liverpool with 378 cattle. The shippers were C. M. Acer, 150 head; R. Craig & Son, 43 head; T. F. Johns, 100 head; J. Eakins, 40 head, and Mr. Wilder, 45 head. Just how many cattle were lost on the voyage is not yet known, the cable reading: "Cattle arrived; heavy mortality, balance landed bruised, owing to insufficient space." The news was telegraphed to Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine, who replied that he was sorry to learn of the facts, but that the instructions given now will prevent their recurrence.

Deepening Ship Channels.

BERLIN, June 21.—Dr. Miquel, Minister of Finance, and Baron Berlepsch will start tomorrow on a trip to Stettin to inquire into the plan of deepening the ship channels which connect Swinemunde and Stettin. It is hoped to make improvements which will permit vessels of the largest draught to load and unload at Stettin, instead of at Swinemunde.

The Great Remedy

which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.
The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	2,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2 968,585.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325 938 25
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473 514 19
Increase over 1889	697,691 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109 222 68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232.175.69
Increase over 1889	75.649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07
" " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " 1890, (four years)	222,175 69

A SURPRISE!
When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement in the evening issue that we were going to sell 50c. Dress Goods for a short time at 25c., they hardly thought it could be so.
However they came they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.
No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.
We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.
Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.
To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1891.

Mr. Tarte and his Critics.

The later instalments of evidence laid before the Committee on Privileges and Elections show scandalous jobbery and corruption in the handling of public contracts. Hence it becomes the business of Conservative journals to denounce Mr. Tarte and his witnesses and all associated in the prosecution of McGreevy and Langevin. These denunciations must also cover Mr. Chapleau, and it is doubtful if Sir Adolphe Caron is innocent of complicity in the movement against the Minister of Public Works. If it be true that Mr. Abbott and Sir John Thompson have surrendered to Mr. Chapleau the concession must be fatal to Sir Hector Langevin aside from the inevitable consequences of this investigation. The two chief spending departments cannot be vested in Ministers from Quebec. The rest of the Dominion must have some voice in the distribution of patronage and the expenditure of public money. This is apparent even to Sir Hector Langevin, and the report is out on pretty sound authority that Sir Hector, who at first was persuaded that there had been no surrender to Mr. Chapleau, is now on strike for substantial guarantees that he will not be sacrificed, and that his degradation shall not be the price of Mr. Chapleau's elevation. The official leader of the Commons on strike against the Government he leads is perhaps the most amazing development in the history of politics. It will be idle to deny that these perils and divisions exist in the Tory party. It is as true that Sir Hector Langevin is on strike as that Mr. Chapleau was on strike. The Tory organs rant of the harmony and unity which exist in the grand old party, while less than a week ago they were catching their breath on the edge of disaster. Then agents of Mr. Chapleau were seeking terms of admission into the Liberal camp. And these negotiations for a coalition did not originate with the Liberal leaders. Mr. Laurier has kept his hands free and his programme intact. He has consented to no surrender of principle in order to conciliate or capture his opponents. But a coalition was sought by negotiators commissioned by men within the very circle of the Cabinet, and the Tory organs will play the part of wisdom if they maintain a judicious silence on this topic.

Nor should they shout so loudly nor blow their wind instruments so triumphantly over the harmony and enthusiasm of the recent caucus. It is the fact that seven of the supporters of Sir John Macdonald could not be persuaded to attend, and that several of these declare that they have withdrawn their support from the Government. The caucus was the first after the surrender to Mr. Chapleau's demand, the first after the old party's submission to the Minister whom the old leader kept in submission, and if there was enthusiasm it was because Mr. Chapleau was graciously pleased that the Queen's Government should still be carried on by his now docile subordinates.

Nor will denunciation of Mr. Tarte and his witnesses ease the distress of the grand old party. It is not enough to say that Mr. Tarte is making his case on stolen correspondence. This is a poor plea for the party which has just run an election campaign on private letters and documents stolen by hired spies and used not to serve any end of justice, but to excite the prejudices of the community for the advantage of party. The courts sanction the use even of stolen correspondence to do the works of justice. It may be legitimate to found an offance and make a prosecution upon a private letter revealing a criminal design, a conspiracy to accomplish a private or public injury, a movement against the life and honor of an individual or the life and honor of a State. But when letters are stolen and paraded on political platforms, and used merely to excite public audiences, it is the best proof that there is no case for law or justice and that the pedlars of the stolen documents dare not go before the courts with their stolen evidence. There is, therefore, a legitimate and an illegitimate use of private letters, and if Mr. Tarte were proceeding upon stolen correspondence he has gone straight to the courts, or at least to a Parliamentary committee with his letters and witnesses. But it is not true that Mr. Tarte is using stolen letters. The documents produced are the property of Owen E. Murphy and Robert H. McGreevy, former members of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., who turned them over to Mr. Tarte, the public documents ordered from the Public Works Department but as yet only produced in part, and the books of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., which the contractors have fought so resolutely to keep out of the hands of the committee. Mr. Tarte has been an active, hard-working, life-long Conservative. The letters he is placing before the committee he laid before Sir John Macdonald and vainly pleaded with the dead Premier to order an inquiry into the methods of the Public Works Department. He sought a seat in Parliament, and was elected mainly by Liberal votes, for the one purpose of unearthing the series of frauds which he had partially exposed in the influential journal he controls. He did not pledge the Liberals of Montmorency that he would desert the Conservative party, but he pledged himself to work with any party that would help in the task of bringing the plunderers to justice. He is showing respect for these pledges and following the line of duty with firmness and dignity. He has been aided and counselled by Mr. Chapleau, but whether in his new role of dictator to the Tory party that remarkable politician will continue his friendly advices or seek to turn the inquiry from its purpose, will not influence Mr. Tarte's action. He has in a pre-eminent degree the firmness and courage which Mr. Chapleau lacks. It may be that some of the witnesses for the prosecution are of singular and perhaps unenviable record, but their testimony is borne out by letters and public documents, they are men whom Mr. McGreevy and Sir Hector Langevin deemed worthy of their confidence, and notwithstanding the astounding facts already brought out, and the more astounding revelations to follow, it is understood the witnesses to be most violently attacked and persistently discredited bold certificates of character from the head of the Public Works Department. The effects of these shocking revelations, the divisions in the cabinet, the strife within the party, may not wholly break the solidity of the Tory Parliamentary body, but the effect on the bye-elections must be deep and wide, for there is rising a public sentiment more sensitive and more wholesome than we have known since the days of the first Pacific Scandal, and which must bring down upon the authors of this greater scandal a not less crushing weight of condemnation—Globe.

THE population of London, according to the census of 1891, is 5,633,330. These figures include the London suburbs, and show the metropolis to contain more people than Ireland by almost a million. An Aquatic Outing.

(From a Correspondent.)

Chemong wharf on Thursday last had an unusual naval appearance. Four vessels gaily dressed in flags and streamers with their officers in their new gilt uniforms made up quite a novel spectacle for the wondering natives. On time the train came in bearing the concentrated wisdom of the Peterborough town and county, then the whistles set up their music, passengers boarded and away the "Sunbeam" steamed out with Captain Eden and Purser Pittiard in charge. After her followed the "Maple Leaf" with Captain Bottom and carrying the Royal Mail bag. After considerable delay getting on board 60 rowers, and deputy rowers, with Engineers Belcher and Rogers, who had left Peterborough town and county to take care of themselves for the day, the Mary Ellen followed in the wake of the others. Their baggage, consisting, not of dry goods, all in charge of Count de Timbuctoo. It was then the belle of the lakes gathered up her snow white skirts and cardinal ribbons and started out in charge of Commodore Scollard and Lieutenant Edward Young. She gave a whistle to notify the big vessel to take the beam out out of her eye and as Joshua commanded the sun to stand still, but the "Sunbeam" made a desperate effort to resist such an order the white feather and black smoke ascended, the lake was driven desperately ahead, but all to no avail. The "Mary Ellen" made her obeisance as she danced past her, then skipping along soon passed the 'Maple Leaf." Bobcaygeon turned out en masse to receive their august visitors. Then she bore on and arrived at Sturgeon Point, where dinner was served and enjoyed in a hearty manner. On the return trip Miss "Mary Ellen" was seen to weep, like Alexander, the Macedonian, because there was nothing more for her to conquer. Her boiler is double rivetted, has stood a pressure of 195 lbs. hydrostatic, and carries 125 lbs. of steam. Her engine turns 200 revolutions to the minute, and she runs at about 15 knots an hour. Of course old reliable at the throttle, mindful of the value of the freight, did not run her too hard, nor was it required, for the saloon was now the scene of municipal debates, venerable solons discussing the prospects of the Trent Valley Canal and other weighty matters.

We hope to hear from others of the points debated upon. All finished in a pleasant manner. With three cheers for the "Mary Ellen," her owner and crew, the iron horse conveyed the fathers back in safety to the inland city after a pleasant aquatic excursion.

How to Get a Handsome Husband.

"When'er some lucky Indian maiden
Found a red ear in the husking,
'Muska!' cried they all together:
'Muska! you shall have a sweetheart—
You shall have a handsome husband."

The handsome man always admires the beautiful woman. Then simply make yourself beautiful. Remove all blotches, pimples, "forked signs of turkey tracks" from your features, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a tonic to the nervous, circulatory and procreative systems. Its use brings roses to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes. Take it, and you will, like the Indian maiden, find a "red ear" in good health, an omen of future happiness. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded. b

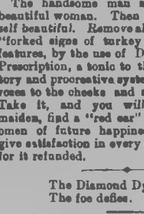
The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.



"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

How Long Should we Live?

Theophrastus thought it extremely hard to die at 90 and to go out of the world just when he had learned to live in it; and Aristotle found fault with nature for treating man in this respect worse than other animals. Many persons of the present age have a desire to prolong their existence, and yet they allow the common ills of life, such as dyspepsia, sour stomach, sick headache, constipation, etc., to wear them out, without resorting to the unfailing remedy, Beecham's Pills. To be had from your druggist, or B. F. Allen Co, 365 and 367 Canal street, New York. Price 25 cents a box. w26d

THE 1ST. OCEAN STEAMER

SHE WAS BUILT IN QUEBEC AND BECAME THE PROPERTY OF SPAIN.

The First Vessel to Cross the Atlantic Propelled Wholly by Steam—She was the First Steam Vessel Used for Purposes of War.

One of the most interesting features of the royal exhibition at London this year is the model of the steamship Royal William, which was built in 1837. This model has been recently unearthed by the literary and Historical Society of Quebec, where the steamship was built, and forwarded by them to the secretary of the naval committee, Capt. Jephson, Royal Navy, London. As the royal exhibition is under the special patronage of the queen and the Prince of Wales and was arranged by the admiralty for the purpose of giving a complete historical collection of all objects connected with navigation, the model of the Royal William is entitled to a prominent place in the exhibition. The old shipwright is still living, and it would be a gracious act of the sovereign of England to remember him in his old age by some substantial approval of his service, when such service was a boon to mankind. The historical value of the Royal William entitles him to this appreciation.

The Royal William, being transferred to the Spanish navy, was rechristened "Ysabel Segunda," and was rebuilt as an iron-clad, and enjoyed the memorable distinction of being the first steamship ever employed as a man-of-war. The Ysabel Segunda was also the first steamship in any service under fire. She was heavily timbered in her construction with oak and red pine, being built especially for ocean traffic, and was the first one of her class to cross the Atlantic.

James Goudie laid the keel of the Royal William in the shipyard of Campbell & Black, in the City of Quebec, in 1830, and completed it the following year. She was given her masculine name in honor of the sailor king who then reigned in England. She was intended to run as a packet ship between Halifax, N. S., and Quebec, and was made a marvel of strength in order to encounter the ice of the St. Lawrence. When too late for navigation between these two provinces she was to make voyages to the West Indies.

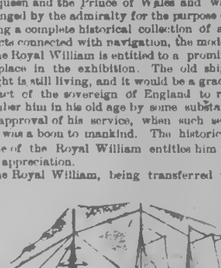
Mr. Goudie was, however, much disappointed at not making his enterprise pay financially. The season of cholera caused business to be suspended in the year after the steamship was built, and she was finally laid up, a dead loss, on his hands.

In August, 1833, the Royal William was sent to London, Eng., to be sold. She was twenty-five days making the trip, which was recorded as exceedingly prosperous. She was sold there to the Spanish Government for £10,000 sterling. The cost of building was £10,000, Halifax currency. Her table of dimensions is as follows:

Length of deck	160 feet
Length of keel	150 "
Extreme breadth	47 "
Depth of hold	19 "
Rake of post	2 "
Rake of stern	13 "
Draught of water	14 "
Burden	1,645 tons

There is one remarkable feature in connection with the building of the first steamship which commends itself to the notice of shipbuilders of to-day. The curved lines abaft the paddle-boxes, as seen in the engraving, show that she was provided with cavities on either side for the protection of her wheels. This was an entirely new and apparently unnecessary precaution at that time. Quite recently the value of this precaution has been demonstrated by a patent.

By placing a number of propellers in these cavities the speed of a vessel can be manifestly increased. It is claimed that two propellers near the bow, instead of one large one near the stern, will enable the vessel to be managed with speed and dexterity. It is a fact that when the Royal William entered the Spanish navy in 1833 she was fitted with a mode of propulsion which is now considered one of the modern improvements in the magnificent merchant steamer. If James Goudie did not originate the plan shown in his model, he developed it first in point of manufacture.



JAMES GOUDIE.

James Goudie is of Scotch descent. He was born in Quebec, where he laid the keel and superintended the building of the first ocean steamer, and had just attained his majority when he engaged in this great work. That was sixty years ago. Mr. Goudie is still living, and in a letter says:

"I am getting pretty old now, but I try to keep active. I am just ten days older than Mr. Gladstone, the wood-chopper, and I think his ideas are good, and I have followed them. When he dies I shall look out."

Mr. Goudie, although born an alien, has become an American citizen, and is now living in Cook County, Ill., which has been his home for many years. He was educated in England, and made a thorough study of naval architecture at Yarmouth and Greenock. It was rather singular that when the merchants of Quebec were looking for an architect for their new venture, the young shipwright recommended to them should prove to be their own townsman. He at once sailed for America and made his plans, which were accepted, and he was given full control of the work, which he completed to the entire satisfaction of his employers.

Some readers of this paper may advance the hypothesis that steamers were not unknown in America when the Royal William was built. A summary of facts would result in these statements: A small river steamer named the Phœnix had made a trip on the Hudson, going round by sea to Delaware in 1807. She was smuggled out and in the river at New York, as it was violating a local marine law to operate her in water monopolized by Fulton and those interested with him. There was also a full rigged, regular built sailing vessel, the Savannah, which was supplied with a donkey engine and side wheels, which could be taken in when the weather was stormy. This was in 1819. The steamer was named after Savannah, Ga., and made a trip from that point to Russia, by England. On her return trip she made the passage from St. Petersburg to New York in twenty-six days. But neither of these boats was an ocean steamer, or built for that purpose. The Sirius and her consort, the Great Western, created a furore in 1838 by arriving the same day in New York, the first sailing from Cork April 4, the latter from Bristol April 8. The Sirius entered the harbor of New York in the morning, the Great Western in the afternoon.

The Sirius was a 700-tonner, 320 horse power; her consort a 1,340-tonner, 450 horse power. These were all side-wheelers. The Great Eastern was also a side-wheeler. The Royal William still maintains the supremacy of being the first ocean steamer, being the first vessel to cross the Atlantic propelled wholly by steam. She was more than 900 tons greater burden than any of those she preceded, in her ocean trip, by half a dozen years.—Detroit Free Press.

The Open Window.

At last the spring-time shrinks away,
And summer breezes fan the street;
Warmth is in the lingering day,
And wandering zephyrs zephyrs meet.
They lift it up—how sweet is that,
It's free for humming bird or bat,
The open window.

Before the open window, she
Is standing in her faded dress;
Her face is fair as fair can be,
Her cheek the loving breezes press.
The widow's open there—she sfinds
A rosebud twirling in her hands,
At the open window.

The open window marks the time
When summer comes to this our land:
When bees and birds make laugh and rhyme
And grass grows thick on every hand,
I love to see the open space
Where shines my lady's gracious face,
The open window.

NAPOLEON AND BISMARCK.

An Interesting Account of a Remarkable Interview.

Hardly had Prince Napoleon been laid to rest in the royal mausoleum at La Superga, near Turin, than the Marquis of Villeneuve, a relative and friend of the deceased, published in the Figaro a very remarkable story of Prince Napoleon's interview with Prince Bismarck, immediately before the Austro-Prussian war of 1866. The Marquis says that Prince Napoleon was sent by the Emperor to discuss the situation and to ascertain what Bismarck was driving at.

The Prussian seems to have entered into the spirit of the occasion, and "in twenty minutes, with great spirit, M. de Bismark set forth the following plan: 'Germany to achieve her unity and ally herself with France. The two nations, closely bound together, to drive Russia back to her Steppes, to make Hungary the pivot of the Austrian Empire and open to it free access to Constantinople; to deprive England of her colonies and make them the receptacle for the overflowing population of Germany and France; and to reduce Spain, Italy, and the Scandinavian countries to the rank of mere satellites.'"

To tempt France, Bismark suggested first Geneva, then Luxemburg, and finally, when Napoleon asked for the Rhine, offered Belgium. "What about England?" said Napoleon.

"Count Bismark.—'England! Well, if I was an American cotton planter, or an Indian Rajah, what the English might think I should be bound to take into very serious account. But I am a great Continental Power, and simply ignore England. What can she do? She may be be able to send out eighty thousand, one hundred thousand, say, at the outside, one hundred and fifty thousand men: she cannot possibly mobilize a greater number. Are we not strong enough, you and we together, to drive them into the Channel?'

Prince Napoleon's reply to this edifying observation was to say that he should sum up their conversation to the Emperor as follows: "M. de Bismarck has proposed to us a burglary on a very large scale. As we cannot hand him over to the police, let us join him and share the plunder." Bismarck laughed loudly, and shook hands, saying: "You, at all events, do understand me." Bismarck certainly understood his visitor.—Review of Reviews.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an Independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the NERVOUS and MUSCULAR SYSTEMS.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Stony Lake.

A maze of isles in wondrous beauty planned, A thousand times the water leaves a strand, Unnumbered channels seeming end the way, Till, trying all, the parting waters stray To murmur softly at each lovely shore. That smiling bars the path, have lost before.

Just north of Peterborough there is situated a most beautiful chain of lakes which go by the names of Buckhorn, Pigeon, Chemong, Stony, Clear and Katchawanaka, but of all this number there is none to equal in enchanting beauty and picturesque scenery, the principal of this popular and important waterway—Stony Lake. It is dotted from one end to the other with islands of every size and form; some of them immense boulders, bare and bald, with rugged precipitous shores, others covered most luxuriantly with verdure and foliage bending to the water's edge. Enclosing these uncounted islets, channels wander in every direction, some expansive and glittering, others contracted, still, deep and shadowy, forming favorite haunts for great black bass and huge maskinonge. The charms peculiar to Stony Lake is that in the heart of the wilderness, its idyllic beauty is still largely unimpaired, and there is an invigoration from the bracing effects of its ozone laden air, which is peculiar to itself. Truly it has been said: "A fairer spot cannot be found."

"From the phalanxes of pine
Sweeps a healing breath divine,
Bearing health with pleasure blent
To the weary and the spent."

Let everyone attend the excursion to this beautiful lake on July 1st. Train leaves G. T. R. station at 8.45 a.m. Accommodation excellent, no overcrowding, as the number of tickets is limited. Hot water and tea provided. Lunch can be procured on board the "Golden City." Canoes to be arranged for with the Committee, on or before June 24th. Return fare 80c. Tickets to be procured at Metropolitan Grocery, McClelland's jewelry store, Mercer's gent's furnishing establishment, Fairweather's hat store, O. C. Rowse's, and office of Central Canada Loan and Savings Co'y.

How well we remember grandmother's attic, so fragrant with medicinal roots and herbs! Poor old soul, how precious they seemed to her! And yet one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would do more good than her whole collection of "yarbs."

Stenson's Electric Age Shoe.

These shoes can be procured in Peterborough at Mr. J. T. Stenson's George street. The great sanitary value of these shoes, which wear as well as any other shoe and cost no more, is shown by the following sworn statement of the patentee, as follows:

PITTSBURG, June 25, 1890.

On January 1st, 1890, under the direction of several of our most prominent physicians, we distributed one hundred pairs Electric Age Shoes to afflicted persons, as experiments. The results from these experiments and orders from our salesmen have taxed our utmost capacity, as the appended statement and affidavit will show. From May 1st, 1890, up to the time of writing this article (June 25th), Forty-Seven Thousand Two Hundred and Seventy-Three pairs of the Electric Age Shoes have been sold in this local vicinity There is no business record on the face of the earth that will show a parallel success to this.

ALLEGHENY, ss.

Before me, an alderman, in and for said County, personally appeared A. I. Scott, who being duly sworn, says: That from May 1st, 1890, to June 26th, 1890 46,273 of the Electric Age Shoes were sold by the firm of A. I. Scott & Co.

Grand Lodge Good Templars.

Annual Session—Meeting in Foresters' Hall—Delegates Present—Work of the Morning Session.

The Independent Order of Good Templars, who are meeting in Grand Lodge session in the Foresters' hall to-day, date their origin to the State of New York, where, in 1851, the first lodge was organized. The character of the organization quickly impressed itself upon the people of other parts of the United States, extending to our own Dominion, so that by 1869 the membership had reached nearly 100,000. By 1874 such wonderful progress had been made that the membership was 210,555, with 3,983 lodges scattered throughout the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, New Zealand, Australia, Sweden, Norway, Germany, France, and even benighted Africa. At the meeting of the R. W. G. L. of the world, which convened in Edinburgh, Scotland, in May last, the reports showed the total number of lodges to be 13,000 and the membership 600,000. At the head of the Order to-day is Dr. Oronhyatekra, of Toronto, who, at the Edinburgh session, was elected R. W. G. T., the highest gift the Order can bestow on any member.

OFFICERS' REPORT.

The G. C. T. after welcoming the members, reported a decrease of membership in some sections, while others show a considerable increase. The effects of two elections, the Provincial and Dominion had a detrimental effect on the work of the order, interfering with the arrangements for field work. During the year the G. C. T. devoted a considerable amount of time entirely to the interests of the order, travelling over 6,000 miles, addressing 35 public meetings, 7 district lodge sessions, 15 court conventions, besides 200 lodges and juvenile temples.

He reported that Bro. E. Dawson had done good work for the order in Muskoka, Nipissing, Algoma, and Parry Sound. He also did work in Simcoe, Bruce, and Elgin. His record shows over 400 new members in 19 lodges.

Bro. M. Dowd did good service in Bruce, Simcoe, Victoria and Peterborough counties.

Bro. S. B. Eyre, Sturgeon Falls, Rev. Mr. Snowdon, Perth Road; Rev. Jas. Lochore, Copper Cliff, have each done good service for the Order in their several localities, also J. P. B. Snell, and J. H. Johnson, G.M., Huntsville.

He reported that the Grand Lodge paid the expenses of several speakers at the Muskoka camp meeting. The meetings were somewhat late in the season, but on the whole were very satisfactory, and have been production of much good in the district. Wm. W. L. Scott, G.S.J.T., Rev. W. L. Scott, F. S. Spence and the G. C. T. represented the Grand Lodge.

On suspended district lodges, the G. C. T. reported in favor of District No. 16, Hamilton. The fact that this district shows the second best record in the province justifies the arrangement we made, and from the record they have made in the face of difficulties that no other district has to contend with, and from the earnest and aggressive work I find in this district, I would earnestly recommend this Grand Lodge session to restore them their old territory, and to confirm the action of your executive in restoring to them the full rights and privileges of a district lodge.

The G. C. T. reported in favor of a Good Templars Insurance as a matter of the utmost importance to us as an order.

He also reported in favor of a Good Templar official organ.

The following decisions on points of law, was rendered by the G. C. T. during the year:

1 If a C. T. resigns his office, should he keep the chair and call for nominations? No.

11 Does a member who takes a cigar or a glass of lemonade over the bar violate the obligation? Yes.

The Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Temples, Mrs. W. L. Scott, reported 52 Juvenile Temples, with a membership of 2,857, besides 161 members of subordinate lodges. 78 juvenile members had formed subordinate lodges.

The following work has been done:—Addressed 30 public meetings, made 30 visits to Juvenile Temples outside of Toronto, 27 Subordinate Lodges visited outside of Toronto, 60 visits to Juvenile Temples in the city of Toronto, 40 visits to Subordinate Lodges in the city of Toronto. This in addition to regular attendance upon my own Temple and Lodge. Have also written over 500 letters on juvenile work, and given the pledge to more than 150 adult members, organized 5 Juvenile Temples and reorganized one.

The Grand Secretary, Thos. Lawless, reported 5,825 initiated, 186 admitted by card and 367 reinstated, making a total of 6386, while losses from suspension, withdrawals, etc., amounted to 7221, showing the present membership to be 11,682 in the province, with a total of 306 lodges.

The Grand Treasurer, A. Barrett, reported receipts $4,837.07, and the expenditure $4,632.07, while the assets of the Grand Lodge over liabilities shows a balance of $655.56.

A SQUARE ISSUE.

The following resolution was moved by Mr. F. S. Spence, of Toronto, seconded by Rev. W. L. Scott:—

"To Hon. Peter White, Speaker House of Commons, of Ottawa: Kindly lay before House of Commons this memorial:—Grand Lodge of Good Templars in session here assembled, representing twelve thousand citizens of Ontario, earnestly urge the House of Commons to oppose every attempt to evade the straight issue stated in the resolution introduced by members for Lanark and Gaspahoe and to vote for immediate total prohibition of Canada's curse, the traffic in intoxicating beverages."

Mr. SPENCE in introducing the memorial said that the prohibition movement was in a better position in the House of Commons to day than ever before. We were making substantial progress, and at the heart of the Government, in the person of its new Premier, is one, whom we have every reason to believe, is a thorough going prohibitionist.

THE LITTLE ONES.

On motion of Mr. J. T. Dyson, it was resolved that two hours of the session this afternoon be given to a discussion of juvenile work with special reference to the following: (a) How to interest our subordinate lodges in this work; (b) What is the best method of conducting entertainments in juvenile temples; (c) What is the best method of teaching the catechism?

The Y. M. C. A. forwarded a letter to the Grand Lodge, welcoming them to the town, and expressive of their warm interest in the work of temperance.

The Grand Lodge adjourned at noon to meet again at 2 p.m.

Medals for Musical Merit.

Distribution of Medals at the Convent Congregation de Notre Dame—The Donors and the Winners—Handsome Rewards of Prudent Pupils.

Last night a very interesting ceremony took place in one of the parlours of the Convent. It was the distribution of medals to the proficient pupils and marked the close of the term in a very pleasant manner. The ceremony was private, only the donors of the medals, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, the clergy and a few of the past medallists of the Convent having been invited. Rev. Father Dube was detained by other duties from being present. Mr. J. E. Belcher, C.E., also sent his regrets at his inability to be on hand to present the medal donated by him to the winner of it. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was present, and Rev. Fathers Whibbs and Scollard, and Mayor Stevenson, and Misses Stratton, Leplante and Fairweather, previous medallists in music.

The formality of the distribution of the medals was preluded with a choice programme of music furnished by the medalists and others of the music pupils of the convent.

The little programme opened with the entree duet, played on two pianos by Misses M. Morrow, M. Kelly, I. Mahony, and A. Sherwood.

This was followed by a very pleasing song and chorus, "Golden Years," sung by the class in vocal music, Misses Lily and Daisy Jackson, Jennie Riley, Mary Lynch, Katie McNamara, Katie Mahoney, and Annie O'Neil. Miss Ludowiska Leplante contributed a very finely pianoforte solo, "L'Allmand," "Partant pour la Syrie," and "God Save the Queen."

This was followed by an admirably rendered pianoforte solo, performed in unison, by Misses Edith Hall and Maggie McCabe.

Miss Cahill then advanced and read with very pleasing elocutionary effect the explanatory argument of a descriptive fantasia for the pianoforte to be performed by Miss Howden, the gold medallist—"Across the Ocean." The selection bristles with difficulties of technique, but these were admirably overcome by Miss Howden, who showed a brilliant and vigorous and withal a delicate touch.

Then came a vocal quartette, "Drifting with the Tide," in which the solos were taken by Miss Emma Howden and Miss Maggie McCabe.

The distribution of the medals, the feature of the evening, took place next. The gold medal, given by Mr. Stevenson, M. P., and awarded to Miss Emma Howden, was presented by that gentleman in a neat little speech.

There were three silver medals, provided by His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, Rev. Father Dube, and Mr. J. E. Belcher, C.E. These were awarded to Miss L. Leplante, Miss Edith Hall and Miss Maggie McCabe, His Lordship making the presentation of his own medal as well as that of the others, in the absence of Rev. Father Dube and Mr. Belcher, accompanying the presentation in each case with a pleasant complimentary remark.

Miss Howden read an address, thanking the donors of the medals in graceful terms for the interest they had shown in, and encouragement they had extended, to the study of music. His Lordship replied in a few brief words of thanks for the pleasant sentiments the address contained, highly extolling both the talent and industry of the pupils, and the excellent musical instruction imparted by the convent.

Thus pleasantly closed the musical term at the convent, Sister St. Aubert leaving to-day by the midday express for a fortnight or three weeks stay in Montreal.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 26 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 E. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

Legal Cases.

The Cavan Drainage By-law—The Grand Trunk vs. Fitzgerald.

The telegram received yesterday was confirmed by later news that the drainage by-law of the township of Cavan had been quashed. The matter came before Mr. Justice Street at Osgoode Hall and lasted only a short time. Without much argument by counsel, the judge intimated that he was clearly of opinion that the by-law was bad, and accordingly quashed it, with costs. Mr. Ferguson, reeve of the township, was present throughout the argument. E. B. Edwards for the relator; A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., for the respondents.

The Supreme Court at Ottawa yesterday gave judgment in the appeal of the Grand Trunk Railway Company versus Fitzgerald. This is a long standing suit, and was originally brought by Mr. James W. Fitzgerald against the Midland and the Grand Trunk Railways in 1886 to recover damages against these companies for obstructing Mr. Fitzgerald's access to his lands, lying north of Smith streets and west of Benson street, by raising an embankment for the construction of a road-bed. Mr. Justice Robertson, before whom the case was tried at Peterborough, gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff, and referred the question of damages to be ascertained by the Local Master here, with full costs of suit to the plaintiff, as well as the costs of the reference. From this judgment an appeal was made in the Divisional Court, where it was held that the Grand Trunk Railway company had done the work complained of but released the Midland company from all liability. For the third time the case was carried to another court, that of the Court of Appeal, where it was again decided that the Grand Trunk Railway company were in the wrong. Determined to fight to the end, the case was further appealed to the Supreme Court at Ottawa, with the result that the appeal of the Grand Trunk Railway company had been dismissed with costs. As the case cannot be taken to a higher court this will end the legal fight, and there only remains the question of damages now to be fixed. Blake, Lash & Cassells for the appellants, E. B. Edwards for the respondent.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLAN'S, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A farm, from the hair to the neck on both sides, of a mass of bleeding sores; two limbs eaten and mutilated in the same manner; a body around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely nothing but a mass of blood. Such is the sight that met the eyes of Dr. H. A. Street to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost discouraged. Every night I had to bathe her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Parkmer said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and these seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have worked a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woodover, druggist.

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

THE DUTY ON RAW SUGAR REMOVED.

Refined Also Cut Down About One-Half—The Three and a Half Million Deficit to be Made Up by Increased Duties on Malt, Spirits and Tobacco.

OTTAWA, June 23.—Mr. Foster made his Budget Speech this afternoon. After reviewing the general condition of the country he said he had the pleasure of announcing a surplus of $2,186,000. The only tariff change was one which met with general acceptance from both sides of the House. Three and one half millions of taxes were taken off sugar and the deficit made up by increased taxation on malt, spirits and tobacco. Mr. Foster said the business of the past year had not been so good as expected, but the prospects for the coming year were of the brightest. There had been the gratifying increase of $11,000,000 in the trade with Great Britain over 1889. On the whole, the home trade was in a healthy condition. Interprovincial trade was steadily increasing, mining activity had increased and the good results of the iron bounties were seen in increased production in some districts. Immigration was not so heavy as could be wished but was of a satisfactory class. Our credit abroad stood as high as in previous years. Our securities stood better than those of the sister colonies. We were a happy, progressive, right-minded people with hopeful regard for the future and full of progress at the present. Two steamship lines were well established with the West Indies. The Pacific steamers had begun their trade. They had endeavored to establish a fast Atlantic service and had entered into a provisional agreement. This, however, fell through owing to the disorganization of the money market and the death of the controlling genius, Bryce Douglass.

The McKinley Bill had been looked upon with apprehension by many business interests. So far as he could see the people of Canada and its different industrial interests had stood the strain well and were far less harmed than had been anticipated. In one respect it was an advantage rather than otherwise, because it threw Canadians on their own mettle and energy. Shortly after the passage of the McKinley bill he had sent a man to the Old Country to investigate the possibilities of the egg trade. The result was that an unlimited market for eggs was found with a continually progressive demand. What was true regarding eggs could be found true of other products.

Trade With the United States.

The answer this country received this year from the United States regarding trade was different from any answer received since 1866. Under the invitation of Secretary of State Blaine, delegates from Canada went to Washington to have an informal conference and talk over the conditions and possibilities of trade. At the desire and at the expressed wish of the United States Cabinet the President of the United States asked for the postponement of the informal conference and to meet at a formal conference in Washington. This was the first intimation for a long series of years that the United States was willing to come to a fair trade arrangement. This Government holds itself ready to meet the United States in a fair and equitable position, and with a serious desire to remove causes of friction and to give whatever free trade is compatible with the interests of each country. More than that no self respecting government should be asked to do. He was unwilling to go so far as to shut out trade with Britain. He was not willing for the sake of present advantages to forego the advantages arising from a long connection with the Mother Country. He was willing to enter into trade relations with the United States so far as consistent with the best interests of each country and consistent with us remaining a part of the Empire—no further. He did not despair that after the conference in October trade relations would be found to be on a better footing.

Savings Bank Deposits

During the year 1889-90 there was a net reduction of two millions in the deposits in the Government savings banks. This was not a loss to the country but merely a transferral to the banks. The total savings in 1889 were $176,600,000; in 1890, $176,750,000, and in 1891, $190,500,000. This was therefore a local increase in savings deposits this year over 1889 of $16,000,000, which was largely due to the fact that the banks, especially the Bank of Montreal, had established savings banks. It was necessary to resort to temporary loans to meet the withdrawals. These were £400,000 in June, 1890, at 4 per cent. for 12 months, and £600,000 in December, 1890, at 4½ per cent. for 6 months.

Revenue and Expenditure.

Mr. Foster then presented his statement of revenue and expenditure, actual and estimated. In 1889-90 the actual expenditure was $35,094,031; revenue, $39,879,925; surplus, $3,868,894. Capital expenditure $5,731,434; net debt, $237,533,211. The addition to debt was $3,170,000, against $2,998,686 in 1889 and $7,216,858 in 1888. The net rate of interest was 2.99 per cent against 3.07 and 3.12 the years before. The average interest for capital of the national debt was $1.05, against $1.74 and $1.79 in the years before. The estimated revenue for the year ending June 30, 1891, was $39,200,000; received up to June 20, 1891, $36,602,357, revised estimate, $38,330,000. The decrease will probably be $850,000. The estimated expenditures for 1891 are: Expenditure to June 20, 1891, $30,349,329; add expenditure from June 20 to June 30, 1890, $5,619,497, and probable extraordinary expenditure over the ten-day period in 1891, $345,000. The total probable expenditure for 1890-91 is $36,313,787. The surplus for 1890-91 will probably be $2,136,343. The capital expenditure will be $2,200,000.

With regard to the revenue for 1891-92 Mr. Foster said certain tariff changes would affect it, but as near as he could estimate it would be $37,500,000.

The Tariff Changes.

Mr. Foster dealt last with the most interesting part of his subject, the tariff changes. A considerable number of changes had been pressed upon him, but last year there was an extended revision of the tariff. The present session would probably be short and hot and there were important commercial negotiations with the United States. For these reasons the Government decided to make no general revision this year. A change, however, would be made regarding one article—sugar. The course of the sugar industry in this country had been remarkable and separated clearly both political parties. In 1878 there were imported 109,000,000 pounds, worth $6,186,000 to the outside world, on which the duty was $2,595,000, or 41 per cent. The cost was 5.65 cents a pound and the duty 2.37 cents a pound. But only 6 per cent. of this was raw, the rest was refined in other countries. There was therefore a comparatively small consumption, a high price, a high duty and a lack of sugar industries in this country. Next year a change was made. In 1880 there were 116,000,000 pounds imported, worth $4,000,000, duty $2,000,000 price 3.35 cents a pound, duty 1.73 cents a pound. But 68 per cent. was raw and refined in this country. Only 32 per cent. of refined was imported. In 1889 there were imported 223,841,171 pounds, worth $5,800,000 to the outside world, price 2.42 cents a pound, duty 1.58 cents a pound. Only 7 per cent. of the importation was refined, 93 per cent. was raw and refined in this country. The result of the Conservative policy therefore was that a decreased burden was paid the outside world, the sugar was cheaper, the duty was lower and the industry was established in our own country. Last year 238,400,000 pounds were consumed on which the duty was $6,675,724. If sugar was placed on the free list this serious loss of revenue must be faced. The duty collected on sugar for the past three years averaged three and a half millions per year. The Government has decided under two conditions to sweep away at a stroke of the pen three millions and a half of taxes. [Loud cheers.]

Sir Richard Cartwright: "Let us hear your conditions."

Mr. Foster said the conditions were greater economy in public expenditure and compensating duties to a certain extent. They would ask an additional cent a pound on malt, which would add three cents to the value of every gamon of beer and result in an increase of $500,000 to the revenue on last year's consumption. They would add 20 cents a gamon to the duty on distilled spirits, which would add $500,000 to the revenue. They would increase the excise and import duty on tobacco and raise an additional $400,000. These changes would increase the revenue by $1,500,000. The remainder of the deficit would be met by economy in public works.

Mr. Foster then presented to the House the resolutions containing the tariff changes, which come into force June 24. He added a few explanations. The duty on salt, which was 10 and 15 cents per 100 pounds, was reduced one-half because combines had formed under the excessive protection. During the past few years a great change had taken place in the sugar industry. At the present time 65 per cent. of the world's consumption was beet root sugar. Spasmodic attempts had been made to introduce it into Canada, but so far unsuccessful. He was not there to say he believed in the introduction of the bounty system to make beet root sugar a success. But one or two factories were already established in Quebec and it appeared a hardship to take off all the protection they now enjoyed. The Government therefore recommended that for one year, but no longer, a bounty should be paid beet root sugar equal to the protection it now has. He declared emphatically that he was not thereby committing himself to the principle of the bounty system. It was for this season only.

Resolved—That it is expedient to provide that the foregoing resolutions and the alterations thereby made in the duties of customs on the articles therein mentioned shall take effect on and after the 24th day of June, 1891.

Provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as exempting any sugars now held to be in bond for refining purposes in any bonded premises connected with or occupied in whole or in part by any sugar refiner which may be found on examination of the stock in such premises to have been removed therefrom, from payment of the duty properly payable thereon under item 419 in schedule A to the Act chapter 33, Revised Statutes, which shall continue in force as regards such sugar until proper entry thereof and payment of duty thereon has been made.

AN AMENDMENT.

Sir Richard Cartwright's Exhaustive Reply to Foster.

Sir Richard Cartwright spoke for over three hours. He said it would strike the House as curious that after the declaration of the Government that it intended to follow its own path irrespective of any United States legislation by far its most important fiscal act was done in obedience to and at the dictation of the United States Government. Why was the duty on raw sugar abolished? Because the United States Government enacted similar legislation about a year ago. After a general condemnation of the extravagance of the Government, he moved in amendment to Mr. Foster's motion to go into committee to consider the resolution:

That the Speaker do not leave the chair, but that it be resolved that the Government should forthwith reduce all duties on articles of prime necessity, and more particularly on those most generally consumed by artisans, fishermen, miners and farmers, and further that the negotiations which the House has been informed are to be opened in Washington in October should be conducted on the basis of the most extended reciprocal trade between Canada and the United States in manufactured as well as natural products.

Sir Richard withdrew his amendment temporarily to allow the passage of the resolutions in order to facilitate public business. The resolutions were then passed pro forma. Sir Richard's amendment will be discussed on Thursday.

TARTE INVESTIGATION.

ANOTHER BATCH OF WITNESSES BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

An Exciting Incident During the Examination of Mr. Larkin—A Letter That Must be Produced in Order that the Members of the Committee May Judge of its Relevancy.

OTTAWA, June 23.—The Tarte-McGreevy investigation was continued before the Privileges and Elections Committee. The first witness called was Mr. Gobeil, Deputy Minister of Public Works. Examined by Mr. Geoffrion, this witness testified that the drawback or deposit of $50,000 on the Esquimalt harbor was reduced to $30,000. Mr. Gobeil occupied some time in examining the correspondence between Mr. Perley, the chief engineer of the department, and Mr. Trutch, the Dominion Government agent at Victoria. A telegram of April 20, 1885, from Mr. Perley to Mr. Trutch, was to inform the latter that since alterations had been made from the original contract by the contractors, Larkin, Connolly & Co., no extra would be allowed by the Government. Again on April 30 Mr. Perley wrote to Mr. Trutch, asking him whether he had received his telegrams, and informing him that the contractors were complaining of the enforcement of the terms of the contract. Again a similar letter went to Mr. Trutch informing him that the contractors were pressing for money and he (Mr. Perley) asked for particulars as to the progress of the work. On May 9, 1885, Mr. Perley wrote to Mr. Trutch, saying that he had informed Mr. Connolly that he would sanction no changes without the consent of the Government agent. To him (Perley) the changes were unobjectionable, but he could not act on his own authority. On May 4 a telegram and a letter were sent to Mr. Trutch from Mr. Perley, allowing the contractors to use larger stones according to the estimate of Mr. Hume.

Mr. Geoffrion: Who is Mr. Hume?

Mr. Gobeil: According to common report he is the private engineer of Larkin, Connolly & Co.

A lengthy letter from Mr. Trutch to Mr. Perley, dated May 11, 1885, was then read. It stated that, in reference to the alterations proposed by the contractors, no discretionary powers were given to Mr. Bennett, the resident engineer, but that he (Mr. Trutch) had the sole responsibility. Seven days later Mr. Trutch wrote Mr. Perley, stating that Mr. Bennett placed before him certain plans showing changes in the contract. He was also apprised by Mr. Perley that these changes were sanctioned by the department, but that no extra charge would be allowed, and particularly no extras would be allowed for the substitution of large for smaller stones.

Mr. Geoffrion instructed the witness to search for these plans made by Bennett, showing change in the contract, and also to produce if possible before the committee all correspondence relating to the requests for the dismissal of Mr. Bennett from the Government employ.

Witness read a letter from Mr. Perley to Mr. Trutch, dated June 18, 1885, in which the latter was informed that Sir Hector Langevin directed that the contractors be allowed the full quantity of stone in the caisson recess, and that all the stone be fairly and liberally measured and also that the stone may be substituted for brick.

Mr. Geoffrion: Do you find any letter from Mr. Bennet, to Mr. Trutch recommending these changes?

Witness searched several minutes and answered, "No."

Several unimportant letters and telegrams were then produced and identified.

Mr. Perley was then briefly examined. He identified the letters written by him and referred to by the other witnesses. He said that he had no correspondence received in his capacity as engineer to the Quebec Harbor Commission, but he had under his control all correspondence received as engineer to the department. He promised to produce all this correspondence to-morrow.

Mr. Larkin was next sworn. He said that he had been in the habit of destroying his correspondence at the end of each year, therefore he could not produce all letters between himself and other members of the firm or the department. He had some of the correspondence, however, at the hotel in this city and would produce it to-morrow.

Mr. Geoffrion showed the witness an unsigned letter addressed to "O. E. Murphy," and asked if it was in his (Larkin's) handwriting.

Mr. Henry, Q.C., objected. He submitted that it was not evidence.

The chairman overruled the objections, and the witness swore that he was the writer of that letter. It was not signed, he said, because it was not complete. A page had been lost.

Mr. Tarte explained that the letter was just as he received it.

Mr. Edgar: Let me see that letter.

Mr. Henry objected to the letter being read.

Mr. Edgar stepped up to the table and took the document amid protestations from the defendant's counsel.

Mr. Tarte: That letter is my property and the gentleman can read it if he wishes.

Mr. Mills: I submit, Mr. Chairman, that this is an inquisitorial as well as judicial committee, and the members cannot judge of the relevancy of that letter until they have read it for themselves.

The Chairman then ordered all strangers from the room, and the remainder of the sitting was with closed doors. It was decided that the different letters asked to be put in by Mr. Geoffriou and objected to by the other side would be deposited with the clerk of the committee, not for publication and only accessible by members of the committee.

Your correspondent learned that the letter from Larkin was in answer to a call on him for a donation of $5000. The donations were as already explained by Murphy for Thomas McGreevy and his friends.

Mr. Larkin objected to this call, stating that they were coming too often, and the first thing the firm would know, if they were continued, that the only thing left for themselves would be the old plant.

A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Three days after disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy for cash and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 16c. Just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

Mount Pleasant.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A picnic in school section No. 1, Cavan, is announced for next Saturday. We believe it is to be held in Mr. Rutherford's grove.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Gould, teacher in No. 9, Emily, intends leaving at midsummer. While here she has formed a great many acquaintances and made a large circle of friends. She goes to fill a similar position in the west. We wish her the richest gifts of Providential grace.

The Foresters speak of a picnic soon.

Miss E. Best, of Peterborough, is in town.

The Rev. John Ewing has returned from his visit to the Assembly at Kingston. He looks as if the trip had been congenial.

Mrs. Richard Shaw is improving nicely.

Words of a Great Historian and Writer.

A well-known historian and writer once said: "Let me be restored to perfect health, and bodily vigor; give me refreshing sleep at night, and banish the weariness which oppresses me when I rise each morning, and I will willingly sacrifice all the fame and honors that have been bestowed upon me by my countrymen and mankind in general." Honor, fame and renown without health, cannot enable a man to enjoy life and its pleasures; the poorest beggar often lives happpier and more contented. The man who finds his appetite failing; or his stomach weak and disordered; his nerves unsteady; his muscles twitching; who experiences a fullness in the head, and headaches; who do not sleep well; who gets up in the morning with a coated tongue, and a feeling of weariness, is on the highway to suffering and serious troubles. These symptoms require the immediate use of that valuable remedy known as Paine's Celery Compound. Its use means certain restoration to perfect health, strength, robustness and mental vigor. In all the above mentioned troubles its value is now firmly established and well known. Men and women, old and young, find it just what they require in every emergency and difficulty. Try it reader and be convinced.

North Monaghan.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The lawn social held at the residence of Mr. J. B. Fowler, on Thursday evening was a decided success. The threatening aspect of the weather in the evening no doubt kept quite a number from a distance from attending. However, about nine p. m. the clouds cleared away, and the moon made her appearance in all her splendor, showing groups of merry faces enjoying themselves in various ways. The High Park Brass Band was present, and did themselves credit in the rendition of their different selections, showing ability and careful training in the rendering of their several numbers. The singing of little Dollie Fowler was indeed marvellous for a child of her age. We predict a brilliant future for little Dollie if particular care be exercised in the training of her voice. After the serving of refreshments the following programme was given:

Singing	Cadets
Song	Edith Tully
Recitation	Lottie Middlebou
Solo	Dollie Fowler
Cornet solo	Herb. D. Williamson
Speech	W. Hazel
Song	Ella Paget
Recitation	Bella Lillico
Song	Eddie Tully
Instrumental duets	Misses Maggie and Dollie Fowler
Song	Cadets

Bro. Fred Wilson ably filled the position of chairman, and made a stirring temperance speech at the close of the programme.

Mr. Melville Millar.

The Globe publishes an admirable illustrated article on Orillia, giving pictures of prominent features of the town and portraits, with biographical sketches, of leading citizens. Among these is a capital portrait of Mr. M. Millar, President of the Board of Trade and formerly a resident of Peterborough accompanied by the following biographical sketch:—One of the best known and highly respected residents of Orillia is Melville Millar, J.P., born in Dundee, Scotland, in 1840, Mr. Millar came to Canada in 1847, remaining in Montreal until 1862, then removing to Peterborough, where he entered into partnership with John Bertram and carried on a successful hardware business there. In 1867 Mr. Millar moved to Orillia, and for several years was associated with the late John Thomson in carrying on the Longford mills. In 1882 the subject of this sketch again embarked in the hardware business, and since that time has been steadily building what is now one of the most extensive trades in the northern district. Mr. Millar has had many honors thrust upon him, the office invariably seeking the man. In 1875 he was elected first mayor of Orillia, and retained that position for three years. Mr. Millar was then elected reeve, and held that position for a similar period, when he decided to retire from municipal life. He has always taken a keen interest in the welfare of the home of his adoption, and many hours of his valuable time are spent in the public service. At present Mr. Millar is president of the Orillia Board of Trade, president of the Mechanics' Institute, president of the Young Men's Reform Association, congregational secretary of the Presbyterian Church, and has been a justice of the peace since 1876. In 1869 Mr. Millar was married to Matilda, daughter of the late A. King, one of the early settlers of Orillia, and this happy couple are the parents of twelve children, eight sons and four daughters, all of whom are living. On different occasions the Reformers have urged Mr. Millar to accept nomination for the Local Legislature, but he has preferred home, rather than political, life.

Springville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Prospects are much better for the farmer since the recent rains. Crops are all looking well now, except the hay, which will be short.

On Friday, June 19th, Mr. Richard Moncrief, one of Springville's popular young farmers, was married to Miss Annie Trotter, only daughter of Mr. George Trotter, of this village. The ceremony was performed very quietly and without the least display, by the Rev. William Bennett. Only the relatives of the bride and groom were invited. Mr. Mathew Clark assisted the groom and Miss Maggie Moncrief was bridesmaid. We extend our congratulations to Mr. Moncrief and wish his bride every happiness in life.

On Sunday last, Rev. D. N. McAmus, who has been pastor here for the last three years, delivered his valedictory sermon to a very large congregation. Mr. McAmus was an earnest worker and gained many warm friends in this section. He left this morning (Wednesday) for his new circuit at Fenelon Falls.

Make a Note of It.

Read it over and over again, spell it out and sing it, until it is indelibly fixed in your mind, that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is an infallible cure for chronic catarrh of the head, with all its distressing complications. Impaired taste and smell, offensive breath, ringing noise in the head, defective hearing, nose and throat ailments, are not only relieved, but positively and permanently cured. This is no fancy of the imagination, but a hard, solid fact, proven over and over again, and vouched for, under a forfeiture of $500 by its manufacturers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Distrustful People

make an exception in favour of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus and all bowel complaints cause all who use it to regard it as the most reliable and effectual remedy obtainable. 3w25d

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you. dw

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wigg, Arkansas.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. A Spring Medicine.

CAPTAINS OF POLITICS.

THE MEN WHO MARSHALL THE OPPOSING FORCES.

Liberal and Conservative Organizers—W. T. R. Preston and Robert Birmingham—Their Work and How they do It—Some Experiences in the Canvass and on the Stump.

It is a common thing to hear the politician sneered at as one engaged in looking after public affairs simply for what he can make. But, considering the general and absorbing interest in politics in Canada, it is wonderful how few are the positions of emolument which politics as such, throws open to its votaries. True, the man who is faithful and devoted to the party's interest may hope to gain a place in the public service when his party has the dividing of the spoils, but, though the reward be won through politics, the effect of it is to remove the winner from open, active participation in the great game which has absorbed perhaps the best years and the best work of his life.

Religion has its clergymen, its secretaries of missionary boards and other officers without number; temperance has its lecturers and organizers; education has its teachers and inspectors; but politics must be carried on almost wholly by non-professional workers, the vast majority of whom neither hope for nor desire any reward beyond the success of the cause they advocate.

There are only two positions in Ontario whose occupants may be said to make a business of politics, and these positions are of such a character that mere hirelings would be utterly unable to fill them. Nothing short of enthusiasm which disregards hard work and takes pleasure in self-sacrifice for what the person believes to be the right could fit a man to hold the position of Secretary of the Liberal Conservative Union of Ontario or Secretary of the Ontario Reform Association. Even those who think they have had some experience in politics are apt to forget what a tangled mass of harassing details have to be made to fit in smoothly together in preparing for and carrying on a general election, while to those who have never taken an active part in the work simply have no conception of it. Tons of printed matter must be sent out, speakers must be pressed into the service and assigned to their duties in all parts of the Province and correspondence must be carried on with scores of excited people in as many different localities. As the work gets harder and the fight grows hotter the general organizer must give up more and more of his own time until, as election day is imminent, he must manage somehow that even eating and sleeping shal be as matters of naught.

But it is not all of an election to vote by any means. There are voter's lists to revise — two sets of them now that the Dominion has asserted its claim to have lists of its own. The organizer knows—no man better—that the elections are won in the making up of the lists. To carry on this work as well as to take part in general and bye-elections a knowledge of the details of the law and of the personnel of either party in every hole and corner of the Province is absolutely necessary. The organizers are permanent pivots upon which the whole fabric of their several parties revolves. Upon their shoulders rests a tremendous responsibility. Whoever may get sick whoever may grow weary, whoever may fail in his efforts, whoever may become despondent, the organizer must be ever strong, ever ready, ever resourceful, ever cheerful, confident and hard at work.

The Secretary of the Liberal Conservative Union of Ontario is Mr. Robert Birmingham, while the secretary of the Ontario Reform Association is Mr. W. T. R. Preston. It is a curious coincidence that each is now in his thirty-ninth year. In the very prime of manhood, with judgment well matured, each enthusiastic, hard working and determined, they are well matched, and many a struggle have they gone through with varying results. It is a pleasant fact to record that each of these gentlemen speaks in the kindliest terms of the other. In fact they are the best of friends. They are broad-minded enough to recognize that men must differ in opinion and each values good-fellowship too highly to allow it to be marred by such differences. More than once have narrow partizans, to whom politics means enmity and discord, been shocked to find the two men who had come to their district to marshall the opposing forces sitting side by side at table in the hotel in as close converse as if they were old cronies off for a holiday.

ROBERT BIRMINGHAM.

Mr. Birmingham is a native of the city of Armagh, Ireland, but he is a Canadian by education, for he came to Canada when only eight years of age. He is a Torontonian having had his schooling and his business as well as his political experience in that city. He is a born politician. Though so young a man he has had a longer experience in active politics than many a member of Parliament twice his age. He engaged early in the wholesale dry-goods business in Toronto and subsequently was a member of a firm of commission merchants, his partner being a son of Judge Morrison. When a mere youth, in 1879 he took an active and leading part in forming the Liberal Conservative Association of Toronto, at the head of which was Mr. Featherstone Osler, now judge of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Ontario He was appointed secretary of this organization and so devotedly did he prosecute the duties assigned to him that he kept the office until he assumed his present position in 1885. In that year the Liberal Conservative party was mightily stirred, General elections were pending both in the Dominion and in the Province and it was felt that the organization of the party must be strengthened. The outcome was the formation of the Liberal Conservative Union of Ontario, with Mr. Dalton McCarthy, M.P., as president. The office of permanent secretary was offered to Mr. Birmingham and he accepted. The party has never had reason to regret the choice, for one more earnest, or more able could not be found.

TARTE INVESTIGATION.

THE COMMITTEE TAKE EVIDENCE ON ANOTHER CONTRACT.

Evidence Concerning the New Departmental Buildings—Extras Almost Equal Contract—Charlebois & Co.'s Contract—The Architect's Testimony.

OTTAWA, June 23.—Examination into another scandal in connection with the department over which Sir Hector Langevin presides opened before the Public Accounts Committee to-day. It was in reference to the erection of the new departmental building. Mr. Fuller, architect of the department, was the first witness, Mr. Mulock conducting the examination. The witness in his evidence showed that the first contract was let to Charlebois & Co. on Sept. 20, 1888, for $305,000 for everything, to make a complete building, except the roof, iron joists, heating apparatus and elevators, the work to be completed May 1, 1890. The second contract was let to Carriere, Lane & Co. for $15,241, for iron joists. The third contract was let to Charlebois & Co. Sept. 3, 1889, for iron roof. The fourth contract, for the heating apparatus was let Aug. 16, 1890. The fifth, for iron staircase, Sept. 2, 1890, and the last contract was for the elevators. There was $22,000 deducted from the first contract for work not done, saving $273,080 to be paid to Charlebois on the main contract. Mr. Fuller explained that the amount of extras paid on the whole building was $490,064. A letter produced from Charlebois & Co. showed that the amount he claimed for extras on a $295,000 contract was $218,858. The account fo the main contract was as follows:

	Dr.
Contract		$295,000
Extras		218,858
Total		$513,858
	Cr.
Cash received		$346,591
Drawback		16,900
Claims		47,804
Total		$410,795
Balance claimed		198,073

This statement left a total balance claim of $198,073. Carriere, Lane & Co. did not fill all their contract for joists, as Messrs. Charlebois & Co. refused them access to the building. The Government, therefore, relieved them of that portion of placing the joists in position and gave it to Charlebois & Co. The tenders received for the roof were from Rousseau & Mather, Montreal, $42,945; Hamilton Bridge Company, $46,000, and Charlebois & Co., $77,500. The contract was finally given to Charlebois & Co. for $60,000. Messrs. Rousseau and Mather afterwards put in a claim for $3898, which would be half their profits if they had done the work. Witness said that he was the arbitrator to whom was left the question of deciding whether the original contract was fulfilled or not. He held that the covering of the roof was one of the specifications in the first contract, and it was at his suggestion that copper was substituted for iron as the roofing material. The witness could not tell what the cost of the change from iron to copper amounted to. The changes in the roof and in the staircase were the only alterations he could remember, but he would get all the details and the cost of these changes and report to the committee on Thursday. The committee adjourned to that day.

Before the Agricultural Committee this morning Prof. Robertson of the Experimental Farm read a report on the experiments with ensilage as a cattle fattener. A summary of this report showed that corn ensilage produced per ton twice as much beef as hay fodder, though the cost of the latter was eight times greater.

A meeting of the Privileges and Elections Committee was called this forenoon, but there was no quorum present and consequently it was postponed until to-morrow. Mr. Girouard, the chairman, Mr. Tarte and Mr. Geoffrion, his counsel, and Mr. Murphy, the witness whose examination was not concluded at last meeting, were all absent. Messrs. Davies and Edgar were present to aid in the examination.

The Supreme Court met to-day to deliver judgments. In the appeal from the Provincial Legislature of Manitoba for the right of the province to add interest to uncollected taxes, it was allowed, the court holding that such right belonged to the provinces. It was held to be taxes in another form

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent BATTERY, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SEXUAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1891.

THE BANK OF TORONTO.

In another column of this impression of the EXAMINER is printed the statement presented at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Toronto, held on June 17th. This statement is of a phenomenally gratifying character. It is to be observed that notwithstanding the unfavourable character of the issue of the operations of other financial institutions, and the general financial stringency that has characterized generally the past year; good conservative management and careful methods have told. The shareholders must be gratified that their investments in the Bank of Toronto have yielded returns as good if not better than those afforded to any other similar institution in Canada. The net earnings of the bank for the fiscal year, '90-'91 amount to the handsome sum of $282,449, about equivalent to 14¼ per centum on the capital—and representing a distinct gain on the results of the operations of the previous two years. In addition to paying 10 per cent. in dividends, the large sum of $100,000 had been added to the rest account, making the amount of this reserve of financial strength, $1,6000,000, or 86 per cent. of the capital. The President in his address reviewed the operations and condition of the bank since 1861. During the three decades under review the Bank of Toronto has increased its paid-up capital from $789,000, in round figures, to $2,000,000. In 1861 the amount of deposits was $478,467. In 1891 the deposits amounted to $7,197,570. These figures speak volumes as to the extremely high confidence the bank has won in the popular mind. While the general management of the bank has been of, one might aptly say, such a brilliant character, the management of the local agency has been consistent with the record in this respect, if, indeed, it does not distinguish it as one of the best managed branches in Canada, for which its manager, Mr. J. L. Clower, is largely responsible. Its business is safe and cautiously aggressive, and its operations are not one of the least important factors in the splendid result of the work of the Bank of Toronto for the past year, which, we trust, may form a precedent for a progressively prosperous future.

The School Entertainment.

About 500 children will take part in the entertainment on Tuesday night next. An immense platform will be erected and seats for the children. The clergy and leading citizens of the town, the council and both school boards are specially invited. In order that there may be some limit to the attendance the charge will be, for adults, 15c.; for school children 10c. The calesthenic exercises and singing by the children will be an interesting feature, and short addresses in reference to our schools will be delivered.

Nature's Wonderful Life-Giving Water—St. Leon.

Of all the wonderful discoveries to restore the flickering spark of life, to purify the blood, to eradicate deadly poisons, to supply pure stamina, and build up the weak parts, nothing in the wide world has been found to equal St. Leon Mineral Water. So declare the young and old of every nation. The health, strength and exalted pleasure that St. Leon brings when freely used is past description. Purchase the water; on sale everywhere. Drink freely; try it well for a season and you will be forever glad. You will find the unloading of deadly waste and bile so go on. Then that grand experience will possess you when vital force is perfected, the nerves toned and the body braced up in every part, the eye sparkles with joy, the skin assumes it plump, smooth hue and rosy bloom, and life worth living is attained. "Impossible to overrate the value of St. Leon," say physicians. We refer readers to these columns. Proofs will appear regularly in the Daily and Weekly during a year. A Magnificent Opportunity

For enjoying a day's outing is presented to the people of Peterborough on July 1st, Dominion Day. Stoney lake with all its charms of beauty and delight is open to their inspection, as an excursion, at the low rate of 50c., is to be run there on that date under the auspices of the Library Committee of Charlotte street Methodist church. Train leaves G. T. R. station at 8.45 a.m. Steamer "Golden City" will take excursionists from Lakefield up to the A.C.A. headquarters, Juniper Island. After dinner she will cruise about the lake calling at Burleigh Falls, Mount Julian and Boschink Narrows, returning to Juniper Island on the way back. This will afford every one who may wish it, an opportunity of seeing the immense locks and dams of the Trent Valley Canal works at Burleigh; of getting a birds-eye view of the lake dotted with its myriad of islands and the surrounding country—which is of itself, well worth the trip—from off the top of Mount Julian, and of seeing the magnificent residences of the American camp at Bochink. For those who remain at Juniper Island a canoeing excursion to Fairy lake will be arranged. This lake has been very aptly named, as it is a veritable home of the fairies, if there be such beings, it is situated about 60 ft. about the level of Stony Lake, without any visible inlet or outlet, covered with white and yellow water lillies, while ferns line the mossy banks, and immense rocks form a rugged back ground to all this beauty. So let everybody attend this outing as it is bound to be one of pleasure. Tickets to be procured at Metropolitan Grocery, McClelland's Jewelry store, Fairweather's Hat store.

The "Ranger's" Raid on Ottawa.

There was a fine turn out of the fifty-seventh battalion last night. A march out was made through the principal streets, the band wearing their torches. The battalion came down Hunter street in column of companies. This crucial list of marching was very fairly gone through with, though some of the companies might have kept their touch with greater care. It is expected that the battalion will make a fine turn out on Monday evening when they will be headed by the full band of greater strength than ever before—35 or 40 pieces, and the new fife and drum band, which will make its début on that occasion. It is expected that the special train containing the battalion will leave the C.P.R station at about 8 o'clock. This early hour will permit our citizens who will doubtless out in thousands to see their brave defenders off for their outing at Ottawa. The men while in the city will be quartered at the various hotels for mess and they will sleep under canvass, the tent being pitched on the grounds of the Normal School.

It is to be hoped, in fact it is indispensable to the battalion making a creditable display at Ottawa, that the employers of members of the battalion give their men leave of absence for the two days which the trip will embrace. It may of course occasion a little temporary inconvenience, but it must be remembered that the men themselves make no little sacrifice in serving as volunteers and holding themselves ready, at a moment's notice, to defend their country. Patriotism demands this concession from the employers.

Decoration Day.

All Arrangements Completed for Next Friday.

On Friday will take place the annual observance of the ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased brethren, which the Oddfellows of the town have practiced for many years back. The occasion is always made of a semi-public character in order that the public in general may take an interest in it. This year there is certain to be a larger parade of Oddfellows than ever before, and more than the usual contributions of flowers are solicited.

The joint committee of the Oddfellows has all arrangements completed for the beautiful ceremonies of Decoration Day, next Friday afternoon.

At two o'clock the members will meet in their respective lodge rooms. A procession will be formed, which, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, and escorted by the Chevaliers of Canton No. 10 in full uniform, will proceed to the Cemetery, where the impressive ceremony prescribed for the occasion will be performed. A pleasing addition this year will be an address delivered by Past Grand Master Reid, of the firm of Gilmour, Reid & Co. Mr. Reid is a fluent speaker, and exceedingly well versed in the lore of the order, and doubtless he will give a most instructive and impressive address.

All visiting brethren are cordially invited to join the local brethren on this occasion.

Flowers, for the use of visitors and strangers, which will be needed this year to a larger extent than usual, may be left at Mr. Harry Long's shop, and at Mr. A. Mercer's.

Petitions have been circulated for signatures and largely signed asking the Mayor to declare Friday afternoon a half holiday, and it is probable his worship, being one of the oldest Oddfellows in town, will, as has been customary, accede to the request.

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. PROHIBITION PARLIAMENT

Dominion Grand Lodge of Good Templars in Conference.

ADDITIONAL DELEGATES—JUVENILE TEMPLAR WORK—REPORT ON THE R. W. G. L.—THE AFTERNOON AND EVENING SESSIONS.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Grand Lodge was called to order at 2.15 p.m., the G.C.T., John E. Wilson, in the chair.

The Committee on Distribution presented their first report, recommending the reference of the various matters dealt with in the reports of the officers to the several standing committees and certain special committees, which were appointed as follows:—

DISTRICT LODGE—Bros. J. Brookshire, M. Dowd, Rev. J. C. Madill, W. S. Smith, Wm. Murray.

OFFICIAL ORGAN—Bros. J. S. Robertson, S. Morrison, F. Metcalf, W. Banfield, E. Hyde.

GOOD TEMPLAR INSURANCE—Bros. T. Lowless, Wm. Spencer, Geo. Hardy, J. W. Tarabull, J. Coxhead.

LEGISLATION—Bros. F. S. Spence, J. B Hay, C. Bott, D. J. B. Sawyer, G. J. Early.

ADDITIONAL DELEGATES.

The following additional delegates were registered at the afternoon session: Mrs. M. Pearce, Ottawa; J. T. Clugston, Carlisle; C. Roger, Kingston; W. H. Banfield, Mrs. Banfield, Toronto; E. J. Leigh, West Toronto; M. N. Harris, Kilbride; Rev. R. Hyde, E. Campbell, Warnaw; J. Coxhead, Toronto; Rev. W. Spencer, Manilla; Wm. Thurston, Bobcaygeon; Joseph McClelland, Peterborough; Miss M. McPhee, Whitevale; F. Lloyd, Rev. Dr. Shaw, P.G.C.T., Thos. Young, Miss M. L. Richey, Miss Bessie Welsh, Toronto.

The committee on

then presented their report, which was discussed seriatim at a considerable length. The report asked that the superintendence of Juvenile Temples in each lodge be made annually in place of quarterly as now, that measures be adopted to create a greater interest in the work among the subordinate lodges, suggesting that one night in each quarter be devoted to juvenile work, after the regular wok of the Subordinate Lodge is concluded; that each Superintendent of Juvenile Temples be requested to offer the pledge to the members of their Subordinate lodges at least once each quarter with a view of bringing the whole membership into sympathy with the juvenile department of Good Templar work.

The report gave rise to a discussion extending over the larger part of the afternoon, while the remarks of the various speakers brought out the fact, that the work of imparting temperance principles to the children and conducting the work to retain their interests, is surrounded by many difficulties; it also showed how deeply the work had improved itself on the whole Order. The juvenile membership has increased 40 per cent. during the year, and the Juvenile Temples 33⅓. Total lodges were now 52, and the membership 2,857. The report was adopted.

REPORT ON R. W. G. L.

The Grand Secretary laid on the table the report of the R. W. G. L. which held its session in Edinburgh, Scotland, on 26,27,28, 29, and 30th May last, at which were present, Messrs. T. E. Robertson, Dr. D. Albert Rose, Mrs. Bessie Starr Keefer and Mrs. Dr. Oronhyatekha as Canadian delegates. The Grand Secretary drew the attention of the Grand Lodge to the pleasing fact, that a member of this Grand Lodge, in the person of Dr. Oronhyatekha, had been elected Chief Executive Officer of the Order for the entire world. The report was a lengthy document showing that the membership is now 600,000, and the number of lodges 13,000, scattered throughout every part of the habitable globe, New Zealand, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Sweeden, Norway, Germany France, India, and other foreign parts, besides England, Scotland, Ireland Wales, United States and Dominion of Canada.

VARIOUS IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS.

The report of the auditors was received. It was corrobatory of the reports of the officers as distributed at the morning session.

On motion of Mr. Daniel Rose, seconded by Mr. J. C. Murray, it was unanimously resolved—That the Grand Lodge petition the Ontario Legislature to prohibit the issue of licenses at any railway station or within 200 yards of same, and that all Subordinate Lodges be requested to do so likewise.

On the change of management recently on the G. T. R., the Company had averted back to a custom that had been obsolete for years, of allowing liquors to be sold at the stations on the different parts of the line, and it was this circumstance that brought forth the present needed resolution

The Grand Lodge, on motion of Mr. J. T. Dyson, has decided to offer a prize or distinction for the Juvenile Temple showing best work during the year to be delivered by G. L Executive.

At 5 20 the session closed to meet again at 8 p.m.

EVENING SESSION.

Business was resumed at 8 p.m., the G.C. T., John E. Wilson in the chair.

The report of the Finance Committee was presented by the Chairman, F. S. Spence. It provided for the various expenditures of this year, including officers' salaries, and fixed the per capita tax at 15 cents; five cents to be returned to district lodges for the carrying on of mission work in the districts.

SOCIAL PURITY.

Mr. J. S. Robertson presented the report of the Committee on the White Cross and White Shield movements. It recommended that a special standing committee, consisting of Mrs. W. L. Scots, J. W. Tarabull, J. B. Hay, Thos. Lawless and J. S. Robertson, be appointed to further the organization of Red Cross circles in connection with the lodges throughout the Province, at every point where a subordinate lodge exists. The purity movement will be a prominent feature of Red Cross work, and, being conducted under an organized circle, it is believed that it can be pushed with greater vigor and success than heretofore. The proposal to institute the Red Cross degree, which will occupy a like position in Good Templary to the higher degrees of the secret societies, is a marked step in advance for the Order, and will doubtless have an important bearing on the influence and growth of Good Templary in the Province. The report was unanimously adopted.

SECOND DAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Grand Lodge was called to order this morning at 9.15 by the G. C. T., John E. Wilson.

The order of business was the selection of the next place of meeting, followed by the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

Place of meeting—Guelph.
G.C.T., John L. Robertson, Toronto.
G.Co., D. J. Russell Sawyer, Ottawa.
G V.T., Mrs. S. A. Mitchell, Hamilton.
G. Sec'y, Thos. Lawless, Toronto.
G. W., Frank Metcalf, Blyth.
G. S. J. T., Mrs. W. L. Scots, Toronto.
Grand Auditors, J. C. Murray, and J. W. Tarabull, Paris.
D.R W.G.T., A. Barrie, Mitchell.

NO SECTARIANISM IN GOOD TEMPLARY.

At the meeting of the R.W.G.L. held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last month, the following resolution was passed touching the status of members in Roman Catholic countries:—

Moved by Mr. J.B.Hay, seconded by Rev. J.C.Madill.—That the Grand Lodge memorialize the R.W.G.L. to revoke the following resolution passed at the late session of the R.W.G.L.:—"That it is not a violation of the Good Templar obligation for a member of any church, who is a member of the Order, to communicate the obligation and other work of the Order to his clergymen under the seal of the confessional."

The resolution caused a very animated debate among the members, the general feeling being that the resolution was uncalled for; that the R.W.G.L. or any one else had no right to free members from their obligation; that this organization is an unsectarian institution and cannot recognize the right of any clergyman, priest, or anybody receiving the secret words and work of the Order other than in a legitimate way, by being initiated into the Order and taking its obligations.

A motion was almost unanimously passed to petition the R.W.G.L. to revoke their resolution.

At noon the meeting adjourned until two p.m.

How well we remember grandmother's attic, so fragrant with medicinal roots and herbs! Poor old soul, how precious they seemed to her! And yet one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would do more good than her whole collection of "yarbs."

The Late Sir John A. Macdonald.

The issue of the Dominion Illustrated for June 20th, is a specially noteworth one. As announced last week, it is largely devoted to an account of the funeral of the late Sir John Macdonald with profuse illustrations taken by their own artists both at Ottawa and Kingston. As a special supplement a finely executed portrait of the late Premier, on heavy plate paper, is given with each number. The souvenir and memorial will be eagerly sought after by Canadians, irrespective of party. The publishers of the Dominion Illustrated have exceptional facilities for preparing such a number as that of this week.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLAN'S, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

THOMAS DOLAN & CO

MERCHANT TAILORS,

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a new mass of bleeding sores; two hands, arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was as raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Said Mrs. H. A. Burst to me: "I have tried everything recommended to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but the torment to be seeing worse every day. I was almost distracted. By every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Webber, druggist.

PROHIBITION DEBATE.

MOTION FOR A PLEBISCITE BADLY DEFEATED.

A Motion for the Appointment of a Royal Commission to Gather Data as a Basis for Information and Study Mr. Foster's Defence.

OTTAWA, June 24.—The debate upon prohibition was resumed to-night. It was first brought before the attention of the House May 21 on the motion of Mr. Jamieson. After a long discussion the question was shunted for a time on a motion to adjourn the debate, which was carried by a vote of 98 to 80. The question was reached on the order paper several times since, but the Government was not ready to go on with it owing to the death of the late premier. To-night the Government had a policy on that point presented by Mr. Foster. The resolution and the amendments before the House were three in number. Mr. Jamieson's motion was that in the opinion of this House the time has arrived when it is expedient to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes.

Mr. Mackintosh moved in amendment that the House is of opinion that a select committee should be appointed to report upon all the details involved in the subject, more particularly:

1. The annual loss to the federal exchequer,

2. The amount invested in the manufacture of intoxicating liquors;

3. The amount necessary to compensate those now embarked in the manufacture and sale of liquors, should such a policy be deemed expedient;

4. The amount of annual loss to each provincial exchequer.

5. The amount of annual loss to each municipality throughout the Dominion.

6. An estimate of the probable amount requisite by taxation in lieu of license fees in each province and federal excise and customs duties, together with all information obtainable touching the present cost of maintaining the various institutions for the suppression and punishment of crime through out the Dominion.

Mr. Taylor moved in amendment to the amendment: That this House renews the expression of its opinion made in preceding Parliaments as to the expediency of prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes, but declares that in a question of such far-reaching importance affecting long-established social and trade interests, involving the loss of many millions of necessary revenue and the consequent imposition of new and heavy taxation, it is essential to the effectual working and permanent maintenance of such an enactment that the electorate of Canada should first pronounce a definite opinion upon the subject at the polls.

Buried Fathoms Deep.

The first vote was taken on Mr. Taylor's proposal of a plebiscite, which was overwhelmingly defeated. The score stood 7 yeas to 185 nays.

Mr. Foster said that for reasons of his own he had not said much on the question of prohibition for the past few years. The report of the interview had by a deputation a few weeks ago scarcely expressed his views. As regards the principle of prohibition, he said he believed in it just as strongly as ever. Moreover, he believed in the feasibility of the principle of prohibition. It was feasible and practicable under certain conditions. The difficulties are: First, the desire for intoxicants, and stimulants existing in this and other civilized countries. The power of custom is another difficulty in the way of prohibition. This will have to be reformed and overcome before we can have prohibition. The money interest is another difficulty. Another strong difficulty was the enforcement of prohibition. The difficulty of adjusting the revenue is a strong barrier. He denied emphatically that he ever stated that the loss of seven millions of revenue stood in the way of prohibition. He did not count one dollar against the happiness or well-being of one man. No better thing could be done than to exchange the seven and a half million for a country blessed with the happiness coming from prohibition. Nevertheless it was a practical difficulty. The condition under which prohibition was feasible and practicable was a basis of a strong and preponderating public sentiment in favor not only of its enactment but its enforcement as well. Can it be believed that this strong and preponderating sentiment exists from the Atlantic to the Pacific? The petitions in favor of prohibition were sincere and honest, but did not form a certain sign that the people are ready. The chief difficulty in the way of a referendum is that the majority of temperance people do not want a plebiscite. It is unusual and indefinite. Moreover, there is the idea that the habit of referring questions back again to the people would deprive our institutions of the responsible character. When he voted on a previous occasion for immediate prohibition he did it in a moment of weakness because of the threat of adverse public opinion. Before the question could be decided the House must have fuller informat on. He did not propose to shelve the question, but proposed that a royal commission be appointed to gather information and place before Parliament a basis for study and action.

Mr. Foster concluded his speech by moving:

That, in the opinion of this House, it is desirable without delay to obtain for the information and consideration of Parliament, by means of a Royal Commission, the fullest and most reliable data possible respecting:

1. The effects of the liquor traffic upon all interests affected by it in Canada.

2. The measures which have been adopted in this and other countries with a view to lessen, regulate or prohibit the traffic.

3. The result of these measures in each case.

4. The effect that the enactment of a prohibitory liquor law in Canada would have in respect of social conditions, agricultural business, industrial and commercial interests, of the revenue requirements of municipalities, provinces and the Dominion, and also as to its capability of effectual enforcement.

5. All other information bearing on the question of prohibition.

Mr. Laurier Replies.

Mr. Laurier, in a brief speech, contrasted Mr. Foster's speech with his amendment. In his speech he said he would vote for prohibition if he had any guarantee that the people were in favor of it. The amendment was not to find the opinion of the people, but to ascertain the various effects of prohibition and the means of enforcing it.

The Division.

After further discussion the vote was taken on Mr. Foster's amendment at 1.45. It was carried by 107 yeas to 88 nays as a strict party vote with three exceptions. Mr. Joncas voted again with the Government. Messrs. Jamieson and Dickey voted with the Opposition

The House will not sit Monday, which is a holiday, but will sit the remaining days of the week, including Dominion Day and Saturday.

DRAMATIC CASE IN COURT.

The Montreal Wagner Car Porter Sent Down for 14 Years.

MONTREAL, June 24.—There was a dramatic scene in the Court of Queen's Bench to-day. It was the day for sentence to be pronounced, and the court was packed in expectation that Reynolds, the colored Wagner car porter found guilty of killing his companion Meyers in a stabbing affray, would be sentenced.

The judge in his charge was very severe on the prisoner and to the surprise of all concluded by sentencing him to 14 years in the penitentiary of St. Vincent de Paul. Reynolds stood as if fascinated for two or three moments after his sentence had been uttered, gazing fixedly at the judge till he was taken by the arm by the sergeant in charge, when he staggered from the box. Seated near the box was the fiancee of the accused. She is an octoroon and came from Urbana, Ohio, and has been in court every day of the trial. When she heard the sentence she wrung her hands and cried loudly. She followed the prisoner to the carriage, and before leaving threw her arms around his neck and kissed him several times. The prisoner was taken straight to the penitentiary.

An Umpire Killed.

DOWNS, Kas., June 24.—At a baseball game here yesterday Frank Burton, a bystander, found fault with the decisions of the umpire and a scuffle ensued, in which the umpire, Fred House, got the best of the struggle. The combatants were separated and the game resumed, when Burton stole upon House unawares and knocked him down with a bat. The blow resulted in paralysis and House now lies at the point of death. Burton is in jail.

Only 10 Minutes' Warning.

BERLIN, June 24.—Mrs. Kraft, wife of Mr. Kraft, hotelkeeper, Waterloo, died suddenly on Monday night. She was all right up to 10 minutes of her death. Water on the heart is given as the cause.

A Statue to Beecher.

BROOKLYN, N Y., June 24.—The bronze statue of Henry Ward Beecher was unveiled with imposing ceremonies at the City Hall Park this afternoon at 4 o'clock by Gertrude Romana Beecher, the preacher's little grand daughter.

A Sample Iowa Storm.

WATERLOO, Ia., June 24.—A terrific storm raged last night between Storm Lake and Lemars. Eight persons were drowned. Twelve inches of water fell. Many buildings were blown down.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN

PARNELL SAID TO HAVE MARRIED MRS. O'SHEA.

Dillon to Succeed McCarthy as Leader of the Irish National Party — Campbell Wins His Libel Case—The Plan of Campaign Funds.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A London despatch to The World says: Mr. Parnell has obtained a special license to marry Mrs. O'Shea. He has been compelled to do this, owing to the delays interposed by his local clergyman in Brighton. He can now be married Thursday. He has intimated that no one is to be present at the ceremony, which will doubtless be conducted with the strictest privacy.

In the House of Commons lobbies this evening it was reported that Mr. Parnell was married to Mrs. O'Shea last Thursday in the strictest privacy.

Gladstone's Fatal Mistakes.

DUBLIN, June 24.—Mr. Parnell in his speech at Balbriggan yesterday said that Mr. Gladstone had made three fatal mistakes, which he would always regret: First, putting him in Kilmainham Jail; second, releasing him; third, interfering with the Irish leadership which had raised the forces in Ireland for home rule. He also predicted that Mr. Gladstone will not live to see the end of it.

Campbell Wins.

CORK, June 24.—In the action for libel brought by Henry Campbell, M.P., and secretary to Mr. Parnell, against the owner of The Cork Herald, the jury to-day awarded Campbell £1250 damages.

The Irishmen's Balance Sheet.

DUBLIN, June 24.—The National Press publishes a statement as to the receipts and expenditure of the campaign fund. The statement is signed by James F. Xavier O'Brien, M.P. for South Mayo, and is as follows: Amount collected, $634,385. Expenditure—legal expenses, $36,100; paid tenants, $382,090; housing, $66,405; buildings, etc., at New Tipperary, $147,760—total, $632,355. Balance, $2030. Mr. O'Brien declares the report that $15,000 was missing from the fund is not true.

McCarthy to Retire.

DUBLIN, June 24.—The retirement of Justin McCarthy, M.P., from the leadership of the Irish party is expected directly John Dillon is released from jail. Mr. McCarthy, it is generally admitted, has proven to be a complete failure as leader of the Irish Parliamentary party. His friends assert that he is unable to give much attention to his duties, and that he has always recognized the fact that the position he accepted as leader of the Irish party was only a temporary one. With Mr. Dillon as leader it is asserted a few more Parnellites would desert Parnell and join the majority of the party.

The Newfoundland Negotiations.

LONDON, June 24.—The negotiations between the Colonial Office and the Newfoundland delegates are virtually completed. A permanent act has been drafted which proposes that jurisdiction in fishery disputes be transferred from subordinate naval officers to two expressly appointed judicial agents. It is understood France accepts this proposition. The bill will be passed as speedily as possible. One clause provides for the repeal of the temporary act. The delegates hope to be free to return home in a few days. Sir William Whiteway will return to Europe in October for the Brussels arbitration conference.

Hugh John and Abbott as Knights.

LONDON, June 24.—I have reason to believe that the Colonial Office has been carefully considering the suggestion that Lady Macdonald should be raised to the peerage. Seeing that Sir John's sons are the issue of a former marriage no question of the descent of the title arises, though it is felt natural that Mr. Hugh Macdonald should be knighted. It is also expected that Mr. Abbott will be knighted.

Belle Bilton's "Fodder."

LONDON, June 24.—In the Queen's Bench division of the High Court of Justice to-day a jury decided that Isidor Wertheimer, who was co-respondent in the unsuccessful suit for divorce brought against Lady Dunlo (Belle Bilton), now Countess of Clancarty, and who has for a long time past been known as an ardent admirer of the music hall star, was liable for the sum of $400 due for fodder supplied to the horses of Lady Dunlo under his Wertheimer's name.

Drowned at Muskoka.

TORONTO, June 25.—Mrs. John Gander of 115 Grange-avenue received a telegram from Windermere, Muskoka, last night stating that her husband was drowned while rowing on the lake. Mr. Gander was at Windermere constructing a college for T. Eaton of this city.

The Official Proclamation.

LONDON, June 24.—This afternoon's official Gazette contains an order in council prohibiting the catching of seals by British subjects in Behring Sea until May 1, 1892.

Poisoned by Canned Meat.

SHEDIAC, N. B., June 24.—Joseph Gallant and Philip Arseneau were on Saturday eating some canned beef which had been open about two days and allowed to remain in the tin. Shortly after eating the men suffered intense pain and became purple and swollen. Arseneau, who is a laboring man, ate more heartily than Gallant and suffered much more extremely. Dr. Joseph Legers was called and with great difficulty succeeded in saving the lives of the men who were at the point of death. Gallant is now pronounced out of danger, but Arseneau's safety is by no means as certain.

Axle Grease.

MONTREAL, June 23.—The Grand Trunk Railway returns of traffic for the week ending June 20, 1891: Passenger train earnings, 1891, $122,698; 1890, $128,372. Freight train earnings, $207,351; 1890, $240,050. Total 1891, $330,019; 1890, $374,402. Decrease 1891, $44,383.

C. P. R. Traffic Receipts.

MONTREAL, June 24.—Canadian Pacific Railway Company return of traffic earnings from June 14 to June 21: 1891, $372,000; 1890, $328,000; increase for 1891, $44,000, earnings of New Brunswick railway included.

Stabbed With Sheep Shears.

GUELPH, June 24.—The Erin stabbing case came up for trial this morning before His Honor Judge Chadwick. The accusation was that James Currie stabbed Dougald McLean several times with a pair of sheep shears on the evening of May 29. His Honor held that a case had not been made out and dismissed the defendant.

Interesting Experiments.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The last agricultural appropriation act contained an appropriation of $7000 to be used in experiments in the production of rainfall. The department will test the theory that heavy explosions cause rain. Last evening a balloon sent up in the northern suburbs was exploded with great violence amid the clouds. Whether the downpour of rain later was caused by the explosion remains to be determined. The department will try the experiment on a larger scale.

Sought Death Together.

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y., June 24.—Herman Heinless, formerly a bartender at the Russell House, and Josie Gibbons, a waitress at the same hotel, drank paris green in soda water in Webb's Park last night and then lay down to die. The system of the girl rebelled against the poison, however, and she threw the drug off and will recover. Heinless died a short time after drinking the poisoned draught.

Crews Are Saved.

ST. PIERRE, Miquelon, June 24.—The French brig Marguerite collided with the French schooner Terror, formerly a revenue cutter of the Dominion, of Canada. The Terror sank one hour after the collision. The crew were saved by the Marguerite, which was badly injured by the collision, but has landed both crews safely here.

CHRISTIANS PUT TO DEATH.

A Second Attack on the Mission in Canton, China.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Details of the bloody riot at Woo-Hoo, China, on May 12, a brief account of which was sent by cable at the time, are given in The North China Daily News, copies of which were brought by the steamer Gaelic, which arrived to-day at San Francisco. It was known for several days before the riot that a mob of Chinese were threatening to loot the property of the Jesuits at Woo-Hoo. The mob spirit was aroused by the circulation of reports that the Jesuit priests had killed many children and used their eyes for making medicine. It is not known who is responsible for the circulation of these stories. They were readily believed, however, by ignorant Chinamen and it was resolved to run out the Jesuits. The attack was made on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 12. A mob numbering several hundred surrounded the Jesuit mission house. They broke through the walls, drove out the priests, pillaged the palace and set fire to the cathedral and other buildings.

Attack on the English Consulate.

A mob then proceeded to the English Consulate and destroyed considerable property by throwing stones. The arrival of Taotai, a local magistrate, and the coolness of the British Consul saved the buildings from being set on fire. The Consul and his wife escaped from the mob by dressing in Chinese costumes. They hurried to the Custom House and embarked with other foreign residents in the China Navigation Company's receiving ship.

A number of foreigners, headed by the Consul, then armed themselves and passed the time at the Custom House and, assisted by Taotai, repelled the mob, who twice during the night made an attempt to loot and set on fire the Custom House and residence of the foreign officials. The following morning an immense crowd again set fire to the Custom House and the surrounding buildings, but the customs staff, fully armed, charged the natives and again put out the fires.

In the afternoon three Chinese gunboats, which were escorting Shen Ping Cheng, the Governor of Anhoui, up river, arrived at Woo-Hoo. When informed of the riot the commander ordered the gunners to fire blank cartridges, which had the effect of frightening the mob. Some 200 soldiers arrived from Tai-Ping, and this lent additional protection to the foreign residents.

Methodists Not Attacked.

The mob did not make any demonstrations against the American Methodist Episcopal mission, but, advised by the British Consul, missionaries from that point also embarked on the Tehsing, which took them, together with the ladies and children of Woo-Hoo, to Shanghai.

At Chian King the priests who escaped from Woo-Hoo in a boat were picked up.

There was only one British man-of-war at the North China station at the time of the riot—the gunboat Linnet—and it was ordered to proceed to Woo-Hoo.

On May 16, four days after Woo-Hoo riots, the natives of Nyan-King made an attack on the Roman Catholic mission there, a rumor having reached them that Taotai of Woo-Hoo had forwarded a despatch to the authorities declaring that the stories about the missionaries were true. The priests succeeded in keeping the mob off, and one of the assailants was arrested and punished.

The Catholic mission was not the only one attacked, for a crowd equally large made a descent on the inland mission, near Northgate, but the Chinese authorities arrived in time to prevent any serious damage. The crowd lingered about the missions during the next two days, and the native women came to the orphanage to reclaim their children who were left there.

Threatened by the French.

A French man-of-war was sent for and arrived on May 18. Captain De Jouquieres informed the Governor of Nyan-King that if the rioters did not obey the mandates of the magistrate he would not hesitate to take strong measures. The Governor responded that order would be maintained.

On May 19 the German gunboat Iltis arrived and Captain Ascher lent his influence to secure protection for the missionaries. Placards, however, had been posted by the rioters announcing that the mission buildings would be totally destroyed on Friday, May 22. Placards also had been posted in the French quarter of Shanghai threatening the foreigners.

Some of the Gaelic's passengers brought the information that the natives of Canton had again broken out against the missionaries in the burned mission situated on the banks of one of the rivers in the province and put to death all those connected therewith. Just before the Gaelic left, it is stated, four of those murderers were put to death.

Cases of abduction and murder are becoming numerous. Several men and women have been enticed beyond the borders of Canton and held for ransom. If ransom were not forthcoming the unhappy victims are to be put to death.

End Justifies the Means.

BERLIN, June 24.—Emperor William, while presiding at a Ministerial Council to-day, announced that he had devised a scheme for a lottery, by which he hoped to obtain eight million marks to be used in the work of combatting slavery in Africa.

Drowned in Toronto.

TORONTO, June 23.—Mr. John Hamilton, butcher, was boating near Kew Beach yesterday evening when he saw the body of a man rolling in the surf. The body was recovered and conveyed it to the Morgue, where it now lies. The corpse was recognized as that of Edwin Smith, an old man of 64, who resided at 84 Parliament-street. Nothing was found on the body but a horn drinking cup. The deceased had been seen wandering around Kew Beach on the afternoon of Tuesday. Smith had been in ill-health for some time past, and it is thought that the old man, getting tired of life, determined to end it by drowning himself.

Vessel Wrecked.

LONDON, June 24.—The British Cid, 976 tons, bound from Newcastle-on-Tyne for Naples, was wrecked yesterday off the French coast. The third engineer and a fireman were drowned. The remainder of the crew are at Havre.

Gladstone's Health Feebler.

LONDON, June 24.—Mr. Gladstone's health has become feebler since his attack of influenza. His physician, Sir Andrew Clarke, urges him to make a sea trip and to have an unbroken rest.

Talmage's Brother Expired Suddenly.

FROM THE NORTHWEST.

Good Prospects for the Greatest Crop Yet —Treaty Payments.

OTTAWA, June 24.—Advices to the Indian Department from the Northwest show that the crop prospects there and in Manitoba are of the brightest, and excel all previous years. The rain has been bounteous and the weather well tempered. Statistics collected for the Government show that there are 1,300,000 acres under cultivation. Of this 900,000 acres is sown in wheat, and the balance—400,00—in oats, barley, peas and flax. It is expected that if nothing occurs to spoil the crops, there will be a yield of fully 2,500,000 bushels of wheat.

The Government will commence after July 1 to make the annual treaty payments to the Indians of Manitoba and the Northwest. They amount to about $120,000.

The Indian Department is about to commence the erection of a large industrial school at Brandon, Man.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255 92
Increase over previous year	3,421,272 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,590 15
Increase over 1889	2,248,886 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514 19
Increase over 1889	687,691 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222 68
Increase over 1889	547,737 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 69
Increase over 1889	75,649 95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 63

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07
" " " 1886, "	39 462 97

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1891.

On Behalf of the Girls.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A letter appeared in last week's EXAMINER signed "White Ribbon," which I for one was glad to see. We never order goods to be sent home Saturday evenings, yet it is not unusual for us to be called up after eleven o'clock to tell message boys where some person resides.

I have heard it said that the wives of poor men have to shop late because their husbands do not receive their wages till late Saturday evening. From observation and hearsay, it is not the poor man's wife who does all the late shopping.

Ladies of leisure wait till late afternoon to do shopping from habit, seemingly not caring how late they keep the dressmaker or milliner finishing or altering dress or bonnet, but want the article sent home the moment it is finished, as they do not like the boy coming to the house so late.

In speaking to a lady friend re early closing she said that she would gladly close at 9 p. m. Saturdays if a bylaw is passed to that effect or not if others in the same line of business would not violate that bylaw, as is the case with the 7 p. m. on other evenings, one store often remaining open till 9 and sometimes 10 p.m. Question: Should our police see to these matters, or is it a matter for the storekeepers to see to themselves? Some merchants think that the Wednesday market should be made free to all, and no time set for them to buy, it would considerably lighten the Saturday work, and no one would suffer thereby.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, and hoping that others will give their views on earlier hours for clerks, dressmakers, etc.

Yours, also for humanity,
SYMPATHY.

They Couldn't Agree.

And so the Committee Will Have to Make a Choice—The Mush Vexed Question of the Addition to the Public School.

The School Board spent two hours Tuesday night in arriving at no conclusion. They met for the purpose of selecting plans for the addition to the Central School building. There were present Mr. Chairman Wrighton and Messrs. Boucher, Ferguson, Hamilton, Kendry, Bradburn, Rutherford, McBain and Dumble. Before the meeting opened the trustees took some time in examining different plans offered by Messrs. Blackwell and Belcher.

Mr. Bradburn, as chairman of the committee appointed to procure plans and submit them to the Board, said the committee wished to leave the matter of selection in the hands of the whole Board. The committee had only seen Mr. Blackwell's plans, Mr. Belcher's not having been put in until that evening. But they would not make any recommendation.

Then the trouble began. The members of the committee wanted the Board to make the selection, in fact some of them refused to take the responsibility of deciding upon this $6,000 job. Mr. Dumble wanted the committee to choose a plan, get tenders for it, and by way of compensation he proposed to pay the architect whose plan was rejected, $50 for his work. Mr. Kendry wanted the matter referred back to the committee for the purpose of getting further information as to the probable cost, etc., and laying it before the Board. Mr. Rutherford objected to making the choice at this meeting because it would not be fair to Mr. Belcher, whose plans had just been put in.

A deadlock resulted. Every plan proposed was objected to. Much time was spent, a vast amount of talk wasted, some little antagonism displayed between Mr. Kendry and Mr. Dumble, and the Board became apparently inextricably involved in the difficulty of arriving at some conclusion. Finally Mr. Hamilton, to bring matters to a crisis, moved that Mr. Blackwell's plans be accepted. This was lost on a tie vote, Messrs. Ferguson, Hamilton, McBain and Dumble voting yea.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES.

The Board gave up the knotty question for the nonce, and a diversion was made. Mr. Dumble brought up the matter of the public school closing exercises which are to be held in the new market building next Tuesday. He said this was an event at which they wanted a large attendance of the public and for that purpose a vigorous committee ought to have it in hand, and do their best to popularize the entertainment. On motion of Mr. Dumble, Messrs. Ferguson, Bradburn, Boucher and the Mayor were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the coming public exercises in connection with the public school; the committee was authorized to invite the town clergymen, the members of the town council and the Separate School Board, and such others as they may see fit to attend the exercises; and it was decided that an entrance fee of 15c. for adults and 10c. for school pupils should be charged, and the net proceeds (if any) devoted to the piano fund.

REFERRED BACK TO COMMITTEE.

Then the burning question of the night was again attacked. Mr. Dumble said it was about time the board quit child's play and got down to business. The matter had to be settled some way, and he moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the committee appointed to procure plans for the public school addition, take the plans into their further consideration and report as to their comparative merits and relative cost at a special meeting of the Board to be called as soon as possible.

The members of the committee who had previously declined to act, consented to shoulder that much responsibility, and the resolution was adopted without demur.

The Board then adjourned.

We had a heavy thunderstorm here last Saturday. The lightning flashes were close, apparently, but as far as we have learned no serious damage has been committed. Mr. Wm. Greer's barn near the Otonabee river was struck but fortunately his son James, who was putting his horses in the stable, although he was affected by the lightning was able to raise cries for help, which were answered by willing hands who succeeded in saving the building. Mr. Greer, Jr., we are happy to announce is none the worse from the shock received. Trees and the like were splintered in some places.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Why Struggle.

Why struggle with exhausting diseases when you may be promptly cured by the use of nature's remedy—Burdock Blood Bitters—the perfect cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, sick headache and all forms of bad blood from a common pimple to the worst scorfulous sore. 3w25d

Everybody Likes It.

Wm. Dredge, Eden street, Barrie, Ont., says: One bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil brought back appetite which other Emulsions away; removed cough entirely, and gained five pounds. It tastes just like cream, the oil being perfectly disguised. Sold by all druggists. dw

Why Suffer with Chapped Hands.

One tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will make them soft and white. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d145

SUMMER BULLETIN.

WE DEFY OLD SOL TO DO HIS HOTTEST.

THE Premier has been chosen; now for business. We did a rousing trade last week and swept competition to the wall. Our gigantic stock, marvellous buying, splendid selling and unparalelled value has carried our constituency. GOUGH BROS. are the representatives of the biggest, the best, the People's Clothing Emporium. Hot weather is coming as sure as fate, rent or taxes. Then be prepared, shed your winter clothes and don a summer suit. Select one from our special line of $68,000.00 worth, bought at a big sacrifice, and selling at prices that knock competition into smithereens.

WORKERS AND THINKERS.—LOOK, READ AND PONDER WELL.

The desire of all buyers of Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, is to procure goods of the best quality, providing the price suits the pocket. GOUGHS have made this possible to persons of the most limited means. Energy and enterprise has been the motive spirit of our business. With this spirit we have defied hard times. Thus inspired, we have inaugurated, enlarged and extended our trade until it has outgrown our widest expectations.

We again promise you more and better value for your money than you have ever yet had. Our stock has been well and cheaply bought expressly for our own trade, and those who have visited us during the last two months will admit that we have fully redeemed the pledge, when promising the cheapest goods ever sold in the city of Peterborough.

Our stock is fully assorted, and we have not confined the bargains to a few leading lines relying on the rest to reimburse the loss, but have everything proportionately low,—in a word we are determined to surpass every former effort, and make GOUGH BRO'S. Bargains instruments of pleasure.

In Boots and Shoes, Hats and Furnishings We Lead the Country.
In Clothing We Beat all Competition.

CAPTAINS OF POLITICS.

THE MEN WHO MARSHALL THE OPPOSING FORCES.

Liberal and Conservative Organizers—W. T. R. Preston and Robert Birmingham—Their Work and How they do It—Some Experiences in the Canvass and on the Stump.

The general elections for the Province in 1886 and for the Dominion in 1887 were under Mr. Birmingham's charge, as, also, were the Provincial elections of last year and those for the Dominion in the present year, with innumerable bye-elections besides. An affable, pleasant spoken gentleman, Mr. Birmingham can relate many experiences of the campaigns he has been through. His duties have brought him necessarily into close relations with the veteran Conservative leader, Sir John A. Macdonald. For Sir John, Mr. Birmingham has the greatest admiration. He declares that as a judge of character he never saw the chieftian's equal nor does he believe that the veteran's judgment is ever seriously at fault. Insight into affairs, and ability to foresee the outcome of events is also among Sir John's most notable accomplishments. Mr. Birmingham tells of a remark once made to him by his leader concerning his great opponent the Hon. George Brown. "George Brown," said he "always worked for to-day; I always tried to find out how affairs would stand to-morrow."

Mr. Preston is a man of medium size and fair complexion. He is possessed of remarkable energy and his capacity for work seems limitless. He first saw the light in Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion. While still a young man he embarked in business, as a merchant, but, through no fault of his own, he was not successful. He turned to journalism for a living and was for several sessions representative in the House of Commons gallery of the London Advertiser and other prominent journals. He left Ottawa for Port Hope, where he established the News, and by sheer hard work pushed it forward to success. This was in 1879, but Mr. Preston had made himself known in the district before that. While on a visit to Port Hope he had been asked to speak at a political meeting. Though he had a thorough knowledge of public questions, the idea of public discussion was far from his mind and it was only when he was strongly persuaded that he yielded. He talked for an hour and a quarter in such effective fashion that the Liberals were mightily pleased. When he settled in Port Hope he was sent out to meet the late Mr. J. A Wilkinson (known throughout Canada as "Big Push" Wilkinson) at schoolhouse and crossroads political meetings. This was a liberal education in rough-and-tumble political fighting. The meetings at which Mr. Preston spoke were always Big Push's own meetings and after he had finished his speech it was his duty to sit and smile while the Conservative orator who was not the one to give quarter metaphorically skinned him alive for the edification and enjoyment of a Conservative audience. This is the kind of man it made of Mr. Preston: On the occasion of the Canadian Pacific syndicate proposal in 1880-81, when meetings to protest against its terms were being held, Port Hope citizens were called upon to protest against the charter. A large number of Conservatives assembled ready to turn the meeting the other way. The Liberals demanded that none but electors should be allowed to vote on the question, but the others refused. Mr. Preston took the platform at ten o'clock and held it until five o'clock in the morning. This event boomed him and his paper tremendously.

His ancient adversary Mr. Wilkinson being sent up to Algoma in the election of 1883, Mr. Preston was asked by the Liberals to follow him. In those days Algoma campaigning was a matter of canoeing, driving and sometimes walking long distances over the sparsely settled country and Mr. Preston's experiences in the campaign would make an interesting book. His excellent management of this campaign led to his appointment as secretary of the Reform Association in which capacity he has done heroic work for the course he espouses and has won general commendation not only from the leading men in his party but from all classes who have worked with him in the campaigns in which has been engaged.

On the death of the late lamented Lt. Col. Williams, M. P., during the rebellion in the North West, Mr. Preston was nominated by the Liberals to contest the riding of East Northumberland which Col. Williams had represented. Though unsuccessful, he polled the largest vote ever given for a Reformer in the riding, except for the late Lewis Ross, who was a life-long resident and one of the most prominent citizens of the district. Mr. Preston is known not only as an organizer, but as a speaker of unusual power. He has met on the platform the leading men of the other side including the late Hon. Thomas White, Sir John Thompson, Mr. W. R. Meredith and many others. When the New Party sought to win West Lambton from the Liberals, Mr. Preston assailed its leader, Rev. Dr. Sutherland vigorously, and, in the opinion of the Liberals of the riding, effectively. As a member of the Methodist church, of which Dr. Sutherland is so prominent a member Mr. Preston could direct his criticism against the New Party leader with all the greater effect. On one occasion also Mr. Preston made a special visit to Campbellford to attend a meeting at which Mr Meredith was to speak, and when given the customary hearing he made a speech of great bitterness, though he knew full well that Mr. Meredith, one of the leading orators of the country was to follow and would show him no mercy. These incidents are an index to the character of the man. He fights without gloves, giving no quarter and asking none. He has the pugnacity to enjoy a political contest as such, let the results be what they may. On more than one occasion lucrative and honorable offers in the public service have been offered to Mr. Preston in recognition of his services, but he prefers to remain in active political life.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND QUESTION AGAIN CONSIDERED.

Mrs. O'Shea Hired the Houses—Fed Herself to the Bears—The Queen at a Wedding—The New Chief Rabbi of the British Empire.

LONDON, June 23.—Sir James Fergusson, Political Secretary of the Foreign Office, replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day in regard to the progress of the Newfoundland arbitration, said that when the Newfoundland agreement was made with France both governments made the reservation that the agreements were subject to the approval of their respective Parliaments before the arrangment could be put into execution. The French government, Sir James Fergusson explained, had as yet only obtained the approval of the Senate, and until now had abstained from bringing the agreement before the Chamber of Deputies. Her Majesty's Government, said Sir James in conclusion, was doing all it could possibly do to expedite the matter.

Kitty Hired the Houses.

CORK, June 23.—The action for libe brought by Henry Campbell, M.P. and private secretary to Mr. Parnell, against Aldermen John Hooper and Mrs. Eliza Nagle, as owners of The Cork Daily Herald, was continued to-day. Mr. Campbell complains of a statement made by The Herald that, while other members of Parliament were attending to their duties, Campbell was hiring houses for immoral purposes for Parnell.

Counsel for The Herald to-day contended that, if Campbell did not telegraph about hiring the house at Eastbourne, Parnell did so.

Mr. Vinal, a real estate agent, deposed that letters (produced in court) which were signed by Campbell's name were really in Mrs. O'Shea's handwriting.

Mr. Campbell recalled said he had never heard of the letters or telegrams until this action was brought.

Chief Rabbi of The Empire.

LONDON, June 26.—The great Bayswater Synagogue was profusely decorated with flowers and plants to-day and was packed to its utmost capacity with the most representative of the Jewish world of this city and others who had assembled to witness the imposing ceremonies attendant upon the installation of Rev. Hermann Adler, Ph. D., M.A., as Chief Rabbi of the British Empire. The Lord Mayor of London attended in State, and a number of members of Parliament, several of the Rothschilds family, Chief Rabbi Kahn of France and many of the most wealthy and influential bankers were present.

The Queen at a Wedding.

LONDON, June 23.—The marriage of Miss Alberta Ponsonby, goddaughter of the Queen and daughter of Sir Henry and the Hon. Lady Ponsonby, to Major and Lieutenant Colonel W. E. Montgomery of the Scots Fusilier Guards took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Wellington Barracks Chapel on Bird Cage Walk, opposite St. James' Park. The Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and nearly 700 guests were present.

Gorst Will Remain.

LONDON, June 23.—Lord Salisbury has effected a reconciliation between Viscount Cross, Secretary of State for the Indian Department, and Sir John Gorst, Political Secretary of the India Office. The result is that Sir John Gorst's resignation has been withdrawn.

One Man One Vote One Woman Also.

VICTORIA, N. S. W., June 23.—The Governor of New South Wales, the Earl of Jersey, in opening Parliament yesterday, announced that bills would be introduced to abolish plural voting and to enfranchise women.

Mackerel and Cod.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 22.—Most of the vessels in the Cape Shore mackerel fishing have arrived and their catch is very small and to date less than that of last year, which was the smallest in the history of the fishing. These vessels report a large body of the mackerel off the Nova Scotia coast, but they keep in shore and the provincial fishermen have made excellent catches. One vessel from Flemish Cape and two from Grand Banks report the cod fishing in these localities a failure. A large fleet of vessels was spoken with no fish.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

SIMCOE STREET

Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1891.

LA Patrie says the Cabinet is a Cabinet of moral curiosities. First, Sir John Thompson wanted to be Premier but was forced to take a secondary place by the hostility of the Orange section of the party ; then Sir Hector the senior Minister, had to give way to the junior one, Mr. Abbott, who, an old annexationist, is now leading the loyalists par excellence. Meanwhile Sir Aldolphe, who started out to destroy Sir Hector, has had to knuckle down to him, whiles Mr. Chapleau who wished to knife both and make himself supreme is still as Secretary of State bewailing the bad treatment he has received and declaring that a Minister without patronage is empty-handed indeed. Speaking of Mr. Chapleau the same paper tells the story of some of his famous "kicks." At the execution of Riel he wrote his resignation and gave it to a friend to deliver, but thought better of the matter next day and dropped back into harness without a murmur. At the general election in 1887, he again threatened to resign, but Sir John Macdonald made his friend Senecal a Senator and pitched an office or two to his followers and he was tamed. At the last election, when Sir Hector invaded Mr. Chapleau's district and ran for Richlieu Mr. Chapleau swore vengeance, but contented himself with sending his secretary to the county to help Sir Hector whilst he himself remained at Montreal and encouraged the Liberals in their opposition to him. Since then he has been privy to the preparation of the Tarte case against Sir. Hector, yet has not failed before the Privileges Committee to appear to sympathise with the latter. La Patrie is convinced that instead of insisting upon being placed at the head of the railway Department when the session closes, Mr. Chapleau will be well content if he can hold on to his present office. It regards him as a complete invertebrate.

The Budget.

There was nothing very startling in Mr. Foster's budget statement on Tuesday. He thinks the state of the country is satisfactory and looks for a recovery in business if the growing crops turn out well ; but he did not regale the House with any of those truly gorgeous pictures with which Tupper and Tilley used to dazzle us all. The McKinley Bill will not in his opinion do any harm. He expressed his faith in our ability to open new markets for the coarse and bulky wares which are chiefly affected, but forgot to add that, even so, we shall have to pay more for transportation charges, and must, therefore, lose by the change. When the Tories are advocating new protective duties they lay great stress on the advantage of a near market to the farmer ; but when it suits their book they can argue, like Mr. Foster, that after all the distant market is the thing. He had not much to say about his trip to the West Indies beyond expressing the hope that closer trade relations might yet be brought about, and he was still more reserved in his references to the negotiations with Mr. Blaine. Liberals will be glad to hear that he has made up his mind to practice economy in the public expenditure. His proposal to repeal the duties on raw sugar, which will deprive the treasury of three and a half millions of revenue per annum, has something to do with that commendable change of heart. In times past Mr. Foster took his stand on the high ground that Canada ought to run her own tariff in her own way. But just as Sir John made haste to repeal the export duty on logs in order to avoid a penalty which Congress threatened to impose, so the Finance Minister has had to take account of the free sugar of the United States, and alter our tariff accordingly. Is it not somewhat absurd to call that a national policy which is in reality dictated by a foreign legislature? Mr. Foster asks for a million and a half of dollars to replace a portion of the sum lost by the freeing of raw sugar. He proposes to raise it by imposing a tax of a cent per pound on malt, which he estimates will augment the price of beer to the extent of three cents per gallon, and yield a revenue of $300,000 ; by adding 20c. per gallon to the excise duty on distilled spirits, which will give $600,000 ; and by making smokers bear an excise tax of five cents on tobacco together with a slight addition to the import duty on that article, which will bring in $400,000. Some slight changes are made in the duty on other articles. The sugar refiner is still to be protected, however, to the extent of eighth-tenths of a cent per pound on refined sugar, which means that he is to be allowed to sweat the consumer to the extent of $1,800,000 a year. Sir Richard Cartwright made a vigorous reply to Mr. Foster, in which he dealt sharply with the Government's conduct in regard to reciprocity and reviewed the condition of the country at length. There is plenty of room for discussion in the budget statement, and the Opposition will doubtless cover a good deal of it.—Globe.

Court House Park.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

SIR,—Some few days ago one of your readers addressed you on the subject of the park. The turf at the front looks very bad. The caretaker this year is not doing so well as he did last, even with the materials at hand. Burnt blotches of grass (the same once, too,) day after day do not relieve the eye. As for the centre flower-bed, it is for those only who stand by and look at it. For the public the green is the thing.

Yours, &c.,
A FREQUENTER.

What About the Money for Parks ?

PROHIBITION PARLIAMENT

Dominion Grand Lodge of Good Templars in Conference.

Fraternal Association—Liquor Legislation Amendments Wanted—General Work—Installation of Officers—Close of the Session at Midnight.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Grand Lodge was called to order at 2.15 o'clock by G.C.T. Jno. E. Wilson.

FRATERNAL GREETINGS.

Delegates from the W.C.T.U. and Royal Templar's of Temperance were received at 3 o'clock. The W.C.T.U. was represented by Mrs. Paton, President, Mesdames. Price, Bacon, Locke, Wand, Stanston, Alexander, Bailey, Madden, Martin and the R.T. of T. by S. R. Armstrong, Select Councillor Dr. Fife, Miss Sanderson, Miss Turner.

These were heartily welcomed by the G C.T., who spoke of the united and cordial feelings that should always exist among workers in the cause of temperance.

Dr. Fife, who responded for the Royal Templars of Temperance, expressed the pleasure it gave him to extend to the Good Templars, on the occasion of their visit to the town of Peterborough, the greetings of his organization. They were men and women engaged in the same work, trying to keep sober themselves and keep others sober. They were working on similar lines as lodges and councils, and, he believed, that on the lines of legislation the aims of both were the same.

Mrs. Paton spoke on behalf of the W.C.T. U. She was pleased to do so. Twenty-seven years ago she was an active Good Templar. She and her sisters were working week in and week out to down this terrible liquor traffic. The speaker showed herself to be a vigorous and radical thinker and in the course of her remarks hit out from the shoulder against long hours of shop girls. She was also an out-and-out prohibitionist and worked on the third party lines, as the only hope of attaining prohibition.

Addresses were also delivered by Mr. Armstrong and Miss Sanderson on behalf of the Royals, and by Mrs. J. H. Locke, of the W.C.T.U. Responses were made for the Grand Lodge by Rev. W. L. Scott, Frank Metcalf, and Mrs. W. L. Scott.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

A second report was presented by the Finance Committee, increasing the capita tax to 12c. per member per quarter. This tax is to be used in part for the purpose of paying a mileage rate equal to four cents per mile for every mile actually travelled by a representative in attending the said Grand Lodge session. The expectation is that by this method a larger and more general representation will be secured from subordinate lodges. The report was adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS.

The reports of the Committee on District Lodges, also on Constitution, were presented and adopted. They covered mainly technical points of work.

At 5.30 the lodge adjourned, to meet again at 8 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The Grand Lodge resumed its sitting at 8 p.m., the G.C.T., Jno. E. Wilson, in the chair.

The names of T. L. Holmes and Rev. Mr. Madill, representatives from Toronto, were omitted from the list of delegates printed in yesterday's list.

AMENDMENTS TO LICENSE ACT.

The Committee on Legislation submitted the following report, which was carried unanimously :

(1) That this Grand Lodge instruct the Executive Committee to memorialize the Ontario Government, praying that at the approaching session of the Local Legislature there be introduced and persistently urged a bill amending our liquor laws as (1) To substitute for the present law against selling liquors to minors, the provisions of the Illinois State Law as to sale or gift of liquor to minors, both as to age limit and as to penalties. (2) To give the electors of any polling sub-division the power to prevent the issue of any license within the limits of such sub-division, by means of a majority petition, or else that every licenser be obliged to get every year, a majority petition of the electors residing in the polling sub-division in which the license is to take effect. (3) To prohibit the treating business by the adoption of the system in such successful operation in Nova Scotia. (4) To license all houses of public entertainment. (5) To close all taverns and liquor shops on all statutory holidays and on any days set apart for voting on the Local Option by-law, the same as during Provincial and Municipal elections. (6) To prohibit the sale of liquor in all railway stations and the neighborhood thereof. (7) To provide that any person may apply to a county judge to have a license quashed when the same is illegally granted. (8) To provide more adequate penalties for illegal liquor selling by persons who are licensed to sell liquor. (9) To provide that the clerk of municipality be given power to issue summonses compelling the attendance of witnesses relative to a petition for a new license, or a transfer, when such petition is referred to him, in accordance with the license act.

(2) That the Dominion Government be memorialized to prohibit the sale of strong drink in military and mounted police canteens.

(3) That it is our duty to use every means at our disposal for the curtailing of our country's curse, while never losing sight of our ultimate object, the complete overthrow of that curse, and with this object we urge our members to do all in their power to secure the submission and adoption of prohibitory bylaws in their respective localities, if our local option legislation is sustained by the Court of Appeal, by which it is now being considered.

(4) That the following be delegates to the annual meeting of the council of the Dominion Alliance, to meet in the city of Toronto next September : J. L. Robertson, J. E. Wilson, J. B. Hay, J. Impey.

MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS AND MOTIONS.

A literature committee, consisting of Jno. L. Robertson, J. S. Robertson and Mrs. W. L. Scott, were appointed to act in conjunction with the editor in the editorial management of the Good Templar of Canada, the official organ of the Order.

The executive were instructed to appoint fraternal delegates to the next annual sessions of the Royal Templars, Sons of Temperance and W.C.T.U. and kindred associations.

THE STATE OF THE ORDER.

The Committee on the State of the Order recommends that the executive in dealing with the agency work encourage to a greater extent the development of existing lodges, rather than the indiscriminate institution of new lodges. The importance of aggressive temperance work was urged upon every lodge and member.

It is with very deep regret that we chronicle the sudden demise of the late Miss Maggie Redpath, eldest daughter of Wm. Redpath, jr., who passed quietly away on Friday, June 19th at about two o'clock p.m., in the 27th year of her age. Miss Redpath has been ill for some time past, but was thought to be in no danger ; but on Friday morning was suddenly taken worse and passed away without a struggle. The deceased will be sadly missed, for she was well spoken of by all who knew her. The bereaved friends and relatives have the sincere sympathy of all the people.

The Glorious Twelfth.

A Great Day for Peterborough—The Biggest Demonstration of the Year.

The biggest public day Peterborough will see this year will undoubtedly be the Twelfth of July. The Orangemen are making elaborate preparations for a rousing celebration in Peterborough, in which the brethren from points as far west as Toronto and as far east as Kingston will take part. Special railway rates have been secured, and the great success of the demonstration in 1887 will be repeated on a still larger scale in 1891.

The Twelfth falling on Sunday, the celebration will be held on Monday, July 13th. Vigorous committees have the arrangements in hand. There will be a monster parade through arched and gaily decorated streets, the customary Twelfth of July speeches and other attractions. Thousands of visitors will be brought to town that day. There will be seven or eight arches erected on the streets at different points, and other decorations will be made.

The local Orangemen are taking hold of the matter in an active spirit and no pains will be spared on their part to make the day a great success.

In Memoriam.

Lines Written on the Death of the Late William Darling, Esq., License Inspector of East Peterborough, Clerk of the Township of Dummer, etc., Who Died December 7th, 1890, Aged 57 Years.

(PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.)

Our friend and neighbor's gone from us,
His labors here are o'er.
Now joined the great majority
Of those gone on before.

His place is vacant in the home,
Their loss they greatly feel ;
May they all put their trust in Christ,
Who can their sorrows heal.

His kind, familiar, manly face
No more on earth we'll see,
Nor hear his interesting voice,
Who once conversed with me.

The Lord gave, and He took away :
The reason who can tell ;
May we each in submission say,
God doeth all things well.

No more will he return to us,
But we must follow him,
And leave this world and all behind,
A future home to win.

He was a man of honour here,
All actions mean would scorn ;
Uprightness and true principles
His life did here adorn.

The offices here which he held,
He did with honor fill,
And few, I think, a fault could find,
The way he used his skill.

He is missed in the neighbourhood,
And in the township, too,
And other places where he went,
His ardent work to do.

He was so willing for to help
Those who would come to him ;
And so advice, without reward,
He ofter gave to them.

The children liked him when he taught
In our own public school,
For mostly kindness did he use
To discipline and rule.

Who can we get to fill his place,
Or do the work like he,
So faithful and so noble, too,
In our community ?

May the dear family left behind
Their hearts to Jesus give,
That they may in the better land
With Christ and angels live.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores ; two little arms and hands in the same condition ; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely shocking to the sight. Such Mrs. H. A. Stout is no : "I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost discouraged. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular and I refer to Mr. C. W. Wetherer, druggist.

CONSIDERING DIVORCES.

SEVERAL NOTABLE CASES BEFORE THE SENATE.

In Committee of the Whole the House Weighs a Proposal for a Saskatchewan Railway—Benevolent Societies Seek Incorporation.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The House went into committee this afternoon to consider a resolution by Mr. Dewdney, declaring it expedient in order to enable the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Railway Company to construct a railway from the city of Winnipeg to some point on the Saskatchewan River, to enter into a contract with such company for the transport of men, supplies, materials and mails for 20 years, and to pay for such services during the said term $80,000 per annum, such payment to be computed from the date of the completion of the said railway. He declared distinctly that the Government was assisting the road as a colonization road and not as a route to Hudson's Bay. He believed, however, that the Hudson's Bay route was feasible, and that if it were constructed it would greatly cheapen transportation of cereals. The Hudson's Bay Railway scheme was discussed until 11 o'clock, when the committee rose and reported the resolutions. It will be read a third time tomorrow, when a vote will be taken. Judging from the opposition developed to the scheme to-day the vote will be very close.

The Senate Divorce Committee to-day reported in favor of granting a divorce to Adam Rusworm of Walkerton. Mr. H. P. O'Connor of Walkerton appeared for the applicant and Mr. J. A. Gemmill of Ottawa for Mrs. Rusworm. It also reported in favor of granting a divorce to Thomas Bridges of Grey. It heard the case of Isabel Tapley of Hamilton, who claimed a divorce on the ground that her husband had left her and was now living with another woman. Several witnesses were examined by the husband in person. The committee reserved its decision.

Mr. Mulock has given notice that he will inquire did the Minister of Justice or Hon. Mr. Abbot after the death of Sir John A. Macdonald advise or suggest to His Excellency the Governor General that Sir Charles Tupper be asked to form a Government.

Mayor Birkett has called a public meeting of the citizens of Ottawa on Monday to consider the erection at Ottawa of a "Macdonald Memorial Institute" for the Dominion as the most fitting way of perpetuating in a thoroughly practical manner the name of the late Premier, Sir John A. Macdonald.

Col. O'Brien in pairing with Mr. Desgardins (Hochelaga) yesterday on the motion of Mr. Foster for a Royal Commission on prohibition was in favor of that motion not against it as previously reported.

The bill to incorporate the Canadian Order of Home Circles in charge of Mr. Coatsworth came before the Committee on Commerce and Banking this morning. Mr. J. R. Roaf represented those seeking incorporation. Mr. W. Fitzgerald, Government inspector of insurance, had prepared a short report on this but a more extended one on a similar bill to incorporate the Septennial Benevolent Society, which was also applicable to the former. The committee therefore requested Mr. Fitzgerald to read the report on the Septennial Benevolent Society. The report, after reviewing the by-laws of the society, points out that a single assessment for a $1000 certificate is $2.50, and that a monthly call for an assessment is to be made and no more unless claims demand and, so that each member for a certificate of $1000 will pay annually $30, or during seven years $210, unless claims demand aid. Thirty dollars a year compounded for seven years would amount at 5 per cent. to $244, and at 5½ per cent. to $246, and at 6 per cent. $251. A member therefore is promised $1000 in consideration of paying sums which on most favorable terms cannot produce more than $250. With regard to the words "unless claims demand." Mr. Fitzgerald says it may be that the promoters are of the opinion that they have a legal right within the seven years to make increased assessments, and if such be the proper construction the members joining have no guarantee that claims will not demand so large an increase in the number of assessments as to render it impossible for many of those who joined the society upon the representation that the number of assessments in any one year would not exceed 14, to continue to pay the society's demands. They would be compelled to drop out and forfeit the sum, paid the practical effect of which would be the doing of a gross injustice to those who in most cases could ill afford the loss—a transaction which could scarcely be looked upon morally as anything short of obtaining money under false pretences. The second section makes all members in good standing in the society at the date of the passing of the Act members in good standing in the society incorporated by the act and makes the new society liable for the engagements and contracts of the society as at present constituted. The effect of this section would be to give parliamentary sanction to the business of the society as above described and as carried on from the date of its organization up to the present time and "against this I must emphatically protest." If the promises made are fulfilled it is quite apparent that it will require at least the contributions of four members to pay the endowment called for by the certificate of one member. If it be said that it may be accomplished by reason of lapses it is, in effect, saying that one member can only prosper through the misfortune of three others, that is to say at least three members must fail or forfeit all contributions in order that one may succeed. Any such business if authorized would be legalized malfeasance to use a mild term. The system of doing business is that known as the Iron Hall, which has been condemned by the insurance inspectors of Massachusetts and Connecticut and other Government authorities of the United States. When the Foresters' Act was before Parliament Mr. Fitzgerald says he urged that section 43 of the insurance was not intended to apply to an association of the character of the Foresters, in which the insurance element is the chief feature, and not simply incidental to the other and chief purposes of the organization, and he again urges that any society which is in effect an insurance company and whose principal if not sole business is insurance, although it may be disguised under a name which indicates a benevolent or fraternal society, would be regarded in its true character as an insurance company and be subject to the provisions of the Insurance Act, as all recognized companies are.

Mr. Fitzgerald concludes that he sees no reason why conditions absolutely essential for the performance and safety of companies incorporated for the purposes of carrying on assessment insurance should be dispensed with in the case of a fraternal society, one of whose chief features is insurance on the assessment plan.

The committee decided to postpone consideration of the bill until the reports could be printed.

Benevolent Societies.

The Septennial Benevolent Society was incorporated under the provision of the Ontario Act, June 30, 1890, and is said to have now over 1000 members. Among those whose names appear on the bill as now seeking incorporation from the Dominion Parliament are: Ashley R. Riches, A. J. Pattison, Dr. A. D. Watson, James R. Roaf, Richard Bowker, Henry F. Perry, William H. Apted, Dr. C. P. Lennox, J. W. Johnson, James Brandon, James Chesworth, John Hillock, Robert Awde, James Tomlinson, Albert Ogden, John A. Wills, L. S. Levee, G. S. T. Bryce, John Firstbrook, H. E. Trent, Wilmot Grant of Toronto.

A Lively Time at Each Sitting of the Committee on Privileges.

OTTAWA, June 25.—There was to-day again a large number of spectators and a full attendance of members at the meeting of the Privileges and Elections Committee. Mr. B. B. Osler, along with Mr. Henry watched the case for Sir Hector Langevin. The further examination of Mr. Perley was proceeded with by Mr. Geoffrion. In answer to a question whether he had a conversation with E. Larkin with regard to the Esquimalt harbor witness said that he was unable to remember, having had so many conversations with contractors.

"If Mr. Larkin says you had," asked Mr. Geoffrion, "or rather had written a letter to that effect at that time, would he be saying what was true?"

"I have no doubt if Mr. Larkin had so written it would have been true."

"If he says in that letter you informed him that Sir Hector was determined to have the Esquimalt harbor completed, even if it had to be lengthened immediately afterwards, would that be correct?"

"I believe if Mr. Larkin said so it would have been perfectly true."

"When you say in any of your letters 'I am directed by the Minister,' you mean that the Minister has so directed you?"

"The Minister would have either directed me personally or through the Secretary of the Department, the only medium between myself and him."

"When you merely say in any of your letters 'I have been directed,' would that mean that the Minister has directed you?"

"It sometimes has two meanings. It might mean that the Minister had knowledge of it, or the words might merely be used the same as 'I am your obedient servant.'" Witness then made some explanations in regard to the awarding of the cross wall contract, showing how the errors occurred in the two tenders, received by the department, besides that of Larkin, Connolly & Co., there being three in all, and stating that he advised the first two tenderers of their errors. This was, however, in no way connected with the Esquimalt Harbor. He explained as to the dual position he occupied as Chief Engineer of the Quebec Harbor Commission and Chief Engineer of the Department. In regard to his letter to Thomas McGreevy marked "private" and read yesterday he said it was an answer to certain queries put to him by Thomas McGreevy.

Mr. Geoffrion decided not to go outside the Esquimalt Graving Dock and therefore would not examine witness in the Quebec Harbor to-day. He would recall witness again when all the papers were received for that work. Witness was cross-examined by Mr. Osler for Sir Hector and Mr. Stewart for Thomas McGreevy, but nothing new was elicited.

Mr. O. E. Murphy again took the stand. He testified that in connection with the cross wall, Quebec, there were four tenders, Gallagher, Michael Connolly, McCarron & Cameron and himself. These tenders were opened in Quebec, in Mr. Thomas McGreevy's house, in the presence of Thomas McGreevy, himself (Murphy) and Robert and Charles McGreevy. He had access to these tenders for about one hour and a half, after which Thomas McGreevy handed them to Charles McGreevy and asked him to take them to Mr. Farley at the St. Louis Hotel.

Big Blaze in Maine.

VANCEBORO, Me., June 25.—The Vanceboro Woodenware company's mill was burned last evening. Loss, $35,000.

Ordered to Go Home.

DETROIT, Mich., June 25.—A Washington despatch says: The Treasury Department is informed William H. Crawford, a Canadian carpenter having been deported to Canada on the ground that his presence in this country was in violation of the alien contract labor law, returned to Michigan the same afternoon and filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States. This was done with a view to removing his disabilities, and he is supposed to be at work for Malcolm Blue at Bay Mills, Mich., under the original contract. In acting on this case Assistant-Secretary Nettleton held that Crawford's status is not changed because of the declaration to become a citizen, which step he regarded as a fineness to evade the law. Immigrant Inspector Schell is therefore instructed to notify Crawford that he is in the country unlawfully and must return to Canada.

ANOTHER GREAT FLOOD

IOWA TOWNS ARE SWEPT AWAY BY WATER.

Tremendous Rains Cause Rivers to Overflow and Flood the Country—Many Lives Lost and Immense Railway Bridges Go Down Stream and the Roads Are Useless.

WATERLOO, Iowa, June 25.—At least eight people have been drowned in a flood in the Cherokee valley, four at Cherokee and four at Correctionville. The full extent of the flood is not known and the death list may be much larger. Much property has also been destroyed. The storm prevailed with great violence along the Illinois Central's lines from Storm Lake to Lemars, a distance of 36 miles. All the towns are considerably damaged.

The railroad depot at Calumet was blown down and much damage to town property is reported. Sutherland, O'Brien county, a small station on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, five miles from Calumet, was almost wiped out, over 40 buildings being blown down. The people took to caves and no one was hurt.

The wires are all down and it is impossible to obtain accurate information except through the reports transmitted to the railroad officials. Twelve inches of water is reported to have fallen last night in the Cherokee valley.

The Cherokee was visited by another storm this morning, fully as disastrous, though not of as long duration, as that last night. The Illinois Central Railroad bridge, about 250 feet long, across the Little Sioux at Cherokee, went down under the rush of the flood at 2 15 this afternoon, together with several houses in the lower part of the town.

At Lemars this morning Floyd River was a mile wide. There is a great loss to stock in the country. Bridges are out on the railroads. All trains are abandoned. The Omaha pay car was the only engine available for work.

The Country Inundated.

The Floyd River Valley is inundated for thirty-five miles north of Sioux City. The towns of Merrill, Hinton and James are completely submerged. Thirty-five miles of track on the Illinois Central, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, and Sioux City and Northern are flooded north of Sioux City, with bad washouts at Lemars. On the Central Iowa branch nine hundred feet of track was carried away; on the Sioux Falls branch seven bridges were washed out. The Chicago and Northwestern tracks in the Sioux Valley are out for over a half mile at Sutherland.

The same road is also washed out at Carroll. At Merrill the Floyd River rose over 15 feet in three hours to-day, and at 6 o'clock to-night the flood is sweeping through the Floyd River Valley toward Sioux City and devastating hundreds of acres of crops.

The manufacturing towns of Leeds, Lynn and Lewiston are in its course and will be submerged by morning. Hundreds of families on the flats are moving out onto higher ground. The railroad companies have abandoned their yards and shops at Sioux City, and engines, cars and all kinds of material have been removed to higher ground. The stock in the Union and Central stock yards has been removed.

Reports from South Dakota are that the Vermillion River is out of its banks and flooding thousands of acres of growing grain.

Cherokee Almost Wiped Out.

Seventy-five houses have been carried out of sight by the torrent at Cherokee. How many lives have been lost is yet a matter of uncertainty. A terrific cloud burst, thrice repeated, and wind almost a hurricane are what did the work. Up to 10.30 to-night, owing to the destruction of wires and railroads, only the vaguest reports have reached here from the devastated territory to the west, north and south.

Most of the destruction in Cherokee was wrought by the extraordinary rise in the Sioux River, resulting from the tremendous downpour of water. Some idea of the impetuosity and suddenness of the flood can be inferred from the fact that it carried off apparently without an effort the big truss bridge on which the Illinois Central Railroad crossed the river, and with the bridge went 400 feet of trestle on which the company's tracks approached the river.

The Little Sioux is at the high est stage ever known. The best information indicates that the Illinois Central rails are under water continuously for many miles on the Ocawa branch and that the havoc both to railway and bridges is something seldom paralleled in railway history.

Advices have been received stating that Vice-President Harahan and a majority of the other high officials of the Illinois Central company are already en route for the stricken territory. Many days will probably elapse before traffic, either passenger or freight, is in anything like normal condition. Orders have been issued to receive no more freight until further orders for any point beyond Aurelia.

Every effort was being made to-night to bring order out of the chaos, but the absence of accurate information and the paralysis of transportation almost nullifies progress. Gangs of workmen and several railroad telegraphers had reached Cherokee to-night, but could get no further and could do but little if anything as yet. It may be a week or more before the full extent of the disaster is known.

Other railroads besides the Illinois Central can scarcely have escaped great damage, particularly the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. According to latest advices the storm affected not only a big stretch of country in Iowa, but large portions also of Minnesota and Nebraska.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., June 25.—A man from Moville, 18 miles from here, reports the whole town was swept away and only one house was untouched.

A New Sort of Joke.

WINDSOR, June 25.—A man named Baptist, living at Morristown, was struck by an engine while walking on the track near Belle River yesterday and thrown into an adjoining field. The train was stopped and when the man was found he was lying in the grass laughing heartily and remarked that he had got the laugh on that engine anyhow. He was totally uninjured.

An Old Man Missing.

WOODSTOCK, June 25. — Information is wanted of John Young of Delmer, Dereham Township, who left his home about Christmas to visit his daughter in Washington Territory. He has not been heard from since. He is 72 years of age.

Lost Two Fingers.

HAMILTON, June 25.—A very painful accident occurred at the Hamilton Street Car Company's stables, corner of Lock and Herkimer-streets, about 9.30 last evening. Several of the employes were engaged in hoisting hay into the loft, and the system followed is by the aid of rope and pulleys. Johnnie Collins, aged 4 years, caught hold of the rope and his hand was drawn into the pulley and badly torn. Two fingers had to be amputated.

Good-Bye, Jay!

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 25.—Jay Ewing, American consul here, has resigned recommending as successor Henry R. Harris of Washington State. In an interview he said this action on his part was caused by hostility around here over his anti-British proclivities.

Lost a $700 Diamond Ring

MONTREAL, June 23.—The wife of the manager of a well-known express company had occasion to leave Toronto for Montreal. She took a sleeper. When some 90 miles from Montreal she went to the toilet room to wash. On her third finger she wore a $700 diamond ring, and while washing her hands the soap loosened the ring, which slipped from her finger and rolled into the washbasin and down the water pipe to the track below. Sectionmen have since searched for the ring, but without success.

MR. AND MRS. PARNELL.

THE MARRIAGE OCCURRED YESTERDAY AT STEYNING.

The Suspense and Doubt is Over at Last—The Ceremony was a Quiet One Most of Religious Marriage Will be Celebrated Later.

LONDON, June 25.—It has been learned that the marriage of Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea took place at 10 o'clock this morning. The only witnesses to the ceremony were the two servants from Mrs. O'Shea's house at Walsingham Terrace, Brighton. The registrar was strictly enjoined not to give any information about the marriage and he promised to preserve the closest secrecy. Mr. Parnell had passed the previous evening at Walsingham Terrace. An order was given to have a solitary one horse phaeton in readiness at 6 o'clock this morning instead of the order for horses or a carriage for exercise as was customary when Mr. Parnell was stopping at Brighton. When the conveyance was ready Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea entered the phaeton and orders were given to the coachman to drive to the Westward. After the party had left Brighton behind them the driver was directed to proceed to Steyning by a circuitous route. Steyning was reached at 9 o'clock at which time a heavy rain was falling. Upon entering the town Mrs. O'Shea, who was familiar with the place, relieved the coachman of the ribbons and drove direct to the registrar's office herself. Mr. Parnell was dressed in dark clothes. He appeared to be well and in cheerful spirits, but occasionally threw nervous glances around him, apparently being somewhat anxious lest the wedding party be observed. Mrs. O'Shea was also in dark attire and wore a pink trimmed bonnet. She, too, was in good spirits and was very vivacious both before and after the ceremony. It is announced that a second and religious marriage will take place in London immediately, so as to satisfy the Catholics.

Must the Grand Old Man Go?

LONDON, June 25.—Sir Andrew Clarke, Mr. Gladstone's chief physician, fears that the veteran statesman may not recover from the effects of the attack of influenza from which he suffered this spring. On his advice Mr. Gladstone has gone to Lowestoft, a seaport town, in hopes of recruiting his health.

A TERRIBLE MURDER.

A Crime in Missouri Worse Than Those of Jack the Ripper.

PIERCE CITY, Miss., June 25.—A daughter (aged 14) of Terry Campbell, who lives a mile north of Ritchey, was seen last Saturday night with a man leaving town homeward bound. This was the last time she was seen alive. Sunday evening the girl's mutilated body was found a few yards from the road, near the place where she was seen the day before. Her head was crushed, her throat cut from ear to ear and several gashes on the breast and abdomen. There were evidences of a hard struggle. Rumor says the girl was an important witness in a murder case now pending in Newton county, and that interested parties are suspected of killing her.

ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

An Orangeville Man Held for Smuggling Opium.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Charles Rice, alias Rodgers, a wealthy druggist living in Orangeville, Ont., was arrested here to-day charged with smuggling opium from Canada. The arrest was made as Rice was about to enter Hip Lung's Chinese store. Ryce had a package containing 50 half pounds of opium, which he said he obtained at Victoria, B.C. It is thought he is a member of the notorious Gardner Labelle gang of smugglers.

SKIPPED FROM HAMILTON.

A Livery Stable Man Who Fell Into Wicked Ways.

HAMILTON, June 25.—W. H. Brown, livery stable keeper of James-street north, skipped out on Tuesday, leaving a numerous array of creditors to mourn his departure. Brown has lived a very fast life, and it is said that he has involved two young girls in ruin. He leaves his wife unprovided for, but her father, a neighboring farmer, has come into the city to take charge of her. Brown hails from Jarvis. Some months ago he was in partnership with John Caldwell in the livery business in Hunter-street and, it is alleged, tried to sell out and skip in Caldwell's absence; but Caldwell got wind of his intentions and returned in time to check them. The livery stable is now in possession of a bailiff.

Free Fight at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N.Y., June 25.—Warm weather is not calculated to allay the uneasy spirit in local sailors' resorts. The prevalent trouble broke out again this morning at the Williams coal and stone docks in the Blackwell Canal, where the schooner E. P. Palmer was unloading. The mixed crew of six union and non-union men were paid off last night and a "scab" crew hired to-day. The union men got aboard and drove off the new men, but the Palmer succeeded in picking them up and retreated to the breakwater. A policeman was called, but no further trouble is feared.

PRINCE GEORGE OF GREECE.

He is Traveling From San Francisco to New York.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Prince George of Greece arrived from Yokohama on the Occidental and Oriental steamer Gaelic yesterday. He is accompanied by Captain Lohmer of the Russian cruiser Pamiat Azov. The Prince is a fine-looking man, 6 feet 2 inches tall, and stout in proportion. He is 22 years old to-day. He and Captain Lohmer intend to remain two days in San Francisco and will then proceed direct to New York. They will there take ship for London and thence go to St. Petersburg via Copenhagen. The Czarowitz started to St. Petersburg via Vladivostock, and Prince George expects to arrive about a month ahead of him.

Concerning the attack on the Czarowitz in Japan Prince George would only say: "I was riding in a jinrikisha immediately behind the Czarowitz. I heard a hubbub in front and immediately jumped out and ran forward. The assailant of the Czarowitz had been disarmed. I had nothing to do with saving the Czarowitz. I went as far as Vladivostock with him, and then returned to Yokohama on the cruiser Pamiata Azov. I shall not stay very long in America. I shall probably spend two days in San Francisco and two in New York."

Capt. Lohmer said that the attempt on the Czarowitz's life was made in pursuance of a plot. Some fanatics in Japan had determined to kill him. He had been visiting a Japanese and was on his way home. When a lonely part of the road was reached a Japanese rushed out and struck at him with a short sword. The Czarowitz was wearing a hard Derby hat and the sword cut through it, inflicting two wounds, one on the forehead and one just over the ear. Part of the crown and a big slice of the rim of the hat were cut away. The Japanese servants of the Czarowitz attacked the would-be assassin and Prince George rushed into the scuffle and the man was soon bound. Since then he has been imprisoned for life.

From the Japanese newspapers brought on the Yokohama it is learned that two Japanese women attempted to commit suicide in explanation of the attempt on the life of the Czarowitz. Both tried to drown themselves.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLAN'S, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book as well the well fitted her husband. A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

The Kindergarten Closing.

Another Successful Term Brought to a Finish—The Closing Exercises

In spite of the intense heat on Thursday afternoon the Kindergarten room in the Central School building was crowded on the occasion of the closing exercises of the juvenile department. The room was nicely decorated, and the sixty little tots who composed the class were arrayed in their best bib and tucker, and looked smiling and happy. Teachers and pupils appeared to be in touch with each other, and good attention was paid by the children to their work. All who witnessed the exercises expressed themselves as delighted. It is apparent that the Kindergarten has become a permanent institution in the public school, and as its advantages show themselves the Kindergarten will become more and more popular.

The attendance was composed chiefly of ladies, parents and friends of the little ones, while a number of gentleman looked on and smiled their approbation, among them Trustees Dr. Boucher, Dr. Burgham, and John McKee; Dr. Tilley, Inspector, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Rev. J. H. Locke, Dr. Goldsmith, Messrs. H. Rush, E. B Edwards, J. D. Collins, Dr. Stephenson, V.S., J. H. Ketcham, Sergt.-Major Rundle, Chas. Cameron, J. W. Bennett, D. B. Gardner, John Carlisle, Jos. Mills and Wm. Irwin.

The opening number of the programme revealed the children seated at their little tables, each one having a beautiful bouquet of flowers enclosed in handsome little baskets made largely by their own hands. At a given signal they all rose and sang the National Anthem, and followed this with a hymn of prayer sung on their knees. Then a "welcome" was sung, and next came a number of pretty little Kindergarten songs, rendered with spirit and grace. Miss Warner, and her assistants, Miss Sophie Cameron and Miss May MacFarlane, conducted the children through these and various other exercises, and to them great credit must be given for having brought the little ones to such a high state of perfection. The teaching of such small children is a difficult task.

The songs were ended by the children breaking up and carrying their bouquets to their parents and friends seated around them. Bouquets were also prepared for all the school trustees, but there were not many of them present.

At one stage of the programme the children worked at different things, building designs in wood, doing needlework, etc.

Then games followed the removal of the chairs and tables, and the little ones fluttered and ramped about in a merry way that brought smiles to the faces of the spectators. The children marched well. One of their marching songs was the "Red, White and Blue," in which they each carried a little flag. A good-bye song brought the programme to a close.

Afterwards a table full of the handiwork of the Kindergarten class was exhibited for the inspection of the guests.

The Methodist Cemetery.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I have noticed in your paper a letter, signed "Property Owner," complaining of the action of the trustees of the George Street Methodist Church in reference to the old Methodist burial ground. I am satisfied that a little explanation will remove the misunderstanding under which the writer labours.

You are aware, sir, that during the last twenty-five years there have been comparatively few interments there, and that of late the town council caused it to be completely closed as a burial ground. Little attention was paid to the plots by the owners, and, in consequence, the place grew up with bushes and became a rendezvous for worthless characters, whose performances were little in keeping with the sanctity of the place. The fences rotted, and the adjoining owners called for the erection of new ones, involving much expense. It was impossible to give much oversight to the place. Many were removing their dead and the ground was fast lapsing into a state that was not creditable to any one.

Under these circumstances the trustees of the Nicholls' Hospital Trust offered to take the property on a 15 year lease at $1 a year, to fence it, and care for it, keeping oversight of the grounds, and keeping off the loose characters who were wont to frequent it. The trustees of the church, realizing the rights of the many owners of plots, and desirous of securing for the ground services which they knew would be appreciated, but which the trustees could not well perform, granted a lease for fifteen years stipulating however for the preservation of all graves, grave stones etc. and preserving to the owners of plots all rights of access etc. The clause in the lease being in the following words:

"It is expressly agreed between the parties "hereto that the lessees are to keep up all "outside fences, to preserve from wilful "injury all monuments, head stones and "tomb stones. That all mounds raised over "graves are to be respected and preserved. "That all grave plots enclosed are to remain "enclosed so long as existing fences last. "That no interments are to be permitted. "That all persons desiring entrance to the "said premises for the purpose of visiting "graves are to have free ingress, egress and "regress without let, hindrance or interruption. That all persons desiring to remove the "remains of the dead are to have free "liberty to do so, they filling up again all "excavations and making smooth the surface "when done."

For years it has been a matter of regret that more care could not be given to the ground—but under this arrangements those who were most deeply grieved will find their wishes performed—and will realize that so far from having cause of complaint they have reason to be pleased at the action of the trustees.

I am, sir
Your obedient servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. The following paragraphs were accidentally omitted from the last report of the township council proceedings:—

Moved by Charles McMahon, seconded by Thomas McNamara, that Lorenzo Switzer be refunded one dollar or error in taxes—Carried.

Cultivate Cheerfulness Every Day.

Our Canadian people should bear in mind, that cheerfulness enables nature to recruit its strength; whereas worry and discontent always debilitate, with their constant wear and tear. It is almost impossible to find this cheerfulness of character, and buoyancy of spirits, in those whose nerves are weak and unstrung; who instead of enjoying sound healthy sleep at night, are wakeful and restless. Cheerfulness cannot be found in the morose and dyspeptic subject; his poor digestion makes him miserable and peevish, cross and unlovable.

In order to produce a cheerful disposition, which always aids digestion, increases strength and banishes worry and care; Paine's Celery Compound is without doubt the best and most reliable agent. It removes all the disorders of the nervous system and weary brain; brings calm rest, and gives a vitality which is a guarantee of good health, robustness. Paine's Celery Compound stands alone in this great work, and physicians gaze in surprise on its wonderful results. Use it reader without delay and secure a genuine, cheerful, and hearty disposition, and make those around you happy.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Council met in Keene June 15. The Court of Revision finally revised the roll, and to the credit of the assessor, there were but two appeals against over assessment. Councillors Anderson and Lancaster were appointed a committee to examine the road opposite lot 3, con. 1, and have needful repairs made. A special grant of $30 was made to improve the road at Henderson's Hill, opposite lot 23, 8th con. line, R. Miller commissioner; and $30 to be added to grants already made to grade the road across McIntyre's Swamp, on the 8th con. line, opposite lots 15 and 16, councillors Johnston and Nelson, commissioners. On motion, no action was taken on John Taylor's petition to be detached from S.S. No 11 and attached to S.S. No. 7. A bylaw was passed appropriating $1250 to improve the roads. The trustees of S.S. No. 11, Hiawatha, made application for the council to raise the sum of $200 to repair the Indian council room, which they have rented for a school house. They never had a school, although there are between thirty and forty children within school age. The section is very small, the assessed value of it being but $53,725, whereas another section in the municipality is assessed at $210,055. The amended School Act of the last session of the Local Legislature comes in very opportune for them, as it provides that the municipal council of every township shall levy and collect upon the taxable property of the public school supporters of the whole township, the sum of $100, at least for every public school therein in which a public school has been kept open the whole year, exclusive of vacation, and a proportionate amount for less than a year; and an additional sum of $50.00 for every assistant teacher. This will be a great boon to weak sections, which in many instances have to pay four times the amount of stronger sections to educate the children. Therefore the trustees of all the sections will levy $100.00 less than they require for school purposes. The following accounts were passed: Jas. Hayes, gravel and damages $13.80; M. O. Leary, gravel $8.96; R. Elmhirst, gravel $17.75; M. Fitzgerald, cedar $2.25; John Graham, putting up railing at Graham's Hill $20.00; Jas Robertson, gravel $3.50; John Quinlin, gravel $6.30; J. Smithson, gravel and damages $8.20; J. Lundergen, gravel $3.00; Mrs. McCarthy, gravel $3.50; Jas. Fife, gravel $3.50; John Anderson, gravel $10.40; R. J. H. Short, gravel $10.50; A. Davidson, damage drawing gravel $4.00; R. Harrison, gravel $2.00; Agustus Whibbs, mending scrapers $2.75; R. Dickson, gravel $4.50; Edmund Foley, gravel 90 cts; Robert Evans, gravel $6.00; Jas. Conroy, cedar $1.80; D. O'Brien, gravel $4.00.

Council adjourned to 20th July.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

Its use brings roses to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes. Take it, and you will, like the Indian maiden, find a "red ear" in good health, an omen of future happiness. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded. b

DOGS IN LITERATURE.

MENTIONED BY THE WRITERS OF ALL ANCIENT NATIONS.

Instances From the Assyrians, Persians, Egyptians, Romans, and Greeks—"Man's Faithful Friend" Sometimes Betrays Almost Human Traits of Sense.

It is generally admitted by evolutionists that the dog was a most important factor in raising man from his primitive condition of almost helpless dependence on nature to the position of master over her forces. So long as man gained a precarious living by hunting, or even after he had bettered his condition and tended flocks and herds, the dog was an indispensable aid. His service was of more importance to man than the aid of a fellow helper could possibly be. The keen eye and still keener scent of the dog, together with his strength and speed, enabled him to supplement the limitations of his master, while his sagacity, his capability of being trained in many direction, his courage, his faithfulness and self-abnegation made what service he could render of the highest value. It may not be necessary to go as far as Cuvier is disposed to go, and hold that the dog was necessary to the establishment of human society, but it is evident that without the dog man would have been immensly slower than he has been in reaching a condition that deserves in any sense to be called human.

Considering the important service which the dog has rendered, there has been the utmost ingratitude on the part of man to his humble benefactor. The languages, as well as the literatures of nearly all nations attest the scorn and contempt in which the dog has been held. His name is the synonym of all that is mean and despicable. All words derived from his properties and traits are degraded in their meaning and serve as terms of reproach. A sullen, morose person is dogged, wretched verse is dogerel, unsightly books with the corners of the leaves folded over are dog-eared, the snarling letter R is the dog's letter, dog star and dog days hint of disease and pestilence, and to say of a man that he has gone to the dogs is to pronounce his character beyond redemption. The Greek derivatives from the word dog show the same abuse. A snarling, captious person is a cynic, and although the dog may boast the honor of furnishing a name for one of the schools of Greek philosophy, it reflects no credit on the dog, since the name was given because of the morose tenets of the founder.

The Assyrians, Persians and Egyptians treated the dog with graciousness and even reverence. The Egyptians venerated the cynocephali, a kind of dog headed baboons that were supposed to be endowed with superior intelligence and were selected as the symbol of deities of a peculiarly intellectual character. The god Anubis was represented in this manner. The Egyptians even built cities as a signal of public respect for the dog, a fact which led Juvenal to write:

Oppida tota canum Anubium
Venerantur, nemo Dianam

Nowhere in the Scriptures is the dog mentioned with the slightest degree of favor. The nearest approach to it is the statement that a living dog is better than a dead lion. It is probable that the extraordinary regard in which the dog was held by the Egyptians and Babylonians influenced the Jews in despising it. They were taught to regard it as unclean, and it is claimed that even in the chase they would not use it.

A curious fact, and one that has provoked much discussion, is that in the Iliad the dog is despised and his name is used to express every form of contempt, while in the Odyssey his virtues are recognized and the epithets applied to him are creditable. This marked contrast in the treatment of the dog has been one of the strong arguments brought forward by those who claim that the Iliad and Odyssey was not written by the same person. In the Iliad the dog is regarded chiefly as a scavenger, or if spoken of otherwise it is for the purpose of degrading some human being by comparison, as when Achilles in his wrath calls Agamemnon a "wine-bibber with the forehead of a dog." On the other hand, the Odyssey represents favorite dogs as following their master to the council, guarding the house, barking at strangers only and in various other ways indicative of appreciation. One of the most pathetic incidents in the great epic is that of Ulysses's dog Argus. He has been trained for the chase, but during his master's long absence he was neglected and after awhile became helpless. On Ulysses's return his own kindred fail to recognize him, but the dog lifts his head, pricks up his ears, and, seeing Ulysses draw near, wags his tail and drops his ears, but has not strength to go to his master. His joy is more than he can bear and he dies immediately.

Over Argus the black night of death
Came suddenly as soon as he had seen
Ulysses, absent now for twenty years.

Greek writers for the most part speak slightingly of the dog. The phrases "dog in a manger" and "not fit for a dog" are of Greek origin. The Furies are figured as dogs from which there is no escape, and the Bacchantes are often called mad dogs. Occasionally however, the term is used with favor, as when Æschylus calls the eagle "the winged dog of Zeus" and the griffins "the dogs of Zeus which do not bark." Pythagoras in his peculiar form calls the planets "the dogs of Persephone." Socrates's favorite oath was "by the dog," an expression which has been a great source of perplexity to scholars. Some have thought it was an asseveration on the part of Socrates by his faithful monitor, or demon, who he thought attended him in the investigation of truth, as a huntsman is attended by the dog.

The Egyptian origin of the expression is evident, and it may have been used by the Greeks long after any solemnity connected with it had disappeared.

Many claim that Socrates used it either from indifference or from ironical contempt for the popular gods. This irreverence, however, is inconsistent with the character of Socrates, especially if it be admitted that he was in earnest in regard to the offering to Æsculapius. Another interpretation, which Porphyry favors, is that this oath was an euphemistic appeal to hades, on the Rhadamanthyne principle of invoking the guardian of Pluto's gate, instead of Pluto himself, to whose realm Socrates was about to go.

The Romans seem to have regarded the dog neither with great sympathy nor antipathy. They often placed the figure of one of the feet of their household gods, and Lucien speaks of admitting Egyptian gods into the Roman temples, among them the semi canes deos.

The dog was probably a favorite with the Celts. An old Celtic poem dwells with fondness on the Fingal breed:

An eye of sloe, with ear not low
With horse's breast, with depth [illegible]
With breadth of loin and curve [illegible]
And nape set far beyond the head
Such were the dogs in Fingal best

Shakespeare is second to none in the choice of the dog. He has never a word to say in his favor, and when he would use a most positively vile term he applies some epithet taken from the dog. Iago is a Spartan dog, and daughters are dog hearted. Every kind of dog comes under his ban:

Mastiff, greyhound, mongrel grim,
Hound or spaniel, brach or lym,
Or bob-tail tike, or trundle tail.

RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

Various Matters Brought Up at Ottawa Yesterday.

OTTAWA, June 24.—An Act respecting the Ontario & Rainy River Railway was the first bill taken up by the Railway Committee this morning. This company was first incorporated by the Ontario Legislature to build a road from Fort William to some point on Rainy River between Fort Francis and the mouth of the said river with a branch to Rat Portage. Running powers were granted over the Fort Arthur, Duluth & Western Railway Company. The bill was reported as was also an Act to confirm an agreement between the Shuswap & Okanagon Railway Co., and to confer further powers on the Shuswap & Okanagon Railway Company.

The committee then proceeded with an act respecting the Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway Co. for the construction, equipment and operation of a railway from a point in or near the city of Toronto to a point in or near the city of Hamilton, and thence to some point at or near the International Bridge or Cantilever Bridge on the Niagara River and with full power to pass over any portion of the country between the points aforesaid, and to carry the same railway through the crown lands if any lying between the points aforesaid.

Mr. Ryckman was the promoter and moved the adoption of the preamble.

Mr. Sutherland, in opposition to the bill, said that so far this company had failed to fulfil the obligations which they had already entered into, and now it was unfair for them to come to the Dominion Legislature and ask for further powers.

Mr. Tisdale: I understand this road is connected with the Brantford & Waterford Railway, yet the latter company does not come here to ask to be amalgamated with this company, which the bill provides for. The company already has got a charter from the Ontario Legislature over all the districts it now asks this Parliament for, and there is nothing to deter it from going on with the work.

Mr. Ryckman moved that the solicitor of the company be heard.

Mr. Carscallen, the solicitor, in promoting the bill, said that the company was a bona fide one, had spent large sums of money in pushing the enterprise, which would be greatly advanced by the granting of a Dominion charter.

Mr. Ryckman read the clause proposed to be added by the City Council and said it would meet all the objections the city had to the bill.

After some further discussion the consideration of the bill was postponed for a week.

What the Reduction Means.

MONTREAL, June 24.—Owing to the announcement of the reduction on the sugar duties there is a boom in the trade. The customs officials are at present making an inventory of the stocks of sugar in the hands of the refineries. The refineries will have to pay duty on sugar refined in bond. The Wholesale Grocers' Association has issued the following new list of refiners' prices on white sugars: Extra granulated bbls. per lb., 4¼c; extra ground bbls. per lb., 4¾c, extra ground boxes per lb., 5¼c; powdered bbls. per lb., 4¾c; grocers' A boxes per lb., 4¾c; Paris lump, bbls., per lb., 5c; Paris lump, half bbls., per lb., 5¼c; Paris lump, boxes, 100 lbs., per lb., 5c. Paris lump, boxes, 50 lbs., per lb., 5¼c. The changes mean a reduction of 1¼ cents to 1¾ cents per pound on yellow sugars, and about 2 cents per pound on granulated sugar.

The Strikers Win.

BORDEAUX, June 24.—The strike of the horse car company's employes has been settled, and has resulted in a victory for the strikers, who return to work to-day. The strikers withdrew all their demands except the main one made, namely, that twelve hours' labor should constitute a day's work. The request was granted.

Tossed His Son Overboard.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Among the passengers on the steamer La Bretagne which arrived to-day was the Feys family, consisting of the father, Joseph, the mother and a son and a daughter, the latter two aged respectively 13 and 11 years. When they were in France there were five in the family, but the fifth member, Pierre, aged 5, was the victim of his father's insane act, and found a watery grave in the Atlantic. Feys and his boy were standing at the stern of the big steamer, when the father suddenly seized the little fellow from the deck and threw him far out into the sea.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not cross this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit to you, buy a Dorenwend Belt.

What About the Money for Parks?

A great many persons are interested in Mrs. Nicholls' munificent bequest for public parks, so much so that at an early date a meeting is to be called to form a society pledged to the exclusive use of hawley bros.' teas, which are of such excellent quality that the public health will be benefitted and the national interest subserved by their universal use—particularly their splendid 50 cent tea. dw

Office to School Public.

The boys and girls in Sergt.-Major Randle's classes, who are preparing for the entertainment Tuesday night, are asked to attend a final rehearsal in the market building Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The schools were closed before the announcement could be made, and the request is now made through the medium of the press. Every boy and girl is urged to be present at the rehearsal Monday afternoon.

A Bachelor Burned Out.

On Wednesday evening last the house of Mr. John Bradshaw, on lot 4, in the 4th concession of South Monaghan, was destroyed by fire. Mr. Bradshaw had retired for the night, and was aroused from bed to find the house in flames. He succeeded in saving a few household effects, but the house which was built of logs, together with the greater part of the effects, were lost. There was a small insurance on the property. Mr. Bradshaw was unmarried and lived alone.

Mission Band Entertainment.

There was a good attendance at the lawn social held last night on the beautiful grounds of Mr. Richard Hall's residence, Water street, under the management of the Faithful Workers of St. Paul's Mission Band. There were beautifully lighted grounds, social enjoyment and delicate and invigorating refreshments. Altogether a very pleasant evening was passed to which Mr. and Mrs. Hall's genial hospitality largely contributed. The "Faithful Workers" do credit to their name.

The Conversational Circuit Completed.

At two o'clock to-day Mr. D. O. Fry called up the EXAMINER, speaking from the Chemong Park hotel, the first message sent across the new line between Bridgenorth and town. The words are very distinctly heard. The Ontario Telephone Company has nine subscribers at Bridgenorth, but as yet, and for about a fortnight, the Park Hotel and Mr. R. B. Rogers' residence are the only places connected with town. The company is to be congratulated.

Welcoming the Pastor.

Last night Rev. Geo. Edwards and family arrived in town by the 8:15 C.P.R. train. They were met at the station by a deputation of the Official Board, consisting of Messrs. Sutherland, Rowe, Richardson, Brownscome, Batten and Adamson, and the members of the congregation, including a large number of ladies. They were escorted to the parsonage, where the Ladies' Aid had refreshments prepared and arrangements made involving a hearty welcome. The formal reception will be held at an early date.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises lacrosse match, bicycle races, athletic sports, grand horse races, baseball match, and other sports during the day. In the evening there will be a grand promenade concert, etc. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Special railway rates and special trains after the evening programme is over. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. BEAMISH, secretary of committee. dw

Another June Wedding.

Mr. W. J. Graham manager of the Persian Steam Laundry, is to-day receiving the congratulations of his many friends. He was married last evening to Miss Sara Neild, of Ashburnham, a young lady most favorable known in town. The wedding was very quietly conducted at the residence of the bride's mother, Lake street, Ashburnham, Rev. S. J. Shorey tying the nuptial knot. Miss Jennie Neild was bridesmaid and Mr. Chas. Stapleton groomsman. A very pleasant evening was spent. The numerous and handsome gifts to the bride indicate the high esteem in which both young people are held. Mr. and Mrs. have taken up residence at 136 London street.

Change of Business.

Mr. L. Potvin, who has for the past number of years successfully carried on the grocery and bakery business at the corner of Dublin and George streets, has purchased the confectionery and restaurant business lately carried on by Mr. Ed. Welsh, at 425 George streets, and will continue to conduct the same in a first class manner, making a specialty of the manufacture of choice confectionery and pastry, full lines of which will always be kept in stock. The restaurant department will be conducted as heretofore, in a first class manner, and meals served at all hours. Fruit and oysters in season. Ice cream, jelly, fruit, etc., wedding cakes to order. Remember the place—Ed. Welsh's old stand, 425 George street. 5d146-wl

The Huron Warriors

Of Champlain on their bloody raids into the Iriquois strongholds took the route formed by the beautiful water highway of the chain of lakes which stretch just north of Peterborough. The same route will be traversed by an excursion on July 1st, Dominion Day. A train leaves the G. T. R. station at 8.45 a.m. for Lakefield, from which place the fine new steamer "Golden City," rebuilt out of the "Cruiser" of last year, increased to three times its former capacity, by being lengthened and thoroughly refurnished and refitted throughout, will carry excursionists through the former haunts of these Indian warriors, giving them an opportunity of viewing the picturesque scenery, inhaling the ozone laden air and to those of an imaginative turn, peopling its bosky dells and pleasant coves with these heroes of legend and romance. Therefore we would say to tired, hot, over-exerted and weary Peterborough in the words of Bill Nye,

"Let's excurt
Where brain and eye and over-taxed nerves, may find pleasure in new delights."

Tickets can be procured for 80c at Metropolitan grocery, McClelland's jewelry store, Mercer's Gent's Furnishing establishment, Fairweather's Hat store, O. C. Rowse's and office of Central Canada Loan and Saving's company.

Personal.

Rev. J. W. McCleary, of St. Luke's, has returned home from Detroit, and is again in pastoral harness.

The Norwood Register states that Dr. Ross, L. D. S., has decided to remove to Peterborough. We welcome all good citizens.

Mrs J. T. Emmerson, of Port Arthur, is in town, the guest of Mr A. McFarlane, Homewood Avenue. Mrs. Emmerson is also making a protracted visit with friends in town.

Rev S. J. Shorey was about this morning saying good-bye to his friends. He left town by the 11.50 G.T.R. train to-day. The most hearty good wishes follow Rev. Mr. Shorey to his new field of labour.

Too many friends of Mr. J. A. Prentice head operator in the Great Northwestern Telegraph office here, will learn with pleasure that he has been promoted to a position in the head office, Toronto. At the same time they and the patrons of the office will regret that a genial associate and courteous and efficient officer will remove from town. Mr. Prentice receives cordial congratulations on his promotion. He will probably remove to Toronto at the end of the month.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.

The Living Pay Solemn Tribute to the Dead.

The Graves of Deceased Oddfellows Made Fragrant by their Living Brethren—Peterborough Oddfellows Celebrate Decoration Day—The Public Share in the Solemn Function.

Among the Oddfellows generally, and amongst those of Peterborough especially, Decoration Day has become a fixed commemorative occasion, whose faithful and yearly observance shows that the triple bond that unites the brethren in life is not snapped, in memory by the hand of death.

For years past the local brethren have fittingly observed the day, and carried out the solemn and impressive ceremonies of Decoration Day. This year if possible renewed interest was taken in the occasion and the public seemed to take a deeper interest, using the occasion to join with the fraternity in decorating the graves of their loved and departed.

THE REMEMBERED AND HONOURED DEAD.

It is a pleasant feature of the occasion to note that there are no new names added to the list of graves to be decorated. The list therefore stands the same as last year, and as follows:

THE DECORATION CEREMONIES.

The decoration rites this year were as solemn and impressive as usual. The cemetery was looking its loveliest, the beautiful sward, smoothly shaven, the beautiful overarching trees, and the brightly blooming flowers, showing the care that is bestowed upon it. Over the entrance gates had been thrown a beautiful evergreen arch, bearing upon its front the symbolical bond of the Order, the triple links.

The public turned out in great numbers to witness the imposing procession, business being generally suspended on George street. At two o'clock the members of the respective lodges, the chevallers of the Canton and the Fifty-seventh band assembled at Central Park, where the procession was formed in the following order:—

Battalion Band.
Peterborough Canton, No. 16, Patriarchs Militant, in uniform.
Members of Subordinate Lodges and Encampments.
Visiting Brethren.
Officers of Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges. Past Grand J. R. Reid.

The procession was an imposing one, nearly all the Oddfellows wearing bright boutonnieres and each carrying a bouquet or wreath of flowers for the pious purpose of placing on some brother's grave.

THE CEREMONY OF DECORATION.

Arrived at the cemetery gates the procession countermarched and, entering the cemetery, grouped itself near the chapel, where the impressive ceremonies were conducted, beginning with the singing of the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee," accompanied by the band. The opening charge was then given by Bro. A. G. Johnston, secretary of Peterborough Lodge. After prayers the members visited the several graves and deposited thereon the floral tributes of tender memory and filial affection.

This impressive ceremony being concluded the brethren re-assembled in front of the platform erected for the occasion, when Bro. J. R. Reid, Past Grand Master, delivered an eloquent address suited for the occasion:

MR. REID began has address by pointing out that there were times and circumstances that impressed themselves upon the memory with indelible impressions that are photographed on the tablet of the heart, and the records of which are stored away in the cabinet of memory to be recalled and reviewed with pleasure in after days. "The present occasion, brethren, is one of that character. Assembled this beautiful afternoon in one of the most beautiful resting places of the dead in Canada, and in obedience to the mandate of the highest authority of the sovereign grandeur of Oddfellowship, we are engaged in these memorable exercises. We are here surrounded by so much that is beautiful in nature, accompanied by so many of our friends, a loyal and revoked band in the ties of a common brotherhood, striving to further the interests of our beloved institution and to keep green the memories of our dear brethren who have gone before. All these considerations combine to render the occasion more than one of passing interest. I desire to give expression to the pleasure it affords me to have the opportunity of assisting my brethren of Peterborough in these solemn and impressive exercises. The bonds of friendship have been strongly knit between us in the years of the past, and it has been my privilege to enjoy many seasons of pleasant and fraternal intercourse with the brethren of this place, which I trust may be continued during the years I shall reside in this community. From observation I have come to regard the good brethren of Peterborough as an earnest, devoted, loyal band of workmen in the cause, and I desire to commend them thus publicly for the noble manner in which they have upheld the banner of Oddfellowship. The success of their labours is a striking example of what persevering effort can accomplish. What would have been lost if perseverance had not characterized men in the prosecution of noble enterprises? All those vast achievements in science and art, and all the great agencies for the amelioration of the condition of the race, which contribute so much to the comfort and substantial happiness of mankind, and unite the nations so closely in fraternal ties—all these would have been unknown, and comparatively speaking, the world would have been in moral darkness, for without this motive the leading spirits in every age and in every community would have stopped short in their career, and have sat down disheartened. Therefore, when I find men or a body of men animated by well-directed perseverance in the fulfilment of any laudable undertaking, I commend him or them heartily for it—

Keep pushing; its wiser than sitting aside,
And dreaming and sighing and waiting the tide;
In life's earnest battle they only prevail,
Who daily march onward and never say, fail.

On occasions of this kind as indeed at all times it becomes us to render thanks to our all-wise Giver of every good and perfect gift for the success which has attended the labours of our hands. As we look back upon the way we have travelled, we have to acknowledge that we have been the recipients of continued prosperity all through the years of our history. Standing on the threshold of the 72nd year of the history of our Order on the great American continent, we can look back with pardonable pride upon our past record for over three-fourths of a century, studded as it is as with sparkling gems—bright deeds of benevolence and charity. It becomes us this afternoon to learn a lesson from the past. We all know from what a small beginning Oddfellowship sprang. Planted at first as a slender twig in unfavourable soil it has grown and flourished until it has developed into a tall and stately tree, best symbolized by the giant oak, whose massive trunks and sturdy limbs command the admiration of men. Think, yes, brethren, if this slender twig had not been watched and guarded in its early years—if it had not been lovingly cherished, that the grand tree of Oddfellowship would have stood out conspicuously in all its symmetrical outline, the very picture of endurance and strength? Never! The history of the past tells us how well and wisely the little twig of Oddfellowship was guarded, tenderly nurtured and fostered by our forefathers. And as we read of the heroic careers of the illustrious pioneers of Oddfellowship—labours performed in the face of great obstructions that would have discouraged many modern Oddfellows, does not the example of these grand old fathers of the Order bring back to us with renewed force the oft repeated lesson that there is work for everyone—everyone at his post prepared to do his share of duty. All are of some use, from the simplest to the highest."

Continuing, Mr. Reid said that everyone in his own Order differs from another in the measure of his ability. We could not all be Wildeys or Eldridges, nor rise to such high rounds in the ladder of fame. There must be rank and file as well as leaders. We could all do our little, and do that little well, was the lesson of the hour—fidelity in little things. The progress of Canada was used to symbolize the growth of Oddfellowship. "It is," said Mr. Reid, "one grand aggregation of littles. Member after member added, subordinate lodge after subordinate lodge added, till to-day one can boast of Oddfellowship as embracing a membership of 620,000, and financially the strongest fraternal beneficent organization on the continent, and possessing the grandest system of affiliated benevolence of any age. Our character is moulded by adding good deeds and generations upon the top of others, until at last we have reared the broad, solid, substantial platform of well-rooted and grounded Christian character. So with regard to our spiritual progress. When we reach heaven (to which we all hope to attain) and meet those who have gone before, when we are inside the pearly gates and look back on the way, we shall find that all along our journey our progress will have been little by little. Then let us perform with fidelity the little every-day duties that fall to our hands as Oddfellows, nor ever term a single action, in this direction, commonplace. The friendly greeting, the hearty grasp of the hand, the kindly and brotherly interest in each other's welfare are small things, easy of performance; but all these and many others come within the range of duties to be performed by a Christian, and which go to form a consistent Christian character. Besides we do not know, we cannot tell what grand results for good may flow from the performance of a simple and commonplace duty:—

And who shall say the humblest thought avails not
To bind the shifting sands upon life's beach?
Some heart may treasure what we've long forgot,
A simple word some heart with power may reach.

Mr. Reid went on to emphasize the duty of living right and up to our obligations and closed as follows:

"We have engaged in these public exercises for the purpose of keeping green the graves and doing honor to the names and memories of the Peterborough brethren, who during the years of the past have been laid to rest in this silent city of the dead. We revere their memories; we cherish a recollection of of their virtues only, having buried all their imperfections beneath the clods that rest on their bosome. They lived, they went in and out of the community and their Order, and they died. The lesson that we should take away from this place is the great lesson that is stamped on all nature—we too are mortal, and must sooner or later go the way of all flesh. Some are taken in the prime of life, while some are permitted to descend far down the weather side of the earthly pilgrimage, and at last are garnered like a well ripened sheaf, meet for the heavenly harvest. It can be said of them, that, being dead they yet speak to us—their works do follow them. Will the same be said of us, when we, too, shall have joined the silent multitude? Let us each make this a question of individual responsibility. Our friends will die and leave our hearts and homes desolate for a time. We cannot prevent it, nor would it be the best if we could. Sorrow has its useful lessons when it is legitimate. If we hang our harps on the willows of mourning they tune theirs in the eternal orchestra above. We love the departed; they are ours as ever, and we are theirs. The ties that bind us have not been broken—they are too strong for Death's stroke—they are ready for the joys of eternal friendship. Other friendships on earth will not destroy those bonds that link us with the dear ones on high. They wish not to see us in sorrow, they sympathise with us and could we hear their sweet voices they would tell us to dry our tears and bind ourselves to other friends and joyfully perform all earthly duties till our time to ascend shall come. It is for this that we should weave our chaplets of flowers and strew the beauties of nature about the graves of our departed brethern. While we offer these tender tributes of regret and sorrow, may we resolve anew to be affectionate in the discharge of our duties to the living. Then there is another grandly beautiful thought—we all have an Elder Brother up yonder. Nearly nineteen hundred years ago He crossed over and from the heavenly shore is He is calling us to Him. Listen to his call. It is as the voice of eternity echoing down the hills of time. If we heed it we shall one day see the King in His beauty and we shall go no more out. Then shall we be united with those who have gone before, and forever dwell in that land where sorrow never dims the eyes with tears, where farewells are never said and where separations are unknown. In conclusion brethren, let me urge you to be faithful. By the reality of the life we are living; by the memories of our friends and brethren who have gone, and the certainty of death and eternity—be faithful. The grandest epitaph that can be written on the tomb of any man is the word he was faithful. The man whose religion is the love of humanity, is not far from God. He lives the grandest life and dies the most lamented, who, in all the years of the past, has helped to light the lamps of human progress, who has carefully tended them through every vicissitude and tempest, and who, when life's fitful stewardship is o'er, has left them brightly and steadily burning. May such be the record of each one of us when our life's chapter shall have been written."

FLORAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

In splendid compliance with the wishes of the committee, large numbers of flowers were left in the places designated, for the use of strangers and visitors who wished to join the local brethren in the touching and reverential ceremonies of the day. The following list of donors is given:—Mr. W. H. Manning, 2 hand bouquets; Mrs. Hooper, 1 hand bouquet; Mrs. S. White, 2 hand bouquets; Mrs. Cooney, (Ashburnham) 3 hand bouquets, button hole bouquets, cut flowers, a wreath and anchor; Miss Dugan, 2 hand bouquets; Mrs. Irwin, 1 hand bouquet; Mrs. J. A. Hartley, hand bouquet; Miss Errett, cut flowers.

Your Day Off.

There you have it. Take your holiday—truly it is the day, and you've the right to spend it to your satisfaction and enjoyment. Now for a suggestion. There's the picnic at St. Joseph's Hospital grounds Ashburnham. Fine opportunity for fun and pleasure, lots of fun and pleasure unalloyed! Dinner and tea on the grounds, served by charming maidens and beaming matrons. Likewise the sports will interest you and if you're fairly active you may secure some prize, while there's gifts for simply standing still and looking handsome. Could you find a better, more inviting, more alluring and decidedly bewitching prospect than a day at the St. Joseph's Hospital picnic. Positively no! Emphatically no! Not much! Not any! Look at the big posters and find particulars.

In the Midst of Life we are in Death.

A correspondent writes: At a camp near Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, were two brothers, Frank and Oscar Church, (who formerly lived in Burleigh, near Stony Lake). On Saturday last Oscar, aged 29, received a blow on the back of the head, when, without speaking he was launched into eternity. Of course consternation and solemn considerations filled the camp all Sunday. On Monday at 4 a. m. Frank Church started for home in charge of the corpse, arriving at Lakefield on Wednesday, where they were met by two other friends. The coffin, with the body of poor Oscar, was placed in the saloon of the "Mary Ellen," and conveyed to Mount Julian, where it was met by a concourse of neighbours and friends of the family. Just as the body was being removed in solemnity from the vessel, the full moon, from behind a cluster of trees, arose, and, looking across the placid waters of the lake upon the scene, seemed to convey a message from our Divine Lord, saying, "Fear not, they brother shall rise again," "so teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

And Now for Ottawa.

The Final Drill Before the Dominion Day Trip — Annual Inspection Monday Night.

The volunteers are looking forward to the Ottawa trip with the keenest anticipation of a delightful time, and every member of the battalion appears to be determined to uphold the prestige of the Rangers by every means in his power. The men are brushing up and pipe-claying, and from the deep interest that is being taken it is evident there will be a large and most creditable turn-out next Monday night.

The battalion had a march out last night. Their marching shows better every time they appear in public. New ball pouches were distributed to the men last night, and most of them took their rifles home for cleaning, preparatory for the annual inspection next Monday evening by Col. Strambourne, D.A.G. This will do away this year with the inspection which usually takes place in the fall. The object in holding the inspection now is that duty may be performed while the men are altogether and in good form. It was intended to hold the inspection at Ottawa, but it could not be arranged.

Capt. Langford is to act as Quartermaster of the battalion during the visit to the Capital. He will take a squad of half a dozen men to Ottawa Monday morning to prepare the camp ground for the reception of the regiment Monday night.

The following orders were read last night: Orders by Lieut.-Col Rogers, commanding the 57th Batt., Peterborough Rangers:

(1) The Battalion will parade for inspection by the D.A.G. on Monday evening next 29th June, at seven o'clock in review order, with helmets and leggings.

(2) After inspection the Battalion will entrain for Ottawa.

(3) Non-commissioned officers and men must take with them in their haversacks towels, soap, combs, blacking brushes and blacking, and pipe clay.

(4) Attention of officers, non-commissioned officers and men is directed to the necessity of keeping up the strictest discipline while in Ottawa in order that the good record of the Battalion may be kept up.

(5) Sergt. Irwin, "E" Co., will act as Sergt.-Major during the trip to Ottawa.

(6) To be Captain of the day on Monday, Capt. Mason, "A" Co. Next for duty, Lieut. Schofield, "B" Co.

(7) To be Corporal (pro) Chas. Raby, "E" Co. By order.

Acting Adjt. 57th Batt.

Confirmation at St. John's.

A Solemn and Impressive Ceremony—A Large Class of Candidates.

The rite of Confirmation as administered in the Anglican church is a solemn and impressive ceremony, and one to which great importance is attached. Confirmation is a Biblical ordinance, described in Acts viii, 14-17, and as such is of deep interest to a Christian community. St. John's church was filled Thursday evening, when the Lord Bishop of Toronto confirmed sixty-one persons, two of whom were presented by Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield. A feature of the occasion was the large preparation of elderly men and women among the candidates, ranging from over 60 years of age downward. The average age was 25 years. The class has been undergoing a course of preparation for the past four months, by means of public instruction and private interview.

Shortly before eight o'clock the confirmation class assembled in the school room, and marched two by two into the church, the girls being becomingly dressed in white, with caps and flowing veils, the older ladies and the gentlemen wearing black, relieved by white rosettes.

The evening prayer was read by Rev. Mr. Warren, and the lessons read by Rev. J. W. McCleary, of St. Luke's, and Rev. Canon Harding, of Apsley. Rev. V. Clementi was also present in the chancel. After Evening Prayer, the Confirmation services were proceeded with.

The Bishop first addressed the candidates as to the nature of the service and of the divine gift which they were about to receive. The Bishop in address ng the class said that while in these days there is much talk and profession in the matter of religion there was a great and increasing need for definite knowledge in regard to it. He feared that many, many people would be unable to answer satisfactory the single question, what is it to be a Christian? They would probably loosely answer, "To believe in Christ," and yet Christianity was far more than any belief, which had to be begun and sustained after it was begun—and it was on this ground that St. Paul on meeting certain disciples in Ephesus (Acts 19,) put his first question to them—"Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" and they, not realizing that Christianity was a life, replied, "We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost." Whereupon St. Paul at once proceeded to inform them regarding the life of the Spirit by means of baptism and the laying on of hands, this was for the purpose for which they had assembled that evening, to receive the life giving power of the Holy Ghost. It was for them now to remember that this life had to be sustained as well as received, and being a supernatural life had to be sustained by supernatural means. The Bishop spoke first of the devout reading of the word of God as being one of these means. As man's natural life was sustained by natural bread so man's spiritual life was sustained by every word which proceeded out of the mouth of God. He then proceeded to speak of prayer, public and private, and concluded by referring to the most direct channel given to the sustenance of the spiritual life—the Holy Communion, which he urged them most strongly to receive regularly and devoutly, that their souls might be refreshed by the body and blood of Christ, as their bodies were by the bread and wine.

The Bishop then requested the candidates to stand, when he put to them the solemn question as to whether they agreed to, and ratified in their own persons, the promises which had been made for them at their baptism. They all answered unitedly, "I do." All then knelt in prayer, when the Bishop offered up the prayer for the invocation of the Holy Ghost, which he previously explained had been in use in the church for over 1400 years, being the third oldest prayer in existence, including the Lord's prayer. At the conclusion of this prayer for the descent of the Holy Spirit the candidates went forward, seven at a time, and were presented for individual confirmation by Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Mr. Warren coming forward to present his two parishoners. The "Laying on of Hands," was interspersed by the singing of the impressive verses of the well known hymns, "Come, Holy Ghost," and "Just as I am Without One Plea." The scene as the candidates went forward successively, and knelt before the Bishop was extremely impressive. After the closing hymn the Bishop pronounced the benediction.

The Confirmation class, after the congregation had dispersed, returned to the school room and were finally dismissed. They will receive their first Communion next Sunday morning, when the service will be held at 8.15 instead of 8.30 as usual.

Purify Your Blood

importance of purifying the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditted and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

TARTE INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Perley, C.E., on the Witness Stand: The Esquimalt Contract.

OTTAWA, June 24.—There was a crowded attendance at the Privileges and Elections Committee to-day, when the Tarte investigation was again proceeded with. The examination of Henry F. Perley, C.E., was resumed by Mr. Geoffrion. He gave evidence as to the tenders received for the Esquimalt works. He swore that two tenders were received besides those of Larkin, Connolly & Co. The witness examined the tender made by Larkin, Connolly & Co. and discovered that it had never been dated.

Mr. Geoffrion: Have you yet found the letter of Sept. 9, 1884, written to yourself by Thomas McGreevy? No, I cannot find it.

Witness was then shown a letter which he identified as having been written by himself to Thomas McGreevy on Sept. 11, 1884. He read this letter, which was marked "Private," and written as an answer to McGreevy's letter, which Mr. Geoffrion had asked for yesterday.

Mr. Perley said that the tender of Larkin, Connolly & Co. was $574,888, for concrete backing, or $688,478 for rubble backing. Witness said that his estimate did not have reference to any difference in cost between rubble and concrete. In answer to Mr. Geoffrion, the witness explained that this tender of Larkin, Connolly & Co. was subject to a deduction of $89,099 for plant belonging to the Government. But it afterwards transpired that they only paid about $33,000 for this plant. This plant had originally been purchased in the contract of Larkin, Connolly & Co. He (Mr. Perley) took the entire responsibility for remitting that $15,000 or $19,000, even to the determining of the amount. The final amended estimate at $881,727 contained no reference to the $19,000. Witness did not remember having any instruction from Sir Hector Langevin or any instruction from him about that $19,000. He (Mr. Perley) kept the matter entirely to himself. He (Mr. Perley) would not say that Sir Hector and himself were the only parties who had access to the document.

The committee will meet again to-morrow.

SUDDEN DEATH.

A Fatal Accident That Takes on the Appearance of Manslaughter.

LONDON, June 26.—There has turned out to be a still more serious phase to the accident Wednesday afternoon in Labatt's Brewery, whereby a young man named Harry D. Platt lost his life. He fell through a hole and down stairs, and how he could do so when a railing protects it is not easily seen, but may be brought out at the coroner's jury. Mr. Anthony Mansell was working on the same floor with young Platt, and Mr. Dennis Mason, the brewer, was on the floor below, with his back turned to the stairs. Mr. Mason heard the fall, and says the young man struck on his head about half way down the stairs, and then fell with his head against an iron pipe on the brick floor. Dr. Fraser, who was one of the medical men called in, pronounced it a fractured skull. The poor fellow only lived a few minutes after his fall. There is a gash on each side of his head.

Later developments seem to show that Mansell is in some degree responsible for the fatality. They had some unpleasant words during the afternoon, and it is understood that Mansell blamed Platt for depriving him of his job, as he had received notice to leave. Just before the fall their voices were raised in angry discussion, and Mansell now admits that "I gave him a poke and he fell downstairs." Mansell was arrested by Detective Phair and Sergeant Jenkins on information laid at Mr. Labatt's suggestion. He appeared surprised to learn that Platt was dead and used the words quoted at the police station. He is 50 years of age and a married man with a family.

Gunning for Bailiffs.

LONDON, June 25.—Sheriff's Officers Ward and Graham, of London, at Delaware, yesterday, made a seizure on the property of Mr. Munn, who resisted the seizure and took down a double-barreled gun to drive the bailiffs off, but they secured him after a struggle and put him in handcuffs.

Buried Under a Wall.

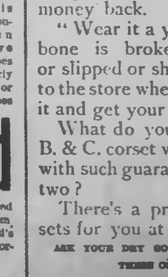
HAMILTON, June 25.—Yesterday George Witherton, 592 Main-street east, was badly injured while working at a stable in the rear of William Lees' bakery. Several men were tearing down the shed. The wall fell on Witherton, and he was buried under the debris. He was unconscious when he was dug out. His shoulder was dislocated.

BIRTH.

SCOTT.—At Norwood, on Saturday, June 20th 1891, the wife of Mr. J. Scott, jr., of a son.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.



A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was as raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Said Mrs. H. A. Stout to me: "I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woolsey druggist.

WHAT LANGEVIN GOT.

ACCORDING TO THE STATEMENT OF MR. MURPHY.

A Man Who Admits Having a Poor Memory For Dates Claims Good Memory For Figures A Sensation at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, June 26.—The Tarte investigation into the Langevin-McGreevy scandal was again resumed to-day before the Privileges and Elections Committee, there being a large attendance of members of the committee and spectators present. The examination of Mr. Murphy by Mr. Geoffrion was continued. Witness said that at the suggestion of his partners in the Esquimalt graving dock—that is Larkin and the Connollys—he went to see Mr. Thomas McGreevy at Quebec, and told him that if he could secure for them with the Government a change of material in the graving dock from sandstone to granite they would give him 25 cents per foot.

Mr. Geoffrion: To whom would you give this 25 cents?

Witness: To Thomas McGreevy and his friends. He (Murphy) then showed that Thomas McGreevy proceeded to get this change made at Ottawa, but later on he got letters from his partners in British Columbia asking him not to get this change, and if it had been made to get it again changed to sandstone, as granite would cost them more than they first anticipated.

Mr. Murphy went on to say that the change from sandstone to granite was not made, and in answer to a question said that Robert McGreevy was interested in this contract. Mr. Thomas McGreevy was complaining of those various demands for changes which were creating a mess in the department at Ottawa, but he attempted to get the above changes made, and succeeded in getting others made. He also had letters from his partners to get the dock—that is the Esquimalt graving dock lengthened by 100 feet. He saw Mr. Thomas McGreevy also about this matter, and had also communications with Messrs. Shakespeare and Baker, members of Parliament, regarding the subject.

Witness then explained that of $53,000 claim of extras they had against the Government for the British Columbia dock all over $50,000 was to go to Thomas McGreevy. Something over $71,000 was paid by the Government, and the entry in the books of $22,000 would be the sum that went to Thomas McGreevy and his friends. In regard to an item of $10,000 charged to the cross wall, witness said that when he first saw it he also discovered that the inspectors on the work were being paid. He said that $5000 of this amount was paid to Sir Hector Langevin and $5000 to Laforce Langevin. The amount was afterwards charged to the British Columbia works, as Robert McGreevy objected to it being charged to the cross wall on which he (Robert McGreevy) had 30 per cent., and it was consequently charged to the Esquimalt graving dock, in which he had only 20 per cent. This matter, witness continued, was discussed by all the members of the firm.

Mr. Geoffrion: You paid your share of the amount?

Mr. Murphy: Yes, it was charged to me.

Mr. Curran: Was Larkin there?

Mr. Murphy: I believe he was, but if not he was represented by his attorney.

Mr. Geoffrion: On page 116 there is an item of $10,000; to whom was this paid?

Mr. Murphy: I gave it to Sir Hector Langevin myself. [Sensation.]

Mr. Geoffrion: Was the entry made by your orders?

Mr. Murphy: I went and gave him two fives, that is in all $10,000, and said that it should be charged to the Levis dock, so that Robert McGreevy would know nothing about it. McGreevy had no interest in that work. Larkin knew as much about it as I did. It was charged to Nicholas Connolly, Larkin and myself.

Mr. Coatsworth: Where did you obtain this $10,000?

Mr. Murphy: In Quebec.

Mr Coatsworth: In your own office?

Mr. Murphy: No

Mr. Coatsworth: Where?

Mr. Murphy: At Sir Hector's own house. A discussion took place as to the payment between the members of the firm. I may say that I paid the money on the order of Nicholas Connolly

In answer to Mr. Coatsworth he said he could not remember the time of the year the money was paid. Witness did not make any entries of when these sums were paid, as he wanted to keep the payment of the money as secret as possible. If the checks were shown him witness could tell.

Mr. Curran: What do you mean by keeping it secret?

Mr. Murphy: From the McGreevys.

Mr. Daly: Did you inform Michael Connolly that you paid the money?

Mr. Murphy: Yes.

Mr. Coatsworth: Was it paid in bills or gold?

Mr. Murphy: In bills.

Mr. Coatsworth: What bank?

Mr. Murphy: I think on the British North America.

Mr. Coatsworth: Were they small bills.

Mr. Murphy: I think they were $100 bills. There were not enough to make out the full amount in $100 and a part was in $50 and $20 bills. Witness then explained that he tried to make Robert McGreevy and Thomas McGreevy friends after they quarreled. Robert McGreevy had shown witness his books where he paid his brother Thomas $177,000. After this witness saw Thomas, and the latter said that Robert was cheating him out of money.

Mr. Geoffrion: Were there any other moneys paid Sir Hector?

Witness: When Thomas McGreevy came to ask for money it was always for Sir Hector.

Mr. Geoffrion: For what purpose?

Mr. Murphy: He would say that Sir Hector's newspapers were not paying. For instance, Le Monde. McGreevy came to me and asked for $3000 for The Courier du Canada, of which Mr. Chapais, Sir Hector's son-in-law, was editor. Thomas McGreevy also came to witness and asked for $5000. It was charged to the graving dock, but he (witness) never paid it. "Thomas McGreevy pressed me," said witness, "to give him $1000, as I could not give him $5000 before Sir Hector left Quebec, he being there that day, and I went to the bank and drew it and gave it to him. Thomas McGreevy. Nicholas Connolly told me that he afterwards paid the $4000.

Several letters were put in by Tarte's counsel and read by witness, coming from members of the firm in British Columbia to himself. They bore testimony to the efforts being made to secure a change in the material, and the lengthening of the dock. One of the letters from Michael Connolly to him (Murphy) was that if the dock was lengthened and the $250,000 voted by Parliament they would be willing to pay $50,000 for charitable purposes. [Laughter.]

OTTAWA, June 26.—The Budget debate was continued to-night in the House by Mr Weldon and Mr. Paterson. The debate was adjourned at 12.30 on motion of Dr. Montague. The House then adjourned until Tuesday.

HOW DARING LOVE IS!

A Village Belle Eludes Her Mother and Joins Her True Love in Chicago and is Married.

PETERBORO, June 26.—The little village of Warsaw had its own sensation this week, which has been wafted to this town through the fact that the police were called in. Miss Annie Elizabeth Bell was a dressmaker of the village, who was courted for some time by Robert Hill, a tinsmith of Norwood. It appears that the attentions of the young Norwood tradesman were not looked upon with the eye of encouragement by the mother, although the young lady, as the sequel shows, was favorable to the suit.

Last March Mr. Hill left for Chicago and since that time has been corresponding with Miss Bell. On Monday last the young lady received an invitation to go to Norwood to do some dressmaking and left, so her friends thought, for that village. No suspicions were aroused until yesterday, when it was discovered that Miss Bell had not gone to Norwood at all, but that the dressmaking excuse was "all in the play." Her friends at once suspected that she had flown to Chicago to her lover and requested Chief Rossel to move in the case, thinking they could make an arrest for eloping. In this they were mistaken, but at their request the Chief telegraphed to see if the young lady had arrived there and if she was married. This afternoon a message was received from Superintendent of Police in Chicago saying that Annie Bell was with Hill and had been married last night.

DEAD AND UNKNOWN.

Who is the Stranger that Suicided at Thamesville?

WINDSOR, June 26. - Enquiries about town fail to throw any light upon the identity of the man found hanging by the neck in the loft of Capt. Hennessy's drive shed near Thamesville on Wednesday. He spoke with a French accent and claimed to have come from this town, but none of the parties whose names were on cards in his pocket has any knowledge of him. An inquest was held by Coroner Fraser and the jury returned a verdict of suicide by hanging, but identity of the deceased remains a mystery. He had on a pair of overalls, a blue smock and black coat, black soft felt hat and had an old bruise on the left side of his head.

The Strange Separation of a Georgian Bay Man and His Wife.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., June 25.—In 1860 Thomas Tisdale, with a wife and four children, residing in a Canadian village, was engaged as escort to a fishing party to Georgian Bay. When the party returned Tisdale was reported as having left the party in a rowboat, and nothing was heard from him. It was presumed that he was drowned. After several years Mrs. Tisdale married William Davis. In about four years the second husband died, and the widow married a Mr. Copeland of Tonawanda. A few days ago Tisdale appeared at Sanborn, and Mrs. Copeland being sent for, identified him as her long-missing husband. Present indications are that the third husband will have to relinquish his wife, and that she will join her fortunes with Tisdale.

Crushed to Death.

OWEN SOUND, June 26.—A despatch from Manitoulin Island says that W. C. Latham of Providence Bay, was killed while skidding logs. Several loose logs rolled over him, and his little son, who saw the accident went for assistance, but Mr. Latham died soon after being carried home. He was a brother-in-law of Mr Walter Thistle of this town.

JOYOUS MR. PARNELL.

HIS FACE ILLUMINED WITH BRIGHT NEW HOPES.

He Thinks He Will Carry Carlow and Will Visit the Constituency Accompanied by Mrs Parnell—His Marriage Will Help Him Politically.

LONDON, June 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Parnell entertained friends last evening at Walsingham Terrace and received to-day several intimates. Parnell has sent greetings to several adherents in the House of Commons, expressing pleasure that the prolonged suspense is over and thanking them for their steadfast friendship. He writes under an apparent conviction that his marriage will enable him to be reinstated as Irish leader in Parliament. A strong impression in the same direction prevails in the House of Commons in spite of the knowledge of the fact that the Catholic clergy will not accept the marriage as condoning his offence. English Liberals are ready to hail him as a man doing his best to atone for his fault. From every side to-night congratulations poured upon the Parnellites unsolicited on their chief's moral rehabilitation. Friends in the House of Commons have sent an invitation to Parnell to make an early appearance in the House of Commons, when he is likely to be greeted with cheers. No immediate restoration of confidence between Parnell and the Liberal leaders is possible, nor is it probable that the faction feud will end without long opposition from some of his irreconcilable enemies, but the marriage has deprived his foes of one of their most potent weapons. His moral position assured political restoration it is generally believed becomes a matter of time. Mrs. Parnell talks of leaving Brighton and taking a large house in London. If she wins the probate suit she will be rich. It is said she aims to form a political and artistic salon, to create which she has capacities equal to her ambition. She has been a valuable political ally of Parnell, with whom she has discussed every turn of affairs. It can safely be predicted that under her open guidance Parnell will modify his tactics in the fight with the McCarthyites. Reconciliation will be the watchword. The first contest, Carlow, will be fought on the Parnellite side with greater attention to personal amenities.

Enjoying Life Better Than Ever Before—Coming to America.

LONDON, June 26.—Mr. Parnell during an interview at Brighton to-day upon his marriage to Mrs. O'Shea, said he found it impossible to procure a marriage license for any country church, and in order to prevent delay he thought it best to have the ceremony performed at the registry office at Steyning. Mr. Parnell added that the church ceremony would be celebrated in London as soon as he and Mrs. Parnell were able to put in a fortnight's time there. The wedding would be after the election at Carlow for a successor in Parliament to the late O'Gorman Mahon. Mr. Parnell, referring to the religious ceremony which is to take place, said that even in this case he would do his best to prevent outsiders from being present.

Asked if he intended to take an active part in the Carlow election Mr. Parnell replied: "I shall certainly go to Carlow. I will start to-morrow night if possible. I am confident we shall win."

This election is the only election since the O'Shea divorce proceedings which Mr. Parnell has had a chance of winning. He will take Mrs. Parnell with him to Carlow if he possibly can do so, but Mrs. Parnell is a bad sailor and she is compelled to remain near her lawyers owing to the coming trial of the will suit in which she and her brothers are interested in respect to the Eltham property. Mr. Parnell intends in the future to devote special attention to the Irish industrial question. Recently Mr. Parnell has given general support to Mr. Balfour's land bill, believing that it will greatly benefit both the Irish tenants and Irish land owners. Mr. Parnell further said he intended, if possible, to visit the United States during the coming autumn, being of the opinion that the sentiment of the Irish and Irish-Americans on the other side of the Atlantic is in his favor. Mr. Parnell will try to attend the Irish National Convention at Baltimore next fall. When Mr. Parnell was asked what he thought would be the political effect of his marriage to Mrs. O'Shea he said he had not given that question a thought and he did not intend to think of what the effect of his marriage would be. He and his wife were perfectly happy and he was now experiencing greater happiness than ever previously during the entire course of his life. The reporter with whom Mr. Parnell had this interview adds: I never saw Mr. Parnell in a more healthy condition nor in better spirits.

When He Cometh.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Prince George of Greece is on his way here from San Francisco. When he arrives he will be waited on by a delegation of his countrymen and escorted to his hotel. He will undoubtedly call on Mayor Grant and then view the city. If he signifies that a dinner would be agreeable a quiet and very select party will meet at Delmonico's and dine with him.

A Visitor From Chicago Drowned.

MOUNT FOREST, June 26.—A case of drowning occurred at Holstein yesterday morning about 8 o'clock. The victim was Thomas Lounds, a young married man of Chicago, who was visiting his brother, the Methodist minister of the village. The unfortunate man went to bathe in Petrie's pond, when it is supposed he took cramps.

PARIS, June 26.—The Bishop of Grenoble, who has hitherto been an irreconcilable, has addressed a letter to the clergy of his diocese accepting the republic as the best form of government in France.

A Bad Scaffold Accident

ELIZABETH, N.J., June 26.—This morning a scaffold erected to the third story of the foundry being built for the Worthington Pump Company of Brooklyn, at Elizabethport, fell with 17 men. Gabriel Williams, aged 30 and Michael Nolan, aged 25, of Elizabeth, were killed. Patrick Raher of Elizabeth and Reuben Hundley, colored, of New York, were fatally injured. James Kelly, Patrick Jones and Michael McCarthy of Elizabeth were also severely hurt.

THE LOSSES SEVERE.

Further Particulars of the Floods in Iowa

WATERLOO, Ia., June 26.—An Illinois Central conductor, who returned to-day from the scene of desolation caused by the recent floods, reports the loss on houses, live stock, growing crops and personal effects of the people who lived in the track of the storm as almost incredible. The country from Storm Lake to Cherokee was one vast sea. Merchants in every town between the towns named suffered great loss, to say nothing of unlimited damages to crops and the washing of houses on the bottoms at Cherokee, most of which were the homes of laboring men. These people lost everything, barely escaping with their lives and scant covering for their backs. Hundreds of animals were seen in the river floating past Cherokee Wednesday, the horses being still tied to the fragments of wrecked buildings. Hundreds of cattle, hogs and chickens followed each other at short intervals. The little Sioux valley from Cherokee to Onawa is one of the largest stock-raising sections in Iowa. When the water subsides the loss disclosed will doubtless be immense. One farmer living south of Cherokee says over 2000 cattle are missing from his pastures, and he supposes are lost. The Illinois Central is also a heavy loser. Supt. Gillies says $300,000 will not repair the damage already in sight and investigations have not been pursued further than five miles on the south branch, while the north is still inaccessible. The company have 200 men at work on the bridge at Cherokee and report that structure will be ready for use by Sunday. All wagon bridges on the country roads from Storm Lake to Cherokee are gone, and Cherokee is still accessible only by boat.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Postal Authorities Are Going to Look After Revenue.

TORONTO, June 26.—The local postal authorities, of this city acting under instructions from Ottawa, have been investigating the systems pursued by the various telegraph messenger companies to see if they complied with the postal regulations, and whether they are entering into competition with the department in the delivery of letters. Chief Postoffice Inspector Sweatman has been making calls at the C.P.R. telegraph office, the G.N.W. telegraph office, the Electric Dispatch Company's headquarters and the offices of the Henderson Delivery Company. The C.P.R. and Electric Dispatch Companies denied there was any trouble, so far as they were concerned. Mr. Sweatman casually told Mr. Rossbrugh, the secretary of the Electric Dispatch, that the delivery of letters by these private concerns was impairing the revenue of the Toronto postoffice and that the department was bound to stop it.

Yesterday afternoon a young woman named Sarah Beckett, residing at 45 Wardell-street, wife of Edward Beckett, a peddler, made two desperate attempts to end her life. On the first occasion she had a solution of Rough on Rats in a teacup and had it to her lips, when it was forced from her hand. It was thought that she would not try it again, but when later in the day she began to flourish a bottle full of the poison her friends thought it was time to call in the police. She was taken to Police Headquarters and will be brought before the Police Magistrate this morning. The only reason she gave for her foolish conduct was that her husband had deserted her, and she was in consequence tired of life.

Yesterday was field day among the Public School scholars of the city. Games of all sorts were held in Exhibition Park under guidance of Inspector James L. Hughes and Messrs. Williamson and Reading.

THE STATE OF TRADE.

Midsummer Quiet Continues in General Trade Circles in the United States.

NEW YORK, June 26.—With few exceptions special telegrams to Bradstreet's from the more important trade centres report a continuance of "midsummer" quiet in general trade circles. Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul and Omaha are the noteworthy exceptions; hardware, clothing, notions, nails, wire and some lines of drygoods showing the effects of an enlarged demand. Elsewhere dulness and quiet are conspicuous in leading lines, notably at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans, Memphis and San Francisco. Kansas City announces a fair trade with collections slow. More southern iron furnaces in blast have depressed pig-iron prices east. Lumber stocks tend to increase at all centres and prices are heavy. Leather is heavier, particularly at Boston. Owing to failures of importance, notwithstanding a fair demand for boots and shoes, eastern makers' stocks are increasing. At Omaha fat cattle are higher and other grades, as well as hogs, lower in price. Bank clearings at 38 cities for the week ended June 25 amount to $940,220,538, a decrease from this week last year of 16.5 per cent. Stock speculation at New York is at a standstill, although the renewal of heavy gold exports, amounting to $5,000,000 for the week, causes further decline in prices and overcomes the favorable influence of the crop prospects. Drygoods generally are quiet at first hands, but fall styles of prints and ginghams are moving freely.

In the Dominion tariff changes (though not unexpected) have proved the feature. granulated sugar prices being 3c lower, tobacco 5c higher, and liquor prices also higher. Wholesale dealers in sugar report a brisk trade. Crop prospects are excellent. In Manitoba the wheat average is 170,000 acres larger than last year. Fully 200 miles of railway are under construction in Manitoba and Northwest Territory. The Dominion reports 31 business failures this week, against 27 last week and 17 this week last year. The total number Jan. 1 to date is 900, against 860 last year.

The Storms Came.

OMAHA, Neb., June 26.—Rain has been falling in torrents here all day. Some of the low sections of the city are flooded, but the damage is not extensive as yet. Reports from the state bring news of additional damage by rain and wind. Three cyclones passed over Palmer, but did little damage in the town. In the surrounding country, however, crops are demolished. At Ida Grove Ia, 23 houses are flooded and the people have been obliged to seek safety on high ground. All communication with the north is cut off.

Blaze on the Sideline.

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 25.—About 10 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the dwelling of Mr. William Howden of the 9th concession of Caven The house was totally consumed, but part of the contents were saved. Origin of the fire unknown; no insurance about $900.

Despatches from Tiflis, the capital of Russian Transcaucasia, state that a band of brigands, 17 in number, recently attacked and robbed a mail coach near the village of Saljan, killing two travelers and severely wounding a position. The brigands then attacked and pillaged the village of Saljan and escaped with the booty secured. A squadron of Cossacks has been sent in pursuit of the outlaws.

The editor of The Moscow Illustrated Gazette fired with a revolver at the editor of The Viedomosti. The shot missed the man for whom it was intended, but killed the latter's companion, a journalist named Sibtriakoff.

A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1891.

THE population of British India has increased to an immense extent, and now stands at 220,500,000. The increase from 1881, when a census was taken, has been 20,000,000. The actual increase of the population of British India, excluding regions brought within the direct British sphere of influence since 1881, was 26,000,000 human beings. France is considered a densely-populated country, with 187 people to the square mile, but in Bengal, almost wholly agricultural and with scarcely any large manufacturing centres, there are to cultivable land 715 persons to the square mile.

THE Government has not begun its economy any too soon; the people will believe more in Mr. Foster's promised retrenchment of $2,000,000 when they see it. It is asserted, though Mr. Foster gives no hint of the means he will adopt to effect his promised retrenchment, that Mr. Abbott intends to put the axe to the root of the tree of extravagance by a cessation of all railway and public works' expenditure. In this event good-bye, Trent Valley Canal. If we couldn't get a grant for this great work when Dominion ministers were scattering the public money like chaff, what hope is there that, now when a fit of economy has seized them, and they have, without inventing it, a reasonable excuse, we shall get a cent beyond the $5,000 put into the estimates for surveying a line that promises never to be built? Put not your trust in politicians.

MR. ABBOTT is a compromise Premier with a vengeance. He compromised, says the Globe, with himself on the annexation question and is now the head and front of the party which claims a monopoly of all the loyalty. According to the Ottawa Free Press, he also compromised with himself on the Orange question. At a public meeting held in Argenteuil not very long ago, when he was seeking election to the House of Commons, he was charged with being a member of the Orange order. He flatly denied the statement, but when one of his opponents produced a report of the Grand Orange Lodge showing that Mr. Abbott had been not only a member of the order but a prominent officer of the Grand Lodge he weakened. He apologized for what he called his youthful indiscretion in joining the Orange Association when a very young man, and declared that he had abandoned the order as soon as he fully understood its aims and principles.

FORCED TARIFF CHANGES.

tion. Mr. Foster is credited with having scored a great success in connection with his tariff speech. He took the duty off certain brands of sugar and of salt, (involving a loss of $3,500,000; and increased it on liquors and tobaccos. It is a good move, but one, so far as the sugar and salt are concerned, which was forced upon the Government. The difference between the selling prices of sugar on the American side and this has long challenged attention, but since the McKinley Bill has been in operation the difference in the values of sugar has been more particularly manifest. At Cape Vincent, for instance, one could purchase 20 lbs. of sugar for the amount 10 lbs. cost him in Kingston; of the same article he could, as a local philosopher put it, buy as much for the wool of a sheep at Cape Vincent as he could for the wool and the carcass put together at Kingston. Hence the smuggling and desire for smuggling among the people. Hence the great sacrifice of revenue which Mr. Foster, on behalf of the Government assented to, a sacrifice which comes tardily and because the people could not be faced with this iniquity of high taxation on an article of prime necessity, to further lengths. But while the Government does a brave act in admitting raw sugar free, it is not admitted that refiners still enjoy a monopoly of the sugar trade and will still dictate who shall engage in it, and how they shall conduct it. They will still revise retail prices and be practically more powerful in the exercise of monopolistic functions. And so it is too soon to conclude that the people will be much benefited by the new legislation or that their breakfasts will be much cheapened. To be sure there have to be compensating duties to a certain extent. "You must not," said Mr. Foster, "expect to have all the sugar without something bitter to mix with it," and so he claps duties on articles of luxury. So far so good. This is in accordance with the contention of the Whig on many occasions, but there should, along same lines, be a greater discrimination in the duties affecting the products of consumption by the masses and the classes, giving the government the right to claim that it was most considerate of the condition of the populace. The settlement of the sugar question—the putting of it in the power of the refiners to give us cheaper sugar without an assurance that there will be much reduction in the retail selling price—does not end the grievances of the people. There are still heavy and oppressive burdens, especially upon the farmers, and nothing will help to lighten them until "the natural market" (that of the United States) for Canada's surplus produce is opened to them. The government committed a fraud upon the electors in advocating a trade treaty between this country and the neighboring republic. That fraud had its effects upon the late elections, and this was all it was intended to do. The budget is founded upon a continuance of the present order of things, and it is, therefore, without comfort to the great majority of the people.—Whig.

THE Globe puts it thus:

Mr. Foster—I went for immediate prohibition
Mr. Carling—I brewed XXX ale
Mr. Abbott—I signed an annexation manifesto
Sir John Thompson—I was a Methodist.

} In a moment of weakness.

THE Chatham Banner says that the revising officers in many constituencies are making preparations to commence their work. The Government party in Kent are already on the move. An agent from the Conservative Association from Toronto was at Chatham last week giving instructions, and the managers are getting the work in shape. The Liberals, it says, must also make a start. The chances are that another general election will be held within a year, as nobody believes the present makeshift arrangement can hold together, and material for a stronger combination is not to be found on the Tory side of the present House. Its advice is: "Get the names of all Liberals not on the assessment rolls and send them to the secretary of the Liberal Association at Chatham." These remarks are applicable to every constituency in Ontario. There should be no time lost. The Tory Franchise Act gives enough unfair advantage without Liberal neglect adding to the unfairness of the fight.

THE Hamilton Times points out that the new tobacco and spirit taxes will probably serve to promote the important industry of the smuggler. Beer is a bulky article and cannot be easily smuggled, but whiskey is already smuggled in large quantities along the lower St. Lawrence, and the temptation to indulge in the illicit trade is increased by the increase in the excise duty. The same thing applies to tobacco. In the United States the excise duty is only 6 cents per pound, against 20 cents, now raised to 25 cents, in Canada. A man who could walk across the border with a 20 pound caddy of tobacco on his shoulder was $2 80 in pocket under the old duty, and under the new duty he will be $3 80 in pocket. Not very long ago a Hamilton tobacco manufacturer applied to the Government to have the excise reduced in order to diminish smuggling, but Mr. Foster has made the change in the opposite direction, being apparently willing to take the risk of illicit trade and loss of revenue.

Much In Little.

Healthful and refreshing sleep, a complete freedom from all nervousness, headaches banished, a retentive memory, buoyant spirits, and vigorous, healthy digestion, are only a few of the many blessings that follow the use Paine's Celery Compound. It is the safest remedy for old and young of both sexes, and its reputation stands so high to-day that the best physicians recommend its use, and speak highly of it. It is within the reach of all, and certainly worthy of a trial. It is endorsed by clergymen, lawyers, bankers, merchants and mechanics in all sections of Canada, and its mighty sales amply prove it value and popularity.

Winding up the Barings.

The Barings estate is not panning out as well as was expected. When the collapse occurred in November last there was a general impression that the winding up would result in a surplus of approximately £4,000,000. The estimate on the statement recently issued is that the firm may eventually be left with a surplus of £1,000,000 or £2,000,000. But the realization of such a surplus depends largely upon the price at which a large look-up of South American securities can be disposed of. Such securities are taken at the valuation of October 31, which made them worth nearly £8,000,000. But the signs are that great loss will have to have to be suffered. The Barings held a million of Buenos Ayres waterworks ordinary capital, which stood at a price making the holding worth over £800,000. This stock is virtually wiped out of existence. The firm also had upwards of £60,000 Argentile National Bank shares, the market prices of which has dropped almost out of sight, the present nominal quotation being about £1 5s in contrast with a quotation in October of £22 10s. The firm also held largely of Argentile National Government 4½ per cents., which are worth only 30 as compared with 88 in October.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wandrich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

THE GAME OF BACCARAT.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE GAMBLING DEVICE AS IT IS PLAYED.

How Bets are Made, Won and Lost—The Prince of Wales as a "Banker" at the Tranby Croft Sitting—Chances to Cheat —A Demoralizing Game.

Baccarat is one of the simplest of all games of chance and ranks on a level with vingt-et-un and rouge-et-noir, which are conceded to be childlike in their simplicity. Yet in that very simplicity rests the danger. A novice at card playing, who can add a few simple figures together, can compete with the oldest gambler who haunts the card tables. The game is pre-eminently an English one, being played in all the gambling establishments of the United Kingdom, and as shown by the present scandal growing out of Sir William's libel suit at many a quiet game among England's aristocrats. It is also a favorite, but not to such an extent, in the Parisian cafes. At Monte Carlo the baccarat tables are never deserted and the fascination the game has upon those who once engage in it has been the cause of nearly a suicide. At Tranby Croft the select circle which engage in it, being so sure of one another's honesty, did not take the trouble of procuring a regulation green baize covered table upon which to play, but simply placed three small tables side by side and covered them with paper. Had a proper one been used Sir William's alleged cheating could not have been carried on.

When a small party engages in the play a table three feet square is used. At one end sits the dealer. In front of him a slit is cut into the table large enough to allow of the passage of chips into a drawer underneath. To the right and left of the dealer sits the players. Chalk lines are drawn on the table from the dealer's end on both sides to the opposite end of the table, and several inches from the edges where the players are sitting. Chips representing the bets made by the players are placed outside these lines.

At Tranby Croft the position of the players was left to their choice, as it was but "a family party." Any number of packs of cards are used, and the game may be played by any number of people, all of whom bet against the dealer. Outsiders are even at liberty to bet on a player against the bank. The pasteboards are dealt from a box resembling in shape a fare box, or the more familiar cigar box. This is supposed to guard against any temptation on the part of the banker to "stiff" or change a card which he would unfairly deal and which he knew would be to his disadvantage to give out. Figure cards—kings, queens and knaves—count ten, the others according to the spots on their faces.

The object of the players is to make 9, 19 or 29, when, if they hold such a combination, they have what is called a "natural" hand. But two cards are dealt out to each player by the dealer, who, of course, serves himself last. Prior to the dealing bets are made with chips purchased before the game. It may so happen that in the first hand a player gets a face card and a nine spot. In that event he holds a "natural" hand and wins. He announces that fact, and the banker pays all who hold superior hands to his own, their stake and an equal amount in addition, and "rakes" in the stakes of all who hold a lower hand than his.

Frequently a player will "stand" with cards counting eight, eighteen or twenty-eight, and take the chances of holding a better hand than the dealer. If he does he wins. If he is not satisfied with his hand, and believes that he can better it, he is entitled to two more cards. In doing so he risks exceeding twenty-nine, in which case he forfeits his stakes to the dealer. A spectator standing behind a player's chair and seeing that he has a good chance of winning may place a bet on his hand, and the dealer is compelled to accept it. In such an event the better must not move around the table until the play has been decided. This would be manifestly unfair even under the singularly elastic rules under which the game was played at Tranby Croft.

At the opening of the game the banker announces the limit of the bank. The Prince of Wales ran one of £100, and in that now famous series of games the stakes varied from five to ten shillings. Gordon-Cumming proved himself to be somewhat of a plunger, and frequently bet as high as £5 and never less than £3. Another feature of the game which seems to have been indulged in by those brought into such unpleasant notoriety was the acceptance of a bet without the money having been actually placed on the table. That method of placing a wager is dubbed by the knowing ones as "marked." It is seldom used, as at card playing as in everything else, "business is business." The game is usually "called," all bets being duly registered with chips.

At Monte Carlo, where the game is reduced to a science, as soon as it is "called" two croupiers move around the table and count the bets, reporting to the bank, who can thus tell to a cent the exact amount of his liability. His Royal Highness, according to the testimony, did not seem to take that trouble. Another fact which helped out the alleged crooked transaction on the part of the member of the Guards is that the chips they used were made of leather, and were consequently noiseless. The defendants allege that the complainant would slyly drop extra checks on top of his pile when he found he held a good hand. If that is so it reflects upon the royal banker's ability, as he should have had the chips placed beyond the reach of the players after the bets were made and kept his eye upon them.

The alleged discovery of dishonesty was made on September 8, 1890, when Hon. Arthur Wilson, who sat next to Sir William, bethought he saw him drop a chip on top of his pile. He claims to have been very much shocked at this, and to make sure that he was right communicated his suspicions to Berkeley Levett, one of his guests. The two men decided to catch Sir William in the act and the next evening the impression of gambling alibi was replaced by a regulation table. The Prince of Wales was placed at the head and on his right, near the opposite end sat Green and Wilson. Directly facing the banker sat Mrs. Green, Sir William, Lady Coventry and General Owen Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and Wilson were thus in an excellent position to watch the play, while Levett, who did not join in, also kept an eye upon it. It was not long, the discussion claim, before they discovered Sir William cheating. Green was even so taken aback as it that he left the room at once.

The sequel of this now famous game was an interview between the accused man and the Prince of Wales, when the former signed, under undue influence, as he now claims, the following pledge:

"In consideration of the promise, made by the gentlemen whose names are subscribed, to preserve silence with reference to an accusation which has been made in regard to my conduct at baccarat on the night of Monday and Tuesday, the 8th and 9th September, 1890, at Tranby Croft, I will on my part solemnly undertake never to play cards again as long as I live.

WILLIAM GORDON-CUMMING."

Those who signed the agreement were the people whose suspicions are alleged to have been aroused. From the testimony elicited it is certain that Sir William did not make the matter public. Some one did. Was it his Royal Highness, Mr. or Mrs. Lycett Green, Mr. or Mrs. Arthur Wilson or Berkeley Levett? Whoever may have made the scandal public the fact remains that had the heir to England's throne studied his Hoyle closer the game would have been carried on without affording temptation to any one to juggle with the chips.

The game which has caused the breaking of Sir William Gordon-Cumming's sword by the Queen is a most demoralizing one. A Paris man-about-town gives an instance which shows this. He said:

"I know a New Yorker who came to Paris with his wife. He joined the club we have just left. He lost all his own money and all his wife's. He pawned everything; borrowed from everybody. Finally his wife died and some friends cabled him money to bring her body home. The night this money came — there were several thousand francs—he left the club as the day was breaking without a penny in the world. He borrowed two francs from me to pay for a cab to the house where the woman he had loved less than cards lay unburied.

"That man, intelligent and refined as he was, was a baccarat fiend. There are thousands like him."

"But I thought you said baccarat was such a fine game, and all that sort of thing?"

"I said it was the queen of all gambling games, and it is; but gambling is gambling. Some day I'll tell you how to win."

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 26.—Alderman Farquhar took umbrage at certain editorial criticisms of his civic course in The Telegram and attacked John S. Robinson, the editor on King-street, striking him with a whip. The men grappled, but were parted by the crowd. The alderman went into a saloon and Robinson remained outside, inviting him to come out and finish his undertaking and there would be no legal action. Farquhar remained close, but a short time afterwards was met by Robinson in Yonge-street and promptly floored. The tussle lasted some time, the editor getting the best of it, though a much smaller man. It is thought that the case will not get into court.

Rev. Leroy Hooker, late of the Metropolitan Church, has gone to Detroit in the employ of the Canada Life Assurance Company. Report has it that his affairs here are in a rather unfortunate muddle.

Edmund Peck, aged 14, of the Mimico Industrial School, whose parents reside at 14 Sword-street in this city, was drowned yesterday in the bathing pool adjoining the school. The body was not found until to day.

SAILORS ON THE RAMPAGE.

Five Vessel Hands Got On a Tear and Smashed Things.

MONTREAL, June 25.—There was a mutiny to-day on board of the steamship Batavia, which is manned with Dutch sailors. Five of the crew had deserted from the ship and word was sent to the police station asking the police to capture them. After a desperate fight four of them were captured, the fifth escaping into the hold of the vessel. He had with him a mastiff dog and armed himself with an iron bar. Detectives McMahon and Lafontaine went into the vessel. The dog occupied the latter and McMahon secured the mutineer after a fierce fight, in which he became covered with blood.

Make a Note of It.

Read it over and over again, spell it out and sing it, until it is indelibly fixed in your mind, that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is an infallible cure for chronic catarrh of the head, with all its distressing complications. Impaired taste and smell, offensive breath, ringing noises in the head, defective hearing, nose and throat ailments, are not only relieved, but positively and permanently cured. This is no fancy of the imagination, but a hard, solid fact, proven over and over again, and vouched for, under a forfeiture of $500 by its manufacturers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Self Application of Electricity

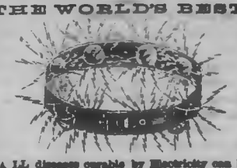
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only Application Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete Body Battery. It has an Electric Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASES, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

What About the Money for Parks?

A great many persons are interested in Mrs. Nicholls' munificent bequest for public parks, so much so that at an early date a meeting is to be called to form a society pledged to the exclusive use of hawley bros.' teas, which are of such excellent quality that the public health will be benefitted and the national interest subserved by their universal use—particularly their splendid 50 cent tea. dw

Healthy, Wealthy and Wise.

The great reduction sale of wall paper still continues at the Peterborough Bookstore. Although it is between the seasons, people are buying up paper now preparatory for the fall and spring housecleaning. They can get it so cheap they accept the golden opportunity as it presents itself, thereby showing a healthy, well-balanced brain, an appreciation of the means of making wealth, and wisdom is not letting the chance slip by. The stock is the finest in the Midland district, and the prices the lowest. There are nearly 50,000 rolls to choose from, and you are sure of satisfaction. Now is the time to buy wall paper. You can buy it cheaper and better than ever before. 1d

Ashburnham Justice.

Yesterday County Police Magistrate Edmison held court in Ashburnham, and three parties charged with disorderly conduct were fined $2 and costs each or ten days in jail. One or two of them was given time to pay his fine and if the money is not paid on the nail, he goes up to jail, therein to bewail the sting in the tale of whiskey and ale, which penance will pale before the punishment that other offenders will receive. County Police Magistrate Edmison is determined to put down disorder, drunkenness, hoodlumism, rowdyism in Ashburnham, and if moderate punishment fail's then the extreme penalty of the law will be inflicted. The "b'hoys" had better be on their good behaviour.

A Pleasant Lawn Party.

The Peterborough Lodge Sons of England had a very pleasant lawn accial last night on the spacious and beautiful grounds of Mr. Poussette's residence, Park street. The grounds, beautifully illuminated with Oriental lanterns, presented a fine appearance, and the guests present enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Lacrosse at Port Hope.

The Riverside went down to Port Hope yesterday and had a bout at lacrosse with the Port Hope team. The boys from Peterborough got a little the worse of the match—Port Hope taking four games in the two hours play. The play on the part of the successful club was less like lacrosse than slugging, while the home team showed prominently a decided lack of practice, especially team practice.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises lacrosse match, bicycle races, athletic sports, grand horse races, baseball match, and other sports during the day. In the evening there will be a grand promenade concert, etc. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Special railway rates and special trains after the evening programme is over. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. BEAMISH, secretary of committee. dw

The Boys and Girls.

The boys and the girls when they pull together make a strong team, and when two sets of boys and girls—the High School and the Public School—pull together as they are doing for the entertainment in the Market Hall next Tuesday night, there is sure to be a splendid programme presented. The programme will comprise music—and splendid music, too—eloquent recitations and calisthenic exercises—in grace, the poetry of motion. You have never seen anything in town quite so attractive and charming as this juvenile entertainment will be, and you will never have another chance to see anything like it—at least for a year. Come everybody. Admission only 15 cents; children 10 cents.

Change of Business.

Mr. L. Potvin, who has for the past number of years successfully carried on the grocery and bakery business at the corner of Dublin and George streets, has purchased the confectionery and restaurant business lately carried on by Mr. Ed. Welsh, at 425 George streets, and will continue to conduct the same in a first class manner, making a specialty of the manufacture of choice confectionery and pastry, full lines of which will always be kept in stock. The restaurant department will be conducted as heretofore, in a first class manner, and meals served at all hours. Fruit and oysters in season. Ice cream, soda water, etc., wedding cakes to order. Remember the place—Ed. Welsh's old stand, 425 George street. 5d146-w1

A Charge of Mayhem.

This morning an exciting chase took place on George street. County Constable Kearney had come down this morning from Young's Point with a warrant for the arrest of Geo. Clute, charged with mayhem—biting and maiming another river driver, Joseph Chambleau. Constable Kearney spotted his man in front of Neil's boot shop. He gave chase and his man gave him plenty of chance, and led the minion of the law a lively dance before he overhauled the man eater at the ruins of Denne's mills. The handcuffs were put on Clute, who was kept in the cells for an hour or two, till a conveyance was procured to take him to the Point, where the case was tried this afternoon before P. A. Kearney, Esq., J.P. The result is not yet known.

St. John's Church.

Rev. F. C. Powell, B. A., of St. Thomas' Church, Belleville, will assist at St. John's to-morrow, preaching in the morning.

Mr. Powell will also address the children of the parish at the monthly children's service at 3.30 p.m.

To-morrow morning all those who were confirmed on Thursday will receive the Holy Communion in a body, together with their friends. It is expected that a large number of communicants will be present to unite with their brethren on this occasion. The service has been fixed for 8.15 a. m. instead of 8.30 to accommodate those who come from distant parts of the town.

Mr. W. M. Loucks will be ordained Deacon at St. James' Cathedral to-morrow at the 11 o'clock service, by the Bishop of Toronto.

50 Per Cent. Discount.

Unprecedented bargains in Bibles, English Church Prayer Books and Roman Catholic Prayer Books at the Peterborough Bookstore. A rare purchase has been made of a fine lot of these books, which will be sold at a discount of 50 per cent. on the usual price. The Cambridge Teachers' Bible, kid-lined and silk sewn, the regular price of which is $4 00, will be sold for $2 00. A specially good line of Hymnals and Psalters has been secured. Psalters and Hymnals, bound in leather, which usually sell for at least 60c., are being sold at the Peterborough Bookstore for 30c., a discount of 50 per cent. We have only 200 of them in stock, and no time should be lost in picking up these great bargains by those in need of Psalters and Hymnals. Now is the time to strike a "snap" in Bibles, Prayer Books, and Psalters and Hymnals at the Peterborough Bookstore.

Good Templar Topics.

Ashburnia Lodge of Good Templars held their regular meeting in the council chamber last night. The attendance was not large but those present made up for this in a measure by entering into the work in such a hearty manner as to leave no doubt about future results. After routine business an excellent programme was rendered as follows:—Recitation, Sister Sarah Hamilton, "Jamie Douglas." This touching incident of the covenanters was recited in a manner that would impress and "enthuse" any audience. Sister Maggie Whittington gave "The Three Bidders." Sister Whittington recites well and her choice of subjects being good enables her to please her audience. Bro. Dowd gave a reading "The New Version." Sister Minnie Hamilton's recital was "Trouble in the Amen Corner." This recitation ought to be given to some of our church officials and choirs about once a month. After an exposition of the unwritten work by Bro. Dowd, the lodge was closed to meet again next Friday evening, when they hope to have a large number present themselves for initiation.

Sensation Among Methodists

Rev. Leroy Hooker Goes from Toronto to Detroit to Work for the Canada Life.

The Toronto Mail says:—The news that Rev. LeRoy Hooker, late pastor of the Metropolitan church, had left town suddenly of late, became known recently and occasioned considerable stir in certain circles. It was known that Mr. Hooker was dissatisfied with the action of the Toronto Conference in not appointing him to the London Conference where he could pursue his particular avocations uninterrupted, and it is for this reason that he is stated to have left town. Certain it is, at any rate, that Rev. LeRoy Hooker is at present residing in Detroit, and in the employ of the Canada Life Assurance Company. This much was ascertained at a late hour last night. It is also stated that he has resigned from the ministry for good. He is not know to have been in financial difficulties, but Toronto will know him no more for some time.

A Genuine Jolly-fication.

Phonetic Favours Cordially Recognized—Presentation to Mr. Jolly of Barnardo Home.

During the past winter Mr. A. Jolly has taught classes of the Y. M. C. A. and of the "Y." on the most liberal terms possible—gratis, and last night the two classes—led and animated by the ladies of course, met in the "Y" hall, Mr. Jolly also being present. After the abundant and dainty refreshments provided by the ladies under the auspices of Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Earley had been discussed and disposed of the dessert was set forth in the form of the following address read by Miss Clara Hodgson, the articles mentioned therein having been presented by Master Percy Wright:—

To Mr. A. Jolly, Hazel Brae, Peterborough:

DEAR MR. JOLLY,—We, the members of your respective Shorthand Classes, gladly use this occasion—not for the passing of merely formal compliments—but to unitedly express our appreciation of the generous kindness manifested in the devotion of so much time and attention for our benefit.

It is to be feared that by dullness of perception we have frequently furnished full opportunity for the development of your patience; while the memory of the consistent courtesy which has characterized your bearing towards us, will be to each a lasting inspiration. We trust that by persitent application, certain of our number my yet attain such a degree of perfection in the art of phonography as shall reflect creditably upon our kind instructor.

In conclusion we ask your acceptance of this Bible and satchel as a slight token of our esteem and gratitude, as well as a memento of many pleasant and profitable hours.

The presents were a very handsome Bible and elegant satchel, substantial mementoes of the gratitude of the class.

Mr. Jolly briefly replied to the address stating in effect that the hours he had spent with the classes were passed very happily and he had his reward in the deligent attention paid his instructions by his classes and in extending a knowledge of the important art of shorthand, and in this the intelligent application of pupils had achieved results beyond his expectations. He returned his heartiest thanks for the beautiful gifts with which he had been honored.

Brief addresses were given by Mr. Colville General Y.M.C.A. Secretary, Mr. Dobbin, Mr. Early and Mr. Roger. Afterwards a very pleasant hour was passed in social and musical enjoyment,—the climax to a very delightful evening.

The second eleven of Trinity College School and the Peterborough Colts are playing cricket to-day, and it looks as if the home team would win. The visitors went to bat first and were all disposed off for 56 runs to the bowling of Stocker and Goldsmith. The Colts then went in and made 53, of which Dumble scored 18, Desmford 14, Crofton 12 and Chas. Halliday 9. The boys of Trinity were entertained at luncheon on the grounds, over which Dr. and Mrs. Burnham and Miss Halliday presided. The game is being continued this afternoon.

For the Good of Both Parties.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—I was pleased to see "Sympathy's" letter in the EXAMINER headed "On Behalf of the Girls", but am persuaded that in securing early closing on Saturday evening we are promoting quite as much the interest of the employer as that of the employee, as late work on Saturday night equally affects them, and in many cases the employer works the latest, besides carrying the burden of anxiety and pressure of business into the Sabbath. If there must be one evening a week set apart for the late shopper, let it be on Monday or Friday, that the Sabbath be not encroached upon. This is not surely a lazy cry for shorter hours for employee; it is a demand from all citizens who love and observe the Golden Rule and the Fourth Commandment, and who remember that the day of preparation was as much ordained by God as the Sabbath itself.

About forty merchants have given their signatures, declaring themselves favourable to the proposed bylaw, and the canvass is not yet completed. As to the violation of the bylaw, I think we need have no fear, as I am told that the 7 o'clock bylaw is very well kept indeed, besides we have our police force, and mean to use it if necessary.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your kindkindness, I am

Yours for the Employer,
WHITE RIBBONER.

Norwood.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Cantata "The Healing of Naaman," which was prepared with much anxiety by the young people of the Presbyterian church, and looked forward to by the people with curiosity, on account of its novelty, was given in the town hall here on Monday, June 22nd. The hall, which was seated with chairs for the occasion, was filled to the doors with Norwood's best society from all denominations, and the audience have not yet ceased to express their delight in the entertainment. We give below a cast of the principal characters:

Queen of Syria	Miss E. Finlay
Wife of Naaman	Miss B. Roxburgh
Hebrew Maid	Miss May Pettigrew
Hebrew Woman	Miss Mary Pengelly
Naaman	Mr. Frank Roxburgh
Iran, a Hebrew Prophet	Mr. A. Finlay
Syrian Priests	Mr. A. Raddon, Mr. W. Eaton, Mr. W. Cameron

The characters were well chosen and it would not be doing justice to make any special comment. Besides these principal characters there was a well balanced chorus of Hebrew captives. It was probably in the chorus "God is our Refuge and Strength," with the tenor obligato, that the Hebrews most distinguished themselves. In the grand finale, when all took part, the power of the chorus was most displayed, and the introduction of an altar, garlanded with wreather, and producing incense, added greatly to the effect. The quintette by the principal characters deserves special mention. Between the scenes an amateur orchestra of five pieces played a number of difficult overtures and added greatly to the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Meikle presided at the piano in a manner worthy of the highest praise.

The Christian Endeavour Society have made arrangements to repeat the cantata in the school house, Havelock, on Monday June 29th.

Mr. H. Bewell, an ex-teacher of the Norwood High School, and recently a teacher in Woodstock College, is back to the village for his holidays. He looks as well as ever.

Mr. W. H. Mullins, who has been in business in Brooklyn for the past year, was home renewing old acquaintance during last week.

Judge Weller was in town on Wednesday holding court and revising the voters' list.

There will be lots of refreshments on Dominion Day, as both Presbyterians and Methodists have announced lawn socials.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PIERRE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

A Georgia Murderer Respited On Account of Poor Health.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 26.—Gov. Northen this morning respited Charles Osborn, who was sentenced to be hanged to-day, for 30 days, which will postpone his execution until the 25th day of July. The respite is granted on account of Osborn's critical physical condition, and at the request of the jury which sat yesterday by special summons of the Sheriff on the question of the sanity of the prisoner.

Had he been declared insane he would have been sent to a lunatic asylum until his mind should be restored, when he would have been re-sentenced and executed. The jury, however, after a full investigation, declared him sane, but recommended the Governor to give him a respite for 30 days on account of his physical condition. This the Governor consented to do and the respite was accordingly issued.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores—Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores; two little arms and hands in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a bound band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was on raw as to be absolutely shocking to the sight. Such was H. A. Short to me:—"I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said that he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time the sores were then I had ever seen her, and these promised the prospect of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smooth and fair, and I believe that she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woolsey, druggist.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLAN'S, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

A FAMOUS GANG.

The Detroit Police Come Down Upon the Considine Dive.

DETROIT, June 28.—The Considine gang, which has cut a pretty wide swath here for some time past, and has terrorized quite a good-sized element in the community, apparently being able to commit all manner of crime with perfect impunity, received a blow yesterday at the hands of the police department that badly demoralized it. For a period of four or five years members of the gang have committed violent and murderous assaults on inoffensive citizens at comparatively frequent intervals.

The recent disgraceful and murderous affray which occurred last Thursday afternoon at Riverside Park during the progress of a clam bake, and when Harry Savage, a cook, was slashed across the head with a huge knife by Johnny Considine, brought matters to a focus, however, and the deputy superintendent concluded to go against the gang at once.

The headquarters of the gang were at John Considine's saloon, 188 Griswold-street, where thieves, out-throats and gamblers have long hung out. The police made a raid on the place and captured ten men in all. The Considines had threatened to pistol the police if they ever crossed the door, and did draw their guns, but were overpowered in short order. Those arrested were Johnny, Jimmy and Billy Considine, John Dick, Thomas Gallagher, Tom Kennedy, John Powell alias "Prof." Powell, Louis McHenry alias "Fatty Mac," Frank Griffiths and Joe Quinn. At Considine's saloon a valise was found containing one of the finest kits of burglar's tools ever seen in Detroit. There were at least 15 drills, of various sizes, the latest improved "jimmies," straight and sectional, a can of dynamite and some kid glove fingers for packing it in, a quantity of giant powder, a section of fuse ready for use, a small can of oil, a powerful "jack" with screw attachment to "work" safe doors with a wedge or two, and, in short, everything requisite to commit a dozen burglaries with. The police are elated over the successful capture of this famous gang.

A ROUGH TIME OF IT.

A Young Irishman Who Thinks Brazil Worse Than Siberia.

CHICAGO, June 28.—A young Irishman named Francis Yourell has, he says, just escaped from the clutches of an immigration agency in Brazil. Four months ago Yourell was working as a laborer on a farm near Dublin. Attracted by promises posted around the neighborhood in which he lived he decided to take ship for Brazil. The showy posters promised a free passage and free farms, and Youell and 13 other companions jumped at what they considered the opportunity of their lives. They started for Liverpool March 11 on the steamship Arcania. The ship touched at two obscure French ports, where 100 more passengers were taken on, and at Lisbon, where 400 Portuguese were brought on board, making 1300 passengers all told. After 24 days' sail from Liverpool the Arcania arrived at an out-of-the-way seaport in Brazil. From the time the passengers landed on Brazilian ground they were subjected to treatment which no Christian ever suffered before. They were thrown into dens where Russians and Italians were dying with yellow fever, beaten with bludgeons and starved almost to death and were cast into prison for complaining. The promises about free farms were found to be a sham and humbug, the object of the immigration agency being to get work for the coffee planters. After weeks of hardship and privation Yourell and three others escaped from Santos on the ship Bancroy, bound for Santiago. From Santiago Yourell sailed to Baltimore on the Baucroy as fireman.

Incendiary Fire in Essex County.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., June 28.—Early yesterday morning a determined effort was made to burn the furniture establishment of Hiram Evans & Co. About 2 o'clock flames were discovered issuing from the rear end of the warehouse adjoining the main building. Evans and his family live in the upper story of the building, and the fire had gained almost too much headway to allow of their escaping. Had the flames been discovered a little later the family would have been burned There is no doubt but that the fire was the work of an incendiary, as traces of coal oil were noticed.

Overhead Bridge Accident.

WOODSTOCK, June 28.—Joe Hill, a brakeman on a freight train which arrives here from London about 11 o'clock every night, had a narrow escape for his life last night. On the train were a number of empty coaches which were somewhat higher than the freight cars, and the brakeman was walking over one of these towards the caboose when the train passed under the overhead bridge just west of Beachville. He was struck on the top of the head by the bridge and knocked down. He received a painful scalp wound but was not seriously injured.

Died From His Injuries

NEW YORK, June 28.—Dr. John I. Northrop, the Columbia College professor who was burned by the explosion of a barrel of alcohol at the college on Thursday afternoon, died of his injuries at the Presbyterian Hospital a few minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Compared to Washington.

KINGSTON, June 28.—Colonel Twitchell, United States Consul, in an address Friday evening at a Masonic memorial service of Sir John Macdonald, compared the latter to Washington in his work of creating a nation. Referring to the Dominion, he said its natural wealth was coveted by the world.

The Strike Over.

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—The stonecutters' strike was settled yesterday. The men ignored their leaders and appointed a committee to meet the bosses. The terms of settlement are secret, but are thought to be $3.75 per day. Bosses were paying $3.60 and the men struck for $4.

HAMILTON MAN KILLED.

His Mangled Remains Found on the M.C.R Track.

HAMILTON, June 26.—Word came to-day from Highgate telling that the body of a man apparently between 30 and 35 years of age was found about 6.30 this morning between the rails on the M.C.R. track near Muirkirk in a terribly mutilated condition. the left leg off at the thigh and the right at the knee, the skull off from the back of the ears to the eyebrows; had dark hair, smooth shaved and wore dark clothes. From some papers which were found in his clothes he is thought to be Obediah Black of Hamilton, Ont. Some blacksmith's tools which were found with him give the impression that he was a blacksmith who was riding on a freight and fell between the cars.

Obediah Black was well known among blacksmiths and mechanics of the city. He served his apprenticeship as a blacksmith and was a first-class workman. He was very temperate, but was subject to fits which prevented him working at his trade with any employer who knew him. Black left his boarding house, kept by Mrs. Susan Anderson, on Tuesday morning, saying he was going to Detroit. He has no relatives in the city, but one of his brothers lives in Oskaloosa and another over the mountain.

Another Montreal Failure.

MONTREAL, June 26.—The wholesale leather firm of McIndoe & Vaughan of Montreal has suspended, and the creditors are offered a compromise of 25 cents on the dollar. Liabilities are about $21,000 direct and $15,000 indirect. Immediate cause of suspension said to be the refusal of the bank to extend the firm's line of discount. The firm originally consisted of Fred C. McIndoe & F. S. Vaughan. They started in business in 1881, but in September of 1880 Vaughan died, and Mr. McIndoe has continued the business. The firm has suffered severe losses through bad debts, and it is stated that since they started into business they have written off fully $100,000 of such debts. McIndoe & Vaughan were creditors of Sharpe & McIndoe, who failed recently to the extent of $23,000. They were creditors of P. Hemond & Co. to about $4000, and also met with a loss in the failure of the Sorel Boot and Shoe Company The firm also sank a good sum of money, said to be as much as $25,000, in the Satsuma Lumber Company of Florida, and although it is said that the latter company is paying a profit the loss of so much capital embarrassed McIndoe & Vaughan.

Lost His Whiskers in a Fight.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 26.—William H. Hunter and P. J. Kelly are large property holders on the east side. They have had frequent disputes relative to land boundaries. While Kelly was walking past Mr. Hunter's house that gentleman happened to sneeze. Kelly thought Hunter did it purposly to insult him. Kelly called Hunter a vile name In the fight which followed one of Kelly's teeth was knocked out and Hunter lost about two-thirds of his elegant beard, which Kelly grabbed during the melee. Hunter gathered up his whiskers, put them into a bag and started for the police station, followed by Kelly, tooth in hand. Kelly obtained a warrant for the arrest of Hunter.

A Boy's Skull Crushed.

HAMILTON, June 26.—Edward Armstrng, a young son of Mr. J. J. Armstrong, No. 145 Erie-avenue, was badly injured by a kick from a horse yesterday afternoon The animal turned and letting out with its hind feet, struck the little fellow a terrific blow on the head. With such force was the blow struck that both tables of the boy's skull were crushed. He was tenderly carsd for by his relatives until the arrival of Dr. Bingham and Dr. White. These gentlemen performed the difficult operation of trepanning the lad's skull and removing several pieces of shattered bone. He rested easily last night, and to-day is doing as well as can be expected.

The New York Ripper.

NEW YORK, June 26.—After examining 1162 talesmen, exhausting three panels and spending three days in the work, the jury which is to try Ameer Ben Ali alias Frenchy No. 1 for the murder of Carrie Brown in the East River Hotel was to-day completed. The trial will begin Monday before Recorder Smythe. The trial will probably last a week and it promises to be sensational.

A SHOCKING SCENE.

Two Miners Fight Dog-Fashion in Pennsylvania

SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 26.—James Levitt and Patrick Ryan, miners, fought a battle Sunday. After fighting several rounds with bare knuckles they changed their tactics and with hands strapped behind their backs chewed each other until both were insensible. For some years there has been a jealousy existing over Levitt's wife. The story of the fight is the most brutal relation ever read. The men were both bitten and torn horribly, and no dog fight ever equalled it. It is said the fight will be finished when the men recover.

Jack the Ripper Again.

LONDON, June 26.—A letter identical in style and writing with previous missives from Jack the Ripper has been received by the chairman of the vigilance committee in Whitechapel, in which Jack announces that he is about to perform another "operation," and that if the vigilantes attempt to track him he will knife them to the heart. It is the duty of the police, he says, to catch him. He adds that he has been nearly caught twice, but will never be taken alive. Patrols and vigilants were revived to-night, and Scotland Yard sent an extraordinary contingent to Whitechapel

A Fatal Fast

WABASH, Ind., June 28.—Elizabeth McVey of Rossehill died yesterday after fasting, on account of illness, over 43 days. Dr. H. E. Tanner, the celebrated faster, was with her before her death and pronounced the case one of the most remarkable on record. Competent physicians will hold an autopsy, and until that is done the nature of her disease cannot be determined.

WHAT WILL IT LEAD TO?

WILL THE TWO GREAT RAILROADS FINALLY UNITE?

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway Directors in Conference, Lord Mountstephen Presiding—United Rates.

MONTREAL, June 28.—A special cable from London to The Star to-day says: "It will be remembered that some time ago the desirability of effecting a friendly running arrangement between the Grand Trunk and the C. P. R. was discussed by some of the directors of the two companies, but the discussion on the subject which then took place resulted in no arrangement being made. The negotiations for such a friendly working arrangement between the two companies have been renewed, and that there is some hope of a successful issue is shown by the fact that the stocks of the two great companies interested showed a marked revival as soon as it was known that the negotiations were in progress.

Lord Mount-Stephen presided at a preliminary meeting of representatives of the board of directors of both companies held yesterday afternoon. The general situation was discussed and the desirability of a friendly agreement with a view to meeting the rivalry of the United States lines admitted by the directors of both companies.

Proposals which were discussed some time before the retirement of Sir Joseph Hickson from the position of general manager of the Grand Trunk were reviewed and will be further discussed by both boards.

In general city circles it is suggested that this movement to remove the friction existing between the companies can only succeed by means of a leveling up of local rates in Canada. Others say that nothing can be done in this direction until the retirement of Sir Henry Tyler from the position of president of the Grand Trunk Railway.

A RAILROAD DEAL.

The Quebec Central Going Under S. & M. E. Control.

QUEBEC, June 28.—Rumors have been current in this city for some time past that the management of the Boston & Maine Railroad were seeking to acquire the property of the Quebec Central road in order to gain entrance into Quebec and to the territory in the Lake St. John region north of this city.

The Quebec Central Railroad runs from Levis, on the opposite side of the river from Quebec, to Sherbrooke, where it connects with the Boston and Maine road. Dana J. Flanders, general passenger agent; H. E. Folsom, general superintendent, and Irving W. Drew, counsel for the Boston & Maine Railroad, have been inspecting the property and have journeyed into the Lake St. John region, which they predict will shortly become a great resort for tourists and sportsmen.

As a result of their visit fast tourist trains through from Boston and the White Mountains to Quebec will be put in operation next week. The one drawback to the route is the absence of a railroad bridge over the St. Lawrence between Quebec and Levis, and the plan of acquiring the Quebec Central involves the taking by the Boston and Maine corporation of considerable stock in a company for the construction of a bridge, which is estimated to cost $4,000,000 to $5,000,000.

SULLY ON THE PACIFIC.

He Has Started for Australia—His Interview With Peter Jackson.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—John L. Sullivan started for Australia at 3 o'clock yesterday. A large crowd waved the big Boston pugilist adieu, and many a worshipper wished him a safe journey and a speedy return. It was with surprise that lovers of fistic sport will learn that Sully has promised his old antagonist, Paddy Ryan, another "go"—one of six rounds—on his return from Australia. Peter Jackson was introduced to Sullivan just before the Mariposa sailed, and the Bostonian said:

"I am pleased to meet you, Mr. Jackson."

After a few pleasant remarks had been made John L. blurted out: "I can beat any man in the world."

To this Peter replied: "I would like to have a try with you."

"For how much?" asked Sully.

"Well," replied Jackson, "I have not much money just now."

"Raise all you can," said Sully, "and we'll see about it."

When sailing time came the men parted on the best of terms, Jackson saying heartily: "I wish you all success in Australia, Mr. Sullivan."

The company will give a performance at Honolulu and will open in Australia at Her Majesty's Theatre, Sydney. The idol of sluggerdom carries about 40 letters of introduction to Australian sports, and at Auckland, New Zealand, M. J. Gallagher will give the Sullivan party a big reception.

CORBET WINS THE RACE.

The Chicago Oarsman Beats Donohue Easily.

BURLINGTON BEACH, Ont., June 27.—All the afternoon crowds came by boat and rail to see the single scull race between J. F. Corbet of Chicago and Denny Donohue of Hamilton. The Toronto contingent was a small but select one, and consisted mostly of gentlemen willing to wager a dollar or two if a good opportunity presented itself—also professional sculling enthusiasts. There were Joseph Rogers, John O'Grady, Edward Hanlan, Joseph Wright, R. Tinning, Mike Clancy, George Ewart, Billy Bryce, R. Dissette, Stakeholder Frank Nelson and Referee William O'Connor. Corbet was at the Beach early and experts pronounced him looking in the pink of condition.

Alf. Jury, Donohue's backer, and Denny's several brothers were around seeing that everything was all right. The betting was very poor. Billy Stroud sold pools at 10 to 6 on Donohue, but every one wanted to back the Hamiltonian. Several private bets were laid at 5 to 2. The course was laid out parallel with the Ocean House Beach in the bay with the starting and finishing buoy at the swing bridge dock and was 3 miles, including turn. Early in afternoon the course was smooth as glass. Corbet was anxious to secure his $125 expense money, but Mr. Nelson, acting on Jury's advice, did not part with it until the men were in their shells. The $1000 stakes was paid over to the winner immediately after the race. The Mazeppa carried a limited number of passengers, the referee and press.

Corbet was first away and lead to the turn a length and increased at the turning to four lengths. Time at turn 10.20. Donohue reduced the lead to three lengths, and thus they finished. Corbet won easily. Time 21.7.

MONTREAL MATTERS.

An Insane Doctor Tries to Suicide—Shocking Death of a Woman.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Friday night a gentleman giving his name as Dr. J. Robinson applied to the police for protection, claiming that he had been followed and assaulted on the street by several men. During the night, it is alleged, he attempted suicide in the cells by opening a vein in his arm. In the court Saturday he was judged insane and remanded for further examination.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon a Miss Katie Fitzpatrick, aged about 38, fell from a gallery at 48 Hermine-street into the yard. She struck on her head and, being a very heavy woman, her skull was smashed to pieces, the brains being scattered about the yard. Death was instantaneous.

Burglars in Grey County.

DURHAM, Ont., June 28.—Last night the hardware store occupied by E. Kilmer was entered by burglars. The safe was blown open and its contents ransacked. They secured $4 in cash, a revolver and a couple of diamonds valued at $30. The loss is altogether about $40.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

THE PARIS STRIKE ENDS IN A MEEK FIASCO.

The Kaiser is Bound to Run a Lottery While the Women of Potsdam are Rioting Over the Price of Potatoes and Other Provisions.

NEW YORK, June 28.—In his London budget yesterday G. W. Smalley says: If gambling be an evil, the evil from these two sources is many thousand times greater than the evil from cards. The men who denounce the Prince for keeping a £100 bank at baccarat know it perfectly well. Is it, then, gambling in itself of which they have such a horror?

We know it is not. The view expressed is a purely conventional view. I do not say it is hypocritical. It is, for the most part, merely unreflecting. The Nonconformist minister who joins in the hue and cry, and there are many of them who do, joins in it sincerely enough, I dare say. But he has not thought the matter out. How many of these ministerial censors of public and private morals do think the matter out before they utter their anathemas from their respectable pulpits? Does the Rev. Joseph Parker, for example, he of the City Temple, who blends religion with business, and bold advertisement with sanctimonious sensation. Does he express a reasoned conviction, or does he bellow from the pulpit in the same tone with other men who have an eye to the main chance, and with similar ends in view to those of such eminent Radical politicians as Mr. Cobb?

The attitude of these gentlemen is not one which their admirers, if they have any, and I believe they have, will easily defend—nor their language. Defence for defence, I had rather undertake the Prince's than that of some who assail him. But I attempt neither defence nor attack; mine is the humbler office of trying to describe the attitude of the British public and to account for it, and neither is easy.

GERMAN GOSSIP.

The Women of Potsdam Get up a Riot About Potatoes.

BERLIN, June 28.—The Ministerial Council which Emperor William has held preliminary to his departure on his coming foreign tour disposed temporarily of several questions relating to the home and foreign policies of the Government. The ministers have received instructions to accelerate the negotiations for the formation of a central European customs union, to leave the proposed commercial entente with Russia in suspense, to treat anti-grain law agitation as non-existent unless food riots occur and to issue a lottery amounting to 8,000,000 marks to assist in furthering the enterprise of Major Wissmann in East Africa. Some proposals looking to the amelioration of the condition of the poor in East Prussia were also discussed at the Council.

Symptoms of a popular outbreak in consequence of the high price of provisions have manifested themselves at several places. Within a short distance of the Imperial palace at Potsdam 400 women engaged in marketing, becoming enraged at the price demanded for potatoes, assaulted the dealers and wrecked the market.

The references made to the letters from Rome retarding the candidature of Cardinal Lavigerie to the Holy See have aroused the antagonism of the Germans to the idea of a French Pope. The Kreuz Zeitung holds that it is probable that the successor of Leo XIII. will be drawn from the Italian Cardinalate and that if the next Pope be not an Italian, then the choice of the conclave will be Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, against whom neither national jealousies nor internal clerical differences can operate.

LORD BROOKE IS WROTH.

He Will Defend His Lady in the Courts From Libel.

LONDON, June 27.—The Pall Mall Gazette, refering to statements published in the society papers which have connected Lady Brooks with the inquiry arising from the baccarat incidents at Tranby Croft, says it is understood Lord and Lady Brooks have instructed George Lewis to take criminal proceedings against any paper circulating these "unfounded malicious libels."

Canadian Boat Ashore.

LONDON, June 28.—The steamer Gothenburg City, from Montreal, is ashore at St. Mary's Island. Tugs are taking off the cattle on board.

Another Strike Collapses.

PARIS, June 28.—The bakers' strike has collapsed. The trainmen last evening resolved to strike and this morning they tried to prevent the cars from running. Large crowds of strikers gathered at the starting points of the various roads and menaced the non-union men, but the police guarded the cars, accompanying them along the routes. After several of their number had been arrested for trying to stop the cars the strikers retired and traffic was for the rest of the day unimpeded. Many of the strikers are already succumbing.

The Daily Revolution.

PARIS, June 28.—A despatch from Buenos Ayres says that a bloodless revolution has taken place in the province of Santiago and that Senor Delestero, the President, has been arrested and forced to sign his resignation.

She Had a Premonition.

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 28.—Addie B. Dorr, a servant, 25 years old, committed suicide to-day by hanging, on account of despondency. About the same time Edward Dorr, her twin brother, was drowned in the harbor by the upsetting of a sailboat. A companion of the latter named Lester Stevens is also supposed to have been drowned at the same time.

Yacht Racing at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, June 27.—Contests were held this afternoon by the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club in three classes, the 25-footers, 21-footers and skiffs. The wind was from the northeast. In all the classes the contests were close, the results being as follows:

Twenty-five foot class—Maud B. 1, Aideen 2, Heatherbell 3.

Twenty-one foot class—Eclipse 1, Calui 2, Clytie 3.

Skiffs—Nedora 1, Mermaid 2.

Capital Chat.

OTTAWA, June 28.—Lord Stanley of Preston leaves here to-morrow for the New Brunswick fishing grounds, where he will join H.R.H. Prince George of Wales.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau is improving rapidly. He expects to be in his seat in the House early this week.

Blown Up.

ASHLAND, June 26.—The Batterson Coal Company's breaker near here was blown over at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Five killed.

Charged With Manslaughter.

LONDON, June 28.—The inquest with reference to the death of the late Harry D. Platt, the young man killed by falling through a stairway opening at Labatt's brewery on Wednesday evening, has resulted in the jury bringing in a verdict of manslaughter against Anthony Mansell, the fellow-employe who is supposed to have struck him.

Oil and Water.

HAMILTON, June 28.—The Grand Trunk authorities have discovered that there was a leakage in a large oil tank in the Stuart-street yard. It is estimated that 2500 barrels of oil have been wasted, the oil floating into the bay.

Why it is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355 92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,265,858 60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	539,078 87
Increase over 1889	225,938 35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,472,514 19
Increase over 1889	637,691 47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,722 68
Increase over 1889	527,732 71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175 69
Increase over 1889	75,649 95
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$84,234 07
" " " 1886, "	89,452 97

A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for, a short time at 12½c., they simply thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

Extraordinary Disclosures.

The Tory papers have apparently made up their minds that Uncle Thomas must go but they insist that Sir Hector was ignorant of what was going on. They had better wait and see whether the evidence confirms this somewhat unflattering view of Sir Hector's acquaintance with the affairs of his department. Hitherto he has been described as a plodder who plodded every i that was to be dotted or saw it done. To argue that he was not aware that the treasury was being robbed to the tune of hundreds of thousands under his very nose, is simply to establish an overwhelming case for dismissing him on the ground of incompetence. Mr. McGreevy, so his friends say, paid more money to the boodle fund than he got through the manipulation of the contracts. If this be true it will be an ungrateful act on the part of the Tories to sacrifice him and him alone. At any rate they should conceal their programme to the last or Uncle Thomas may turn and rend some of his old cronies. He is not an orator, he has no following in the House, he does not even control a newspaper. But he is master of some of the ugliest facts ever brought together, and if "in a moment of weakness" he should take it into his head to fire them off there would be nothing left of the Cabinet at the end of the fusilade but an evil smell.

But the revelations made yesterday by the witness Murphy, who was the financial man of Larkin, Connolly & Co., bring the boodling home direct to Sir Hector himself. Murphy swears that Nicholas Connolly paid $5 000 to Mr. Leforce Langevin, Sir Hector's son, who was employed as a boss at the Quebec harbor works, and $5 000 more to Sir Hector himself. The money paid to the son was intended for the father, who had apparently asked by letter for $10,000. Then Mr. Murphy with his own hand paid $10,000 directly to Sir Hector in $100 bills of the Bank of British North America at the latter's house in Quebec. In addition to this smaller sums were paid to Le Monde newspaper, which is Sir Hector's property, and to Mr. Chapais, editor of Le Courrier du Canada, who is Sir Hector's son-in-law. In all these cases the money was charged against the works for which Larkin & Co. held contracts that were being systematically manipulated in the interest of the firm. Murphy's story is the most startling chapter yet produced in this amazing scandal. It would be unfair to regard it as conclusive of Sir Hector's guilt. He and his witnesses have still to be examined, and they may succeed in putting a different face upon the matter. But it will not do for Sir Hector to plead, as some of his newspapers are doing, that though he may have accepted money in large sums from these contractors, he did not know that they and his bosom friend, Thos. McGreevy, M.P., were engaged in gigantic frauds carried on through the agency of his own department. In the Pacific Scandal Sir John Macdonald's saving clause was that Sir Hugh got nothing for his contributions. In the present case it has demonstrated that the contributors were allowed to rob the treasury in connection with every single work which they had in hand. In order, therefore, to establish his innocence of any participation in these swindles, Sir Hector must show that he never received a cent from Larkin & Co. Nothing else will suffice. And even then, as has been said, he will be obliged to confess to the grossest neglect of duty in having permitted wholesale robberies to take place over a period of years in connection with the department of which he is the head.—Globe.

Crops in Manitoba.

Bulletin No. 28 from the Department of Agriculture and Immigration at Winnipeg gives information as to crops and live stock in Manitoba, dated under June 1st, 1891. Comparison of acreage is made with the previous year in the following table:—

	1890.	1891
Acres under wheat	746 058	916 664
" " oats	235 534	305 644
" " barley	66 035	89 828
" " peas	1 170	555
" " potatoes	10 812	12 705
" " roots	7 977	9 301
" followed for crop of	180,792	205,232
" fall plowed for crop of	550,161	509 138

Correspondents, some 400 in number, reported the weather admirably suited for carrying on seeding operations. Seeding was general over the Province during the second week in April, and plowing was very general before that date. Throughout April the weather continued dry and steadily warm, and vegetation was rapid. During May but little rain fell until the end of the month. No damage was reported as caused by the frosts in May, beyond a setback of a few days to the growing grains.

The respective quantities of land prepared for crop by fallowing and fall ploughing in the Province are respectively 205 232 and 509,138 acres. The quantity fallowed exceeds that of the previous year by 24 440 acres. Fallowing appears to be pretty generally carried out over the Province, as the area each year is greatly on the increase. The quantities fall plowed show a falling off from the previous year of 41 023 acres.

The area sown under crop in the province is a decided increase over that of last season, being a total of 916 664 acres, or an increase of over 22 per cent.

District.	Acreage under crop. Wheat	Oats	Barley.	Potatoes.
North Western	53 639	32,035	13 104	1,426
Central	137,219	41 879	7 968	1,499
South Western	102 783	57 949	11 190	2 024
South Central	189 221	89,988	23,686	1,913
North Central	178,795	52 292	17 959	2,124
Eastern	135 055	51,639	16 789	3 723
Totals	916 664	305,644	89 828	12 705

The remarks of correspondents as to the oat crop differ very much as to its condition in different localities. Generally speaking, warm weather with rain was required to stimulate the growth and help make up the drawback received by the check from the frost.

The area under oats is shown to be 305,644 acres being an increase of 70 110 acres over that of last year.

Barley was sown early, with the result that it received quite a setback from the night frosts of May. The area put under barley shows a marked increase over that of last year, in the addition of 23 793 acres. It needs warm weather with rain.

While the area under peas and corn shows diminished amounts, perhaps attributable to the above, rye and corn areas are increased. The principal rye areas are in the Mennonite settlements in Rosenfeldt. The respective areas given are as follows: Peas, 555 acres; rye, 921; buckwheat, 30; and corn, 133.

Flax is becoming an important crop in the province, but unfortunately sufficient information has not been received respecting the area put under flax to warrant a report being made of the total area.

The total area planted in potatoes shows a marked increase over that of last season. In all the districts there are increased areas, the total being 1 893 over that of 1890. The total area planted in potatoes is 12 705 acres as compared with 10 812 last year.

The area put under root crops, like that of potatoes, shows also a gratifying increase. The total area shown devoted to root crops is 9,301 acres, being an increase of 1,324 acres over last season. The condition of the meadows and pastures is on the whole much in advance of that of a year ago.

Area Under Crop.—The total acreage put under crop this season—assuming that the area under flax is the same as last year—is shown to be 1 350,201 acres, being an increase of 267,407 over that of 1890. Of this increased area 170,606 acres are devoted to wheat, 70,110 to oats, and 23 793 to barley. The remainder of the 2,866 acres are divided among the potato, root and rye crops.

Sir John Macdonald's Will.

The Value of the Estate Ascertained, Apart from Earnscliffe, between $60,000 and $90,000.

The principal points in the last will and testament of Sir John Macdonald (dated September 4th, 1890) are made public, and comprise the following items:—The executors are Hugh John Macdonald, Hon. Edgar Dewdney, F. White and Joseph Pope. These gentlemen with Lady Macdonald are the guardians of his daughter. Earnscliffe is left to Lady Macdonald for life. It may be sold, however, and the interest on the proceeds used by her, after which it passes to the daughter and them to the son. The law library goes to the son, the other contents of the house passing to the wife, together with certain investments. The proceeds of a £2,000 policy are to invested for his son and afterwards for the grandchildren. The son also receives the moneys Sir John received from the late Miss Macdonald. As to half of the balance of his personal estate, he directs that the income on it shall go to Lady Macdonald and his daughter during the life of both of them, and to the survivor of them during the life of the survivor, and as to the other half the income is to go to the family of the son, and after the death of both Lady Macdonald and his daughter the whole of the personal estate is to go to the family of the son. The value of the estate bequeathed, apart from Earnscliffe, is between $60,000 and $90 000.

The First Marble Monument.

Mr. Thos. Telford has furnished the EXAMINER the following:—On Decoration Day I, along with many others, paid a visit to the last resting place of friends and acquaintances, some of whom, although long ago they took the last look on all things earthly, are still cherished in fond and loving hearts. Taking a walk among the silent homes, admiring their beauty, if one can feel pleased amongst the receptacles of the departed, I again, once more, as is my wont, paid a visit to the grave of one who nearly sixty-one years ago met a sudden and unexpected death. The monument referred to, in going up the hall at the main entrance to the cemetery and turning to the right, is seen on the left hand side of the road going south-east, and bears the following inscription, "Sacred to the memory of John Brown, Whitrigg Hall, near Penereath, Cumberland, England, who was accidentally drowned in the Otonabee river, September the 9th, 1830, in the 37th year of his age." Consulting my book, I find on the 25th of October, 1853, I removed this monument, through instructions by W. S. Conger, sheriff, from the George street old burial ground and placed it where it now stands, being the first tombstone in marble erected in the Little Lake Cemetery. But, alas, now how many visible mementoes of the dead silently, though none the less solemnly, say to one and all, "Be ye also ready."

Cold Springs.

The Cold Springs Union Sunday School has purchased a new organ for the use of the school from Mr. J. W. Crosby, town. The EXAMINER is requested on behalf of the school to thank those who so contributed to the organ fund, through the zealous solicitation of Mrs. Dawson Kennedy. Mr. Crosby's square dealing and his supplying first-class instruments have apparently gained for him the confidence of the public. Within a short time, in addition to the above, he has supplied church organs to the Keene Presbyterian church, the Lakefield Methodist church and Bridgenorth Methodist church.

Bethel.

Remembering a Departing Pastor.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Tuesday evening the congregation of Bethel Methodist Church assembled to do honor to their pastor, Rev. James McFarlane, who is leaving for another field of labour. Rev. Mr. McFarlane was presented with an affectionate address, reciting the faithful ministrations of his pastorate and testifying to his many excellent qualities as a pastor and Christian gentleman. The address was accompanied by a purse and sum of money. The reverend gentleman made a feeling and appropriate reply. The address was read by Miss Louisa Fife, and Miss Addie Fallis made the presentation. Rev. Mr. McFarlane was held in high esteem by his congregation. His successor is Rev. James Curts.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

PUBLIC RECORD OF MINISTERS.

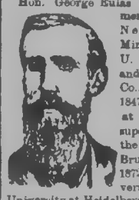
So recently has the Premier's life been sketched that it is not necessary to repeat the same in this article, as the salient points of his career are fresh in the public mind. The public record of the colleagues he has chosen is briefly, as follows:

Hon. Sir John David Sparrow Thompson, K.C.M.G., Q.C., P.C., member for Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and Minister of Justice, was born in Halifax, N. S., 10th Nov., 1844, and is a son of John Sparrow Thompson, a native of Waterford, Ireland, who was for a time Queen's Printer; and afterwards Superintendent of the Money Order System of Nova Scotia. The Minister was educated at the common school and at the Free Church Academy at Halifax. In 1870 he married Miss Annie E. Affleck. He was called to the Nova Scotia bar in 1865, and appointed a Q. C. in May, 1879. He was counsel on behalf of the United States Government, acting with the American lawyers, before the Fishery Commission sitting at Halifax under the Washington Treaty. He was appointed a member of the Executive Council and Attorney General of Nova Scotia on the 22nd Oct., 1878, and was Premier and Attorney General of the same Province from the 25th May, 1882, until 25th July, 1882, when he was appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of his native province. Resigned 25th September, 1885, and was appointed Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada. He sat in the Nova Scotia House of Assembly from December, 1887, until elevated to the Bench. Sir John was first returned to the House of Commons 16th Oct., 1885, and re-elected at the last two general elections. He was created a K.C.M.G., in August, 1888 for services in connection with the negotiation of a Fishery Treaty.

Hon. Sir Hector Louis Langevin, K. C. M. G., C. B., Q. C., P. C., member for Three Rivers, and Minister of Public Works, is a son of the late Jean Langevin, formerly assistant Civil Secretary under the Earl of Gosford and Lord Sydenham during the periods these noblemen held the office of Governor-General. On his mother's side he is descended from the La Forces, one of whom was Acting Commodore of the British fleet on Lake Ontario during the American Revolutionary War. He was born in the city of Quebec on the 26th August, 1826, and was educated at the Seminary in that city. In 1854 he married Justine, daughter of the late Lieut. Col. Charles A. Taty, and she died Oct. 20th, 1882. He was called to the bar of Lower Canada in 1850, and appointed a Q. C. in 1861. He was an editor of religious, agricultural and political papers from 1847 to 1857, and begun his public life in the city council of Quebec, of which city he was mayor from January, 1858 to January, 1861. He was a member of the Executive Council of Canada from 30th March, 1864, until the Union, and held the office of Solicitor General, Lower Canada, from 30th March, 1864, to Nov., 1865, and Postmaster-General from the latter period until the Union, and was sworn of the Privy Coun l 1st July, 1867, when appointed Secretary of State of Canada, and Superintendent General of Indian affairs. He retained the office of Secretary of State until transferred to the Public Works, Dec. 8, 1869. With the exception of the time the Mackenzie Government held power from November, 1873, until the 26th May, 1879, he has retained his old portfolio, and also during the time he was Postmaster General 19th Oct., 1878, until May 20, 1879, ever since first being appointed. He was created a Companion of the most Honorable Order of the Bath (Civil) in 1865, Knight Commander of the Roman Order of Pope Gregory the Great, 1870; Knight Commander of the most distinguished order of St. Michael and St. George, 24th May, 1881. Sir Hector has also several times been chosen to represent the Government in missions to England, notably that concerning the dismissal of M. Letellier de St. Just, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

Hon. Sir Joseph Philippe Rene Caron, K. C. M. G., Q.C., P.C., member for Quebec County, and Minister of militia, is the eldest son of the late Hon. R. E. Caron, Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Quebec. He was born in the city of Quebec in 1843, and was educated at the seminary of Quebec, at Laval University and at McGill University. He married in 1867, Alice, daughter of the late Hon. Francois Baby. He was called to the Bar, Lower Canada, in 1865, and was appointed a Q. C. 19th May, 1879. Sworn of the Privy Council and appointed Minister of Militia 9th Nov., 1880. Sir Adolphe was created a K. C. M. G. on the 25th August, 1885. He was first returned to Parliament in March 1873, and has been re-elected for the same seat at all subsequent appeals to the people.

Hon. Joseph Adolphe Chapleau, Q. C., L. L. D., P. C., member for Terrebonne and Secretary of State of Canada, is descended from French ancestors, who were early settlers in the Seigniory of Terrebonne. He was born at St. Therese de Blainville, Terrebonne Quebec, 9th Nov., 1840 and was educated at the College of Terrebonne and St. Hyacinthe. On the 25th Nov., 1874, he married Marie Louise, daughter of Lieut. Col. King of Sherbrooke. Mr Chapleau was called to the bar, Lower Canada, 1861, and was created Q. C. in 1873. He is a member of the Legion of Honor (France) and a member of the Order of St. Gregory the Great (Roman). Has been a law lecturer at Laval and is now Professor of International Law in the Laval section in Montreal. He was a member of the Quebec Executive Council and has held several portfolios in that Provincial Government. Sworn of the Privy Council and appointed Secretary of State of Canada 29th July, 1882. First elected at Terrebonne 23rd August, 1882, and for the same seat at every general election held subsequently.



Hon. George Eulas Foster, B.A., D.C.L., member for King's, New Brunswick, and Minister of Finance, is of U. E. Loyalist descent, and was born in Carleton Co., N.B., 3rd Sept., 1847. He was educated at the common and superior schools and at the University of New Brunswick. He spent 1872-3 at Edinburg University, Scotland, and at University at Heidelberg, Germany. After a record of Principal of Grammer Schools, he held the Professorship of Classics and History in the University of New Brunswick from Sept., 1872, until Jan., 1879. He has held the highest positions in leading temperance organizations in Canada and United States. Sworn of the Privy Council and was Minister of Marine and Fisheries 10th Dec., 1885, until 25th May, 1887, when he was appointed Minister of Finance. First returned to Parliament at general election in 1882. Has been continuously re-elected since.

The Witty Irishman,

when told by a doctor that his liver was almost gone, said, "Faith, it's glad I am, it's allers bothered me!"

The liver, more than any other organ, is the index of the body. With a morbid liver the whole system is out of gear. Most powerful for the restoration of this "citadel of health," is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Its action is direct, prompt, effectual. Recommended by eminent physicians, it has gained a universal reputation as the "Great Liver Regulator." Correct the liver and you can cure many ills. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is warranted in all cases of liver disease and blood disorders to benefit or cure, or money promptly and cheerfully returned. a

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

Dyspepsia.

This disease may be traced to a variety of causes, such as constipation, liver troubles, improper food, etc. There is one cure—Burdock Blood Bitters—which may be thoroughly relied on to effect a permanent cure. It has cured obstinate cases of 25 years standing.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

HEAD OFFICE—193 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular System.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

The School Entertainment.

This is the first thing of the kind given by our schools, and it is hoped that our citizens will show their interest in the entertainment by such an attendance as has never before been given in Peterborough. The trustees, anticipating an immense gathering, have secured the new market hall. It will be seated for 2,000. The platform extends right across the north end of the hall, and is 40 feet deep. All the clergymen and all the professional gentlemen of the town are expected to be present. Besides giving an interesting literary, musical and calisthenic entertainment, several leading gentlemen will speak on the educational interests of the town. Tickets—for children, 10c; adults, 15c. On account of the numerous attendance expected it is requested that tickets be purchased beforehand. They can be procured at all the drug stores in town. Attention to this will save much confusion at the door.

Another game of baseball between the married and single nines of the Wm. Hamilton Works took place Saturday afternoon on the Riverside Park, and again the benedicts were successful. The double umpire system was tried in the game, James Johnston and John Smith being sacrificed for the occasion. Spectators say that the bachelor's battery were not well supported in the field, and played the game themselves, putting out every man, with a very few exceptions, of the opposing nine. Stony Lake Summer Service.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column, the steamer "Mary Ellen" has begun her regular summer trips to Stony Lake. She will leave Lakefield each morning on the arrival of the Grand Trunk train (which leaves Peterborough at 8 30 a.m.) and make her runs as usual to all points on Stony Lake, returning in time to connect with the evening train for Peterborough. The "Mary Ellen" has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted, and will be better able than ever to make sharp connections and fast runs on the Stony Lake service. Cottagers and campers at Stony Lake may depend upon getting the most rapid transit and most comfortable travelling on the "Mary Ellen," whose officers are courteous and obliging as it is possible to be. The steamer will make her regular trips except when notice of change is given. On Wednesday, July 1st, the "Mary Ellen" will run a cheap trip to Stony Lake, when passengers will not be overcrowded by a picnic party, but may be assured of a quiet and thoroughly enjoyable day on the water. Fare for the round trip 50c. On Saturday, July 4th, the "Mary Ellen" will run a special excursion under the auspices of the Lock Works.

Fire at the Finger Post.

Between ten and eleven o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sounded, and after the horses were brought in off the sprinkling carts the brigade started for Auburn, the report being that the woollen mills were on fire. This was not the case. The fire was at the Finger Post on the Downe road, just across the Smith street bridge. Mr. Wm. Cummings, the butcher, lost his residence, stables and slaughter house, which were totally destroyed. Several sheep and pigs were burned and a quantity of supplies and implements, besides a portion of the household goods. The origin of the fire is not known. Mr. Cummings will lose about $1,500, against which is an insurance of $700 in the Aberdeen and London.

The Boys of T.C.S.

Beaten in an Interesting Game of Cricket on the P.A.A.A Ground.

The second eleven of Trinity College School was defeated in the game with the Colts Saturday afternoon by 68 runs.

It was a very nice match indeed. The visitors went to bat first and scored 56 runs, the good bowling of Stocker and Goldsmith and the sharp fielding of the colts keeping the score down to that figure. In fielding, however, the Colts were not as uniformly clean and sure as the visitors, who seldom made an error. But in batting and bowling the Colts had the advantage.

In the beginning of the Colts innings there was a blue look-out. Several of the best bats retired for nominal figures and the score was less than thirty with five wickets down. Then Dumble, Dunsford, Crofton and Halliday came to the rescue, and by good cricket playing and timely batting sent the total up to 84 before they were dismissed.

In their second T.C.S. piled up 75 runs. Montgomery, Crofton and Stirling lent a helping hand at trundling the ball in this innings and did good work, the last named taking two wickets for one run in four balls and a wide. In the Colt's second the batting honors were transferred to new shoulders, Stocker, Goldsmith and McGill making a good stand, scoring 27, 25 and 21, respectively, by fine cricket playing. Walter Stocker "pasted" the leather for 6 threes, 2 fours and a single, Montgomery, who had 6 not out in the first, added 13 in the second, making his total 19 for one out.

The visitors were entertained at luncheon on the grounds through the kindness of some lady friends of the game of cricket, and the days' play was harmonious and pleasant throughout. Dr. Burnham, President of the Association, exercised a paternal care over the boys. It is probable the return match will be played at Port Hope next Saturday.

A Pastor's First Sermon.

Opening Address of Rev Geo. Edwards to his new Flock—His Relations With His People Defined—His own Course indicated—Sympathy and Co-operation Solicited.

The Charlotte street Methodist church was well filled on Sunday morning on the occasion of the first appearance of the new pastor Rev. Geo. Edwards who conducted the services the first time in his pastorate. He took for his text the words to be found in the 9th verse of chap. x, of St. Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews—"Lo I come to do thy will, O God." He went on to show the relations that should exist between pastor and people and to insist on the necessity of mutual forbearance. Neither pastor nor people was infallible, and therefore there would arise errors of judgment, and consequent need of the exercise of great Christian patience. At the same time the preacher decidedly defined his own position. He would follow out the course that commended itself in his judgment in the matter of ministry to the people and in the matter of church polity regardless of what might be said. He held himself responsible, and must act in the light of that responsibility.

At the

there was also a large congregation in spite of the intense heat. Rev. Mr. Edwards again, of course, occupied the pulpit. He selected for his text the same words he had used in the morning, expanding the application he had made, to more distinctly define his relations to the new flock committed to his charge.

After pointing out that the voluntary nature of Christ's sacrifice constituted its distinctive value, the speaker said that this quotation (the text) was made by St. Paul from one of the Psalms and that it was a distant example of Messianic prophecy. The preacher had selected this passage as applicable to the relations he that day entered upon with his congregation, as well as God's will concerning Christ in his relations—that he should come into the world and bear faithful witness to the truth. It was by knowing and accepting the truth that we are set free, ennobled and saved. There is no other way than by Christ. Therefore it became necessary that Christ should come into the world in the nature of man, that as a God-man he might come into sympathetic contact with fallen man. It meant for Christ, sacrifice, suffering and death, in obedience to the will of God. Christ was not ignorant of the cost of his mission, yet he came voluntarily into the world to bear witness to the truth. As to God's will towards the speaker as pastor, he said he believed it was God's will that he should be here, otherwise he would feel too small and insignificant for the great responsibility the charge of the congregation imposed on him. If it were God's will he felt strong enough for the work, for God would make him equal to the occasion—if he were faithful—and if he were where God would have him to be. He believed that it was God's will that he should be here as pastor, and also for a special purpose—not to philosophize nor speculate, nor to fill the church nor help its finances nor to swell the roll of membership—but his mission was to seek the salvation of souls. He prayed that in every relation of his pastoral life, he should keep this view before him. In preaching he was sure it was God's will that he should not theorize or preach philosophy nor science, but the truth—not any truth but the truth of Christ as revealed in God's own son. The command to the Apostles was to "preach the Gospel"—the good news, the glad tidings. God helping him, he (the preacher) would try to preach the whole truth, whether it pleased or offended men, for he felt his responsibility to God was paramount to every other sense of obligation. He firmly believed in pastoral visitation—that he should not be content to see his congregation at church, but in their homes. He believed a hoeing-going pastor made a church-going people. He believed that a pastor should not only show forth truth from the pulpit, but also in his personal relations with his flock. The speaker did not believe in pastoral gossip; he defined pastoral work as the pastor going into a home meaning business as a piano or organ agent would enter a house. The pastor's duty should be to ask himself what he could do in the house he was going into in the way of its spiritual improvement. He did not think it wise for a pastor to be constantly visiting members of his flock, whom he sees every Sunday in good health—there should waive their claims in favour of some weak or wavering member of the flock. They could thus be a great help to their pastor in his work instead of selfish and exacting hindrances. A pastor should not only preach the gospel from the pulpit but also from house to house. He, the preacher intimated delicately but unmistakably that he would use his judgment as to how and where to do his pastoral work and he asked the co-operation of his congregation and by God's blessing there would be great results and his work would be greatly blessed in the time. It might be his duty to labour among the congregation of the Charlotte street church.

Military Matters.

The volunteers will be inspected to-night at 7 sharp by Dep.-Adj. General Von Straubenzie.

The boys, it is expected, will turn out in full strength—252.

A most interesting feature of the parade to the boys will be the presence of Paymaster Captain Howard.

It is probable that the Battalion will march down street to the station this evening at about 7.45, be entrained at 8.15, and leave for Ottawa shortly after the local train departs.

It is expected that the Battalion will be on its good behaviour during the outing. Three newspaper men will accompany the expedition, with the double purpose of keeping everybody straight and of celebrating the prowess of our protectors in their most fluent prose.

A Floral Curiosity.

There is an elegant exotic now on view at Mr. F. Mason's Floral Establishment, Water street. It is called the coral tree (erythrina) and is a beautiful plant with glaucous green leaves and smooth stem. The summit of the stems is a long raceme of brilliant scarlet blooms, the bud being an exact imitation of a lobster's claw, the claw remaining when the petals expand around it, very much like a calla leaf. The tree is a great curiosity, and is well worth seeing. Mr. Mason welcomes visitors to his fine green house, where he has many floral botanical rarities, a fig tree in fruit, it never blooms—the fruit appearing first in the axil of the leaf like a green bud, and gradually growing without any appearance of flower. An orange tree in fruit, the Irish yew, the rubber tree and other curiosities, together with a magnificent display of other flowers, makes Mason's greenhouse a delightful place to visit.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

Dominion Day at Chemong Park.

There will be great festivities at Chemong Park on Wednesday, July 1st, when the new pavilion will be formally opened. There will be land and water sports and other special attractions. In addition to the 8.30 a.m. train from town, the Grand Trunk has put on an extra train at 10 30, both of which will be met by steamer and palace barge, the latter easily accommodating 400 persons. No over-crowding. This will give an opportunity for an enjoyable sail or for a day's pleasure in the lake side paradise of Chemong. Five boats will leave the Park at 5 30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on the return journey. Round trip tickets—including boat and rail, for 50c children half fare.

Dominion Day Notes.

The Indian River baseball club has accepted the challenge of the Lock Works' nine and the game will be played on the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital on Dominion Day at 9.30 o'clock a.m. The game will last until one side is licked, and it is expected that the struggle for supremacy will be exciting. The Lock Works' nine hit at the rate of 750 pounds per strike, while the visitors are reported to drive the balls into the next concession as easy as winking. A special train will arrive from Lindsay during the morning. The list of competitors at the picnic is full and promises to show some good sport. The grounds will open at 8 30 a.m., and a hearty welcome is extended to all. Appetizing refreshments served at any time, and dinner and tea at regular hours. Take in the picnic and spend a jolly day.

An Early Morning Marriage.

The old old story was told again
At five o'clock in the morning.

A delightful social event took place at the residence of Mr. John Carlisle, Donegal street, at five o'clock this morning—the marriage of Miss Georgina Munro, youngest daughter of Mr. Geo. Munro, to Mr. Thos. Purse, of Grand Forks, Dakota. The wedding was private and unostentatious, only the family being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Locke; the bridesmaids were Miss Eva Carlisle, and little Misses Lily and Ruth Carlisle, nieces of the bride, and the groom was supported by Mr. Nihill Munro. The bride received a large number of beautiful and useful presents, the spontaneous gifts of her many warm friends, no invitations having been issued outside the family. The happy couple took the C. P. R. 7.10 express en route to their new home sic Winnipeg. The many friends of the bride and family will wish her all the happiness this world vouchsafes to the marriage estate.

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. They enrich the blood, build up the nerves, and restore the shattered system, regulate the periods, etc. Try them and be convinced. LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

THOMAS DOLAN & CO

MERCHANT TAILORS,

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. R. M. Grey gave a very thoughtful and helpful talk at the young men's Saturday night meeting on "Enough and to spare." We are so pleased to see the continued interest in these helpful services. The after meeting was a time of blessing.

Mr. R. M. Bennet conducted the Bible study and consecration service Sabbath morning. All present received a blessing full and free.

Mr. James Hanna gave an earnest address at the open air service in Central Park. The singing was led by the Y.M.C.A. band, and the vast audience helped heartily in the service of song. We are believing for great results.

Miss Code, "Hand Bree," addressed the Gospel and song service last evening. The hall was crowded and we regret to say many were unable to get in. Miss Code gave a very impressive and touching address, from Matt. xxiv, 42. It was a solemn service. All felt the power of the Holy Spirit present and fruit was borne to God's honour in salvation of souls.

We received by post this morning a anonymous letter, evidently from some lady, enclosing five dollars for the building fund. We praise God and thank our unknown friend. The Master knows we have need of the new building and He is laying it on the hearts of His people.

Personal.

Mr. W. E. Sherwood and family left this morning for Stony Lake, to occupy their cottage for the summer. They are probably the first permanent campers of the season from town.

WORK OF A MADMAN.

A Drunken French Baron Fires Into a Crowd.

NEW YORK, June 30.—A Paris dispatch says: A startling tragedy was enacted Saturday night at No. 46 Rue Jacob. Baron De Pinval, who, though only 24 years of age, has acquired a reputation as a high roller, after dining with Mme. Mika, who keeps a counter at the Universal Exhibition, went home. The baron's father, seeing the person by whom his son was accompanied and the condition of the pair, refused to admit them to his house. They returned to the Baron's apartments in the Rue Jacob, and there all of a sudden the Baron appeared to be seized with madness. With the assistance of his frail companion he proceeded to pile the furniture of his room against the door so as to effectually barricade it. Then he removed his rifle from its usual place, and, having loaded it, took his seat at the window, while Mme. Mika stood by his side with a box of cartridges.

De Pinval immediately began to fire at all the people who were passing in the street below, while the lady handed him the cartridges as fast as he emptied his gun. De Pinval fired 20 shots in rapid succession, but he was too drunk to hit anybody for some time. Mme. Cachicazzi, who lives in another apartment in the same house, was his first victim. She received a shot in the breast. The news of what was going on had spread and an immense crowd gathered. Several men, bolder than their comrades, entered the building and tried to force the doors, but their tremendous strength, aided by the barricade, rendered that impossible.

Word was sent to the police station and in the meantime Baron de Pinval began to throw the contents of his apartments in the courtyard below. Chair succeeded chair and other pieces of furniture followed, while heavier ornaments were hurled at the crowd below.

The excitement now was at fever heat, when the commissaire of the district and a force of police arrived. Two policemen endeavored to enter the building, but at that moment De Pinval was seen at the window armed with his rifle, the crack of which was heard. The two men fell to the ground shot by the madman.

Almost simultaneously with his appearance at the window the astonished crowd noticed a bright light in the apartment. The draperies had been fired. In a few minutes the whole place was ablaze. This created a new diversion and a hasty summons was sent to the fire department. The first fireman who made an effort to direct a stream of water on the burning building met the fate which had been meted out to the two officers. Dr. Pinval took deliberate aim and shot him.

Then he commenced a final fusilade from the window. Bottles and glasses were fired with all the force of which he was capable and were interspersed with bullets. Suddenly the noise ceased, and on this the police took courage to make another attempt to storm the apartment, which during all this time had continued to burn. They started up stairs to cut open the doors when suddenly most heartrending shrieks were heard from the court yard. Baron De Pinval and Mme. Mika had precipitated themselves from the window.

A rush was at once made for them and the Baron was picked up in an unconscious condition. In his hand he clutched the rifle which had done such deadly execution, and in the other was a sword cane. No hope is held out for the recovery of either De Pinval or his companion. They were both taken to the hospital.

THE SNEAK THIEF AGAIN.

He Pilfered Jewelry from Mrs. Alexander Mackenzie's Room

OTTAWA, June 29. A gold watch and valuable pair of earrings belonging to Mrs. Alexander Mackenzie, wife of the ex-Premier, were stolen from their room at the Grand Union on Saturday. Mrs. Mackenzie left the hotel on Saturday morning and was absent during the afternoon, leaving her door locked. In the evening on returning she was surprised to find it open, but did not suspect anything until about to retire for the night, when on looking for her watch to wind it up she missed it from its usual place. She then discovered that the earrings had disappeared. In the same drawer the thief had fortunately overlooked a valuable diamond pin. As yet there is no clue to the thief.

Another Elopement

WINNIPEG, June 28.—James Leech, a young Englishman, has eloped with Mrs McGillivray from Calgary, taking her child and all her husband's money. They have gone to Vancouver.

A BAD SHOWING.

Three Cases of Housebreaking at St. Kitts on Sunday

ST. CATHARINES, June 29.—The town seems to be bustling with burglars. Yesterday afternoon some boys were caught stealing large quantities of pop from the cellar of Foley & Fitzgerald's store, having gained an entrance through a small window. Last night unknown parties forced an entrance into the residence of Mrs. Moses, Albert-street, and stole $9 from the bedroom occupied by the lady of the house. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to force an entrance into the residence of Mr. Macrae, Henry-street, but the inmates were aroused by the breaking of a pane of glass and saw two men running away. The police have suspicions.

Four Years in Jail

QUEBEC, June 29.—On Saturday afternoon Eugene Lambert, the young man arrested for numerous country church and other robberies committed about one month ago, and, since being investigated, pleaded guilty to the charges, was sentenced by Judge Murray to four years in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

Crushed by a Wall.

JANESVILLE, Wis., June 29.—Patrick Hagerty, Richard T. Benniwitz and John Flaherty were killed to-day by a falling wall while raising a school building.

TO ANNEX CANADA.

The Man Who Thought He Could Do It in An Insane Asylum.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 29.—Frank M. Furinton was sent to the State Insane Asylum to-day by the District Court of this city in a condition of quasi-frenzy, directly caused by ex-President Cleveland's visit on Saturday night. He is about 34 years of age and a graduate of the class of '75, Brown University. In April he was taken to Canada, and lived in a village about 12 miles from Ottawa. He became well-known there on account of his vagaries concerning the relations of Canada and the United States.

When it was announced that Mr. Cleveland was coming to this city he at once made the announcement that he was going to see him, and lost all control of himself. "I can annex Canada to this country," he said; "if I can have $80,000,000 paid, and all I want is an appointment to the second office in the Government when it is done. Mr. Cleveland can only become President if I guarantee it, and I am going to see him at the hotel to-night." He said this in the morning. It got to the police and they were afraid he might turn up at the banquet where Mr. Cleveland was to speak. At any rate there were police all round the hotel, but he did not appear.

Furinton's wife kept him at home that evening, with the help of others, or no doubt he would have tried to get to Mr. Cleveland. His case grew worse all night long, and this forenoon his wife said that she could no longer care for him. His ravings continued to be in regard to Mr. Cleveland until he was in a frenzy.

Reduction in Freight Rates.

CHICAGO, June. 29—At a meeting of the traffic managers of the Chicago eastbound roads to-day the Michigan Central announced that taking effect July 4 it would reduce the rate on dressed beef from 45½ to 45 cents per 100 lbs., Chicago to Boston, thereby making it the same as the rate to New York. The reason given for this is that it was demanded by the shippers, who claim that there is discrimination in making a higher rate to Boston than to New York, because on live stock the same rate applies to both points. The representatives of the other lines had no authority to take definite action in this matter, and an adjourned meeting will be held to-morrow to decide whether the Michigan Central reduction shall be made general by all roads. There is no doubt that it will be. The Chicago & Grand Trunk, in order to preserve its differential, will then be forced to reduce its dressed beef rate to 43 cents to New England points by way of Montreal.

His Leg Was Broken.

HAMILTON, June 29.—Michael McCarthy, a moulder in the employ of the E. & C. Gurney Company, and five other employes of the same company were driving in a double rig drawn by two horses last night, when in turning a corner three of the men were thrown out. McCarthy in some way got his leg into one of the front wheels, and on being picked up and examined by a doctor it was found that both bones of his right leg below the knee were broken. He was removed to the hospital and is doing well.

The Cruel Car Wheels.

TILSBURY CENTRE, June 29.—A child three years of age belonging to Peter Bruso, a farmer living near this village, while walking on the track was struck by the C. P. R. flyer going west, breaking both legs and taking off one foot. Dr. Backus of this place was quickly in attendance and entertains very little hopes of its recovery.

The Fastest Train on Record.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A letter was received to-day from George Francis Train from Hong Kong announcing his arrival at that place at noon of May 29. The note was postmarked May 29. Train said he had made the quickest time on record, and expected to reach New York July 4. His plan is to make the circle of the world in 55 days.

The Anti-slavery Convention.

LONDON, June 29.—Sir James Fergusson, political secretary of the Foreign Office, referring to the fact that France has refused to ratify the Brussel's Anti-Slavery Convention, said in the House of Commons to-day that the delegates of the powers would soon meet in Brussels to consider the question as to whether, if some of the powers failed to ratify the convention, the latter was to be allowed to lapse.

The Exodus Continues.

WINDSOR, June 29.—Saturday afternoon 12 Chinamen came up from Toronto, got off at Belle River and later took the evening train for Windsor. They got off part at Walkerville and part at Windsor, and have all mysteriously disappeared. They are either located at some of the smuggling dives around town or have been taken across the river.

The Count Got There

MONTREAL, June 29.—According to what is apparently an inspired announcement in this morning's Herald, Premier Mercier and Hon. Mr. Shehyn have made satisfactory arrangements with a Belgian and French syndicate for the floating of the ten million dollar loan, and also for the conversion of the debt of the province. The loan is not to be floated until the state of the money market becomes propitious.

TORONTO TOPICS.

What is Commanding Attention in the Queen City To-Day.

TORONTO, June 29.—The Esplanade settlement is generally considered satisfactory by the citizens, for they have become tired of its interminable see-saw discussion. The Board of Trade last night endorsed it.

The Bank of British North America is suing Edward Fenton for a piano, which they claim under a hire receipt assigned to them for value. A replevin order was made by the master in chambers and delivered to the sheriff to be executed, but the sheriff was unable to find the piano. The master yesterday made an order for the examination of the defendant for the purpose of ascertaining what disposal he has made of the piano and where it now is.

Mr. Justice Ferguson made orders in the matters of the Dominion Election petitions filed against the return of members for the ridings of South Grey and East Bruce, ordering the petitioner in each case to furnish particulars of the charges alleged in the petition at least 14 days before the day fixed for the trial. In default of delivery of the particulars as ordered the petitioner is to be precluded from giving evidence of the charges of which no particulars are given.

In the action of Humphrey v. Archibald Mr. Justice Ferguson heard an appeal from the order of the master in chambers dismissing a motion on behalf of the plaintiff that Inspector Archibald and Detective Slemin attend for re-examination and tell the names of persons from whom Slemin obtained information which led to the arrest of the plaintiffs on a charge of rape. The plaintiff sues for damages for malicious prosecution and false arrest. His Lordship dismissed the appeal without costs.

George A. Rosbach, trading as Hess Bros., has issued writs against the Fire Insurance Association of London, Eng.; the Caledonian Insurance Company, the Union Assurance Company, the City of London Fire Insurance Company, the Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company of London, Eng.; the Citizens' Insurance Company, the Phoenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn, the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, the Royal Canadian Insurance Company, the Commercial Union Assurance Company and the National Assurance Company of Ireland, claiming loss under insurance policies suffered by reason of the recent fire at the plaintiff's factory.

Mr. Daniel McLean, the well-known wholesale leather merchant whose failure some months ago created so much surprise and sympathy, has at last secured a settlement. At a meeting of creditors held a few days after his suspension Mr. McLean offered to compromise at 40 cents on the dollar. Most of those present agreed to accept the offer, but there were two or three who for some reason or other withheld their consent till the present. The payments are spread over 12 months, the last half secured.

John Noonan, a young man living at 138 Seaton-street, got filled up with cheap whisky last night. It made him crazy and when he met in Regent-street Mr. Goodwin, caretaker of the Board of Trade, violently assaulted him. When Police Constable Robinson appeared on the scene John turned his attention to him, and before mastered inflicted a severe cut on the constable's face. Noonan is only 17 years old, but it took two or three officers to land him in Wilton-avenue station.

The adjourned inquest into the death of Edwin Smith, the old man whose body was found rolling in the surf at Kew Beach on Wednesday last, was brought to a conclusion by Coroner Pickering last night. The testimony went to show that on the afternoon previous to the discovery of the body, the deceased was at the Union Station seeing a friend off to England. Dr. Clapp, who made the post mortem, testified that death was the result of drowning and that there were no marks of violence on the body. Undertaker M. McCabe, who had taken charge of the body, gave similar testimony. The jury returned a verdict of found drowned, with a recommendation to the police to make further investigations.

The arrest of Detroit crooks caused a thrill of pleasure to permeate Police Headquarters, and more particularly the Detective Department. Most of the gang are fairly well known in Toronto, but Billy and Jimmy Considine more particularly left a disagreeable impression while attending the recent races at the Woodbine. They formed part and parcel of the gang who played the bogus pool-ticket game, leaving the city for Detroit on the evening of the discovery of the swindle.

The final rehearsal for the public school children's concert was held in the Mutual-street Rink yesterday afternoon. The chorus mustered nearly 1500 voices, and all the selections were rehearsed to the satisfaction of the conductor. In addition to the well-known Canadian patriotic songs, several new national songs are included in the program. Dr. Harper of Quebec has written an excellent ode entitled "Hail to the Land," which is worthy of more than passing notice and one which is sure to become popular. In addition to the choruses by the choir Mr. E. W. Schuch has been engaged as soloist for the occasion. Mr. Schuch has been intimately associated with the public school concerts in former years and is sure to receive a hearty reception. The full band of the Royal Grenadiers will be present and will render several selections, in addition to the accompaniments to the choruses. With such an array of talent there is sure to be a large audience on Wednesday afternoon. Doors will be opened at 2:30 o'clock and the program will commence sharp at 3. There will be no charge for admission.

And They're Not on the International.

OTTAWA, June 29.—The Ottawa Cricket Club defeated the Kingstons to-day by one inning and 109 runs. The score was Ottawa 219, Kingston 58 and 48. Little for the Ottawas took 12 wickets for 29 runs. The principal scorers in the Ottawas were: Bouchier 49, Warden 34, Bristow 32 (not out), Coste 31, Steele 21, Little 16.

Montreal's Team for To-morrow.

MONTREAL, June 29.—The second match of the Montreal-Toronto lacrosse series will be played on Dominion Day on the Rosedale grounds. The Montreal team will leave to-morrow night on the Canadian Pacific express and will consist of the following players: Dr. Shanks, goal; J. Patterson, point; Sheppard, cover point; Cameron, Barry, D. Patterson, defence; Sprigings, centre; Carlind, A. Hodgson, Baird, home field; W. Hodgson, outside home; Geraghty, inside home.

A Famous Priest Dead.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

WILL PROBABLY CLOSE ON DOMINION DAY.

Although a Sitting Was Arranged for it is Thought That the Members from Ontario West Will secure an Adjournment for Dominion Day.

OTTAWA, June 29.—To-day being the Feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, it is observed as a holiday in Parliamentary and departmental circles. All the members who are within reach of their homes left on Friday or Saturday evening, and general quiet prevails within the precincts of the Parliament buildings. The House meets to-morrow, and although the impression was left in the minds of those who left for their homes that a sitting would take place on Wednesday, Dominion Day, still it is generally well known that the House will not sit on that day.

Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn well expressed the feeling in Western Ontario when he said that if the House sat on that day while being so punctilious in the observance of other holidays, there would be no small amount of dissatisfaction expressed. The Parliament of Canada should show no disrespect for the national holiday, but should rather set a shining example to the whole people of the country.

The supplementary estimates will be taken up to-morrow, but nothing important will likely be transacted in a slim House. The Railway Committee will also meet if a quorum is secured.

The Minister of Inland Revenue has announced that the increased duty on tobacco shall not apply to cigarets. The Government has reached this decision upon the representations of a couple of large cigaret firms in Montreal. It was shown that tobacco used in the manufacture of cigarets was in fact the raw material.

Mr. Stewart Henderson, Ottawa, acting on behalf of Charles Bremner, the Bresaylor halfbreed, has filed a claim with the Department of the Interior against the Government for $19,000 for loss sustained by Bremner during the rebellion of 1885. This claim includes the loss on stock, farm, furs, etc. Bremner was awarded by a special committee last year $5000 for the furs which Sir Frederick Middleton appropriated, but the amount was never paid and is now included in the claim against the Government.

A movement is now on foot to present to Lady Macdonald a life-sized portrait of herself in recognition of the part she has played in Canadian life and politics. Senator Sanford has the matter in charge.

Chinese Lepers in Canada.

OTTAWA, June 29.—Dr. Smith, superintendent of the Lazaretto at Tracadie, N.S., was sent to British Columbia as a specialist to investigate the leprosy scourge among the Chinese. He reported to-day to the Minister of Agriculture.

Dr Smith says he discovered six cases in all, five of them in an advanced stage. These were sent to an island 17 miles off Victoria and provided with provisions for eight months. He visited Kamloops, Yale and Wellington, where large numbers of Chinese are settled, and thoroughly investigated the Chinese quarters in Victoria and New Westminster. In these crowded centres the cases were found, which he thinks represents all the developed cases in the province, since the Chinamen, so soon as traces of the disease appear in one of their countrymen, drive him out of the settlement, and so he makes his way to the cities. The Chinamen at Wellington, B.C., killed two lepers recently.

Fell From a Boat.

ST. CATHARINES, June 29.—The first drowning accident to happen in this vicinity this season occurred on Sunday about 1.30 o'clock, when Alfred James, the 9-year-old son of Mr. Thomas O'Neill, met his death in the 12-Mile Creek near his home. The youngster was very fond of rowing a small scow boat owned by his father and had been continually asking during the morning to be allowed to have a row. Being refused he became a little peevish, and when last seen alive by his brother he was sitting on the stern of the boat with his feet splashing the water. A short time afterwards his hat was seen floating on the surface and after an hour's search the body was recovered by a young man named Alexander Henderson and carried to the house. All efforts at resuscitation failed.

THE M.A.C. ATHLETES.

Great Success at England's Principal Event—The Field's Criticism.

MANCHESTER, Eng., June 27.—The visiting team of the Manhattan Athletic Club of New York competed this afternoon with the crack athletes of England at the amateur championship meeting held here. This meeting is the principal athletic event of England, and is held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain. The prospect for making fast time or breaking records this afternoon was not very encouraging. Heavy rain had been falling throughout the night.

One hundred yards championship challenge cup, valued at 60 guineas—Luther Carey of the M.A.C. won his heat easily in 10 4-5. There were six heats in this flat race and 21 starters. The final race and heat was won easily by Carey, who beat the second man by four yards. Time 10 1-5 sec. The first heat was won by Mortimer Remington, M.A.C., by half a yard in 10 2-5 sec. There were four starters in this heat. The heat won by Carey was the second, in which there were two starters. Carey led by six yards at the finish. In the fourth heat Stevenson beat the Scotch champion, Green, by two feet in 10 3-5 seconds.

The half-mile flat race for a cup valued at 45 guineas was won by Holmes, an Englishman, in 2.00 4-5. J. S. Roddy of the M.A.C. was fifth. A. B. George of the M.A.C. retired when he had covered three-quarters of the distance, and H. L. Dadmun of the M.A.C. was last.

Thirteen started in the quarter of a mile run, trial heats. Mortimer Remington won the first heat by two yards in 55 seconds after a hard struggle. The second heat was won by Shuter, an Englishman. There was a dead heat for second place between J. S. Roddy, M.A.C., and Basan of London. Morton of England easily won the four miles run by 60 yards in 20 min. 53 3-5 sec. W. T. Young, M.A.C., retired after covering a mile and a half. The final heat was won by Mortimer Remington, who touched the tape eight yards ahead of the second man in 51 seconds.

In the high jump for the challenge cup valued at 35 guineas, Jennings of England won with 5 ft. 9¼ in. to his credit. Hallock, M.A.C., and Watkinson of England tied for second place with 5 ft. 8½ in. credited to them.

In the hammer throwing event, which Queckberner won, there were 10 contestants.

Malcolm W. Ford of the Manhattans and Bulger of Dublin tied in the long jump, distance 20 f t. 4 in. each.

In the shot putting contest, Ferrier of Cork won: distance 40 ft. 8 in. Queckberner's record 37 ft. 10 in.

Nicoll (Manhattan) was a bad third in the seven mile walk.

The Americans will go to Paris on Monday and will compete with the French athletes in the Racing Club games in the Bois de Bologne July 4. They will start for home July 18.

The Field says Carey's running though fast is not admired as to style. The writer admits that the visitors are at a disadvantage because of adverse conditions in the competition and of the fact that when the Huddersfield games took place the men had hardly recovered from the effects of their ocean voyage.

A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c, and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

The Tarte-McGreevy-Langevin Charges.

The Latest Revelations in the Case—A Summary of the Case and its Causes.

The Mail contains the following summary of the history of the matters involved in the great investigation now before a Parliamentary committee:

A great deal of the evidence given last week before the Tarte McGreevy committee had reference to the work upon the Esquimalt graving dock. This undertaking was commenced by the British Columbia Government, and was originally intended to be a purely local enterprise. But while it was under contract the Dominion and the province entered into an agreement by which it was transferred to the Federal power. The basis of this arrangement was the bargain under which, upon the entry of British Columbia into the union, the Pacific Railway was to have been built in ten years. As we all know, this condition was not performed. The Mackenzie Administration, feeling that it could not be carried into effect, made a new arrangement under Lord Carnarvon's auspices, calling for the immediate construction of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway. But the measure providing for the building of this road was defeated in the Senate, and so the scheme fell through. Matters remained as they were until 1883, when Sir Alexander Campbell was despatched to British Columbia to make new terms. The result of Sir Alexander's diplomacy was that it was agreed that the province should resume a large tract of land it had promised to give for railway purposes, and should hand over to the Dominion instead 3,500,000 acres in the Peace River country. The Dominion on its part consented to give $750,000 towards the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway, to reimburse the province $750,000 it had spent upon the graving dock, to take over the unfinished works, and to carry the dock to completion.

In the neighbourhood of the dock when the Dominion assumed control was a quantity of plant and material for which the Province of British Columbia had been allowed the sum of $50,288. When tenders for the completion of the works were called for it was intimated that the contractors would have to accept this plant and pay $50,288 for it. All the tenderers, of course, put in their offers on this understanding: The lowest tenderer was the firm of Sharrs & O'Hanley, of Ottawa, who offered to do the work for $336,945; or, allowing the $50,288 for plant, etc., $288,656 net. The next tenderer was the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., whose price was $374 659, or, deducting the $50,288 for plant, etc., $324 271. The contract was awarded to Sharrs & O'Hanley. But these contractors discovered after the contract had been awarded to them that they had made a mistake in their tender, and withdrew. Thereupon the work went to Larkin, Connolly & Co., at the higher figure. When Larkin, Connolly & Co. went to British Columbia to commence operations the firm entered objections to the payment of the $50,288 for the plant and material, and offered instead $12,403 less, or $37 885 in all. But the engineer in charge reported that everything was there except $10 worth of tools, for which an allowance should be made. The matter was brought before Sir Hector Langevin, and he caused the secretary of the department to write:—"That the specification is very clear, and that there is no option on the part of the contractors to take what plant, etc., they please and to refuse what they do not want; and that they will have to take over all that is named in the schedule." Nevertheless, before the work was completed the contractors were allowed a reduction of $19,873 from the $50,288 they had agreed to pay on account of plant. After the contractors had settled down to work an agitation was set on foot to secure a substitution of granite for the sandstone ordered to be used in construction. Owen Murphy says the firm offered to give twenty-five cents a foot for all the granite used to Thos. McGreevy if the substitution were agreed to. It appears that the department did consent to the change; but immediately afterwards it was discovered (to quote Captain Larkin) "that sandstone would pay as well," whereupon the department allowed a change back to sandstone. In lining the dock it was set out in the specifications that sandstone of a particular size should be used, and that the space at the rear of the stone should be filled with concrete or rubble. The stone work was apparently profitable and the filling less so. When preparing the stone the contractors asked if they could make the courses larger than stipulated in the specifications. This was agreed to; but it was declared that there must be no extra cost. Larger stones were consequently used. But these stones, besides being higher when built in, were deeper. When, therefore, they were measured the quantity of stone to be paid for was largely in excess of the quantity originally estimated, while the quantity of filling was reduced. It is calculated that portions of the stone work which under the estimate would have cost $9 a yard, cost in consequence of the change just three times as much—namely, $27. The payments for stone were all made by the foot, the price being $1. There was no change in the rate per foot, but there was a change in the number of feet supplied. It was, therefore, possible for the firm to receive the extra amount without apparently transgressing the departmental order that the price, or the rate, was not to be increased. In 1886, or thereabouts, an effort was made to secure the enlargement of the dock. It was on behalf of this extension that the interest of Messrs. Baker and Shakespeare, then members of Parliament for Victoria, was solicited, and it was because of the alleged claim of these two gentlemen for payment that one of the members of the firm termed them "a brace of pirates." The firm, it appears, hoped to get the contract for the enlargement for a lump sum, for Mr. Michael Connolly wrote to Mr. Murphy on February 15, 1886, "If you can get a lump sum contract we can give $50,000"; and again on February 25, of the same year, "I told you in a letter lately that if $250,000 were granted for extending the dock we would give $50 000 of it for charitable purposes." This extension, although favourably regarded by the department, was not agreed to, as the Imperial Government, which had contributed towards the dock, declined to give any further aid.

According to the expense account submitted to Mr. O. E. Murphy by the firm's bookkeeper, Martin P. Connolly, the following amounts were paid out on account of the Esquimalt dock:—

August, 1885	$ 4 000
February, 1886	3,000
April, 1886	1,000
June, 1886	3,000
March, 1887	17,000
March, 1887 (Three Rivers)	5,000
March, 1888	2,000
Total	$35,000

Mr. Murphy's story is that of this sum $5,000 was paid by Mr. Nicholas Connolly to Laforce Langevin, Sir Hector's son, and another $5,000 to Sir Hector himself; and that two additional sums of $5,000 each were given by Mr. Murphy to the Minister. In all Sir Hector is alleged to have received $15,000. The evidence as to the receipt of the money by the Minister is, however, not of such a character as to be conclusive without corroboration. In the first place, Mr. Murphy testifies only with regard to the first $5,000, that Nicholas Connolly says he paid it. With reference to the two other like sums, Mr. Murphy's testimony is that he drew bills from the bank on the firm's cheque and paid them to Sir Hector, at what time of the year, and in what year he does not know. An accumulation of this serious nature, implying as it does that the Minister accepted bribes, must of course be sustained by testimony which is not susceptible of a double interpretation. When given by an ordinary witness the evidence would require strong corroboration. Coming from Mr. Murphy the same rule applies to him. But apart from the accusation against Sir Hector, there is strong reason to fear that the country paid high for the graving dock, and that some remarkable and, it is to be hoped, unusual outlays were made by the contractors on "charitable" objects.

A Mother's Experience

It may prove interesting to mothers generally, to learn that a lady well known in the best society circles of the city of Quebec, and whose family is quite wealthy, was recently laid very low by the hand of suffering. We give her own words: "I became very nervous, weak, and was almost continually troubled with headache. My appetite was very poor, and I soon became emaciated and pale. For weeks my medical attendant treated me with success; indeed, I considered my end very near. One of my lady friends who had used your Celery Compound, very kindly and strongly recommended me to try it. I did so, and bless God that He so providentially sent her to visit me in my affliction. I have used in all seven bottle, and now find myself almost as strong as I was a year ago. I will always feel it my duty to recommend it to others when the opportunity occurs, as it truly saved my life."

Women of Canada these words speak volumes in favor of this grand preparation; stronger proof is unnecessary.

Society of Justice.

PEORIA, Ill., June 29.—Some time ago Royal Frisby received a notice signed, "Society of Justice," and bearing a skull and crossbones, giving him warning that he was to be killed. Yesterday morning his dead body was found on his farm riddled with shot. The notice is not believed to have been sent by Whitecaps, but by friends of his divorced wife. Frisby married a Mrs. Carver of Marshall County. It is charged he dissipated her fortune. After she secured a divorce he married her daughter. This gave rise to bitter feeling.

The Enormous Pension Bill.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The World to-day says: The enormous indebtedness incurred by the United States Government in the suppression of rebellion is fading away. Time and general prosperity have done a most effective work. In 1866 the total principal outstanding was $2,773,236,173. Now it is little over one-half that amount. But a new national debt has arisen. It is found in the appropriations for pensions. The disbursements in the fiscal year 1866 amounted to less than $18,000,000. The disbursements of this year can only be approximated. They will certainly exceed $130,000,000—one-third of the entire running expenses of the Government.

Imperial Federalists Hopeful.

OTTAWA, June 29.—Members of Parliament who are imperial federalists are looking forward with great hopes to the arrival here of the founder of the United Empire Trade League, Lieutenant-Colonel Howard Vincent, member of Parliament for Sheffield, England, who will visit Ottawa early next month.

He is to make a tour of all the British colonies in the world, leaving Vancouver, B.C., on Aug. 26, for the South Pacific possessions.

For the $40,000 Prize.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The rich Realization Stakes will be run on Wednesday. The Realization contains the pick of the 3-year-olds, and the public will have a chance to see whether Potomac is as good a colt as Strathmuth. Both are entered, both have received special training for the $40,000 prize and the race ought to be a fine one. These two will of course attract most interest.

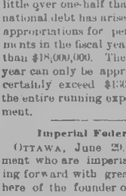
GENTLEMEN,—I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it saved by life. We have used it in our family when required ever since, and it never fails to cure all summer complaints. Francis Walsh, Dalkeith, Ont. dw

There are many indications of worms, but Dr. Low's Worm Syrup meets them in every case successfully. dw

Goldwin Smith.

Goldwin Smith is opposed to Sir Charles Tupper in many ways, but doubtless both would agree that no better remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headache, kidney troubles, skin diseases, etc., exists than Burdock Blood Bitters, the best family medicine known. dw

Sufferers



FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 20 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

Unbearable Pain.

DEAR SIRS,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint, and could get no relief, but kept getting worse till the pain was almost unbearable, and I was very weak. After everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. The first dose gave relief, and it did not fail to cure me. Wm. T. Glynn, Wilfred, Ont. dw

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,255.92
Increase over previous year	2,421,272.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,269,358.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938.25
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	547,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.06
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $3,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 5.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)		$84,834 07
" " " "	1886, "	99,452 97
" " " "	1890, (four years)	232,175 69

Another Wicked Drummer Lodged in Jail.

SARATOGA, June 28.—Frank Andrews, a commercial traveler, having a wife and children in Albany, has been paying attentions to the 17-year-old daughter of Reuben Barnett, a prominent Meryman here, for a year or more, representing himself to be a widower. The girl wanted to marry him, but her parents gave a very reluctant consent. The father, on going to Albany on Wednesday to satisfy himself that all was right, met Andrews' wife, learned the truth and hurried back to Saratoga. In the meantime Andrews and the girl had boarded a train and started north. They were traced by telegraph and followed by the girl's 23-year-old brother. He overtook the pair at Whitehall yesterday morning, and compelled Andrews to return with him at the point of a revolver. The father of the girl was at the depot on the arrival of the train last evening and was barely prevented from shooting Andrews. Andrews is in jail.

Burned to Death.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 28.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hazlett wife of Samuel E. Hazlett, a wealthy and influential resident of this city, to-day went to a room in the fourth story of the house in which she lived to disinfect it. To do this she was to burn a preparation. It is supposed she lighted some of this stuff and by accident set fire to her clothing with the match which she used. In an instant she was in flames. In her agony Mrs. Hazlett opened a window and jumped out, falling on a three-story extension. The fall did not kill her, but she was severely bruised by it. Several persons soon hastened to Mrs. Hazlett's assistance and she was carried into the house. Every bit of her clothing was burned off, her shoes even being partially destroyed. Three doctors were summoned and all that was possible was done to relieve her sufferings, but she died in a few minutes.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCY, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a well-known patent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not clean this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

What About the Money for Parks?

A great many persons are interested in Mrs. Nicholls' munificent bequest for public parks, so much so that at an early date a meeting is to be called to form a society pledged to the exclusive use of hawley bros.' teas, which are of such excellent quality that the public health will be benefitted and the national interest subserved by their universal use—particularly their splendid 50 cent tea. dw

The Dominion Illustrated.

The demand for the issue of The Dominion Illustrated for June 20th, devoted to a splendidly illustrated account of the funeral of the late Sir John Macdonald, far exceeded the supply, though a very large edition was issued. The work on this number was most artistically done, and reflects the highest credit on the enterprise of the publishers. The Dominion Illustrated is a journal that deserves a wide and generous support from the people of Canada. It is the only high class illustrated journal published in the Dominion.

A Point Scored by Advertising.

Two weeks ago there was inserted in this paper an advertisement from Mr. J. J. Sheehy, announcing the fact that he had about 200 dozen of straw hats which were to be sold at the rate of two for five cents. It seemed the ad. was read, learned and inwardly digested, for to-day scarcely twenty dozen hats are left. The balance will be cleared out this week at even lower prices, so look out for bargains in the "millinery line." Mr. Sheehy will also offer this week the following great inducements to the purchasing public:—Silk lace mits in all colours at 10c., pure silk gloves at 20c., 100 pieces of beautiful prints, worth 12½c., at 10c. The Cash Dry Goods Store is bound to keep faith with the public, and now it will devolve upon the public to call and see if this is or is not a bona fide offer. 1d1w

Another Railroad Smash Up.

Another railroad smash up would not cause nearly as much excitement as the Sons of Canada picnic to Jubilee Point to-morrow, is causing. Every lady expects to win the watch, and everybody expects to have a good time. The famous orchestra of Prof. Ke-we-tah-ghe-shin is to arrive to-night, and everything is in readiness for an enjoyable time. The "Beaver" and "Daisy," with two barges fixed up with all the comforts of home, with easy chairs, lounges, rocking chairs, etc., for those who do not care to dance and those who are tired of dancing, will leave the wharf at 7.30 a.m. Tea and hot water furnished free. Refreshments on board. Tickets only 50c.

Died in England.

Mr. John Heap has received intelligence of the death of his father, Samuel Heap, which took place at Dukenfield, Lancashire, on the 10th of June. The deceased gentleman was in the 80th year of his age. The deceased gentleman was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters for upwards of fifty-six years previous to his death. The body was laid at rest in St. Stephen Church, Audenshaw, on June 15th. All the members of the family except Mr. John Heap live in England. Mr. Samuel Heap had the honour of riding on the first train that ran on the opening of the first railroad in England—from Liverpool to Manchester.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises lacrosse match, bicycle races, athletic sports, grand horse races, baseball match, and other sports during the day. In the evening there will be a grand promenade concert, etc. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Special railway rates and special trains after the evening programme is over. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. BEAMISH, secretary of committee. dw

50 Per Cent. Discount.

Unprecedented bargains in Bibles, English Church Prayer Books and Roman Catholic Prayer Books at the Peterborough Bookstore. A rare purchase has been made of a fine lot of these books, which will be sold at a discount of 50 per cent. on the usual price. The Cambridge Teachers' Bible, kid-lined and silk sewn, the regular price of which is $4.00, will be sold for $2 00. A specially good line of Hymnals and Psalters has been secured. Psalters and Hymnals, bound in leather, which usually sell for at least 60c., are being sold at the Peterborough Bookstore for 30c., a discount of 50 per cent. We have only 200 of them in stock, and no time should be lost in picking up these great bargains by those in need of Psalters and Hymnals. Now is the time to strike a "snap" in Bibles, Prayer Books, and Psalters and Hymnals at the Peterborough Bookstore.
J. R. STRATTON.

A Clever Arrest.

Last night P. C. McGinty made a clever arrest. A telegram and postal card had been received at police headquarters asking for the arrest of a Hastings horse thief, who had given various aliases, for a theft of a horse committed at Hastings, the property, however, having been recovered at Campbellford. Mr. McGinty went onto his beat last night about seven o'clock and noticed a man answering the description of the horse lifter standing in front of Fairen & Co.'s billiard parlours on George street. He returned to the station and again read over the card giving the description and returned to his beat and arrested the man at the corner of Charlotte street. Being brought to the station the man, compared with the description, answered every particular. Mr. McGinty deserves great credit for his keenness of observation and prompt action in making the arrest. The man gave his name as Cline. It is expected that Chief of Police Newton, of Belleville, will arrive in town by the five o'clock Grand Trunk express to-night to take the prisoner to Belleville for trial.

Hurrah! for Stony Lake.

There are still over 250 tickets to be sold for the Stony Lake excursion to-morrow, July 1st, so secure one, as this is undoubtedly the best outing of the day. As there is a fear expressed, and a report circulated by outsiders, that the accommodation at Lakefield will be overcrowded, the Committee beg leave to say that there will be ample room for all: positively no overcrowding, as they have limited the number of tickets to be sold so as to ensure comfort and ease to those who may attend. Lunch to be procured on board the steamer. Train leaves G.T.R station at 8.45 a.m. A committee will take charge of baskets at train. Round fare, 80 cents, children half price. Tickets to be procured until 10 p.m. this evening at Metropolitan grocery, Mercer's C. C. Rowse's and Fairweather's hat store.

Explanatory.

A paragraph in yesterday's issue in regard to a council meeting held on Saturday night is to a certain extent misleading, in that it was incomplete. The council declined to make a money grant, but agreed to furnish swings, platforms, etc., for the C. P. R. picnic party which is to make Peterborough its rendezvous this year. The picnic party desired a grant of $125 additional, and it is more than probable that this amount will be raised by private subscription. The Mayor and several councillors subscribed over $50, and it is probable that the hotel men and other citizens who will benefit by the presence of thousands of visitors will swell the amount to the required $125. It is understood that Mr. John Burnham, M. P., has granted the use of that beautiful spot, Burnham's Point, for the use of the visitors. The councillors are most to be commended for their liberality, especially when by virtue of their office they are under no more obligation than ordinary citizens to put their hands in their pockets for the credit of the town. The citizens will gladly welcome the C.P.R. excursionists on their annual holiday visit to Peterborough.

The Madoc "City of the Dead."

The Madoc Review in a descriptive account of a visit to the cemetery at that place says: "There has been a number of fine monuments recently erected; amongst the best is a very and handsome cottage monument erected on the Dale plot, inscribed in memory of an old resident, John Dale. The lettering is cut in the granite and inlaid with gold leaf. The monument is of a very attractive design, made of Aberdeen red Scotch granite, and is a lasting memorial. Another new and very attractive monument is on the Wright plot. This is the largest and most attractive stone in the cemetery. It is a new design of handsome proportions, massive and substantial looking; stands about 12 feet high, and weighs about 5 tons. It is made of dark Scotch granite from the Ben Cruchen quarries, Scotland. There is a good deal to be admired in this work, the large handsome mouldings, the beautiful tracery work, the handsomely carved draped urn that surmounts the top, and the high gloss finish, all of which display the master workman's skill in the different ways of working and ornamenting stone. The lettering is similar to the Dale stone, cut in and gilded, and looks very neat on the dark polished faces of the stone. It is inscribed in memory of Andrew and Jane Wright and their two infant children, with the very appropriate epitaph "Watch, for you know not the hour." These monuments were erected by the well known firm of J. Coughlin & Bro., Belleville and Peterborough." 1d1w

A Pleasant Spot.

The grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital Asylum, are admirably adapted for a pleasant gathering. As usual, to-morrow, Dominion Day, the great annual picnic will be held. There will be a good programme to entertain the people, who will throng to the grounds. There will be a baseball match, dancing, sports and games of all sort. But the big special attraction will be the grand tug of war and baloon ascension. Refreshments served all day. Cool lemonade and good cigars provided for the guests. Every person should take in the picnic and every person will. Busses run from town to the grounds all afternoon.

Dominion Day Doings.

To-morrow's dawn brings the twenty-fourth anniversary of the Confederation of the Provinces of British North America into one wide-reaching Dominion, and every patriotic Canadian will regard with pride the progress made by the country in that time, for better evidence of the warm hold the Confederation has upon their hearts than the general and spontaneous observance of Dominion Day could not be wished for.

Our citizens soldiers will of course be absent and unable to take part in the celebration of the occasion, but all other citizens will make holiday and amuse themselves in various ways.

Among the slated events in the excursion of the Sons of Canada to Jubilee Point This being an excursion having peculiar attractiveness for the day, it is to be expected that it will be largely patronized, especially in view of the great attractions promised. The steamers having in tow the confederated catamarans, the palace barges lashed together, one a saloon and the other a dancing pavilion, will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 7.20 a.m.

The excursion of the Library Committee of the Charlottee Street Methodist Church Sunday School, by rail to Lakefield and thence by boat over the beautiful stretches of Stony Lake, will doubtless be very largely patronized, both on account of the intrinsic beauty of the trip and on account of the excellent management that will characterize it.

The Chemong Park excursion to the most delightful of summer resorts will also attract large numbers. The convenience of the public is deferred to very considerably in the train arrangements, one train leaving at 8:30 and one at 10.30, both connecting with steamer direct to the park. The opening of the new pavilion will be a feature of attraction at the park.

Last but not least by any means and most interesting to townspeople will be the annual picnic on St Joseph's Hospital grounds, where a splendid programme of amusement and entertainment will be provided. Unusual efforts have been made to make this the picnic of a very successful series.

A cricket match with East Toronto, will be played on the P. A. A. A. grounds to-morrow.

As an Emergency Medicine, for sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all remedies, a dose or two generally sufficing to stop ordinary coughs and ease the worst. For the cure of throat and lung disorders, this preparation is unequalled.

Cricket.

Peterborough vs. East Toronto.

The first senior match of the season will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds to-morrow. As cricket has been at a very low ebb here this season, and as nothing will resuscitate it so quickly as good attendance at matches, it is sincerely to be hoped that the people of Peterborough will show their appreciation of the "noble game" by giving the players a bumper attendance. The boys will endeavor to give a good account of themselves.

Wedding Bells at St. Peter's

Marriage of Mr. James O'Keefe and Miss Rose Whibbs.

This morning at 8 o'clock, carriages drawn up in front of St. Peter's Cathedral, indicated that a wedding was in progress within. At the eight o'clock Mass, Mr. James O'Keefe was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Rose Whibbs, daughter of Mr. Thomas Whibbs, Douro, Rev. Father Dube, preforming the ceremony. Miss Katie Whibbs, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Patrick O'Keefe. The happy young couple are both highly respected and worthy of all the wedded happiness which their host of friends hope may fall to their lot. Mr. and Mrs. O'Keefe took the 11.55 G.T.R. express for a trip to Toronto and the West, followed by ardent good wishes.

Off to Ottawa.

The Gallant Rangers En'rain for Ottawa.

"And then and there was hurrying to and fro" and gathering volunteers at the drill shed to prepare for the outing to Ottawa. About 7.30, the Rangers to the number of 252 were checked from the pay roll and took their places in the ranks. The band turned out in strong force mustering 32 pieces, while the new fife and drum band mustered about half that strength. At 8 o'clock, headed by the band playing, the boys marched steadily down to the C. P. R. station the walks on each side the whole route being packed with delighted spectators, which at the station swelled to a multitude. As the volunteers by companies were entering the coaches of the special train, the band played "The girl I left behind me" and the train moved out of the station to the enthusiastic cheers of the immense crowd that assembled to give the boys a send off and a right hearty send off it was. May the rangers have a jolly journey a pleasant stay a safe return and do credit to Peterborough on their Ottawa outing.

Wedded in Leafy June.

Nuptials of Mr. E. F. Walter and Miss Bertha Loch.

The beautiful residence of Mr. William Loch was the scene of an interesting, though quietly celebrated, social event; the marriage of his youngest daughter, Miss Bertha, to Mr. E. F. Walter, of Montreal. The wedding was a very quiet one, no invitations having been issued. The ceremony was performed at 4.30 p.m., yesterday by Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rector of St. John's. The duties of bridesmaids were performed by Miss Loch, sister of the bride, and Miss Minnie Neill, of Lindsay, while Mr. Theodore Gnaedinger, of Montreal, supported the groom. The handsome bride was plainly but richly dressed in white silk and the traditional orange blossoms, her only jewels being a beautiful diamond brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Of the bridesmaids, Miss Loch wore white cashmere, with lace trimming, and Miss Neill wore heliotrope Bengaline, with jewel trimming. The bride carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and the bridesmaids similar bouquets of pink roses. Notwithstanding the quiet nature of the wedding, the bride was splendidly remembered in the way of presents, from friends in town, Montreal and elsewhere in Canada and from friends in Germany. Among the presents that may be particularly specified, because specially appreciated, are a photographic view of the interior of St. John's church in elegant gilt frame, the gift of the rector and Miss Davidson; a church service, prayer book and hymnal, from the Bible class of St. John's Sunday school, and a handsome memorial book from Miss Kirkpatrick, the teacher of the class. The happy couple took the 9 o'clock G.T.R. express for Cobourg, where they will take the steamer for Alexandria Bay. Thence they will proceed down the St. Lawrence to the Saguenay and the gulf resorts. Returning they will spend the summer till September at Beaconsfield, near Montreal. This wedding is the subject of the heartiest congratulations. Mr. Walter is a prominent and well respected citizen of Montreal, and Mrs. Walter has spent all her life in Peterborough, and grown up with the increasing respect of the wide circle of friends of the family and the citizens generally. In the marriage and departure from town of Miss Loch, the town loses one of its best musicians, one of the most finished pianoforte players, in the town or district. The hearty wishes of a great host of friends follow the newly wedded pair into the new relation upon which they have entered.

Cæsar's famous "Veni, vidi, vici,"—I came, I saw, I conquered—might be an appropriate motto for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. We charge nothing for the suggestion. This great blood-purifier conquers wherever it comes, and is now absolutely without equal in the world.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. L. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla had Hood's wife of rilla, as cured his dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

The Marriage of Mr. Robert Neill and Miss Aggie Mercer.

A pleasing society event, which social circles have been interested in for some time past, took place to-day at the Mercer family residence, 309 Hunter street, at three o'clock, when Mr. Robert Neill, one of our most respected citizens and most enterprising merchants, was united in marriage to Miss Mercer, eldest daughter of the late William Mercer. The wedding festivities were quite private, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alex. Bell, assisted by Rev. A. J. Shorey. The bridesmaids were Miss Lizzie Mercer and Miss Maggie Neill, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, and the groomsmen were Mr. F. H. Mercer and Mr. N. Neill, brothers of the bride and groom. The bride was attired in white faille, trimmed with alencon lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids wore gray and silver chiffons respectively. The bride was held in high esteem, as shown by the very large number of elegant wedding presents sent her. Among those may be mentioned the gifts from Miss Mercer's Sunday School pupils and from the teachers in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School, and presents from the employees of Mr. Neill's and Mercer & Co.'s establishments. The happy pair, who enter the estate of matrimony under the most promising auspices, receive the hearty congratulations of their host of friends. Mr. Neill is one of our most respected citizens and successful merchants, while the bride is a young lady held in the very highest esteem by the hundreds who have known her from her earliest years. Mr. and Mrs. Neill leave town this evening by the 5:45 C. P. R. express for an extended tour in the west. May happiness, joy and prosperity go with and abide with them in all the many years of a happy wedded life.

LADIES are good judges of gentlemen's clothes, and some of them even go so far as to "wear the breeches" themselves, when they have invested in a husband. But if every lady who pants after a husband would be wise, she would select only such a man as buys his clothes regularly at DOLANS, because she would then know that the style, quality, material and price would fit the pocket-book, as well the suit fitted her husband. And if it didn't exactly fit him, why she could "try it on" herself.

Bad Eczema on Baby

Head One Solid Sore—Nothing Availed—Hired to Tie His Hands to Cradle—Cured by Cuticura.

Our little boy broke out on his head with a bad form of eczema, when he was four months old. We tried three doctors, but they did not help him. We then used your three CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using them eleven weeks exactly according to directions, he began to improve, and after the use of them for seven months his head was entirely well. When we began using it his head was a solid sore from his crown to his eyebrows. It was also all over his ears, most of the face, and small places on different parts of the body. There were sixteen weeks that we had to keep his hands tied to the cradle and had them when he was taken up; and had to keep mittens tied on his hands to keep him proper nails out of the sores, as he would scratch if he could in anyway get his hands loose. We know your CUTICURA REMEDIES cured him. We feel safe in recommending them to others.

A MURDEROUS FIREBUG.

The Gallant but Fatal Fight of a Constable.

PORT HURON, Mich., July 1.—Marshall William Cline of the village of Yale, this county, was shot and fatally wounded by an unknown firebug last night. Past two weeks several buildings have been set on fire in Yale. Last night Marshal Cline shadowed a suspicious character and finally saw him pour oil on a heap of shavings in rear of a dwelling and interrupted him right in the act of applying a match. The incendiary showed fight. Dealing the Marshal a terrific blow in the face he broke away and fled in the darkness. Cline was partially stunned, but recovered himself sufficiently to chase the fugitive who, finding himself hard pressed, rushed into a doorway and up a flight of stairs, where he waited in the darkness for his pursuer. Cline called upon the man to give himself up peaceably and was answered with a defiant oath. Advancing into the dark stairway he again called upon the firebug to surrender when suddenly he was knocked down by a blow on the head. Cline staggered to his feet and clinched with his assailant. The marshal is a powerful man and soon had the fellow upon his back, when the latter pulled a revolver and placing it against Cline's head fired. Marshal sank with a groan, and the incendiary darted away just as several citizens attracted by the shot came running to the rescue. It was found that the ball had entered the temple and ranged upward through the brain. He has hardly a chance for his life. The firebug made good his escape, but the entire community is up in arms and searching for him. If discovered he will be summarily dealt with

TORONTO TOPICS.

Accidents and Otherwise in the Queen City Yesterday.

TORONTO, July 2. The lacrosse match between Toronto and Montreal yesterday at the Rosedale grounds attracted about 5000 spectators. Great interest centred in the game owing to the rivalry between the clubs. Montreal won by 4 games to 3 and returned home jubilant.

TORONTO, July 2.—An Irish jaunting-car driver, who, over zealous to get a customer, told him that a distance of ten miles was only five, on being told that Irish miles were very long, replied: "Yes, your honor, the roads aren't very good, so we like to give good measure."

Such was the way that Dr. McGlynn opened his very interesting and instructive lecture on "The Destiny of the English-speaking Races" at Long Branch yesterday afternoon.

The English people, he said, are neither Teutonic nor Celtic. They are a peculiar people, are a blending of both, and their language, partly Teutonic and partly Celtic, is peculiarly adapted for the universal language. As a matter of fact, one of the Grimm brothers, the famous philologists urged, upon the German Government to adopt English as the official language, and at the present time a similar proposition is being seriously considered by the statesmen of Japan. This fact gives England a very great prominence.

Then the date of their increase was so large that unless some great calamity at cannot now be thought of, overtakes them the English must ere very long dominate the world, even now they occupy enormous tracts of territory in the most fruitful portions of the world.

The Doctor spoke of the moral influence, the commercial prominence and the great achievements, particularly on postal railway and telegraph services, of the English-speaking race, and made rather an amusing allusion to sugar-refining and sugar-eating as one of the unfailing proofs of a civilized race. The average Englishman eats about his own weight of sugar each year. The ordinary Russian hardly knows what it is.

Another great strength of the English-speaking race is that they are a peace-loving people. The United States, England and her colonies support only small standing armies, but the other great nations are impoverished in money and deprived of the services of the flower of their youth by the large military forces that they are compelled to keep up.

Dr. McGlynn declared that the English-speaking people are to be the people of the world, and concluded by urging on all to forget their petty differences and dwell upon and magnify everything that is common to all.

Yesterday morning as the Hamilton 8.15 a.m. express was steaming into the Union depot, one of the male passengers made a jump for the platform. He missed his footing and fell, rolling between the wheels of the coach. The colored porter of the Pullman was standing handy and succeeded in dragging the man from what appeared instant death.

Miss Daisy Boyd, Mrs. Von Schultz of Montreal and Miss Middleton were driving in King street west yesterday afternoon, when, in turning round short, the vehicle upset. Mrs. Von Schultz and Miss Boyd were picked up unconscious, the former being badly cut about the face. Miss Middleton escaped with a severe shaking. The injured ladies were conveyed to Miss Boyd's residence, 57 Peter-street.

A boy named Alfred Hackett while out bathing on the bay with two of his companions about 6 o'clock last night tried to sail the boat by means of an umbrella. The wind got the better of him and overboard he went. His two companions rescued him, minus the umbrella.

A Deliberate Crime

PITTSBURG, July 1. Joe Costello was arrested last night for drowning an Italian boy named Constantine Damara at Sloop's Ferry, Ohio River, yesterday. The boy was in swimming with some Americans, who began ducking the little Italian, who could not swim. Costello, who was on the bank, yelled: "Drown the blanked Italian." Costello then entered the water and after repeatedly ducking the struggling boy deliberately drowned him.

GYPSY OUTLAWS.

A Bad Gang Said to Be Hanging Around Burlington.

BURLINGTON, July 1.—An organized gang of desperadoes have succeeded in terrifying the women and children of this section by their systematic outrages, and the greatest alarm prevails in the once quiet households. For a month no moveable property has been safe after night.

Palermo was visited by the gang, but while there the outlaws became very bold and committed their depredations in broad daylight, so that a vigilance committee was formed, and about 20 men visited the camp where the gang held out. They were met with shotguns and retired. After arming themselves the villagers returned but the camp was deserted. They have since located in the Fothergill bush, about a mile from this village, and for several days have made the lives of the housewives almost unbearable by their raids for provisions and valuables. Chief Constable Henderson has taken the case in hand, and will either capture or kill the thieves before he quits the game. He made a descent upon their camp last night but none of them could be seen. It is thought that the camp numbers all told about a dozen men.

AN ANGRY HUSBAND.

He Shoots at a Man Who Was Attentive to His Wife.

QUEBEC, July 1.—Dufferin Terrace, the favorite lounging resort of an evening of the youth and beauty of Quebec, was the scene of a shooting affray last night between two well known society men. Captain Kane, an ex-officer of the British army, for nearly a year has been much displeased at the attentions paid to his wife by C. P. Storey, a young Englishman holding a good position here. The two came to blows on board the steamer Vancouver when the ship arrived in port last fall, after her terrible experience at sea, when her deck-houses and bridge were carried away and her captain and quartermaster were washed overboard. They were separated by Montreal friends, but Captain Kane vowed vengeance and Storey finally had him bound over to keep the peace for six months. The term expired on May 22, and since then Kane has shown himself hostile, losing no opportunity to insult Storey. In the meantime Mrs. Kane had instituted an action for separation, which is still pending in the courts.

Hearing that Kane was again threatening his life Storey determined to carry a revolver. Last night while promenading on the street between the Governor's Garden and Dufferin Terrace he passed Kane several times and finally Kane struck at him with a walking stick, but missed his blow and the stick flew into the middle of the street. Then Kane drew a revolver and fired. The bullet flew wide and Storey turned and ran Immediately there was a panic and men and women rushed to and fro seeking shelter behind trees and benches. Kane ran after Storey and fired the second shot and Storey in desperation faced around and drawing his revolver, shouted: "I can shoot, too." With this he fired a shot, whereupon Kane turned and ran, pursued by a cavalryman, but finally got away. Although three shots were fired in such a crowded place nobody appears to have been injured.

Big Day at Guelph.

GUELPH, July 1.—Dominion Day was celebrated right loyally in the Royal City. All day yesterday the citizens and merchants were busy decorating their residences, stores and streets. At 9.30 this morning the First Brigade of Field Artillery fired a salute of 21 guns. Then followed the reception of visitors by the different bands and societies. At 11 o'clock a monster trades' procession paraded the streets. Every trade and profession in the city was well represented. At the Exhibition Park in the afternoon the various games, races, etc., afforded amusement for the multitude of spectators present. The tug-of-war, 8 men, between English, Irish, Scotch and German, was won by the Irishmen. The mile and half-mile bicycle races were won by Mitchell of Guelph. The day was concluded by a grand fireworks display and band concert by the bands in the Exhibition Park.

Poisoning Cattle

HAMILTON, July 1.—About three weeks ago Mr. Allan Young of Mount Hope lost a valuable colt; one week later two good cows and a valuable ram died; last week a first-class heifer was found dead, and last night a splendid brood mare. There is no doubt the animals were all poisoned. Mr. Young has sent the stomach of the heifer to Toronto for examination by an expert chemist. Mr. Young is highly respected in the neighborhood and does not know of a single enemy.

The Newfoundland Bill Completed.

LONDON, July 1.—Sir William Whiteway and William Harvey of the Newfoundland delegation have completed their bill and will depart for home next week. The bill provides for the creation of a special court to try all questions of treaty rights. England appoints the members of the court, who are to reside, some on shore and the others on English warships cruising on the coast, this to meet the objections of the French local courts. The remainder of the bill deals with the enforcement of awards.

A Big Suit for Libel.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The officers of the New York Life Insurance Company have instructed their counsel, William B. Hornblower, to commence suit at once against the editors, publishers and proprietors of The New York Times for $1,000,000 damages for libel, and have retained as associate counsel Messrs. Joseph H. Choate, Fred R. Conder and Henry Beeckan.

Mr Gladstone's Health

LONDON, July 1.—Herbert Gladstone, speaking in London this evening, said influenza first attacked his father's throat, and his recovery from that attack by exposure during an oration brought on a bronchial affection. He was happy to say his father was now improving rapidly and there was no cause for alarm. The Queen and the Prince of Wales sent telegrams to-day inquiring as to Mr. Gladstone's health.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE FIRST OF JULY WAS QUIET IN THE HOUSE.

Many Ontario Members Were at Home And Others Were Taking in the Big Sporting Events—Sir Richard Scores a Joke on Mr. Cockburn.

OTTAWA, July 1.—The House met this afternoon, but the attendance was very thin, most of the members who were in town attending the different sporting events of Dominion Day. It was private members' day. After a few questions had been answered and a few motions for returns carried Mr. Denison moved that the House adjourn on the ground that it should set an example to the rest of the Dominion, especially to the employers of labor. The motion to adjourn was defeated by a vote of 50 yeas to 72 nays.

In reply to Mr. McMullen, Sir John Thompson said that the counsel engaged by the Government in connection with the Tarte charges now under investigation by the Committee on Privileges and Elections were: Messrs. Osler of Toronto and Henry of Halifax. He was unable to give the amount of remuneration, and suggested that that part of the question should stand.

Mr. Mulock asked: Did the Minister of Justice or Hon. Mr. Abbott, after the death of Sir John Macdonald, advise or suggest to His Excellency the Governor-General that Sir Charles Tupper be asked to form a government?

Sir John Thompson said: "I think that is a question we ought not to answer."

Mr. Cockburn on the resumption of the debate concerning the proposed P.E.I. tunnel drew attention to an attack which had been made upon him by The Charlottetown Examiner. In its Ottawa correspondence that paper in speaking of the former debate on the same subject referred to Mr. Cockburn as "This session the buffoon of the House," as "having had more than he could carry on this particular occasion." Mr. Cockburn appealed to the Speaker as the guardian and custodian of the liberties of the House to say whether members of the House could be attacked or blackguarded in this way.

Some discussion having arisen as to the politics of the paper Sir Richard Cartwright, amidst roars of laughter, showed from the public accounts that The Examiner last year received $131.70 for advertising and $1587.50 for printing, and suggested that the paper could be brought to task by the Government stopping the supplies.

Mr. Foster said that no pledge had ever been given to build the tunnel and maintained that the Dominion had done all it agreed to do when the province entered Confederation to keep up communication with it. If further data were required to form a definite estimate of the cost of the tunnel the Government was prepared to assist in obtaining that information. The cost of the tunnel would be large and would have to be borne to a great extent by the Dominion. The value of the Island produce would be greatly increased by the tunnel, and it would only be fair that a toll should be charged on produce going through it. If after balancing the receipts and the probable cost it was found that the cost was still very heavy, he was willing to say that the Dominion out of generosity to a smaller province would be justified in giving the balance required to carry out the work. Mr. Davis's motion for correspondence in connection with the tunnel was then carried.

Sir Hector Langevin has given notice that he will move on Friday that Government orders have precedence on Wednesdays for the remainder of the session. This means that there will be only one day left for private members, and that the session will be made so much shorter.

Hon. Oliver Mowat had a long conference today with Sir John Thompson on questions in dispute between the Dominion and the Province of Ontario.

Coaxing Italy

LONDON, July 1.—The News' Berlin despatch says it is rumored the German Government has promised to influence German financiers to assist Italy in her financial difficulties as an inducement for her to adhere to the Dreibund. The formal adherence of England is out of the question, but her tacit support is recognized as extremely valuable, as in the event of war in Europe the central powers would be dependent on the British colonies and America for corn and meat, the fleets of the Dreibund being too small to cope with the allied fleets of France and Russia. The Post's Berlin correspondent says: "The new alliance is based upon three treaties, the new one being between Austria and Italy. It is probable the German-Italian treaty will be published, but the Austro-Italian treaty will remain secret. It is reported the latter does not take the form of a regular treaty, being only established by a diplomatic interchange of views.

Reenters the Open Door.

WINDSOR, July 1.—Sydney B. King of Buffalo, father of one of the girls arrested Sunday in Essex, arrived in Windsor yesterday. He says the girl had a splendid home and he could in no way account for her actions. She left home on an errand, and although he made every effort to find her, it was unavailing until he got word of her arrest in Detroit. He left with his wayward daughter for home last night. The Beard girl is no doubt to blame for the King girl leaving the Open Door Society. She claims Wyandotte as her home and says she is an orphan.

A Warning to All.

MITCHELL, July 1.—Mr. T. E. Millar, milk inspector appointed by the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association, discovered two cases of milk watering among patrons of Pomeroy's factory in Logan last week. The defendants, James Keelan and Thomas Jordan, were brought before Mr. Flagg, J.P., at this place and fined $5 and costs each. The inspector tested the milk and found fifteen per cent. of water in one sample and twenty-one per cent. in the other.

Protection is Ahead.

SYDNEY, July 1.—Complete returns for the election for New South Wales show 57 Opposition to 51 supporters of the Ministry, 26 labor, 3 Independent. Grouped according to tariff policy, 75 for protection and 26 for free trade.

Struck by an Engine.

NAPANEE, July 1.—An aged man named Andrew Donovan of Roblin was struck to-day by a light engine while walking on the track near the G.T.R. depot, and is not expected to live through the night.

Another Drowning.

RIGAUD, Que., July 1.—A party of 31 Moutrealers arrived here yesterday noon to camp on Jones Island. About 5 o'clock last evening one of their number, a young man of 17 years of age named Whitney Lowden, attempted to swim across the channel on the north side of the island, where there is from 50 to 75 feet of water, and was drowned. The river has been dragged without finding the body.

The Old Emperor Did So

LONDON, July 1.—The Paris correspondent of The Times relates a conversation he had recently with Count von Munster, the German Ambassador to France who stated that the retirement of Prince Bismarck was determined upon by Emperor William the First, and that the old Emperor also selected his successor, Gen. von Caprivi.

Von Muenster's Revelation Confirmed.

BERLIN, July 1.—The Vossische Zeitung, commenting on The London Times' story of the fall of Prince Bismarck, refrains from expressing an opinion until Count von Muenster has been further heard from. But The Zeitung asserts that Emperor William I. once told some intimate friends that it required all his firmness of will to keep Prince Bismarck within the bounds of reason.

FOR THE QUEEN'S CUP

THE ROYAL CANADIAN YACHT CLUB'S RACE.

The Vessels Fairly Flew and the Vedra Won But Whitewings Was Only Two Seconds Behind in a Race That Lasted Six Hours.

TORONTO, July 2.—The first annual race for the Queen's Cup was sailed yesterday under the auspices of the R.C.Y.C. here. The entries were Oriole Vreda, White Wings, Verve and Aileen. The wind at the start was light from the southwest and accompanied by rain, which, however, soon cleared off. The course was a triangular one, starting from the Exhibition wharf, thence to a buoy off Mimico Point, thence to a buoy in the lake and in again to exhibition buoy twice round. The Oriole Aileen and White Wings towed to the starting buoy, while the Vreda and Verve (Hamilton) trusted to their sails; this proved disastrous to the Hamilton cutter, for she started over 12 minutes late.

The boats crossed the line in the following order: White Wings, Vreda, Oriole, Aileen Verve. This order was maintained for a few miles, but gradually the Oriole crept ahead and rounded the Mimico buoy first by a few seconds with the White Wings second, Vreda third and Verve fourth. The last boat had almost gained the time which she had lost in her unfortunately late start and was sailing a remarkable race, the Aileen was apparently out of it from the first, and although she sailed a persistent and plucky race was never able to make herself felt by the leaders. The White Wings on the run out set her balloon jib and managed to gain on the Oriole and lead the fleet round the lake buoy, closely followed by Vreda. The wind, which had been up to this time very light from the southwest, now veered round to the southeast and commenced to freshen. The Vreda, which all through the race was sailing nip and tuck with the White Wings, now commenced to pick up and she pulled ahead sufficiently to round the exhibition buoy several lengths in front of the Cuthbert sloop. The Oriole, for which the wind proved rather light, was third and the Verve fourth. Spinnakers were now set and the yachts drifted westward. The order was very slightly changed until Mimico Point was reached, and then the White Wings pulled herself into the lead and showed the fleet the way round the buoy. On the leg out the Vreda worked to weather of the fleet, but coming about too soon she had to squeeze so close that the Cuthbert sloop pulled the lead from her and went round the lake buoys with a lead of 300 yards. The Oriole followed, and as the wind increased she commenced to overhaul the leaders; these three were now so close that a "gallery" finish was expected. Luck, however, which up to this time had favored the White Wings, now suddenly deserted her, for when almost abreast of the Vreda, with a startling crack her topmast carried away and she was left with her lower canvas to finish the race. She hung to it, however, and succeeded in finishing 2 minutes and 50 seconds behind the Vreda, thus losing the cup by the narrow margin of two seconds. The Verve was third and the others unplaced. The following is a summary of the time:

Yacht.	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed time.	Corrected time.
Oriole	10.00	4.12.25	6.12.25	6.12.25
Vreda	10.00	4.14.30	6.14.30	5.57.07
White Wings	10.00	4.17.30	6.17.30	5.57.03
Verve	10.00	4.26.12	6.26.12	6.05.57
Aileen	10.00	4.29.40	6.29.40	6.33.18

A Sword Swallower's Fate.

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Patrick Mulroney, a juggler and sword swallower who has been filling a week's engagement at an amusement hall here, injured himself fatally Sunday during his performance. Instead of using the long, slender sword he was accustomed to, Mulroney used in his act one of the musician's violin bows. Twice he tried to swallow the bow and failed each time on account of the intense pain caused by inserting it in his throat. Presently he began vomiting blood. He continued to suffer paroxysms of retching, losing at each spasm much blood until 5 o'clock yesterday morning, when he died.

The Prince is Popular.

LONDON, July 1.—As evidence of the popularity of the Prince of Wales it may be stated that the levee held by him was one of the most brilliant ever held in Queen Victoria's reign, and was attended by more than the usual number of better class of the nobility. The Prince appeared in the best of spirits, and had evidently made up his mind to be more democratic in the future. He smiled in his winning way, and there was an utter absence of the stolid hauteur which the Prince used to wear to such effect.

He Was Rebuked.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 1.—Governor O'Brien has received a severe rebuke from the Imperial Government for assenting to the order in council of the Newfoundland Government refusing bait to Canadian as well as French fishermen and giving a monopoly of that commodity to American fishermen. Governor O'Brien is directed to revoke his assent to the order, and hereafter licenses are to be issued to Canadians upon the same terms as those given to American fishermen.

A Royal Kicker.

LONDON, July 1.—Truth, referring to Emperor William's coming visit, says: "The bothe ration is unprecedented since the time of the Queen's marriage. The Kaiser is a hundred times more exacting and unreasonable than the Emperor Nicholas, who caused such trouble then."

Think This Over.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 1.—An officer of the Health Department claims to have discovered that the flesh of broken down, emaciated and diseased horses is being made into sausage meat and sold in the poorer quarters of the city. An investigation will be made.

The Victim is Dead.

WIARTON, July 1.—Abercrombie, the victim of the shooting case at Oliphant, died last night. For a time after the amputation he was doing well and the doctor thought he would soon be in health, but yesterday he took a chill and then fever and he never rallied. Cook will now be tried for manslaughter.

Smuggled Chinamen Captured.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 1.—The custom house officials have seized the sloop Flora of Seattle loaded with Chinamen preparing to be smuggled across the straits. A fine of $400 was imposed.

The Count Denies It.

LONDON, July 2.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says Count von Muenster denies the report that the late Emperor William had ever intended to dismiss Prince Bismarck.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92

Increase over 1889	75.649 05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143.961 65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64 824 07

A SURPRISE!

When the readers of the Examiner saw our announcement a few evenings since that we were going to sell 30c. Dress Goods for a short time at 12½c., they hardly thought it could be so.

However they came, they saw, they bought. Piece after piece disappeared from our counters as if by magic.

No wonder high priced stores find it hard to do business. Rowse's is the busy store, for, as a lady said the other day "I never come into your store except you are very busy." We have no idle time.

We are either buying or selling—always ready to buy bargains and always ready to offer them to the public.

Listen! Since our last intimation we have purchased another specially low line of Dress Goods to be sold at 10c., 12½c. and 15c. just what you have been accustomed to pay 20c., 25c. and 30c. for.

To-day we show Lace Mitts, Silk Gloves, New Hosiery, Corsets and Laces at Bargain Prices.

MUSIC, MIND AND MUSCLE.

A Splendid Entertainment by School Girls and Boys.

A Large Audience at the Market Hall—A Fine Programme Presented—Mental, Musical and Physical Proficiency Demonstrated—Endorsed by High Authorities.

The past term of the high and public schools in Peterborough must have been most successful, if, as there is full reason for believing, the other studies were as faithfully and diligently taught, and as well appropriated and mastered, as Tuesday evening's entertainment indicated had been the case with the musical and physical culture branches of the curriculum. As the programme prefaced this bill of fare was fully met, "Grand Closing Entertainment by the Pupils of the Public School and Collegiate Institute, on Tuesday, June 30 h, 1891, in the New Market Hall, at 8 o'clock, under the Auspices of the Board of Education, Mr. W. H. Wrighton, Chairman," For some reason Mr. Wrighton was not present, but the indefatigable Mr. Dumble was there, and filled the position of master of ceremonies, with unusual grace, even for him, whose enthusiasm in all forms of intellectual and physical culture and æsthetic progress is well known.

The new market hall had been prepared and seated for the occasion, and the seating accommodation was pretty largely appropriated, there being a large attendance of the parents and friends of the children, and of the clergy, professional men, and other friends to education and the liberal arts.

An immense platform had been erected at the north end of the hall, and the better half of this was filled with rising tiers of seats, which were a mass of bright, young humanity, over 50 children occupying the seats, and clad, as to the girls, who seemed to predominate, in white. This band constituted the chorus, and very beautifully, correctly and, one might almost add, artistically, they sang under the baton of Mr. Ketcham, teacher of vocal music in the high and public schools.

It will not be necessary to enter into the details of the programme presented, as it is printed below. The and with music it closed. While primarily the singing was intended to show the value and results of the teaching imparted in the musical department, it also furnished a very pleasing entertainment. The singing was excellent, and showed that the children had not only had excellent musical training, but that they had nobly responded to it. The time and harmony not only were good, but the expression and shading were also excellent. However, the best exhibition of the value of the singing instruction was the sight singing from manual signs, the teachers' five fingers being made to represent the staff, and the pupils promptly and correctly responding to the notes pointed, combined in the form of a simple melody.

The most important feature of the programme was, perhaps, the exhibition by the physical culture classes of Sergt.-Major Rundle, sound physique underlying and being indispensible to the successful attainment and practice of every other accomplishment. The company drill by the boys, the calisthenics by the girls and boys, the fancy marching by the girls and the wand and dumb bell exercises by the belles, who were not dumb, were most capitally done, and with a vim and energy which showed their hearts were in the work. No person with half an eye but could see that these exercises, systematically and regularly practiced as they are in the schools, from childhood to youthhood, must have a wonderful effect in building up, toning, strengthening and giving free and graceful carriage to the body, and counteracting the unhealthy tendencies of close application to books and study.

During the intermission, between the first and second parts of the programme, Mr. Dumble introduced a few remarks to show how the motto "a sound mind in a sound body was illustrated by the physical exercises which had been introduced that evening, and every person present must see in them a powerful corrective of the bad results of leaning over desks, and how they prevented evil results from too close application. The child could learn far better if intervals of these delightful exercises were interspersed with his studies. Besides they gave graceful carriage and taught the pupils methodical habits. In the school the rich and poor share these benefits without distinction. As to the singing, that exercise developed the chest and voice and refined the better part of the children's nature. All must see that money spent for these purposes was money well spent. He hoped the exercises of to-night of the prejudices against the expenditure of public money for such purposes. It would be observed that the music was taught the children from the beginning—from the foundation. A child who went through the schools, would at fourteen or fifteen have a pretty thorough vocal musical education.

At the close of the programme Mr. Dumble invited the clergymen of the town to the platform to give some expression of their opinion and it is to be noted that all without exception, as liberal minded and cultured man would be expected to do, endorsed these features of school work very heartily.

Rev. E. F. TORRANCE, Presbyterian, felt certain that every intelligent ratepayer would recognize the benefits to the children of the physical and musical training of which samples had been seen. He hoped that Peterborough, so progressive in every other respect, would in this matter take no retrograde step.

Rev. J. C. DAVIDSON, Church of England, said he was very grateful to the school board for an invitation to be present, to enjoy the great treat the programme of the evening had furnished. The exhibition they had seen showed how closely related were the development of the mind and the healthy elastic condition of the body. We needed that development of mind and body and our highest natures should progress together. The evening had been a most successful one and he congratulated all concerned in it most heartily.

Rev. Geo. EDWARDS, Methodist, could not understand how any objection could be made on the score of expense to, these exercises. He valued them very highly and would be very sorry on account of the injury that would thereby be done to the schools, to see them dropped.

Rev. Mr. LOCKE had been intimately connected with the schools in Toronto, where physical and musical adjuncts were a part of the school system, and he was glad to see that Peterborough was following so good an example, and the exercises seen to-night would compare most favourably with anything he had seen in Toronto. He congratulated the school board, the teachers, instructors and pupils upon the high degree of proficiency reached.

Rev. J. W. MCCLEARY, Church of England, was highly gratified with the evening's entertainment, which must have the effect of encouraging the pupils and showing parents what excellent work was done in the schools. All should heartily endorse the action of the school board in their adoption of a policy of encouraging physical culture and music.

MR. DUMBLE, at the conclusion of these clerical comments, added a few remarks. He said we had a Collegiate Institute in Peterborough but no Collegiate Institute building. They had splendid and elegant new High School buildings in Hastings, Napanee, Bowmanville, Lindsay, and other one-horse towns, but Peterborough, the brightest town in the Dominion, had no building for a High School. (Cheers.) They were GREATLY HAMPERED FOR LACK OF ROOM.

The results, as seen this evening, which elicited so much praise, had been achieved under difficulties—lack of room. They were forced to put pupils in cellars. Two underground rooms were used which were hardly fit for a cow house. He pointed to the fine buildings erected by small towns and hoped, amidst cheers, that Peterborough would not, in the matter of school buildings, disgrace her record of progress and advancement.

The programme could not be carried out in its entirety and especially is this to be regretted in Sergt-Major Rundle's department. The best drilled classes and those capable of showing what he could do were not present. The Collegiate Institute whose classes have longest been under his training, closed some days before the entertainment and the pupils became dispersed some going home etc., so that the work of the pupils that had been longest under his hands could not be shown.

The recitations at this entertainment could only be heard by a few, the acoustics of the hall being wretched. Very few could hear and enjoy Master John Van Every's clever original essay on "Longfellow," whose works were among the literature studied this term. This is particularly unfortunate as those who sat near him pronounce it a most clever composition—as Mr. Dumble said a remarkable essay for a boy of his age—Master Van Every is only 15 years of age and is writing for matriculation at the Toronto University. This fact taken together with the essay, showed what solo work was being done by the Institute. Rev. Mr. Edwards in his remarks at the close of the entertainment, very highly praised the essay—he had never heard so clever an essay written by a lad of that age. It would be an honour to any pupil of any school.

The Way to Dispel Gloom, and How to be Happy.

We are always refreshed and feel happier by the presence of cheerful people; why not make earnest efforts to confer that pleasure on others? There are many who now look gloomy, and whose life and conversation throws a shadow and cloud over joy and happiness. In the majority of cases a close examination will at once convince that the gloomy in conversation, life and action, suffer more or less from nervous debility, irritableness, moroseness, melancholia, mental depression, or dyspepsia. Any one of these ailments is enough to mar and destroy a happy and joyous disposition. Reader, if you are one of such victims, the fault is your own if you do not effect a change.

Your effectual remedy is Paine's Celery Compound; its work is magical in cases like yours. It dispels all nervous feelings; it it induces sweet rest, and a flow of happy spirits; it lifts all mental depression, and gives a sound and harmonious action to the organs, and great musculatory power and vigor. You can be happy and make others around you happy. Keep the body, nerves and brain in healthy action with Paine's Celery Compound, and the world will be all the better for your life, and the happiness you can spread around.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

STARTLING REPORT OF THE FATE OF THE CRAMPEL EXPEDITION.

They are Said to Have Been Killed and Eaten by Central African Natives—When Last Heard From Crampel was Crossing the Great Unknown North of the Mobangi River—The Mission Confided to Him—His Past Services as an Explorer.

A recent telegram from Paris said: The natives of Matonga have killed and eaten the French expedition from Loango under the command of Mr. Crampel.

About a year ago a private letter received from Loango, on the west coast of Africa, north of the Congo, said that Paul Crampel, the French explorer, had arrived at Loango. He would tell no one the purpose of his expedition. It was evident that he intended to make a long journey inland, for he had a large supply of trade goods and was enlisting many porters. It became known later that Crampel's second expedition to Africa was for the purpose of traveling from the great northern bend of the Mobangi to Lake Tchad, making treaties with chiefs on the way to bring their countries under French protection. In fact, the French has on foot the large scheme of attaching to their other territories in Africa one of the great regions still unknown, and they hope to penetrate even to the shores of Lake Tchad.

Crampel left Brazzaville at Stanley Falls for the Mobangi, on Aug. 15, last year. News had just come that the commander at Bangui, the French post on the Mobangi, near 4 degrees north latitude, had been killed with his garrison and eaten by cannibals. Crampel was charged first to reestablish the French post and punish the natives who had massacred the garrison. Crampel severely punished the cannibals. Then he established another French post as his base of operations, on a little tributary on the northern bank of the Mobangi, and explored the surrounding regions. He ascended two or three tributaries of the Mobangi, and finally started for the great unknown early in December. In a letter dated on the last day of December he expressed the hope of reaching Baghirmi, one of the large Mohammedan States in the Soudan, in three or four months. He had with him three or four European officers, about 300 native carriers, a small force of Senegalese soldiers, and a large supply of trade goods. A letter received from Crampel dated early in January announced that he had just crossed the country of the Dapuas and was upon the point of coming in contact with the people of Baghirmi. A letter from a member of his party received after Crampel's last letter gave little additional information except that the party were making steady progress north and all were well. The letters were despatched by messengers to the post Crampel had established on the Mobangi and were sent down the river.

Crampel had hardly left the Mobangi before he came among people whose manufactures were such as Nachtigal described among the natives of the Soudan. One of the men in Crampel's party had great success and influence among the natives on account of his tattoo marks, which resembled those among the Haussa, a famous people living in the northern part of the Soudan. These and other facts proved the existence of relations between the people of the upper Mobangi basin and the tribes to the far north. He found also asses and cattle used as beasts of burden, and guns like those in southern Algeria. He saw the curious structures made of bark and built in the limbs of trees. These structures were seen by Gronfell further south, and were described by Nachtigal upon his visit to the southern regions of the Soudan. The buildings are connected with the ground by ladders made of vines, and the old men of the villages, provided with an abundance of poisoned arrows, and of wooden javelins whose points are hardened by fire, constantly occupy these lofty posts of observation and sound an alarm by trumpet or drum at the first appearance of strangers. Upon the first alarm, the women disappear in the forest, bent nearly double with the weight of children upon their backs, while the men spring behind the palisades that surround their villages and are ready to defend their homes.

We have no knowledge of the Matonga natives who are said to have killed and eaten the Crampel expedition. If the news is correct the tragedy must have occurred somewhere near the border of Baghirmi. Disaster to the expedition will be regarded by the French as a great misfortune. They had depended upon Crampel to see that France was not left behind in the exciting race for Lake Tchad, in which the Germans and English are also engaged. They fully expected that Crampel would be able to add a large domain to French territory.

In order to put into immediate effect the treaties he might secure, an expedition was secretly sent out from France early this year to follow in Crampel's footsteps. The Committee of French Africa had the enterprise in hand. It was put in charge of five white men, who secured at St. Louis, Senegal, the soldiers they required, and at Loango enlisted a large force of porters. It was not till then that the purposes of the expedition were known. By this time it has probably reached Crampel's base of operations on the Mobangi, if it has not already started along his path toward Lake Tchad. Its equipment in all respects was larger than that of the pioneer on this route. The expedition was instructed to strengthen all agreements he had made with the natives, to establish a number of trading posts among them, to buy their ivory and other goods which would bear transport to the sea, to take handsome presents to the chiefs, and to leave little detachments of the Senegalese military at the posts for the purpose of insuring French supremacy. It is probable that this expedition, if Crampel is dead, will endeavor to carry out his work. It is splendidly armed and by the superiority of its weapons could probably master any ordinary force it might meet. It was instructed to resort to arms only as a last expedient, but if possible to make its way peacefully through the country.

Crampel spent nearly two years exploring the little known forest regions of the French Congo. He added a great deal to our knowledge of the cannibal Fan, peoples of whom until within a few years ago we knew little except in the writings of Du Chaillu. It was he who over two years ago returned to France with a little black girl who had been given to him by a chief who never before had seen a white man. The child was put at school in France and proved to be a bright and studious little person. Crampel did not wish to have his expedition burdened with this maiden, but the chief was bent upon regarding it as an unfriendly act if he declined to take her along. The chief said he was astonished at the inhospitality of other chiefs, who had not presented the explorer with any of their women, and he intended to show that he was more worthy the friendship of the white people. This 9-year-old girl, therefore, was proof of his friendly feeling.

Only Frenchmen among Europeans have fallen prey to the cannibals of the Congo. The only previous victim was Mr. Musy of the Baugui post. The Mobangi River is one of the greatest centres of cannibalism in the Congo basin. Van Gele and other writers have told of seeing war parties start out for no other purpose than to procure captives to eat. Along this extremely populous river it is customary for the women, who are the only agriculturists, to till the fields, with a considerable force of warriors guarding them against forays of neighboring cannibal tribes. It is evident that the Congo cannibals extend a very considerable distance north of the Monbangi though they were not observed by Nachtigal in his journey through the southern part of the Shari basin. In Crampel France loses one of her most successful explorers. He was not only brave and tactful, but he had good scientific acquirements, and he was a skilful artist, and was thus able to adorn his stories with his own pencil.

How it Will End.

QUEBEC, June 29.—Another attempt has been made at a meeting of representatives of the boot and shoe trade to arrive at an amicable settlement of the difficulty. The lasters insist, however, upon adhering to their union and their rules, and the manufacturers are now nearly all importing machines which will enable them to dispense with lasters, and this will shortly, therefore, put an end to the difficulty so far as the factories are concerned.

Keep Up the Fight.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A passenger on the steamer Adirondack from West Indian ports reports that it is rumored Legitime, Hippolyte's rival for the presidency of Hayti, left San Domingo and landed on Turk's Island on the 22nd inst. with 20 followers. It is supposed he intends to make a descent upon Hayti with the hope of stirring up another rebellion.

Assaulted the Chinamen.

HAMILTON, June 29.—Wah Sing and two other Chinamen, who run a laundry at 144 King-street east, were roughly handled Saturday night by three roughs, who broke into the premises. They trounced the terrified celestials and upset the stove, so that the floor took fire. The brigade was called out, but the flames were soon subdued. Wah Sing could give no clue as to his assailants.

Getting a Collection of Wives.

BELLEVILLE, June 29.—William Hubble, alias W. Elliott, has been arrested at Tweed on a charge of bigamy. It is alleged that the prisoner, who was on April 20 married to Annie Norris of Hungerford under the name of W. Elliott, has a wife at Havelock.

The Witty Irishman,

when told by a doctor that his liver was almost gone, said, "Faith, it's glad I am, it's allers bothered me!"

The liver, more than any other organ, is the index of the body. With a morbid liver the whole system is out of gear. Most powerful for the restoration of this "citadel of health," is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Its action is direct, prompt, effectual. Recommended by eminent physicians, it has gained a universal reputation as the "Great Liver Regulator." Correct the liver and you can cure many ills. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is warranted in all cases of liver disease and blood disorders to benefit or cure, or money promptly and cheerfully returned. s

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete Body Battery. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
DO NOT class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

OUR 24th DOMINION DAY.

Loyally and Duly, if Damply, Celebrated.

Picnics and Excursions by Rail and Water—The Day in Town—The St. Joseph's Hospital Social.

The loyal and patriotic citizens of Peterborough celebrated the 24th anniversary of the Dominion's Natal Day with becoming fervour. To the vast body of the people the day breaking amidst the teeming and welcome showers was the grandest form of celebration. There was a farmers' picnic everywhere. But the rain stopping about noon, permitted some enjoyment in town, in addition to the outings as noted below:—

The Children's Holiday.

St. John's Sunday School Excursion and Picnic.

In spite of the rain about seven carloads of excursionists went to Chemong Park yesterday by train and boat, one detachment leaving town at 8.30 a.m. and another at 10.30. As the excursionists arrived at the park by boat the rain was pouring down merrily, but all got shelter in the new pavilion and the hotel. Dinner was served to the youngsters at the pavilion, and then the rain ceased. The afternoon was enjoyably spent, especially by the youngsters, who entered into the sports and games with great zest. There was an informal little concert in the pavilion, closing with "God Save the Queen." After a fine few hours of enjoyment the excursion party and picnickers started for home, one wing at five o'clock and the other at eight. Notwithstanding the damp weather, the annual excursion and picnic of St. John's was a great success.

The Cricket Match.

The Toronto Visitors Win from the Home Team.

At ten o'clock in the morning there never was a more unpromising lookout for cricket, but the boys waited patiently for the clouds to roll by, and a very pleasant game was played between the home team and East Toronto, there being time only for one innings. The visiting team was short and it was arranged to play nine men a side. Peterborough went first to bat and was retired for the modest total of 67, to which J. H. Burnham contributed 28, T. H. Dumble 10, and Crofton 11, the only double figures. The visitors had better luck, their innings closing for 98 runs, giving them the victory by 31. Following are the scores:—

The trundling was done for the home team by Ray, Montgomery and Stocker, the latter doing some good work, clean bowling five out of the eight, and of the remaining three, two being caught off his delivery.

St. Joseph's Hospital Picnic.

Fighting Against the Elements.

On account of the blessed rain that kept the morning hours busy, the annual picnic proper was merged into a social In the afternoon a large number gathered at the beautiful grounds of the hospital, which the rain had freshened wonderfully and which had been prepared for the picnic that would have been held, and which promised to be the most successful of the series (and that is saying a good deal.) In addition to the thousands from town and the country, which the rain kept away, there would have been, with fair weather, a large train load from Lindsay. But it is expected that all these and many more will be at the St. Joseph's Hospital picnic proper, which will be held on Peterborough's coming Civic Holiday.

The social gathering at the Hospital was productive of a great deal of enjoyment. The clergy was represented by Rt.-Rev. Bishop O'Connor, the Cathedral clergy—Rev. Father Rudkins, Rev. Father Dube and Rev. Father Scollard; Rev. Father Conway, Norwood, and Rev. Father Casey, Campbellford.

There was various forms of amusements, swings, merry-go-rounds, refreshment booths, shooting galleries, the young man's horror, etc. One most interesting feature was "Scenes in Jerusalem," a tested exhibition of the handiwork of Mr. F. Bagley. It was a representation, in miniature, of the several scenes in the life of our Lord—the manger in Bethlehem, the ass that was used in the flight into Egypt, and that used in the triumphal entry into Jerusalem the last scene in the garden of Gethsemane the judgment hall of Pilate, the winding road to Calvary and the sacred sumuit on which stood the three crosses, table of the last supper and the Mount of Ascension, all very cleverly constructed and showing intimate knowledge of the topography of our Saviour's home. This exhibition was numerously visited and much admired.

SPORTS AND GAMES.

The young folks and their amusements were not forgotten, the dancing platform was liberally patronized, the excellent music of Butcher's orchestra, Mr. James C ughlin being master of ceremonies forming a strong attraction,

The baseball match between the Lock Works team and the Indian River nine was played—a five innings game, the local team winning by a score of four to three as follows:—

The miscellaneous list of sports and games were a chief centre of attraction. They were run off by Messrs. M. C. Collins and Mr. R. W. Muncaster, the latter having a paternal oversight over the juvenile athletes. The following are the results of the several events which were very keenly contested and brought together the most prominent local sports:—

In the evening a promenade concert, held in the market building, as an appendix to the social, was very largely attended, very enjoyable, and attended with very substantial results.

The financial results of the day in connection with the Hospital Social are not yet complete. A summary of the result will be given to-morrow. Considering the weather they were very satisfactory.

The Stony Lake Outing.

Mingled Showers and Sunshine.

The rain interfered somewhat with the excursion of the library committee of the Charlotte street church. There were about 125 excursionists who enjoyed the voyage of the "Golden City," though they suffered somewhat in the beginning of the voyage from the showery weather. The cruise of the lakes was made, about an hour spent at Burleigh, where some splendid fishing was done, and a longer stay at Julian's for dinner. Altogether a very pleasant day was spent, in spite of the stormy beginning of the day. Both passengers and committee are loud in their praise of the courtesy and kindness of Capt. Reynolds, who spared no pains to make the voyage pleasant to his passengers.

The Patriotic Sons of Canada.

A Pleasant Day's Enjoyment at Jubilee Point.

In spite of the rain young Canada had its outing yesterday. Even a pouring rain could not damp the ardour and about one hundred and fifty boarded the palace barge, "Ashburnia," which in tow of the steamers Daisy and Pearl took the excursionists down the river. Upon the barge the pleasure seekers secure from rain enjoyed themselves very delightfully. Prof. Crowe's orchestra accompanied several vocal selections, and furnished excellent music for the dancing which was kept up uninterruptedly till the Point was reached, There the excursionists after the important matter of dinner had been disposed of, spent the time in boating, fishing, etc., many fine fish having been caught. The rain having ceased about 12, the afternoon was very pleasantly passed, and the home journey safely made. Not one minute hardly did the delighted dancers rest but they kept up their enjoyment to the landing at the wharf. In spite of the weather the Sons of Canada excursion was a splendid success, and though the rain spoiled the attendance the boys cleared themselves nicely and had a splendid day's enjoyment to boot. The ladies' watch which went to the holder of a certain ticket was won by Mrs. McAuley, town, her ticket being No. 334. The pleasure enjoyed by the excursionists is largely due to the exertions and efficient management of the committee. Good luck go with the Sons of Canada.

Pale and listless girls and prematurely aged women would soon give place to bright, healthy, rosy females if Dr. Williams Pink Pills were used for the ills to which women are peculiarly liable. Pastimes.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I notice in your last week's issue, under the head of "Pastimes," a suggestion made with regard to the best location for another park. I am glad a discussion on this subject has commenced, as it is of great importance that the locality selected should be the one best suited to the convenience and comforts of those for whom it is designed; and with this in view, I beg to call the attention of the public to a block of twenty acres of land now for sale, situated between King and Charlotte streets and west of Park street. I am sure all will agree that this property will accommodate a greater number of people than any other one available, being easy of access and still sufficiently suburban to escape the noise and bustle of the town. It would occupy too much of your valuable space to enumerate the many other advantages possessed by this portion of land. A little consideration will make them apparent to everyone.

Yours, etc.,
RATEPAYER.

Entrance Examination.

This contest for tickets of admission to the Collegiate Institute began at the Central School buildings this morning. There are 105 candidates—46 from the Public, 27 from the Separate and the remainder from Ashburnham and the county schools.

Cæsar's famous "Veni, vidi, vici,"—I came, I saw, I conquered—might be an appropriate motto for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. We charge nothing for the suggestion. This great blood-purifier conquers wherever it comes, and is now absolutely without equal in the world.

A Sad Death.

The EXAMINER records with great regret the death of Josephine, youngest daughter of the late Rev. O. H. Ellsworth, at the threshold of what but three months ago, seemed a happy life. Miss Ellsworth was for some time a teacher in the public school (Central), and by her amiable disposition and kind demeanour won a wide circle of friends. The funeral takes place from the family residence, Ashburnham, on Friday at 3 o'clock p.m.

As an Emergency Medicine, for sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all remedies, a dose or two generally sufficing to stop ordinary coughs and ease the worst. For the cure of throat and lung disorders, this preparation is unequalled.

Goldwin Smith.

Goldwin Smith is opposed to Sir Charles Tupper in many ways, but doubtless both would agree that no better remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headache, kidney troubles, skin diseases, etc., exists than Burdock Blood Bitters, the best family medicine known. dw

DID THEMSELVES PROUD.

The Peterborough Rangers Spend two Days at Ottawa.

Dominion Day Celebration a Grand Success—Our Regiment Carries off High Honors—A Pleasant Trip for the Battalion—The Visit of the Guards Returned by the Rangers.

Peterborough is proud of her city battalion, and the regiment is proud of its name, the Peterborough Rangers. Never was there a finer body of troops turned out of the town than mustered to the C.P.R. and entrained for Ottawa, and while at the Capital the regiment acquitted itself most creditably. Unanimous praise was awarded the crimson-coated corps from Peterborough by military men and civilians. Their appearance during parade was the signal for loud hand-clapping, and it was always well merited. The Ottawa trip will live green in the memory of the eager boys for a long time to come. It will have the double effect of increasing their efficiency as a well-drilled battalion as well as invigorating the esprit du corps which has maintained the military life in Peterborough, and resulted in producing a regiment of which the Ottawa Journal says:

"The 57th, or Peterborough Rangers, wear the regulation British Infantry scarlet tunic and glengarry, and presents a stalwart serviceable appearance on parade. The battalion contains material of which any commanding officer might be proud, on which he might rely with confidence for giving a good account of itself in the field."

The incidents of the trip to Ottawa were not extraordinary in any way. The volunteers were cheered by the rousing send-off given by the populace of Peterborough, who turned out in hundreds to see the battalion leave. As the train of eight coaches steamed out of the station with its heavy human freight, cheer after cheer was sent up by the crowd, and answered with hearty emphasis by the strong lunged soldiers. The ride, though the run was made with as much rapidity as possible, was, nevertheless, wearisome. There was no sleep to be obtained, and in a variety of ways which may easily be divined. The officers occupied the rear car, and here the fun ran fast and furious. At Madoc the regiment was joined by Capt. Orr, editor of the Madoc Review.

ARRIVAL AT OTTAWA.

The dawn had begun to break when finally the train pulled into Ottawa station, where there was a large committee of officers of the Guards waiting to receive them. The bugle band of the Guards was also there, and led the parade up town. As the troops passed through the streets, their path lighted by the cold gleam of approaching day, Ottawa's citizens were awakened by the measured tread of the three hundred men, the blare of bugles and the roll of drums, and from almost every window disordered heads peered out and sleepy eyes gazed with momentary interest upon the passing scene. The march to the camp ground was soon over, and the regiment came to a halt in front of the drill shed, which is situated at the end of Cartier Square, a commodious common occupying a central position near the heart of the city. Alongside, in the grounds attached to the Normal School, over fifty tents had been pitched by the Guards, and Quartermaster Langford and his squad of men were in readiness to receive the regiment. The volunteers were dismissed, and waded through the long, dank, dew-loaded grass to their tents, where blankets were provided them, and with the grass for a spring mattress some sought a brief period of repose, though the majority remained wide awake and busied themselves in getting ready for breakfast and the day's sight seeing. The camp was geometrically arranged, there being seven rows of tents, one for each company, and the band and buglers with tents for their officers at the head of each. Every tent accommodated seven men. The ground was splendid for camping purposes, there being plenty of water close at hand.

At seven o'clock the companies were told off for breakfast at the different hotels, and needless to say (as was the case during the whole two days) the boys took their full quarter's worth. The officers dined at the Russel House.
